Parents’ discrimination case settled

By John O’Pitre
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The University and seven black SIU security officers have reached a modest settlement in a federal discrimination complaint filed by the officers charging the SIU Security Police with racial discrimination. A spokesman for the officers said Tuesday night.

Clarence Morgan, a conciliator for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), met with the University officials Tuesday evening to reconcile differences between the officers’ settlement demands and the University’s response to the EEOC.

The agreement was signed by President Warren Brandt and the seven officers. The seventh officer did not attend the Tuesday night meeting, but a spokesman for the officers said he was expected to sign the agreement late Tuesday night.

The spokesman said one of their 14-point settlement demands calling for the removal of five ranking security officers from supervisory positions over black officers had been dropped. He said he was told by Morgan that it is not within the purview of the EEOC to dictate how the University should utilize its personnel.

As of Tuesday afternoon only one of the remaining 13 points was still being negotiated, SIU Legal Counsel John Huffman said.

The unresolved demand regarded the promotion of a black officer to the position of lieutenant. According to a spokesman for the officers, they were told an immediate appointment was not possible while the University would agree to the appointment of another of the seven officers.

The officers finally agreed with the University’s position, he said.

The officers began proceedings against the Security Police last December when they filed a complaint with the University Affirmative Action Officer. A spokesman for the officers said at the time that the black officers felt it necessary to join together and voice their grievance before they were eliminated from the force.

They cited discriminatory practices and procedures that had been taking place since about 1970 when there were 15 black officers on the Security Police. Several of the eight black officers who left the force since then, they claimed, did so as a result of discriminatory circumstances.

In mid-January the officers took their complaint to the Carbondale office of the Illinois State Employment Services (ISES). Together with the manager of ISES, the officers formalized their complaint and forwarded it to the Illinois Department of Labor.

SITU $114 million budget request goes to committee

By Ray Urehel
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

SITU will present a $114 million budget request for the 1977 fiscal year to the Illinois Senate Appropriations Committee today.

The $114 million which would be distributed to the Sangamon-Edwardsville campuses and the School of Medicine, paralleled funding requests for the same system recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) in January. However, the SITU appropriation does not include a tuition increase.

A petition signed by part of the council members was filed this week requesting additional General Revenue Funds from the state.

If he is asked if optimistic that the appropriation will be increased from the $5.5 million portion of the request for SITU.

Coun. Thomas indicated that only one or two companies have filed a request for council to evaluate insurance plans under consideration.

In a major policy speech the Illinois House approved the supplemental appropriation for Councilman Joe Dakin's comment on his bill which required the SITU to disburse to the city education funds from the state. A petition signed by part of the council members was filed this week requesting additional General Revenue Funds from the state.

Anything goes in rain, cold

Rain Saturday and 38 degree temperatures Sunday set the pace for "Almost Anything Goes" competition held at Evergreen Park.

Chilled and wet teams representing 28 campus and area organizations competed in the SIU Veterans Club sponsored event.

The nearly 400 contestants braved the weather trying to qualify for final competition to be held in the Arena on May 7. The Arena competition will be filmed for possible distribution in the TV game show "Almost Anything Goes" which pits hometown teams against each other in absurd sporting events.

Winners of the weekend competition who will compete in the Arena are: Chamber of Commerce Division - Carbondale, West Frankfort and Herrin; Student Division - Abbott Hall Spacers and Smith Hall Intellectuals. A faculty team, which has not yet been selected, will also compete.

B-1 bomber is great bargain—less than $2,000 per family

By Arthur Hoppe

Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld went for a test drive the other day in a new B-1 bomber. He said the demonstrator handled "exceedingly well." That's good because Congress is trying to decide right now whether we should lay out $95 billion to buy these new bombers. That comes to more than $1800 for each American family. Naturally, an expenditure that large has caused an animated discussion at breakfast tables across the land:

"Donald, do you really think we need a new bomber right now?"

"Joyce, I just wish you could’ve heard the throaty roar of those engines, seen that gleaming streamlined body, felt the way that baby cornered..."

"Well, I'm sure it would be nice to have a new bomber, dear. But $1800 in an awful lot of money. Valerie Jeanne will be starting college soon and the orthodontist says little Donald...

"Gee, Joyce, you know all I want is the best for you and the children. But, believe me, this B-1 is the best. Wait till you see that new upholstery and those decorative milk instead of fresh and...

"It's just that there are so many other things we need, dear. Couldn't we make do with our old B-52 bomber for another few years?"

"That pile of junk! It's 25 years old, Joyce. It's falling apart. It's got a funny rattle in the transmission. Do you know what a new transmission costs?"

"But wouldn't it be cheaper to put in a new transmission than to spend $1800..."

"You'd still have an old slowpoke of a bomber, Joyce. Do you realize that if the Russians attacked us at this very minute, our old B-52 rattleteagles wouldn't get to Moscow until ten hours after the war was over? Why, we'd be the laughstock of the whole world."

"That sounds like designed obsolescence, Donald. But would a B-1 be any better?"

"Twice as good, Joyce. It would get there only five hours after the war was over. No one's got a better bomber than that. It's the whole family could be proud of..."

"Well..."

"Oh, come on, Joyce. It's only money. What American family wouldn't be delighted to lay down $1800 for a bargain like this? You only live once, I always say."

"Well, I suppose we could go without a vacation this year. Or any new clothes. And if we started using powdered milk instead of fresh and..."

"Gosh, Joyce, you're a peach!"

"But are you sure you buy this new bomber makes sense from a practical standpoint, Donald?"

"Of course it makes sense. Boy, I can hardly wait! Va-ROOMMM! Va-ROOMMM! Va-ROOMMM!!!"

Discrimination not to be dismissed as rubbish

Editor's note: The following viewpoint was submitted by Herbert Marshall, research professor at the Center for Soviet and East European Studies.

By Herbert Marshall Research Professor

In common with so many others I am profoundly shocked at an American historian dismissing the discrimination of the CPSU against Soviet minorities as 'rubbish'. Such a statement can only be attributed to someone totally insensitive to truth and to tragedy or deliberately suppressing his sensitivity for political reasons. In view of the overwhelming evidence to prove this discrimination, such a statement can only arise from three causes:

1. Total incompetence and ignorance as an historian
2. As a method of ingratiating oneself with the CPSU in order to make sure of getting an entry visa in the USA
3. As a CP Party member or fellow-traveller carrying out the Party line.

Viewpoint

The CPSU Party line (slavishly followed by the CPUSA) is to deny completely any discrimination in the Soviet Union, regardless of the massive, continuing evidence against such a denial. As I write the New York Times reports the forthcoming trial of a Soviet Tartar for protesting against the forced removal of the whole of his people from their native homeland in the Crimea to Siberia. Despite the fact that after the 30th Party Congress the CPSU renounced from the Stalinist accusation of treachery as a people, they have not been allowed to go back to their homeland or to receive back the property and belongings that were confiscated and now owned or used by Russians.

In that same Stalinist period, the whole of the German colony (descendants from immigrants invited by Catherine the Great) occupied the German Volga Republic on the Volga with a capital city called Engelsk. I knew many of the German theatre artists, in particular friends of Bert Brecht, who formed the new 'Free German Theatre' there. All of them were exiled and some were executed, like Carola Nebel, Brecht's leading actress. He mourned but nevertheless never publicly protested against the Party. He was anti-clerical. To this day they have not had political restitution. Today the Volga Soviet Socialist Republic does not exist, not even in Soviet history books. How does Professor McFarlin, as a historian, react to such barefaced falsification and suppression of the historical record?

The discrimination against the Jews has been perfectly confirmed, not only by emigration of thousands, but by no other than the late Minister of Culture, Ekaterina Furtseva, and by Kogevin, the Prime Minister. It is alleged that there is now a force a percentage limitation for Jews in major areas including universities. This was a Caesar measure that was at first abolished by the revolution and then re-instated under Stalin and continued under Brezhnev. Your historian will find that the percentage of Jews in the diplomatic, state and intelligence posts has been reduced to practically zero today. There are, of course, a few 'token' Jews here and there who are used as examples of rebuttal. Only in the areas of the sciences and performing arts, are there larger percentages of Jews, for the obvious reason that politicians and diplomats may be replaced by Russians, but really outstanding scholars or scientists are not so easily replaced.

In a democratic society a teacher can have his own private views about this matter, can falsify history for himself or his friends or his Party, but to teach it in a university class, it seems to me, is something else. And if such a university historian behaved like that in the USSR he would 'suffer' and 'be discriminated against and put in Gulag or more likely declared officially insane and subjected to the same inhuman treatment as the mathematician Pluthus until world reaction forced his release. Incidentally even the Communist Parties of France, Italy and Great Britain joined in that protest, but not the slavish CPUSA. However, no doubt Professor McFarlin would discount the "pure rubbish". Incidentally in a previous reply to Professor McFarlin, I had occasion to point out his deliberate ignoring of historical facts, because he apparently feels obliged to follow the Party line, he cannot do any other.

I can quote the Czech motto of Jan Huss, which the oppressed Czechoslovaks still cherish, 'Pravda vivit': 'the truth shall prevail'...

Or maybe our historian will also follow the Party line and deny that the Czechoslovak majority were not and are not discriminated against by the invading Soviet Army?
Reservation problems

To the Daily Egyptian:

Any student who has reservations at the Carbondale Holiday Inn for May 14 should re-check their reservations and get a written confirmation as soon as possible.

I made reservations for my parents for graduation in October at the Holiday Inn and my parents were informed on April 24 that their reservation had been cancelled due to "construction problems." But they only received a note saying they would be receiving a section of their motel and the projected completed date was May 1. Now a desk clerk told me the section would not be finished until June.

At the time I made reservations, which were confirmed in late March, no indication was made that my parents would have no place to stay when they came down. It would seem that the Holiday Inn would know by March that the possibility of not meeting the completion date existed. Yet, nothing was said.

I am now stuck, at the end of April, with no reservations and the majority of motels in the area booked to capacity.

It would seem that this is very shoddy management on the part of the motel and an indication of the lack of respect the motel shows to Carbondale and the university. They know, no matter what they do, that they will be filled for all other major dates.

The only thing the motel "graciously" offered to do was book my parents into the Mount Vernon Holiday Inn--about 20 minutes away and half driving time away. My parents may as well stay home.

Whoever has reservations at the Holiday Inn should re-check and preferably get a written confirmation before its too late to get a room anywhere.

Mary L. Heeren Senior Journalism

Editor's Note: Julian Pei, manager of the Carbondale Holiday Inn, said the management could not foresee the delay of the completion date because the trucking strike held up delivery of construction materials for about ten days. The motel has made arrangements with the SUU Housing Office to provide lodging for those who made reservations.

Expensive sidewalks

To the Daily Egyptian:

All too often, the poor walkers and bikers of SUU are faced with the problem of getting places without a car. "Why don't you use the sidewalk?" may be the first merciless response. But considering there is none, such a solution is quite meaningless. However, we are blessed with a few alternatives.

The sidewalks are lined with cute little plants, despite the fact that they are frequently filled with mud. Some turn to the streets for salvation. Considering the unexpected driving techniques of Carbondale weekend drivers, the safety of streetwalking is questionable.

So what other answers do we have? We can hitch. Didn't they just spend $8 million for a parking lot? Wonder why no one ever builds sidewalks? I guess building a few sidewalks must really be expensive!

Lonely rock fan

To the Daily Egyptian:

I am an inmate at the Menard Correction Center in Chester, Illinois, and am an inmate for some correspondence from guys and gals who are interested in heavy rock sounds. We have a music program in here and I really can't afford the rock sounds, so I am asking if someone at the University I could write to about all the new cuts that are coming out all the time.

I am 25-years-old and would also like to write to someone about this and music information.

I would appreciate it if you would print this letter in your great paper. Keep up the good work you're doing.

Community problems

To the Daily Egyptian:

First, we would like to extend our heartfelt thanks and congratulations to you and your staff for the accurate, reliable, and informative series, "The Other Carbondale." As Lenore Sobota, student Editor-in-Chief commented in her excellent concluding article, the Northeast side of Carbondale has indeed been neglected too long. To those of us who were born and raised on Carbondale's Northeast side, awareness of this historical neglect is a very painful, day-in-day-out part of our lives.

Many of us have long since grown tired of waiting for the city, the state, the powers that be to 'do something.' Most of us have grown skeptical, cynical, and bitter toward all the studies, promises, and token efforts made to give us the appearance that efforts were put up while programs are being instituted to improve the quality of life in our community. All of this across the tracks know that these deplorable conditions need to be changed, must be changed, if Carbondale is to ever be up to its honor of having been selected "an All America City."

Clark Enterprises, Inc., a Northeast side based community development corporation, was formed precisely to begin doing those things that the Northeast side that should have been done decades ago. For well over a year now, quietly and without fanfare, we have been working day and night to create a viable, visible, first step forward on the long road of bringing the Northeast quadrant into parity with the rest of Carbondale.

The series of articles on "The Other Carbondale" could not have been better timed, or more actively supportive of our project had we written and published them ourselves. Ms. Sobota's concluding article added an insight, an impact to the series that those of us who were born and raised on Carbondale's Northeast side, knew that these forward to your positive response.

We thank you in advance for your continued cooperation and support, and we will be looking forward to your positive response.

Home, country compared

To the Daily Egyptian:

I have recently moved into a home nearly 200 years old. Same age as our country. It's strange but this house and our country have a lot in common. Neither nation was solid and strong and was made with great care and hard work, similar to the actions of our forefathers. There are four central beams holding up the roof just as there are four major institutions supporting the country, church, government and family. After a close examination, I found many weak spots. The family, with an exceedingly high divorce rate of approximately two out of three marriages ending in divorce, is deteriorating. Government, with so many facets of corruption, is encouraged and paid for by several big businesses. Schools that give knowledge but not wisdom and have ignored or have cut back on the arts. The church has too much hypocrisy (my home town professor driveaglied the ministerial at the same time preaches that to sacrifice is good for the soul.) I could move out of this house or out of this country. I could let someone else do all of the necessary repair work. I could get apathic and cynical just as I thought I would stay with the hope that the foundation will not crumble before the house is rebuilt.

Bookkeeping blues

To the Daily Egyptian:

In regard to J. R. Cain's letter in the Daily Egyptian on April 23, I would like to say he isn't the only one disgusted with the merchants on Illinois Avenue, namely, Lowell's.

Recently, I made a large jewelry purchase and had it put on layaway. I sent my cancelled check by check every two weeks as their policies require. When I went to get the item, I was told I owed $50 more than what I actually did. After checking their records against my cancelled checks, they found that a clerk had the last payment for the wrong check.

To rectify their error, I had to get the last cancelled check from my bank and do the bookkeeping for them. Needless to say, it took a week to get the matter straightened up.

Not only do some of the merchants on South Illinois Avenue need lessons in bookkeeping, but also the University. Although I have paid my housing on time, they have managed to mess it up since February. It doesn't matter how many times I show them my cancelled checks or receipts; they can't seem to grasp the idea of credits and debits.

My final comment before leaving this "institution of higher education" is: If the administration can't handle their job, how can they prepare us to do our future jobs?

Volleyball as a step toward peace?

From your letter, it seems to me that you did not live up to your problem by including any other American living here in the States. Let me remind you that the Mideast conflict is not one between Jews and Arabs. It is a problem between the Palestinian people who were expelled from their land and the Israelis who are their oppressors.

It looks like the American Zionists offer us volleyball while their Israeli counterparts play basketball. We certainly prefer volleyballs over bombs and bullets. We probably certainly prefer volleyballs over bombs. But the offer is a little ridiculous while the bombs continue to rain.

If you still feel willing to play volleyball, we can manage a Palestinian team. Please contact Mr. Omar Habib in Arab Student Association.

Pedestrian struck by automobile

An Edwarsdville woman was hit by a car Monday afternoon while she was crossing the street in the 100 block of South Main Street, Carbondale police said.

Louise Long, 64, and Melvin B. Long, 66, were crossing the street when she was hit by a vehicle driven by Charles E. Hall, 27, of Carbondale police said.

Officials said that the couple were crossing the middle of the block and not at a street corner.

Long was taken to Doctors Memorial Hospital and then transferred to St. Joseph’s Hospital in Highland where she is listed in satisfactory condition.

Hall was arrested and charged for driving while intoxicated and driving with a revoked license. Police also said he refused to take a breath analysis test to determine if he was intoxicated.

Joe Cuza, 36, of Chicago was arrested early Monday morning when he was found inside of the Hilton Foundation 715 S. Illinois Ave. and refused to leave. Police said he was suspect for trespassing and, while searching the room, they found what appeared to be drugs.

Cuza allegedly grabbed the police and swallowed a pill, police said. A charge of obstruction of the peace was filed.

Gloomsis takes out his frustrations and guilt feelings on the Attendant in the mental hospital in which he is kept. Gloomsis, portrayed by Peter Zopp, and the Attendant, as played by Darryl Phinnessee, are actors in the upcoming Theater department show of “Ataraxia” starting Friday.

Lithuanian play to be given

Southern Players will present “Ataraxia,” a play by Lithuanian playwright Antanas Skema, at 7 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the University Theater, Communications Building.

The action of the play focuses on a man’s search through his past for his soul. The man, Lithuanian exile Glousmis, is tortured by his past and his guilt feelings as a Lithuanian partisan.

During Glousmis’ stay in a mental hospital, he encounters Isaac, a man who had tortured him and whom Gloomsis had attempted to kill during the occupation of Lithuania. By reliving their past, they hope to rid themselves of the guilt.

Eventually, they realize that an attendant in the hospital, who constantly harassed the two patients, is an illusion from their past. They kill the illusion by refusing to submit to the fear they tries to instill in them.

In the end, Gloomsis realizes that Isaac and all the other characters and the institution are parts of him that he must accept in order to grow.

The play is directed by Arnold Kindall, a guest professional who is a visiting professor of theater during 1976. The playwright’s daughter, Kristina Skema-Snyder, will speak about her late father’s career. Following the play, Jonas Jurasas, a Soviet director in the avant-garde theater, who became an exile from the Soviet Union in 1973, will speak on the production of “Ataraxia” and compare it with contemporary Soviet and Lithuanian theater.

Starring in the production are Peter Zopp, a sophomore in theater, as Gloomsis; Darryl Phinnessee, a junior in theater, as the Attendant; John Vullo, a senior in theater, as Isaac; Jeff Swanson, a sophomore in music, as Mr. Brown; Steve Dratnay, a freshman in radio and television, as Mr. Johns; Dave Buchanan, a junior in theater, as Mr. Smith; Egle Jouzvalkis, a graduate student in theater, as the girl in white; and Loretta Zopp, a junior in theater, as Madame.

Tickets for the show are $1.50 per person and are available at the University Theater Box Office, Communications Building, or reserved by telephoning 453-0741. Seating will be limited because of the production.

Carbondale
SIU opera theater to present "Columbus,’ Mark Twain story"

The Marjorie Lawrence Opera Theater is sponsoring two companion performances Saturday and Sunday at Shryock Auditorium.

A revised edition of "Christopher Columbus" will be featured at 10-11:30 a.m. Saturday and Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" will be presented at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

In "Christopher Columbus," action surrounds the young Columbus who dreams of becoming a sailor. He meets characters such as Sheba, the parrot, played by Angela Epperson, a graduate student in music; and Lorelei the mermaid, played by Leslie Conover, a graduate student in music.

Other characters in the musical, staged by Romeo Cecilia and conducted by Charles Seiler, graduate students in music, include Janet Morrow Stearns, a graduate student in music; Blanca; David McCracken, a sophomore in theater, as the Spanish Ambassador; Leslie McEwen, a graduate student in music as the nurse; Randy Black, a sophomore in music, as Christopher's father and Eric Hooker as the cook.

Christopher Columbus will be played by Mike Grzechkowski. Adm is 25 cents. The action in "Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" will be presented at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, at Poe's Skating Rink, R.R. No. 3 Marion, leaving at 10 a.m. Saturday and Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" will be presented at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Sorority plans dance, picnic

The Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority (AKA) is sponsoring four days of activities culminating in a picnic at Giant City State Park Sunday, as part of Inter-Greek Week celebrations according to Gail Drish, publicity chairwoman for AKA.

Other activities planned by the sorority are:

- A dance at Merlins, 315 Illinois Ave., from 4 to 6 p.m. Thursday.
- A skating party from noon until 2 p.m. Friday, at Poe's Skating Rink, R.R. No. 3 Marion.
- Dances at University City starting at 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and
- Other activities include the usual Inter-Greek games, with sign-up sheets available at the AKA Student Center from noon until 2 p.m. Wednesday until Friday.

Trophies and prizes will be awarded to event winners.

Buses to the skating party will be leaving at 6:30 p.m. from Trueblood Hall and the Student Center, Drish said.

MFA candidates to open show in Mitchell Gallery

Peter Mitten and Ronald Merimoto will present their Master of Fine Arts exhibits at Mitchell Gallery April 28 to May 4. An opening reception will be held at the gallery from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Mitten received his bachelor's degree in 1973 from SIU, and returned in the fall of 1974 when he received a teaching assistantship. His presentation consists of cast and fabricated bronze and aluminum.

Merimoto received his B.A. from the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle in 1974. Previously he was an army photographer in the United States and Vietnam. He will exhibit large acrylic color field paintings.

Mitchell Gallery, located in the Home Economics Building, is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays. Admission is free.

Laotian family in need of sponsor

Dana Henderson
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The first Laotian refugee family to be relocated in the Carbondale area is in need of a sponsor, according to Doug Lindsay, chairman of the Carbondale International Assistance Council.

The family of nine arrived in Carbondale last Thursday after two days of plane rides that took them from Bangkok through Hong Kong, Tokyo, San Francisco and finally St. Louis at 6 p.m. Thursday.

"They came two weeks earlier than I had expected so I have not had time to line up a sponsor yet," Lindsay said. "It's the sponsor's job to help the family in finding a home, getting a job and things like that," he said.

The Dhavorochit family escaped from Laos across the Mekong river into Thailand about nine months ago and had been living in Bangkok, waiting for the U.S. government to arrange for their emigration to the United States, according to Dhavorochit Thongsavang, a former air traffic controller in Vientiane, the capital of Laos.

"We couldn't stay with the Communists," Dhavorochit said. His wife and seven children, aged 8 to 15, speak French and Laotian fluently but no English.

The family will stay with Lindsay for the next few days, until a sponsor is found. "We could use volunteers to help the children pick up some English vocabulary before they start regular language classes," Lindsay said. Volunteers should call Lindsay at 246-4871 or visit the International Assistance Council office at 404 W. Mill St., Carbondale.

Students observe poultry processes

Five students enrolled in an SIU commercial poultry production course studied major poultry production and processing operations during a field trip to Indiana Monday and Tuesday.

The group spent Monday observing hatcheries, feed processing, laying chicken operations and egg processing plants at the Bone Acres Poultry Farm near Seymour. About 4,000,000 chickens are involved in the poultry operations.

They observed the Arbor Acres Hatchery and other utility industry developments near Ashland on Tuesday. Included were hatcheries, production, processing of broiler chickens and distribution of equipment for the poultry industry.

Top level parking closed for repairs

The upper level of the parking garage will be closed for repairs Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The lower level will remain open to vehicles with blue parking stickers only, said Jack Moore, project engineer at the physical plant.

Moore said leaks in six expansion joints will be repaired. The structure was waterproofed before the garage opened on April 1 but Moore said minor repairs are normally necessary on a parking structure after it is open to traffic and exposed to the elements.

Anything went in "Anything Goes" elimination competition

By Bob Morley

Student Writer

The event was called "Almost Anything Goes," but it should have been called "Almost Everything Goes Wrong." The games, held Saturday and Sunday in Evergreen Park, took their name and format from a popular ABC-TV game show which pits hometown teams in absurd sports designed to embarrass and humiliate the contestants.

Winners in the Chamber of Commerce Division: Carbondale, Herrin and West Frankfort, and Student Division: Abbott Hall Spacers and Smith Hall Intramural team. Two teams were to be selected now go onto compete in finals to be held at the SIU Arena on May 7.

Nearly 400 people on 28 teams competed in the games which were organized by the SIU Veterans Club. Although the event had been in the planning stage for three months, a barrage of problems arose as soon as the Chamber of Commerce teams began competing at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The participants apparently took a liberal interpretation of the rules. Evidently, they took the approach that almost anything went. Take for example, the obstacle course. A rope was stretched across a path a height of four feet. The organizers had hoped this would force teams to think of some way to help their fellow team to cross the rope without touching it, thereby avoiding some screw-up by-passing.

But instead, some teams had one person pull the rope down to ground level, taking just one second penalty, while the remainder of the team ran across the rope which was meant to be hurdles.

More than just rules were broken in the cage ball event. In this game, which all times resembled a Harlem snarl, one woman broke her nose trying to roll the ball in her knee.

As organizers began assembling contestants in the student division, the morning drizzle became a downpour.

But organizers didn't want to reshuffle the event for Sunday. They had a band coming from St. Louis to play at a party after the game. They also had 45 barrels of beer to sell.

But, the rain continued and the officials decided to reshuffle the events for Sunday.

Sunday 4 a.m. Threatening clouds, 38 degree weather, and morning drizzle became a downpour.

Petitions for additional nominations of faculty members to the Student Senate Board must be submitted to the Faculty Senate Office by 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 23.

Nominations due for judicial board

Petitions must contain the signatures of 25 faculty members of the same constituency as the nominee, as well as their typed or printed signatures. Faculty members of any rank may sign the petition.

Eight positions are available on the board for faculty members of the rank of associate or full professor and two positions for those of junior rank.

Separate ballots will be sent to each of the five Judicial Board constituencies. The ballots must be returned to the Faculty Senate Office by 5 p.m. May 15, to Anita Allen, Faculty Senate secretary.

Faculty members approved for nomination by the Faculty Senate and their constituencies are: College of Business, Science and the School of Technical Careers: Kendall Adams and Roland Wright (senior rank); Bruce Peterson and Ronald Allen (junior rank); College of Communications and Fine Arts: L. E. Irwin Atwood and Samuel Floyd (senior rank) and Marvin Kleinas and Harry Stonecipher (junior rank); College of Education: Kersten Lewis, Marjorie Pagert, Wayne Rapp and Karen Taylor (senior rank), Schools of Engineering and Technology, Agriculture, Medicine, Human Resources, Morris Library: George Black, Martha Elsner, Dr. Lynbrook and Sarah Wade (senior rank); School of Law and the College of Liberal Arts: William Garner, Leslie Gates, Garth Rafferty (senior rank).

Spring practice pleases coach; football mentor praises safety

By Dave Weinzweig
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Spring practice report No. 1: SIU football Coach Roy Dempsey thinks he and his staff are making steady improvements with the team that was 1-11 under Doug Weaver last year.

"We're right on schedule," Dempsey said about spring practice. "The thing that keeps us on schedule is that the kids are working hard. There's no question they want to win." One guy who is really working hard is safety Yavdred Rodgers. Dempsey said, "Yavdred at this time is our most solid performer on offense or defense. The coach said, "We have him playing the strong safety or manatee position."

Rodgers has always been known for his hard hitting, something not all the other Salukis can claim. He's been very tough physically. He shoes kickers well and then really attacks the ball carrier. Dempsey said, "He's been our most vicious tackler.

Dempsey doesn't say much, but he sure gets after you once the ball is down. He's had a great attitude and I think many of our defensive players are starting to hit better because Yavdred is setting a good example.

"We're still pushing them hard. They seem to be getting a little harder every day. What you stress or demand is what you get. We demand there is a team, not just a lot."

"We're concerned about the small points. They weren't pushed in that manner last year. As a result we're getting more physical as a team. I think they sense that things are harder than last year.

It is generally acknowledged by most of the players that the winter conditioning program and spring practice thus far have been tougher than last year. Dempsey hopes the plethora of injuries the Salukis suffered last year will not plague the team this year.

"Injuries can be a lot of bad luck," Dempsey said. "Some of the guys last year had serious injuries. Some things might have just bumpy and bruised. That's where I think there wasn't toughness.

"Conditioning was part of it too. You can talk to the trainers and they will tell you that we are hitting harder this spring and have less injuries.

Dempsey hopes that will hold true at least until May 8, when SIU will hold its spring game.

"By then we want to appear to be sound," he said. "We hope to have half our offense in and look sharp with those plays.

"Defensively, we hope to be hitting as a unit and to have good people, even though there are a lot of fundamentals. If these can be carried out on offense and defense that will be good.

Dempsey said the team seems to have confidence in the new coaching staff. They put all his time into football since arriving in Carbondale last January.

"All I do is work football," he said. "I haven't spent any time with my family. In the summer I'll take some time to spend with them.

"We will have a few scholarships left so we'll be trying to get some more kids. Monday, as a staff, we'll go to different schools in Southern Illinois to show them we're still interested. Maybe we'll find an extremely big kid or an extremely fast kid." Dempsey admitted that the excursion will also be a goodwill trip.

"This has been a big adjustment for me. Not everyone here is encased in football," he said. "I thought there would be a little more interest.

Women thinclasses 3rd at relay meet

By Scott Burnside
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Back-to-back winning performances by long distance runner Jean Obyd enabled the women's track to finish third at the Pantherette Relays held Saturday at Charleston.

Obyd won both the two and three mile races. She ran second in the 121.6 mile relay in which the Salukis were second in a three-mile race.

Women's relay was the University of Illinois with 130 points. Illinois went on to win three events and three of the ten awarded points. Southern Illinois University finished second with 121.6 points.

Eastern's second place finish was a surprise considering its low finish at the Illinois Invitational a week earlier.

"Coach Claudia Blackburn said that Eastern gained some points last weekend in areas they were knocked out by other schools at Illinois, the shot put being one of them.

"Eastern placed third in the shot put," Blackburn said. SIU has seen any points in Obyd's events although she wasn't scheduled to run both the two and three mile races. She finished with an 8:18.5 in the two mile race and 15 minutes later ran the two-mile in 11:34.6 in the three mile race.

"We could see that she (Obyd) would not have run well to place in the two-mile so I asked her if she would run, and she said yes," Blackburn said. "We have decided that she is a two-mile runner besides.

The other first place was taken by Winston in the high jump with a 5'-2" effort.

This was two inches off her best height, but Blackburn said that the wind might have been the cause. SIU received its only one-two finish in the high jump since Grace Lloyd was runner up with a 5'-6" leap.

The Salukis' mile relay team of Carol Anderson, Mary Shirk, Brenda Bruckner and Lloyd also placed third in the event, giving SIU one top finisher relay team for the Salukas Saturday. The team's time was 4:18.8.

Saluki netters edge SIU-E

The SIU men's tennis team took five of six singles matches against Eastern Illinois-Southern Illinois University-Eastern and went on to a 6-3 win Sunday at the University tennis courts. The win gave the Salukas a 9-3 season record.

SIU's No. 1 player, Mel Ampon had an easy time in defeating Arjun Fernandez of SIU-E 6-4, 6-2. Ampon placed his shots very strategically and Fernandez had a hard-time returning them.

Felix Anson, Jeff Luftner, Neville Untled and Jay Everett were the other Saluki singles winners.

Lutner, Conlin and Everett had to go three sets to win their matches. In doubles, SIU set two of three as Conlin and Sam Dean teamed up for the only win. Mel Ampon and Everett accounted for the second.

One tennis match left for 5-2 women's squad

By Rick Korch
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

The SU women's tennis team split two games on its weekend Kentucky road trip and then came back to Carbondale Monday to polish off another opponent. The team's spring record now is 5-2 with one match to go.

The Salukis last Thursday to Murray State 8-3. The only singles winner for SUV was Sue Briggs, who beat Karen Weis 6-4, 6-1, averaging a loss last fall to Weis. After Briggs, the netters lost the next five singles matches, with Sue Csipkay, Sue Monaghan, Shar Jones, Tricia Davidson and Lisa Taylor going down in defeat. For Csipkay and Davidson, it was only their second loss.

The Salukis lost to Bowling State 8-1 last fall, and Judy Auld was mildly happy with the outcome. "They're a much stronger team than us, and they have depth."

SU faced weaker Austin Peay team Friday and easily defeated them 9-4. With almost every match an easy win Briggs raised her undefeated record to 54 with an easy 6-0, 6-1 win.

Other winners and their season records are Csipkay, 4-2; Monaghan 3-1, Deem 4-2 and Taylor 3-2.

Briggs hasn't had as much luck in singles as she has in doubles or singles. Briggs hasn't had as much luck in singles as she has in doubles, with almost every match a doubles win. The final doubles match was an exhibition win over the Fort Creighton team. Briggs and Deem won, and the days of the Fort Creighton team didn't affect her.

In their final home match of the season, Monday, the Salukis trounced Southeast Missouri (SEMO) 10-3. The top three members of the team didn't play, and the members of the 'B' team made up the slack.

Deem won, raising her record to 3-2, while Davidson (4-0) and MacDonald (1-0) lost. Lisa Taylor, who has played in the A team's No. 6 position, won, giving her a 4-1 record.

Other members of the 'B' team who won, and their records are: Linda (Lisa) Wright (3-2), Theresa Theron (3-0), Amelie Hackett (2-8), Rosanne Cittadino (2-0) and Ann Hackett (3-1).

"The 'B' team played really good all year long," said Coach Judy Auld. "At times, I had more confidence in the 'B' team than the A team.

The final tournament before the regionals is the Western Illinois Invitational Friday and Saturday in Macomb. The girls can play only singles or doubles. Briggs and Csipkay will play singles, and the teams of Monaghan-Dawson and Davidson-Rim MacDonald will play doubles.

Salukis batter Indians in 2 ho-hum slugfests

By Scott Burnside
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

What is the definition of a true baseball hero?

A person who sticks to the end of a Bill Murray film with a smile on their face despite a 0-2 contest.

Agreed. But this was such a long contest it clear to the end of a Saluki doubleheader Tuesday with those scores that the two teams posted by SIU and Arkansas State University.

Happily, Saluki baseball fans caught the action, which gathered 24 hits on the day against hapless Indian hurlers.

In a day of hitting for SIU, shortstop Jerry DeSimone had the best day, going 4-for-4. The four hits included a single, a double, and a perfect instruction book bunt single.

Two SIU batters listed in the top 10 batters across the nation, Murray and Hoscheidt, and Joe Hage. Altogether Saluki hitters had 30 plus marks for nine out of the last 10 years.

Hoscheidt, also helped their averages with 3-for-5, which included a double.
