By Sue Mall
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

President David D. Derge is one of several state officials who failed to file a statement of economic interests required by state statutes.

When questioned about the statement, Derge told reporters he had "forgotten all about it" and announced Friday that he had completed the required form and was sending it to Springfield. The statement was due July 1.

An article of the Governmental Ethics Act effective Jan. 24, 1972, requires all persons employed by the state who are paid $30,000 a year or more to file reports of their economic interests. The article also pertains to the members of the boards of trustees of all the state universities, General Assembly members and various other state employees and officials.

"The whole thing caught me flat footed," Derge said. "I remember seeing this thing come over my desk but I forgot about it completely. It just slipped up on me."

Derge said this slip-up should not be taken as a failure of his administrative reorganization program.

"Administrative matters we can handle quite well, but when it comes to my own personal life, I'm not so efficient," he laughed, adding that perhaps when he gets married, his wife can keep such things straight.

Derge's fiancee, Patricia Jean Williams, is assistant to the state superintendent of instruction. She and Derge are to be married Sept. 2.

John Hofferkamp, supervisor of the Ethics Section of the Index Division of the Office of the Auditor of Public Accounts, said no reminding notices are sent from his office to those persons expected to file.

Letters were sent from the office of Executive Vice President Rushing to all informing University personnel affected by the law after it became effective.

(Continued on page 3)

Self-help grants for SIU discussed
By Jan Trachta
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Student President Jon Taylor said Friday he would discuss the possibility of setting up an SIU program of self-help grants and scholarships at a meeting of state school student body presidents in Springfield.

Taylor and two executive assistants, Bill Clarke and Joe Krasnick, were to represent SIU at the Association of Illinois Student Governments (AISG) governing board meeting. The board, a lobbying organization for state school presidents, was established to provide state student presidents with information from other state school governments.

A discussion of the new SIU student fee proposal was to be included in the meeting. Lonnie Johns, executive director for AISG has termed its possible effect on Student Government "all too obvious."

The new proposal, presented to the Board of Trustees at its July meeting by Dean of Students George Mace, would ask students to designate their support for various student organizations on a survey form. Fee allocations would be proportionately determined by Student Government and the Office of Student Affairs with survey results.

Reaction to the proposal by some members of Student Government was negative. Taylor, who disagrees with the proposal, said it appears an attempt to lessen the power of Student Government.

Two other topics on the agenda for student presidents are voter-registration drives for different campus and a discussion of the scope of the AISG Board's authority.

Taylor said he was not informed of the possibility of fee funds for student scholarships until Friday. He said he wanted to discuss this at the AISG meeting for consideration by other student body presidents.

The scholarship proposal, signed Thursday by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, stipulates that Illinois would provide matching monies for student scholarship programs.

"This is the first time many state universities and colleges have initiated far-reaching programs to help less fortunate students attain the high costs of college," Ogilvie said.

(Continued on page 3)

By Daryl Stephenson
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Merlins reconstruction to start; may be completed fall quarter

Merlins Manager Neal Smith said Friday that work crews will begin rebuilding the fire-damaged nightclub Monday.

Throughout the weekend, he said, crews will continue to clean up debris from Tuesday's fire which caused an estimated $50,000 damage to the building and $45,000 damage to its contents.

Smith said the rebuilt Merlins will be "bigger, better and more modern." The nightclub will have a bigger dancefloor, he said, and "better and faster service." New features will include a sidewalk cafe and the parking lot will be incorporated into the main structure of Merlins, Smith said.

Smith said all insurance problems have been worked out, and a new bar should be opened by fall quarter. The entire nightclub, he said, will hopefully be ready within a month after that.

Despite the planned changes, Smith said the new building will be similar to the one that burned. Smith said the cost of the rebuilding is not known.

Deputy State Fire Marshall Norman Hilton, following an investigation Thursday into the cause of the fire, said the fire apparently started from an electrical malfunction.

He said the fire started around a deep fryer in the kitchen area of Merlins Grill. The only thing that could have started the fire there, Hilton said, is a spark from a short in an electrical circuit.

Hilton said two five-pound hand fire extinguishers and an automatic fire extinguisher in the hood above the stove had been used. The automatic extinguisher had been installed above a filter over the stove. Hilton said the filter prevented the extinguisher's chemicals from getting through.

No further investigation into the cause of the fire is planned by the Carbondale Fire Department, said acting Carbondale Fire Capt. Evert Rushing.

Rushing said of Hilton's report, "It's too hard to say what the cause is now."

Rushing said that Hilton, who was in Springfield Friday, may want to investigate further next week after he returns to his home in Cobden.

A spokesman for Mall shop owners said Friday some water damage did occur in two of the shops. Carbondale Fire Capt. Allen Jackson had said Thursday that there was no water damage in the Mall.

Water caused ceilings to buckle in the Fetish and Rudy's Shoe Repair, said the spokesman, who wished to remain unidentified. However, he said, the damage was slight.

Mall shops were not open Friday, said the spokesman, except for Off the Wall Records and Rudy's Ice Cream. He said the air conditioner in the Fetish broke down Thursday, causing the Friday closing.

(Continued on page 8)

Band shell

Work is scheduled to start Monday to rebuild this burned-out shell into a "bigger, better and more modern" Merlins, according to manager Neal Smith. The nightclub, devastated by fire Tuesday, will possibly be in operation fall quarter. (Photo by Jay Needlemann)

Gus Bode

Gus says a $500,000 a year man may get caught flat-footed—but hardly flat.
American Party hopeful begins gubernatorial drive

By H. Josef Hebert
Associated Press Writer

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Blanche W. Youn, a one-time farmer and owner of an Edwardsville accounting firm, wants to see what he calls the prosperity of inflation and ever rising taxes.

One way to do it, the 57-year-old Youn says, is to become governor of Illinois and get government out of people’s lives.

Although he is not expected to penetrate seriously the voting strength of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and Democratic challenger Daniel J. Walker. Youn nevertheless is trying to get on the ballot in November.

The 57-year-old gubernatorial hopeful this week joined Dakin Williams, who is seeking the U.S. Senate seat held by Charles Percy, in a campaign to gather 25,000 signatures required for placement on the ballot.

The two men would be part of a ticket presented by the American Party of Illinois, a group of which hopes to have as its presidential contender Gov. George Wallace of Alabama. Wallace, however, has not said he would run as a third party candidate.

The American Party, once known as the Conservative Party, cropped into some prominence in 1968 when Wallace ran for the presidency under its banners.

Youn is a newcomer to seeking elective office and says that so far all the details of his campaign have not been ironed out. He is assured, however, of getting the required 25,000 signatures—"We’ll try to get 50,000—and says he’s got the support of “all kinds of people—even some others.”

Youn claims that the government—both on the state and federal level—is spending too much money on a variety of projects from “premature road building” to unrealistic welfare programs.

“A wise, frugal government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another but which will enable them otherwise to LIVE, and may be called the true government of the country,” Youn said in a statement, quoting Thomas Jefferson.

Although he started campaigning only a few days ago, Youn claims to have the support of a large number of people including what he called an anti-gun confiscation lobby and the John Birch Society.

Neither Youn nor Williams, 53, specialized so much money their campaign will cost nor how much money will be available.

“We are expecting a large number of contributions,” said Williams, the brother of playwright Tennessee Williams. "I might even get a contribution from my brother even though he is in the liberal camp for the time being."

Research group at SIU surveys health maintenance organizations

By Rita Funk
Daily Egyptian Writer

A three-month study of pre-paid health care systems has been made by the Department of Public Health and the Department of Health at Southern Illinois University School of Medicine.

The study was carried out for the purpose of gaining technical assistance in planning and developing their own pre-paid health systems—according to Wendell Crow, journalism instructor, assistant researcher for the study.

A pre-paid health system can be a health maintenance organization, a foundation for medical care, a health care plan, or a group insurance plan sponsored by either individuals, companies, community groups or organized labor.

The study is not tied in with the Student Health Consumer Council (SHCC) at SIU.

"We are not doing research for them (SHCC) specifically," Crow said.

The study has been funded by a $3,500 grant from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). The grant has been awarded to the SIU School of Journalism, and the study is being conducted by several students and Crow.

Some of the answers the research group is seeking include the role of the consumer in pre-paid health care systems, legal and marketing aspects of health maintenance organizations, the role of allied health professionals in the HMO’s, the feasibility of including mental and dental health care in such systems.

"In pre-paid health care systems, the consumers simply pay a set fee for comprehensive medical care," Crow said.

"It is like health insurance in a sense. Consumers are insured directly with the organization which will take care of the comprehensive information file and submit it to the State Department of Public Health and the Department of Health Planning at the School of Medicine," be added.

He said this master file will provide some basis for the production of a manual for health care systems.

Published in the School of Journalism Student News, the student news of Southern Illinois University. Copyright 1972, SIU and the Student News, All rights reserved.

Pittsburgh concert on TV

William Steenberg conducts the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra in the premiere performance of "Padgeth from a Western Scene," a new work by American composer Samuel Barber. Commissioned especially for the dedication of Heinz Hall in Pittsburgh, these concerts will be seen on "Pittsburgh: A New Home for the Arts," a special at 7 p.m. Monday on Channel 8.

Pittsburgh Symphony to play on TV special

Sunday afternoon and evening programs on WSLY-TV, Channel 8: 4-40: "Charlie’s Pad"—The Defenders; 6:40: "The French Chef"—7-Paring Line; 8: Masterpiece Theater—"Spools of Forumton Return." In the evening, presentation, Mrs. Geretti returns her treasures to the estate only to have found that Fieda’s moral character destroys all her plans in this surprising ending of the Henry James story.

9: The David Susskind Show—"Noody Gives A Damn About The Working Poor." (D) The Blunderer—The working poor, the 66 million who earn less than $7,500 per year and the factors they endure (R) Monday afternoon and evening programs on WSYU-TV, Channel 5—Seance Street.

Sunday: Summer Theater; "Anastasia" 8 p.m. University Theater, admission students $1.75, public, $2.25.

Anetda Marga Yoga Society Group Meditation and Instruction in Yoga, 6:30 p.m., 400 S. Poplar.

B.S.C.C. Movie—"Flight Like a Butterfly," Stig Like a Bee," 7 p.m. Student Center and "Sweet Love Bitter" 9 p.m. Student Center.

Activities

Grand Touring Auto Club: Auto Cross, 5-9 p.m. SIU Arena Parking Lot.

Monday: Placement and Proficiency Testing, 8 a.m., 2:30 p.m. Martin Library Auditorium.

"Anastasia," Autocross top Sunday’s campus activities

Sunday: Summer Theater; "Anastasia" 8 p.m. University Theater, admission students $1.75, public, $2.25.

Aneta Marga Yoga Society Group Meditation and Introduction in Yoga, 6:30 p.m., 400 S. Poplar.

B.S.C.C. Movie—"Flight Like a Butterfly," Sting Like a Bee," 7 p.m. Student Center and "Sweet Love Bitter" 9 p.m. Student Center.

Parent's and New Students Orientation, 9 a.m. Student Center.

Tour Train leaves from Student Center 11 a.m.

Recreation and Intramurals: 16 p.m. SIU Arena, 8:14 p.m.

Pallium Pool, Gym and Weight Room.

Women’s Recreation Association, 3:30 p.m. Archery, Women’s Gym, 6:30 p.m. Softball, Small Group Student Housing.

Daily Egyptian

Parents and New Students Orientation, 9 a.m. Student Center.

Tour Train leaves from Student Center 11 a.m.

Recreation and Intramurals: 16 p.m. SIU Arena, 8:14 p.m.

Pallium Pool, Gym and Weight Room.

Women’s Recreation Association, 3:30 p.m. Archery, Women’s Gym, 6:30 p.m. Softball, Small Group Student Housing.

Published in the School of Journalism Student News, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, each Wednesday and Saturday, each Saturday, Bi-weekly, 170 S. Park St., Carbondale, Ill. 62901, Phone 245-8821, Second class postage paid at Carbondale, Illinois.

Review of the Daily Egyptian are the responsibility of the editor. Statements published here do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student editor or any department of the University. The editor and business offices of Carbondale Community Publications, Inc., Washington, D.C., is printed and published by valve by Carbondale Community Publications, Inc., Washington, D.C.

Survey reveals that youth have changed view of women

By Dee Wedemeyer
American Researcher

NEW YORK — A new youth poll shows that a majority of the nation’s young men now consider the woman’s place is in the home.

The survey of some 3,500 young people-half of them men, half women, ages 14-25—showed that 51 percent of the women disagreed with the traditional notion of women’s place and only 41 percent of the men disagreed.

The poll represents a significant increase since the same question was asked in 1970 by the same pollsters, Gilbert Youth Research, Inc., for the Institute of Medicine while the women and 29 percent of the men disagreed.

Dr. Hal Edrich, director of the institute, said he felt this followup study, which won’t be published until fall, was probably the best statistical measure of the influence of the women’s movement among young women.

The young people were randomly selected from 188 high schools, colleges and universities, according to a national probability sample of the youth population. In the high schools, college students, with faculty guidance, conducted the interviews; in the schools, professional interviewers were used.

“We have seen the future and it is us,” said Edrich, referring to the title preferred by many feminists, instead of him or Mrs.

Edrich stressed that it was significant that 49 percent of the young women who were involved in the more traditional role and most still believe in it.

He also said that it was of importance that men had no significant change in preference from 1970 to 1972 but that women differed in many ways.

For example, in 1970, when the women were asked which of five lifestyles they preferred, 42 percent chose the average housewife and 20 percent chose the life of the successful executive or professional. In 1972 the comparable figures are 31 and 31 percent. There was also a slight increase in the number of women who wanted to work toward solving social problems—from seven in 1971 to 11 percent in 1972.

The women sounded a different note, however, when asked if they thought which lifestyle they thought would best describe themselves 15 years—43 percent said they would become housewives, raising children.

Correction

Southern Hills is a family housing area, not just limited to married students as indicated in the Daily Egyptian Friday. Several non-married students, such as divorced or widowed parents, with children live in Southern Hills.

Psychiatric group: Mental recovery not predictable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Psychiatric Association, without direct reference to Thomas Egan's new book on depression and that complete recovery is followed by "full return of judgment."

But the APA noted that "some depressive may recur and some do not; recurrence is not fully predictable."

The APA, the professional organization of the nation's psychiatrists, said thousands of people have seen abnormal normal activity follow successful treatment.

Derge aids to hold two-day planning session

WISU (FM) radio manager named

By Steve Eagleton

Kenneth J. Garry, Jr. has joined the SIU faculty as assistant to the director of the SIU Broadcasting Service and manager of the University's commercial radio station WISU (FM). He succeeds Charles T. Lynch who completed work on his doctoral degree in June and now is teaching full time in the SIU department of radio and television.

Garry comes from Florida State University where he was manager of WFSU-FM for a year and a half while working toward his doctor of philosophy degree in broadcasting.

A native of Oak Park, Ill., Garry received his bachelor's degree in 1964 from DePau University in Greenecastle, Ind., and his master of science degree in 1966 from Indiana University, Terre Haute.

On receiving his master's degree, Garry worked for six months in Michigan City, Ind., where he was a consultant to the local school system in establishing a two-channel closed circuit television system. In June, 1966 he joined the University of Nebraska at Omaha where he served for a year as director of closed circuit television and taught broadcasting production and speech.

Army service followed, from 1967 to 1968, during which Garry was a television writer, director and producer at the Army Artillery and Missile School at Ft. Sill, Okla. In off-duty hours he worked at radio station KLAW-FM as an announcer.

Upon his discharge from service in 1968, Garry enrolled at Northwestern University to work on an advanced degree and serve an inter-ship in station for three months. In the fall of the same year he returned to the University of Nebraska at Omaha as instructor in speech and

In related developments:

Dr. Estelle Ramey, a psychologist and endocrinologist at Gravina School of Medicine, said Abraham H. Greenfield, of the University of Chicago, who fought depression with "episodes of what is now called depression" while in the White House. She also said that the late Winston Churchill once wrote that he fought "the black dog" of depression while governing Britain in wartime.

She said, "It comes down to the man and the woman and the disease... I don't think you can rule a man off the course for any particular disease if he is functionally ill and the prognosis is good."

"Occasional failure to cope with emotional strain is universal," she said.

Grant plan discussed

(Continued from page 1)

manager of radio station KAWN. Early in 1971 he went to Florida State University to continue work on a doctoral degree and work in research.

In the fall of the same year he returned to the University of Nebraska at Omaha as instructor in speech and

The effectiveness of voluntary programs will be doubted by this innovative bill, which assists student debate.

The bill has a $150,000 approximately, or setting a limit of $1,000 per scholar-

Although annual reports are program and the local control of the scholarship programs will remain.

Garry told Illinois will be in the forefront by its effort to secure a larger portion of students and schools.

Individuals who need this fall, the Governor suggests taking ad-

Appropriations for scholarships are $54,000,000 for next year. Ogilvie said he expects this to be sufficient for every needy student.

The only criteria a student must meet for good work is that he be admitted as a regular student to an approved college or university of the suf-

Biscuit Eater

2-30-31-6-20-28-30

Separate Late Show
SAT 11:00 P.M
WARHOL'S "FLESH"

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.

I'm still in line.
Campus briefs

Four students from dental colleges are engaged in a special 16-week program in dentistry-aided microbiology research at SIU.

Now in its seventh year, the summer program is directed by Isaac Schechterman, professor of microbiology, under successive annual grants from the National Institute of Dental Research.

Each of the student researchers receives a $1,200 stipend for the 16-week program from the NIDR grant.

More than 300 visitors came to the Rare Book Room in Morris Library at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale during the lecture series which ended May 31, according to the guest book reveals.

"This number is conservative, for many visitors fail to sign the register, and of course this figure does not include our students, our faculty and scholars from elsewhere who return day after day to work in the collections," said David Koch, Rare Book Librarian, pointed out.

Among the patrons were persons from Brazil, British Columbia, Ireland, South Vietnam, Washington, D.C., Wisconsin, Indiana, North Carolina, Wyoming, Ohio, New York, Missouri, Minnesota and California.

For visitors to the campus, and particularly Civil War buffs, an exhibit of Ulysses S. Grant material is currently displayed in connection with the 150th anniversary of the 18th President's birth. The U.S. Grant Association, headed by SIU historian John Y. Simon, is located in the Morris Library.

Grad exhibit displays fresh approach to art

A graduate student is display featuring metalwork, pottery, ceramics, and woodworking. The exhibit and purchase will be held Friday, Aug. 13, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the Mitchell Gallery of the Home Economics building. Hours will be 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Evert A. Johnson, curator of the University Galleries, said the art exhibits are a requirement of the School of Art and are usually held at the end of spring and summer quarters.

A show-opening reception will be held 7-9 p.m. Friday for Wayne Scheek, Sarah Capps and Darrell Halfbrooks, whose works are on display.

"This is one of the more exciting exhibits this year. There is a fresh approach in these works and should show two years of the arts. This is a good advertisement," Johnson said.

The art exhibits help because months and many years have not been able to exhibit in a one-month-stone and this gives them the opportunity to do so," Johnson continued.

Other Mitchell Gallery exhibits on the schedule include a Theater Set Design show sponsored by the Department of Theater, Aug. 16-30 and a Small Environments display Oct. 1-21.

The Small Environments show will feature three-dimensional works bought from collections and selected from special artists. A maximum size of six cubic feet is a requirement of all individual environmental pieces.

Meat production decreases: only beef shows increase

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. production of red meat during the first six months of this year totalled 18.5 billion pounds, 2.8 percent more than for the same period in 1971, the Agriculture Department reported Friday.

Beef production of 10.93 billion pounds was 2.1 percent more, pork production of 6.65 billion pounds was down 0.7 percent, and lamb, goat and veal production fell 2.7 percent.

The department's crop-reporting board said that June 1972 red meat production, totaling 2.97 billion pounds, was 4.7 percent below a year ago. Beef production of 1.96 billion pounds was unchanged from June 1971 but pork production of 1.07 billion was 9 percent less than a year ago.

Poultry production of 975 million pounds was 9 percent above a year ago and ham and bacon production of 42 million pounds was unchanged, and total production of 3.6 million pounds was down 19 percent.

The "72 Summer Octet" of St. Vladimir's Orthodox Church Seminary in New York will be visiting the Royalton parish and will be presenting a program of Orthodox liturgical music on Saturday, Aug. 5. Vespers will begin at 7 p.m., said Father Homick of the church.

In addition, a program on the Orthodox mission in Alaska will be presented by one of the students of the ensemble who spent a year and a half in Alaska.

St. Vladimir's Seminary will be recruiting young men in Royalton who are interested in the priesthood of the Orthodox faith.

The seminar is a graduate school of Orthodox theology and is located 15 miles north of New York City.

The Seminary prepares students for all nationalities for service in Orthodox churches here in America and throughout the world as priests, as seminary church school teachers and choir directors.

The "72 Summer Octet" has eight singers and has won nation-wide fame for its rendition of ancient and modern chant, and classical and liturgical music.

The Octet is on a coast-to-coast three-month tour of some 80 churches.

'Tada' proves to be interesting program, well done visually

By Rita Fung

Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Even to someone who knows absolutely nothing about contemporary dance, the production of 'Tada' presented by the Fourth Annual Contemporary Dance Workshop, proved an interesting experience.

The hour-long dance show, which ran Thursday and Friday in Ferr Auditorium, was very well done visually.

The abstract slides used as background and the word lighting effects were a trademark of W. Grant Gray-directed dance productions, making the production more exciting and interesting.

The show was a very merry, quirky background used in one number, which was really good as were the dancers utilized in several of the numbers.

The best part of the show was the Low Spark of High Heeled Boys, performed on the stage by nine of the company.

Although the dancing seemed good to me it was the production that stood out. The show was good and seemed to me really polished as was the production did drag and seemed in need of tightening, particularly in the final breakdown.

A strong point in the production was the music chosen. There was enough difference in the tempo and style of the different numbers to keep the audience awake and aware of what was happening in the dance. On the whole, most of the 30 members of the dance company displayed enough skill to present a dance program, and even for one who is not a dance aficionado.

$5,000.00 REWARD

-- for information leading to arrest and conviction of person or persons in murder of Michael Gerchenson, an S.U. student: slain early Wednesday, May 3, 1972. You need not disclose your name. All information will be kept strictly confidential. Anyone having such information should contact the following.

ILLINOIS STATE POLICE COMMAND HQTRS.

Phone collect: (217) 525-7762

Tuesday, August 1
8:00 p.m.
Morris Library Auditorium
Beautiful play

"Anastasia," the drama about a girl who claims to be the missing daughter of Czar Nicholas II, will run two more performances. Saturday and Sunday nights. Left. Leslie Ann Rivers as Anna, a ragged girl found near a canal, confronts Chuck Stransky as the sinister Prince Bounine. Right. Steve Webster as a blind sleigh driver speaks again to the princess he served in her youth.

• ‘Anastasia’ a delightful evening

Photos by Pam Smith

---

The Daily Egyptian

—it's a different kind of beast

Put a happy monster on your side. For only $3 per quarter ($1 per year), he will bring you all the campus news, the classifieds and tell you the best places to shop.

He is always in the know about all the good and bad things happening and reports them as they really are.

He is a sincere, honest, straight shooting type of friend. He is also constantly changing, as the complexion of the campus, the state, the country or the world changes.

He will visit you every day, any quarter, for only $3. Or, every day for a full year for only $9.

Subscribe to the Daily Egyptian—it is monstrously good reading.
The Carbondale City Council has postponed a public hearing on closing South Illinois Avenue to accommodate "street parties." It was one of the items on the agenda for the formal council meeting on Aug. 22.

The council was faced with the decision of accepting the recommendation of the Task Force report or of seeking an alternate solution to the problem of providing weekend entertainment for the 7,900 students.

The street closing recommendations of the report suggest that South Illinois Avenue be closed next fall in the form of two one-night closings and in the spring for three one-night closures.

Test light dates offered are Sept. 22 and 29 in the fall, and May 11 and 25 in the spring. The report stated:

"It is our hope that such organizations as the Chamber of Commerce, Student Government, Local Fraternal, Jaycettes, Park District and others would sponsor an event that would be more of a civic organization or in conjunction with other organizations," states the report.

"More activities are needed as well as more advanced planning."

"Also a method of funding other than possible student fees should be found."

"The Task Force feels that the local, civic and fraternal organizations could and should sponsor the event rather than the city."

"The city could provide the police, closing, signing, and clean-up. The University provides the police and emergency services. The Park District, civic and fraternal groups would handle the events. Entertainment, manpower, booths, and entertainment."

"In doing so, the report concludes, "The Task Force believes the event would provide enough money to pay the insurance and any additional funds could go into the city's capital reserve fund."

The report also states that "if the street becomes closed, the street will be closed temporarily due to large crowds at any event好几个 than that which the city deemed it should remain closed as long as the crowd presents disorderly."

Dan Meyer, president of the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce, speaking in opposition to the recommendations at Tuesday's council meeting, said the closings in spring were part of an emergency plan and that the closings in the spring were questionable.

"As the news went off, so did the attendance," he said. Many downtown merchants were hurt economically as a result of the "undesirable element" frequenting the event areas during the closings."

"Out-of-town residents are afraid to come into the downtown area because of the trash element."

Carbondale city manager Carroll Jones summarized the objections on Monday afternoon, which was written to the council by a group of downtown merchants and a group of Ronaparte's Retreat, supporting the present policy. Jones said an outpouring of support and permission should be obtained from the Illinois State Highway Department.

Rebuilding

(continued from page 1)

Damage to Mall shops from the fire on Aug. 21, continues. 5,000 for Dickie's Shoe Repair, $400 for the Mall Restaurant, $250 for Judy's Ice Cream and at least $21 for the Pottery Barn and Colors Unlimited, a booking agency. The Mall Bookstore suffered extensive damage, the bookstore stated, but amount damage has been tabulated. No damage was reported at the Mall Records.

The spokesman said that the firemen did not suffer any financial loss because it was the only building the Mall able to insure.

For Sale

MAN SEES KIDNAPPING

A man in his 30's, who was not identified, said he saw a boy being kidnapped in a car on Main Street near the Illinois Avenue entrance.

---

Subscribe to Daily Egyptian

Stop by the Newsstand. 30¢ a day. $6.00 a month.
Looking good

Hunting increases

Turkeys being gobbled up

Spring wild turkey hunts in Illinois have stirred up considerable interest in stock- ing the birds in more corners of the state. Several clubs and landowners have asked the Illinois Department of Conservation for wild birds to stock on their properties.

"We cannot provide wild turkeys to clubs and landowners simply because we do not have them," Jim Lockart, supervisor of the division of wildlife resources for the department, said. "The only source of turkeys we have are the ones we can live-trap in the counties which now have the birds.

"Our policy is to trap or acquire wild birds to stock all public lands suitable for raising turkeys. When this job is complete, consideration can be given to private lands on the basis of available area, interest of local residents and the amount of population in the area.

"The hunter has paid the bill for management of game in the state and public hunting should be the first criteria for stocking and management of the turkeys.

The department released 14,000 game farm turkeys in Illinois prior to the season and will help establish themselves and take on the characteristics of wild birds. However, no wild flock was involved in the release. Many other states went through the same process with the same results.

"Beginning in 1959 we began releasing native wild turkeys from other states to stock in Illinois," said Jack Callson, leader of the turkey project for the department.

"Thirty-five birds were released in the Shawnee National Forest. Success was not always immediate, or overwhelming, but all releases have remained and we now have a hust- able flock in Alexander, Jackson, Pope and Union counties.

"Turkeys have a daily range of several miles, and an even larger annual range. Birds released in any given area will seek the habitat of their choice, which may or may not be the area where they were released.

"This department is not attempting to discourage the interest of Illinois sportmen in the wild birds, but to explain that many Illinois is not suitable turkey range." Callson said. "A large tur- key area is necessary to accommodate the bird and these areas simply do not exist in many sections of the state.

"We are discouraging the release of farm game, or domesticated turkeys. They are reservoirs of disease and do not become wild turkeys. In areas where wild birds are present, farm birds serve to adversely affect the genotypes or wildfowl, or bird if they interbreed. The only way we can protect our turkeys is to stock truly wild birds.

Race tracks win tax evasion suit

CHICAGO (AP) - Circuit Judge Earl Atkins Friday ruled that the operators of Washington Park and Arlington Park race tracks do not owe the state $8.9 million in back penalties.

Judge Atkins ruled against Atty. Gen. William J. Scott who filed suit against Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises, Inc., alleging the state had a right to tax the tracks with CTE with tax evasion.

The state argued that CTE should have continued the combined parimutuel handle for both tracks, thus entitling the state to paying taxes for each track separately.

The state contended that if the combined parimutuel handle were taxes as a unit, CTE would have to pay a tax at a rate of 0.9 cent per dollar of the gross handle. The state has already been paid and work is in progress for the investigation.

"Fishing is enjoyed by more Illinoisans than is an outdoor activity," Harth said.

"Each year more than 600,000 licenses are sold to anglers. As and they purchase their fishing gear, they helping themselves to better fishing.

Daily girls lead Olympic qualifiers.

By Jerry Liska

Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — National AAU champion Cindy Potter, 21, of Dallas, Tex., won the 200-yard freestyle event Friday as she led the three finalists for the woman's 3-meter springboard event entry for the U.S. Olympic Diving team. Miss Potter, the noted Olympic diving candidate, had a first Olympic appearance in the Munich games Aug. 4-8, 1972. Poter won over one-upset Michi- Kinghorn, 16, in the U.S. trials and the third girl to grab a Olympic berth, Janet Elly, 18, the national AAU platform champion from Ann Arbor, Mich.

After building almost to a point lead in the morning preliminaries at Oakton Pool in suburban Park Ridge, Miss Potter scored consistently in the final three optional dives in the afternoon to amass enough points.

Miss King, who was fourth off the springboard in the 1978 Olympics at Mexico City, rallied strongly with her first afternoon dive to finish second.

The battle for the third and last spring-board Olympic berth was resolved when Miss Elly finished strong enough to assure Michi-Elly Air National Olympic team.

After the seven morning preliminaries Miss Potter had missed Miss Elly 25.85 to 25.60. 5.0 point. Miss King, who was fifth off the in an official final of 25, was Susan Klaugak, 17, Lincoln, Neb., with 298.90.

After a preliminaries starting, Chicago Cardi of Dallas, Miss, who was 25th from sixth to a final total 25th total.

Seventh was Lynn Damron, Moni- Lakeville, Minn. 25.86, who was Debbie Lipman, Long Beach, Calif., with 300.18. She was followed by Barbara Schaefer, Clarion, Pa., with 300.18.

Cubs lose, 2-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wil- a victory over the Philadelphia Phil- les a 2-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-0 victory over 10th straight game. Mike -Karlson won his 10th straight game. Mike -Karlson won his 10th straight game.

Carlson allowed four hits, all singles, struck out seven and walked two. Pappas yielded eight hits,........

Correction

Some readers may have inferred from yesterday's story concerning Danny Bradshaw in Thursday's Daily Egyptian that Bradshaw is an all-sports photographer. This, of course, is a false impression. Bradshaw said he wishes more confidence to people since he has started weight lifting.

Nature course at Crab Orchard

Crab Orchard Campground is now offering nature programs for the children in the operated campground. Refuge Manager, Ron Hill charmingly delivered the

"Without a doubt I have grown to the three optional dives, I had to stay consistent and I did. I think this will help me a lot in the tower competition because I'll be more released knowing I'm already on the Olympic squad.

Prissy Miss Elly, who watched the 1968 Olympics on television as a girls-teen, said "the platform event is my favorite. I think the pressure will be off and I would much rather do the platform than the springboard.

Nature course at Crab Orchard

Crab Orchard Campground is now offering nature programs for the children in the operated campground. Refuge Manager, Ron Hill charmingly delivered the

"Without a doubt I have grown to the three optional dives, I had to stay consistent and I did. I think this will help me a lot in the tower competition because I'll be more released knowing I'm already on the Olympic squad.

Prissy Miss Elly, who watched the 1968 Olympics on television as a girls-teen, said "the platform event is my favorite. I think the pressure will be off and I would much rather do the platform than the springboard.

Nature course at Crab Orchard

Crab Orchard Campground is now offering nature programs for the children in the operated campground. Refuge Manager, Ron Hill charmingly delivered the

"Without a doubt I have grown to the three optional dives, I had to stay consistent and I did. I think this will help me a lot in the tower competition because I'll be more released knowing I'm already on the Olympic squad.

Prissy Miss Elly, who watched the 1968 Olympics on television as a girls-teen, said "the platform event is my favorite. I think the pressure will be off and I would much rather do the platform than the springboard.

Nature course at Crab Orchard

Crab Orchard Campground is now offering nature programs for the children in the operated campground. Refuge Manager, Ron Hill charmingly delivered the

"Without a doubt I have grown to the three optional dives, I had to stay consistent and I did. I think this will help me a lot in the tower competition because I'll be more released knowing I'm already on the Olympic squad.

Prissy Miss Elly, who watched the 1968 Olympics on television as a girls-teen, said "the platform event is my favorite. I think the pressure will be off and I would much rather do the platform than the springboard.