Legislature Laundered as 'Workngest'

The 74th Illinois General Assembly is one of the "worst" legislatures in modern history, Rep. Clyde Choate of Anna declared here Wednesday.

Choate was one of four Legislators who discussed the current session in an "Election of Session," an evening program of the Crawford County Republican's Tea.

Choate, the House majority leader, said that present Houses and Senate committees, despite the large number of bills introduced, are the smallest he's seen at this point of the session in his 20 years in Springfield.

"Everybody thought this would be the most goofs-up session in Illinois history, the at-large election," Choate said. "On the contrary, we've got a real working House."

Freshman House member Leslie B. Jones of Flora said he was amazed at the amount of work in the Legislature, "I find none of the playing around and lack of integrity that people associate with it," he said, "I don't think any of the new members expected to find the honesty and ability they found."

Sen. William Grindle of Herrin and John Gilbert of Carbondale were also present on the discussion.

The four legislators joined in decrying the lack of trained help available to working members of the assembly, "It's an incredible situation," Jones said. "I get anywhere from 50 to 100 letters a day which I can’t answer them. I've got a stack of bills on my desk, yet I have no legal counsel or secretary."

Summer Quarter Fee Deadline Set

Students who advance-register for the Summer Quarter by May 29 will receive their fee statements by mail. Those who advance-register for the payment of fees for those who receive the statements by mail is June 11.

Students who register on June 11, however, must pay their fees at the time of registration.

For those students who have not enrolled on the campus during the 1965-66 Spring Quarter, June 17 and 18 have been set aside for registration. June 19 will be a day of regular registration for all students.

Summer classes begin on June 22 except for certain work-study classes which begin their sessions on June 21.

Summer Quarter Enrollment Expected to Top Last Year's

Summer school enrollment is expected to go well over the 9,380 enrolled last year, Leonard L. Biedermann, student body vice president, and student body vice president of the Edwardsville and Carbondale campus and the University Student Council.

The other meeting will be between Presidents Delwyn W. Morris and the University Council.

Apathy, Confusion Reduced Voting on Government Plans

Many members of the Student Council want to see the vote successfully on their reasoning, but why did the student body not participate in the election Wednesday concerning the formation of a new student government?

The boycott of the Student Council was based on the refusal of the University Council to permit a third alternative to be placed on the referendum ballot.

Here are some statements from student on why they did not participate in this election:

Patricia F. Rigor, a senior, said, "I didn't really understand what was going on."

The officials stated that fall was just a target date—so why not just rectify the deficiencies in our present system and have the fall action when the change is satisfactory with the administration and the Student Council?

"I'm not really that interested," said Philip A. Kupel, "I'm graduating in June, so any changes won't affect me in the slightest."

Marsha L. Purdom offered this reason: "The proposals weren't actually offering anyone much of a choice—they were just vote for the best of the worst when there are better choices that could have been brought before the student body?"

A freshman, Ronald H. Finkle, said, "I didn't know what they were voting on, so rather than make a bad choice I didn't vote."

Marcia S. Berk, freshman, said, "I didn't vote because I was on my raft in my pool trying my new novel and just didn't have time."

Lawrence A. Leiber, senior, said, "The whole thing made up already, so why bother to vote?"

G. P. Ross agreed, "No matter what we say, it doesn't make any difference. We actually got a student government or a student paper. It's all the administration and how they want it to be. Just look at the General Studies program, do the students want it?"

The meeting between the student government leaders, who were scheduled to meet this afternoon in Carbondale, will be used to hear the students' ideas of what to do next, according to Ralph W. Ruffner, vice president of area and student services.

The second meeting between Morris and the University Council is being scheduled for Friday night or Saturday morning. During the meeting, Morris will refer the results of the referenda to the Council for its recommendation.

Results of the referendum, which was held Wednesday, were slim pickings. In Carbondale, only 312 students out of an eligible 14,500 voted. At Edwardsville, 318 of a possible 6,000 students voted.

Alternative B received the most votes, by a narrow margin of 29. In Carbondale, more ballots were intentional-ly voided than were used for either of the alternatives. At Edwardsville, officials said the result of a movement organized by the Rational Action Movement to oppose voting for either of the alternatives.

The opposition movement arose as a result of the University's refusal to add a third alternative to the ballot.

The officials stated on the ballot stated that a new student government must be formed by the end of the quarter of the 1965-66 academic year.

The alternative College proposed that student government would continue in its present form until a change is approved by the students. The member of the structure formation open indefinitely.

Univrsity officials are trying to set up two separate meetings on the referendum on student government.

One meeting will concern the student body presidents and student body vice presidents of the Edwardsville and Carbondale campus and the University Student Council. The other meeting will be between President Delwyn W. Morris and the University Council.

Buildings Should Suit People, Student Architect Worth Says

"Too many buildings and too many homes are designed by architects to carry out their own creative ideas without enough regard for the people who will occupy and use them. I think that architectural design should be fitted to the people, not vice versa."

This is the working creed of Gary L. Worth, a practicing architect who is a part-time student in the interior design program in SUI's School of Home Economics.

Worth, who spent a year and a half in the office of the state architect in Springfield, is now employed in an architect's office in Carbondale.

He has already studied architectural engineering in Chicago Technical College and the Illinois Institute of Technology. While employed there, he worked on such projects as highway design, re-modeling of the State Capitol and other drafting and architectural problems.

He chose to take up interior design before continuing his architectural studies, and came to Southern last fall.

While working for a local architect, he has helped design shopping centers, nursing homes, low-rent housing and interior decorations.

Worth said his conviction that buildings should suit the people who will be living and working in them led him into the field of interior design.

"That's why I want to become an interior designer, then finish my architectural degree and combine the two fields to make more functional and suitable structures, whether they are homes, business buildings or industrial plants," Worth said.

Goldspender and the Seven Dwarfs

A New James Bunn Series by Ian Fleeting

Miss Nevermoneymoney watched as James Bunn got into his specially equipped Aston-Hardly and drove off to Carbondale for charging-wage. Turning around in the sixth floor office of the Carbondale News in Chicago, she looked at him coldly and said, "I hope he succeeds in his mission. "Delicate Delight," he means to say." "It is really that dangerous," she added. "If it is, then why am I afraid of him?" "I'm afraid, so Goldspender could grow into quite a prophetic name." Kerner Names Ross V. Randolph Successor

SPRINGFIELD, III. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner Thursday named Warden Ross V. Randolph of Menard Prison as director of the Illinois Public Safety Department, replacing Joseph E. Ragen.

Rumors of the change had been circulating for weeks. Kerner gave no reason for the shift other than saying Ragen refused to answer questions put by Alfred Nittle, committee counsel.

Nittle said during question-ning of the unresponsive wittnesses that several of them had been subpoenaed to give their versions of information given to the committee that they had been active in affairs of Communist-front organizations.

The disorders at the front entrance of the building started with a sudden surge while pickets, who took little or no part in them, were moved back and forth.

The gate-rushers gathered on the Lake Michigan beach across from the busy local and express traffic drive opposite the courthouse. Then, using a pedestrian tunnel beneath the drive, they dashed to the building.

PEOPLE LIVING IN CHICAGO AREA, THIS IS FOR YOU...
SIU Role as Major University Reflected in Employer Interest

Southern's role as a major university is illustrated by the employment of graduates. Since Oct. 1, 1964, a total of 31,915 of our students have graduated this year. About 4,276 of these students were interviewed by employers. With 3,276 student interviews completed, there were 1,753 business and industry and 1,523 in teaching. Representatives of 225 firms and 176 school systems, colleges, and universities came to the Placement Service to hold personal interviews with students who will be graduating this year. About 40 percent of these visiting groups were from outside of the state. Mail requests came from 290 business, industrial, and government agencies. There were requests from 353 elementary and secondary systems and from 40 institutions of higher learning in other states.

From Illinois came requests from 448 elementary schools and 749 junior and senior high schools.

Bryant said the peak season for recruiting is from January through April, but, in the teaching field, last-minute changes often create vacancies right to the opening of schools and colleges in the fall.

Foresters Choose Outstanding Senior

John E. Gunter, a first-term senior from Peoria, has been selected as the outstanding senior in forestry.

Gunter was also elected president of the SIU Forestry Club. Other officers for the coming school year are Glenn R. Campbell, Springfield, vice-president; Charles P. Anthony, Maywood, secretary; and Donald E. Vanoner, Carterville, treasurer.

Richard M. Moore, Broughton, and Franklin Koch, Wheeling, are Student Council Representatives.

An Egyptians proving report asked SIU coeds if they had any preconceived qualities in mind when they were sent. And, yea they did! Here are their answers, but to protect the innocent, only their first names have been used.

Freshman, Carolyn P. said, "I want someone who is fun to be with, average looking, and has lots of personality."

Jazz Society Sets Final Workshop

The Jazz Unlimited Society started this quarter, will present its final Jazz Workshop on June 5.

According to a society commit tee, the workshop of the quarter is designed to help students through the final week by providing them with a "clear mind and a refreshed emotional atti tude."

Jazz Unlimited Society hopes to do this by "vindicating you of pent up emotions through what holds promise of being its biggest and best of the series of Jazz Workshops."

The Ted Daniels Quintet and Ford Gibson's Sextet will be the featured groups, with on-campus musicians invited to participate. The percussionist is expected to provide the display of assorted rhythms.

The workshop will begin at 2 p.m., in the University Cen ter Cafeteria. No admission will be charged.

Kennedy Foundation to Study SIU's Camp for Handicapped

SIU’s summer camp program for the handicapped is to be evaluated this summer by a task force of observers from the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation.

The physical fitness benefits to the mentally retarded will be of particular interest to the foundation specialists. The physical fitness programs will be compared with the Little Grassly programs, which are operated by the Kennedy Foundation consultant, and the Little Grassly programs will be studied as a possible blueprint for adoption at Foundation-sponsored day camps throughout the United States.

The pilot operation at SIU could lay the groundwork for national adoption, according to Freeburg.

Competitive games between the various camps are being considered by the Foundation.

The scores would be compared by telegram.

Freeburg, director of special education at the University of Illinois, will head the Foundation team.

Three two-week sessions of camping for both the physically and the mentally handicapped will be held at SIU’s Little Grassly facilities between July 6 and Aug. 14. Handicapped children have been attending the Little Grassly camps for 13 years. SIU has been an acknowledged pioneer in developing outdoor recreation as a learning tool for the retarded.

A spokesman for the Student Government Office said the older student claimed he was defending himself against two other men. Suspension for the other has been deferred until the spring quarter and will be effective only during the spring quarter.

We suggest to SIU seniors, that through this plan which involves discounted prices, reduced down payment, and premium class interest rates, you may soon be able to purchase a new car. We hope there is a Ford in your future.

Technology 2
Bowls to Top; 1 Night to Go

Elvis Bryant's 380 series sparked Technology 2 to a 4-0 victory over the second-place Spares with one more night to go in the league.

The victory enabled Technol­ogy 2 to keep a three-game lead over the second-place Spares with one more night to go in the league.

Spares kept their slim chances at the title open by beating Agriculture 4-1. John Rice's 534 was the high series for the Spares.

Chemistry, the only other team with a chance at the title, saw its title aspirations just about wrecked when it split four games with Housing.

The split left Chemistry four games behind Technology.

Housing was paced by James Yagow who raised the second highest series of the night with a 549.

In other matches, Industrial Education defeated the Alley Cats 3-1. Physics defeated Counseling and Testing gained 4-0 victories over Re­habilitation and University Center, respectively.

SIU Trustees Veto Water Plant Bids

The SIU Board of Trustees rejected all bids for Phase 2 of the water treatment plant at the Edwardsville campus during its meeting Wednesday. The bids were 30 per cent above the engineers' cost estimates, according to the trustees.

University officials were instructed to seek alternate means of accomplishing the work.

Bids were approved for necessary renovation work on Camp Brass Junior High, buildings which are to be used by the University in operation of the Urban Job Corps Training Center for the federal Office of Economic Opportunity. Two tracts of land acquired by the Southern Illinois University Foundation for the Edwardsville campus were considered to the U.S. Housing Authority, from which funds for the purchases were obtained.

Clay Undaunted, Ready to Fight

L. E. WILSON, Alaine (AP) — Nothing seems to faze Cassius Clay. In the wake of international condemnation of the first Clay-Mun­ton, nationwide calls for a probe of boxing, and proposals in several states for bann­ging of boxing, the undefeated and undaunted heavyweight champion talked Thursday of fighting Canadian champion George Chuvalo or former champion Floyd Patterson next, or “anyone the public wants.”

“My baby is fighting three of them — Floyd Patterson, George Chuvalo and Frone­rrell in one night,” said Clay. “But who would want on Clay, Patterson and Fore­relll to beat me?”

All three are scheduled to fight on the bill at Clay, despite his one-punch kayo of Liston Tuesday night in one minute, two seconds, or take your pick of the time. The question of the time may be only one decided before Friday.

But how much power really was generated by that one short, right-hand blow to Jos­ton’s left cheekbone never will be known by anyone except Liston. Either the cocky 20­year-old Clay unshaved one of the mightier punches than Liston’s ability or desire to take a punch was gone.

In the opinion of boxing promoter Jerry­ Joe Wallcot and Patterson — Clay will say it was a hard punch, Clay, who dashed to the ring Tuesday night to arc at Clay, charged the knock­ out was a farce.

“Liston’s reflexes were gone and his coordination was gone,” said ringleader Jimmy Corbett. “Could have been two­day or three­day ex­heavyweight kings at the fight. “He got hit a good­” and fell out. A fighter to the last one to know when he finished.”

NEW YORK (AP) — You’d think a fellow fairly well along in the fifties, with more tri­umphs and more prize money than any other American profes­sional, would be content to flip his coupons and count his bank­rolls. But not Sammy Snead, the brilliant slammer of the links who is awaiting the next ma­jor golf championship of the season and the eagerness you’d expect of let’s say someone like his 20­year­ old past.

“If I continue on the tournament trail until I feel I got no chance at all,” said the 53­year­old Snead, “I’d like to win the U.S. Open.”

“Yes, I want to win the U.S. Open,” he said wistfully. “That’s the only big one I haven’t been able to bag. I’d had loss of opportunities, though.”

“We call this another crack at the U.S. Open, scheduled for St. Louis next month,” he qualified.

Sulakwist Wait for Action

SIU-Billean Baseball Game Postponed Until Monday

SIU’s baseball team will have to wait until Monday to try to continue its mastery over Missouri Valley Con­ference foes.

The Sulakwists’ doubleheader with St. Louis University’s Billean has been postponed from Saturday to Monday be­cause of the Bills’ participation in postseason tourna­ment play.

The St. Louisans were rained out Wednesday night in their opening game of a three­game series with Big Eight Conference Missouri.

The game was rained out for Thursday afternoon. But the postponement caused the second game to be moved up to Saturday night and the third game if necessary to Sunday.

Therefore Lisbon’s team did its homework with a 4­game record all its victories were over Southeast Missouri State and its only loss was to Menard.

SIU Girl Speedster
Eyes Olympic Goal

By Roy Franke

The McAndrew Stadium track is not exactly the place one would expect to find a pretty brunette spending her afternoons.

But for 19-year-old SIU coed Judy Toeneboehn it's like a second home. Of course, Miss Toeneboehn isn't exactly an average college coed. As she says, "There aren't many girls interested in running the 440-yard dash."

Miss Toeneboehn may become the first SIU coed ever to make the United States Olympic track team. That's been her goal since she was a fifth grader at Hope Lutheran Grade School in St. Louis. It was there that she got her first taste of competitive running. Now she runs 8 to 10 miles a week, although her training schedule has been interrupted off and on this spring by various throat ailments.

Her competitive schedule has subsequently been hampered. However, two weeks ago she finished second in the quarter-mile at the Ozark AAU Track Meet in St. Louis. Her time was a relatively slow 62 seconds, but then only Lori Schute of Illinois State University topped it with a 59.8.

Miss Toeneboehn's career record, however, is 57.0 seconds which she ran in an exhibition race in late May last year. That compares favorably with Janella Smith's American Record of 54.0.

The world record for the event is 52.3 by an English girl. Miss Toeneboehn predicts she can eventually cut her time to around 54 seconds, although she'll just be trying to break 60 seconds Saturday.

Besides the 440, she'll also be competing in the 440-yard relay for the Edwardsville Track Club.

And this week the 5-6, 125-pound sophomore hopes to enter one more meet—June 1st at Alton—before heading for Minnesota and a recreational camp job.

Because of the job she'll miss the National AAU Women's Championships in July but she hopes to compensate for the loss by finding some meets in Minnesota.

But if it hadn't been for Housing Contracts

Available in June

Contracts for summer housing will be available early in June. The Housing Office will be open to June 20, and students can get contracts through that date.

Students who plan to live in residence halls during the summer session should come in for contracts as soon as possible. At this time, housing is available for any students attending for the summer quarter.

Woody Hall will be open for women, in contrast to last summer, when it was used for men, and Thompson Point will be open for men wishing to live in on-campus housing. Lists of the on-campus housing can be obtained at the Housing Office.

Students who plan to live in off-campus housing should come to the off-campus section of the Housing Office to select housing as early as possible and find out what is available.
