Brown to legislators: put $65,000 salary cap on administrators

By Mike Anthony
Staff Writer

A $65,000-a-year cap should be placed on university administrators' salaries to help reduce the cost of higher education, according to Deane Brown, Graduate Student Council president.

That suggestion was one of four that Brown put to the Illinois Senate Appropriations II Committee Tuesday in Springfield. Brown also proposed that University officials cooperate with students in the development of the SIU budget analyzed by an external consultant. He said for fiscal year 1984 should not be increased unless the increases would be "reasonable and justified," and that the definition of instructional costs for education be examined carefully and explained if necessary.

She urged the committee to consider her suggestions to help ease the fiscal plight that SIU and other institutions are facing.

Decisions of SIU administrators "are a continuing source of embarrassment" to Illinois taxpayers, Brown said. Brown told the committee that students question the rationale behind a $50,000 professional services award for George Mace, former vice president of university relations, and paying former coach John Gottfried a salary of $36,000 after he resigned and sought employment at the University of South Alabama.

Also, students question the propriety of paying the executive secretary to the Board of Trustees a $23,000 salary. They wonder about the need to have "four or five" new cars placed in the chancellor's office," Brown told the committee.

Futhermore, students questioned the need for these expenditures coming "at a time when six out of 10 counties have the highest unemployment rates in the state are located in Illinois.

Both sides bare teeth in Falklands crisis

By The Associated Press

Britain on Wednesday declared a "total war" zone 200 miles around the Falkland Islands, the site of the war being reported in the zone ready to fight and the British forces stationed there had reached a critical point.

The Defense Ministry in London said the "total exclusion zone" would take effect at 6 a.m. CDT Friday, and the British Broadcasting Corp. said there was a strong possibility of a British attack Friday night or Saturday morning.

It said Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has "taken历史性 decisions."

British defense sources said weather conditions in the South Atlantic were "deteriorating rapidly," with 76 mile-an-hour winds and a 10-foot-high swell. It speculated that Britain's ministers would act quickly.

Argentina, while saying it was a studying U.S. position, delayed by Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., put its forces on "maximum alert" and predicted a British attack on the Falklands in 24 to 48 hours.

Argentina naval sources in Buenos Aires said the nation's fleet was sailing to the South Atlantic, including the announced "total exclusion zone."

"We're doing all we can through diplomatic channels to avoid a war, but if they the British war, we will have to respond," they said. "We have the alternative to defend ourselves against an attack." said one of the sources, who requested anonymity.

In Washington, a senior State Department official who declined to be identified said: "We are now at a point where it is almost imperative that the two sides submit their plans to the U.N. for a final proposal to end the conflict."

Regarding the British war zone announcement, Dean Fischer, the State Department spokesman, said, "It is quite clear in light of this announcement that the crisis has reached a critical point."

He also said consideration was being given to another meeting between Haig and Argentine Foreign Minister Nicanor Costa Mendez, who was in Washington for a meeting of the Organization of American States.

Fischer said Haig has submitted proposals to resolve the war between London and Buenos Aires "and we are awaiting a response."

However, the senior U.S. official said Haig believes "time is getting very very short" because of "the movement of military forces."

The war, which is designed to both London and Buenos Aires, "time is getting very very short" because of "the movement of military forces."

The war, which is designed to both London and Buenos Aires, was to one, two or three days away. Argentine Foreign Minister Mendez said air raids in the Falklands were now "a reality," and large ships have been sunk.

Smaller fee hike possible

By Mike Anthony

Students may face a $14.60 per semester increase in fees for the 1983 fall semester, Bruce Swinburne vice president for student affairs, said Wednesday.

However, that increase is less than the $26.40 per semester increase students will pay in fees next September as a result of hikes approved by the Board of Trustees last February for fiscal 1983. Swinburne pointed out.

The board also passed a housing increase in February that raised on-campus housing rates $2.40 per semester.

Increases ranging from 11.2 to 16.5 percent were approved for Southern Hills, Small Group Housing, Evergreen Terrace, Elizabeth Street Apartments and University Court Apartments.

But Swinburne said he hopes to avoid any housing rate increases for fiscal 1984, and if one is necessary, "it will not be of the magnitude that we have unfortunately grown used to in the last few years."

Swinburne said "it's too early to say" if additional fee increases will be necessary for fiscal 1984, but he anticipates that increases in the revenue bond fee and the Recreation Center fee will be necessary.

Also, he said he would like to see the creation of a $2 fee for the repair, replacement and modernization of intercollegiate athletics facilities.

Students can expect to face more increases of $6.60 in the revenue bond fee for fiscal 1984 and fiscal 1985, he said. Currently the fee is $44.20.

But by fiscal 1985, the revenue bond fee should remain constant at $58.80, he said. The fee, combined with the one fee for the repair, replacement and modernization reserve fund for intercollegiate athletics, totals $110.20.

The creation of a repair, replacement and modernization reserve fund for intercollegiate athletics would "be a sound move," Swinburne said, because currently there is not a fund for maintaining athletics facilities.

"Step right up and write to your congressman"

By Doug Hettinger
Staff Writer

"Free stationary, free postage!" echoed along the Fanner walkway Wednesday. "Have you written a letter yet today? Let your congressmen know what you think!"

It was all part of a National Letter Writing Day spearheaded by the SIU Graduate Student Council and Undergraduate Student Organization. The purpose was to make federal legislators aware that the way they vote on education issues will affect how students vote in November.

According to Carl Kostierowski, coordinator, 1,194 letters were written at SIU Wednesday.

Steve Emil, a senior in speech communications who manned a letter-writing table in the Communications Building, said, "When I walked up here at 2 p.m. it was a madhouse.

Many of the letters were modeled after one-paragraph sample letters that were available at the tables. They asked legislators to support legislation that "enhances rather than restricts the attainment of higher levels of education."

Many students just copied the sample, however, some expressed individual and to-the-point concerns.

Lisa Krebs, a 19-year-old sophomore, wrote to Reagan, "Please consider more than your position because we do."

On a more personal note, Brenda McCray, a sophomore in physiology, wrote, "I am not from a wealthy family and I need the support the government provides through Guaranteed Loans. My education is at stake."

But perhaps Mary Wozak, a music education student, summed up the situation best when she wrote, "Education is very important and without it many people will end up making bargers in a greasy point."
United Nations adopts proposal for Palestinian statehood plan

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - Over bitter American protest, the General Assembly on Wednesday adopted a resolution for Palestinian statehood that condemned the United States' support for Israel, including a series of U.S. vetoes in the Security Council.

The resolution urges the Security Council to endorse the Palestinian statehood plan submitted by 12 U.N. Palestinian Rights Committee in 1976 but killed by a U.S. veto in the Security Council. That plan would have Israel transfer the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip through the United Nations to the Palestinian Liberation Organization to form a Palestinian state.

The resolution also calls on U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar to make contact with the parties in the Arab-Israeli dispute, including the PLO, in an effort to find "a just, comprehensive and lasting solution" to the conflict.

Ambassador William C. Sherman, a U.S. deputy chief delegate, called the resolution "an ill-inspired, offensive document" that would reinforce an attitude of "cynicism toward the General Assembly and thus toward the United Nations itself among people of good will.

The tally was almost identical to the 86-21 vote, with 34 abstentions, by which the assembly adopted a similar but stronger resolution last Feb. 5 at a special session on the situation in Israeli-occupied Arab territories.

Poland to lift curfew, free prisoners

WARSAW, Poland (AP) - The government will release 1,000 Poles from detention in May and lift most martial law restrictions including the nighttime curfew, Polish television said Wednesday.

The announcement, said the government will release 1,000 Poles from detention in May and lift most martial law restrictions including the nighttime curfew, Polish television said Wednesday.

It coincided with Archbishop Jozef Glemp's statement in Rome Wednesday that Polish-born Pope John Paul II was postponing a planned August visit to his homeland.

Glemp, Poland's Roman Catholic primate, is in Vatican City this week for talks with the pope about church policy opposing Church· and Poland's nonalignment with the United States and its allies.

About 2,000 martial law prisoners have been released in the past four months.

Hearing slated on Sting protest

By Lyndall Caldwell
Staff Writer

The Campus Judicial Board for Governance will have a hearing in the Student Center from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday on Sting Party members' complaints of election violations.

Sen. Lamont Brantley and Dan Burk are appealing the results of the Undergraduate Student Organization elections held April 14 because of complaints with the election commissioner, the voting process, and election wording in 100 feet of polls.

USO Election Commissioner Dave Williams has denied all allegations of election violations.

Brantley charged that Jerry Cook, USO president-elect, told voters to misspell the last name of Glenn Stolar. Stang presided over the candidate, so that their ballots would be declared invalid. He also said that because visible fingerprints appear on many of the ballots, the election commission violated state and federal election laws which Brantley said "in effect stated that any ballot on which fingerprints can be traced is invalid.”

State law, Brantley said, prohibits campaigning within 100 feet of polling places and he charged that "all parties violated this law in polling places such as Grinnell, Trueblood, and Morris Library. to name a few.”

"I feel that because the election commissioner applied state and federal law to write-in votes, he must equally and fairly apply those laws to the conduct of the whole election, not just one instance," Brantley said.

Brantley and Burk's requests for the commissioner to comply with state and federal law, springing from a formal complaint filed by Brian Netols, Maverick campaign chairman. Netols had asked the commissioner the same thing before the election, specifically to accept only correct spellings of names of write-in candidates.

Burk also complained about the fingerprints on ballots and campaigning at polls. He said there was no privacy for voters because pollworkers examined ballots before placing them in boxes and there were no private voting booths.

The bylaws state that pollworkers must place ballots in boxes, to prevent ballot box stuffing, according to Williams.

Burk also said that according to federal law, when a presidential candidate is ruled ineligible, the vice presidential candidate may move into the top slot and choose a new running mate.

Shaw complains of 'lean' funding

SIU will be required to make about a $4 million reduction for fiscal 1983 as a result of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's allocation of Gov. James Thompson's $309.4 million, or about fiscal 1982, which was $4 million over budget.

The SIU System has tried to deal with the tight budgetary situation "with self-help measures and by unfortunatly, having to raise our tuition.

"But even with these tuition increases, our net money under the governor's budget, will be less than fiscal 1982," he said.

"The tuition increases are not enough for us to avoid major belt-tightening steps, the chancellor warned, 'and I'm not talking about cosmetic changes. They'll require major decisions about what is most important at our universities.'

"Setting priorities always is difficult, "and it becomes even more difficult when funds are tight," Shaw said, telling the committee that he was sure "you're going to get complaints. We'll do everything in our power to ensure that we deal with our problems internally. As we proceed with this difficult task, you'll undoubtedly see a few rough spots."

"But for fiscal 1983, ‘we face an even more difficult situation,” Shaw said. "About $4 million, or about a 3.4 reduction in personnel services activities’ will be needed to stay within the governor’s budget.

Economics, not morals, should be goal of SII

WHAT DO PRAYER in the schools, God-centered education and the covenant of Abraham have to do with the economic development of Southern Illinois? Not much, in any practical sense.

Not long after the Jerry Falwell, head of the so-called Moral Majority, talked about when he spoke Monday to the members and guests of Southern Illinois Inc. He also talked about doing God's work in the United States, doing the coursework and other ethical questions. But not the economy of Southern Illinois, or even the economy in general.

That's strange since Southern Illinois Inc., founded in 1940, has described itself as a "private, non-profit organization dedicated in planned, coordinated economic development in Southern Illinois."

The presence of Falwell seemingly contributed little toward that goal and may even have hindered SII's efforts to reach it, for people who are put off by Falwell's brand of religion will now think twice about giving SII their support.

IT ISN'T THAT Falwell shouldn't be allowed to believe or say the things he does. But some people concerned about jobs and the economy felt that SII, as an economic development organization, had no business asking him here to say it.

Just to bring the facts, SII, the "representative" of Lodge 111 of the International Association of Machinists, put the feeling well.

"Jerry Falwell has every right to speak from any forum he wishes," Garner said. "But, SII, supposedly being an economic development group, had no business sponsoring him. Falwell has nothing to offer to the economic development of this area."

Many people apparently share Garner's feelings. About 75 students, faculty members, local church members and union members picketed at the Student Center, where Falwell spoke, and waited to hear the talk.

Unfortunately, they never got the chance. Some scheduling shenanigans, devised by either SII, Falwell, or University officials, failed of controlling the press and church members of the public, and prevented them from being in the right place at the right time to see Falwell.

Leaders of SII say they invited Falwell because they are concerned with the cultural development as well as the economic development of Southern Illinois.

THAT, APPARENTLY, WAS news to many people who were surprised by Falwell's appearance on the platform of an organization that for more than 40 years has told the public its interests were economic: that is how SII's current leaders see its intentions, perhaps it is time for SII members to reassess what they are doing. The churches of Southern Illinois are perfectly capable of saving souls. SII should use its resources in developing and saving jobs.

Whatever SII's intentions in bringing Falwell here, it was a move that not only alienated many people in Southern Illinois, but resulted in something of a public relations fiasco for SII and SIU-C.

The juggling of his itinerary, which kept people from seeing Falwell, and the presence of numerous security personnel, hurt SIU-C by creating the impression among students that the University was trying to stifle legitimate public protest.

SII has given the impression it is more concerned with the moral development of Southern Illinois as prescribed by the right-wing preacher than with practical proposals to aid the economy.

Let's see more useful articles

We commend the Daily Egyptian on the campus safety information and the Undergraduate Organization's Self-Awareness Week, which ran April 5 through April 10.

We feel it is important for all students to be constantly reminded that these services and special person groups are there for their own personal benefit. Our question is why not print more of these useful articles throughout the school year? We hope that by doing this it may decrease the number of victims along with increasing the Student Union's services such as Rape Action, Women's Services and SIU Security. - Mike Evans, Pre-law, and Diane Terrafino Public Relations.

Prune the deadwood, not the blossoms

Budget cuts mean faculty and staff cuts. It seems hard to get around it. But some of the cuts are more unkind than others.

Especially unkind to students is the recent SIU-C payroll trimming of William R. Lewis, who teaches at the Department of English.

Lewis doesn't lecture his students, he nurtures them. He hunts for talent, encourages individually, then guides his students to the right people, publications, organizations and practical experiences to help that particular talent grow.

Students like to attend his classes at 10 a.m. or 4 p.m. because his teaching is fresh, stimulating. Because he listens. Because he works overtime going beyond the basics of the classroom.

I was one of Lewis' students in creative writing, and because of his help, I am a produced playwright.

Budget cuts. We must prune the tree. But the deadwood should go first, not the blossoms. - Pam Billingsley, Murphysboro.

Most Iranians support the Islamic revolution

As a Moslem Iranian student concerned about the Islamic revolution in Iran, I refer to several recent articles published by the Daily Egyptian that were written by Ann Arbor high school students. These letters had totally misleading headlines and body content. I would like to express my large disappointment and anger for the misrepresentation of the Daily Egyptian by some irresponsible Iranian students who wrote an idiotic letter about the Islamic revolution in Iran.

In general, those who are sponsored to write such articles in Iran are the ones who have never felt oppression and who have never been imprisoned. These people are also heavily laced with powermongers and are very heavy. With their facts to both the revolutionary leaders at all levels and also my family members who have escaped from Iran, I would like to express my deep respect for the Iranian people that are always striving for their God's sovereignty and to the spirit of the revolution in Iran.

This epideine of the human race has impressed the Islamic people and scholars leaders to work on reconstruction of their homeland. They have built more schools, hospitals, and other public services in three years than did the oppressive 50-year regime of Shah. Agriculture in the rural areas is successfully thriving towards self-sufficiency. It is the spirit of dedication of the Iranian people that actually established this tremendous actualization of independence and freedom.

The administration must well being through the taxes you pay, so are they contributing to yours.

As I seem to wish, everyone were allowed to keep all of their things, what do you think would happen? Would you really be able to pay your rent and mortgage? Would your children have parks to play or schools to attend? Could you provide for your retirement, perhaps even from vandalism? And finally, where do you think the money you would be without funding for higher education?

The fact of the matter is that with the combined poor state of the economy and the high rate of inflation, today, there are not very many low-skilled jobs around, and those are the kinds of jobs that untrained and uneducated people are fit for. If people are priced out of an education, the percentage of unskilled workers in the labor force will soar, but the number of jobs will not.

In case you are not aware of it, when huge percentages of the population are unemployed it is only those who are unemployed who are likely to be in poverty. When money is not flowing through the economy, you think the money for your precious paycheck is not making its way through the system.

Granted, there are many abuses and overspending in most government programs, but reforms are what is necessary— not a decrease in general education. I am concerned about America's future, including here and how your tax dollars are spent, then get out and vote for a congressman. Voice your concerns. Promote responsible reform.

However, if you prefer to be selfish and greedy, we could do without them, be paved with potholes from your pocketed tax dollars.

Courage makes changes

I'm writing in response to Elbert Hadley's letter (Daily Egyptian, March 30). Hadley harped on the facts that Hadley used to present his viewpoint, but no facts, only opinion. I do not happen to be a student of mine who is a typical middle-class college student attending the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. My parents do not make $30,000 a year, which is too close to it, and both of them work. I do not think it is even harder for them to keep the household afloat, but that many others are just happy with what they do have.

My parents have always told me that they would try to scrape up enough money in order to go to college if I needed help. But now I'm a big boy, and the time has come for my parents struggle even more than they do. That's why they love to do their "little baby" can float through his college years without any real worries and be stunned when he gets out making me sick.

I work when I can and pay taxes, and I know that I earn isn't quite enough to earn all of my college expenses. That is why I am not working every day of the week, but keep the student loan for help. I have to turn to a student loan for help because I realize that I can't have that debt hanging over me as I get out of college. I know that I will have to be responsible to have the responsibility to work towards paying it back.

I believe that Hadley's implication that his cure is the most responsible about their education and future is true. I also think that a student wishes to go to a rock concert or have pizza in Florida is entirely up to that individual.

Finally, as I have gotten older and have turned to a student loan for help. I have put over $30,000 in student loans. As a Moslem Iranian student who escaped from Iran, I would like to express my deep respect for the Iranian people that are always striving for their God's sovereignty and to the spirit of the revolution in Iran.

Environment isn't expendable luxury

FINANCIAL AID AND STUDENT WORK

Wooody Hall, Third Floor, B Wing

1. Illinois State Scholarship Commission (ISSC) Monetary Award

For students who have not already done so, we strongly recommend that you apply for a 1982-83 ISSC Monetary Award. The deadline to apply is June 1, 1982. To apply, all undergraduate, Illinois residents must submit at ACT/FFS Application, and answer "Yes" to Question 74 and 75a.

2. On-campus Student Employment

Students who wish to have an on-campus student work job, must have a 1982-83 ACT/FFS on file. Be sure to enclose the ACT/FFS processing and enter SIUC's school code #1144 in Section H and Question 76.

NOTE: ACT/FFS Need Analysis Forms may be obtained in our office.

3. Guaranteed Student Loan/Illinois Guaranteed Loan

As the Federal Government has not yet established the GSL guidelines for the 1982-83 academic year, lenders are being advised not to give loan applications to students. Our office can not process loan applications until these guidelines are published.

4. Financial Aid Award

Our office had planned to begin making financial aid awards in the middle of April, allowing those students who mailed their ACT/FFS in January to hear from us in late April or early May. However, because of delays in the delivery system at the federal level, students who mailed their ACT/FFS in January may not hear from us before late May or early June. Those students who mailed their ACT/FFS before April 1, will still be given priority for Campus-Based Aid.

Students who are just now sending in their ACT/FFS can still apply for the Pell Grant, ISSC Monetary Award, Student Work, and Guaranteed Student Loans.

5. Short Term Loan Service Charge

Effective Monday June 7, 1982, the service charge for short term loans will be increased to the following:

Jane Doe still suffers from amnesia

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. (AP) — A year ago Wednesday, amnesia-ridden Jane Doe slipped away from Florida on an early morning flight with her parents to begin a new life in Roselle, Ill.

Her restructured life under the real name of Cheryl Ann Tomiczek was an anti-climactic finale in the months of publicity that surrounded her total lack of memories while she lived at the South Florida State Hospital in Pembroke Pines.

Robert Neis, the Chicago attorney who has represented the Tomiczek family for the past three months, said Cheryl Ann is still being treated for Fleet to set sail in paper chase

Ahoy, Shipmates! The Ninth Annual Great Cardboard Boat Regatta will be held at noon Saturday at the Campus Lake Boat Docks, sponsored by the SU design program and the International Paper Company. All participants will be given the chance to design a person-powered, corrugated "cardboard" boat capable of racing about a triangular 200-yard course four times.

Three classes will compete in three classes. Class I will be boats powered by canine paddlers or ex-pau paddlers. Class II will be boats powered by all forms of manpower propulsion and/or sail. Class III boats will be supplied by the sponsor.

After the event, a party will be thrown for participants only at The Bar with free beer until 8 p.m.

Bible exposition to be presented

The Prophecy Expo, a five-week series of multimedia presentations of Bible prophecies, will begin at 5:30 and 7:15 p.m. May 1 at the Carbondale Community Center, 607 E. College Ave.

The program makes use of six slide projectors and three giant screens to make Bible prophecies easy to understand. Twenty different topics will be presented during the series. The series will continue on May 2 and 4, and subsequent presentations will be held Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday nights until June 5.

Earl Simmons, the speaker, has traveled in Europe and the Middle East, photographing the scenes of critical issues. The program is free and open to the public. A free nursery will be provided.
Citizens must start bagging papers

By Bob Rondurant
Staff Writer

Now is the time for all good citizens of Carbondale to bundle their cans and bottles, said Secundino Ramirez.

Next week, the city’s recycling ordinance takes effect, requiring all residents to separate unsold newspaper from other trash, bundle it and leave it at curb side for pickup.

The ordinance, passed in February, makes it unlawful to discard the newspaper instead; it should be tied in bundles of no more than 25 pounds each.

The city’s recycling franchise, Waste Not Paper Recycling, will follow normal trash service routes during the first week of every month, and pick up the newspaper.

Persons who physically cannot bundle the newspapers at the curb are exempted from the ordinance, but all other residents, regardless of whether they live in the city or a private housing development, must comply with the law.

Bank Dow, owner of Waste Not, said the firm was prepared to begin picking up the newspaper, but he was not certain how the community would respond to the program.

"I’m anticipating the worst," Dow said. If a few people bother to leave the newspaper out for Waste Not, the firm may not be able to collect enough to cover expenses, he said.

Dow said he was capable of picking up 40 tons of newspaper during the first week of operation, but he wasn’t sure how much to expect. "I cannot plan my labor or anything until I find out," he said.

As extra money has been spent in preparations for running the franchise, Dow said.

Besides the newspaper, Waste Not will also pick up any glass bottles and aluminum or tin cans left by residents. A part of the firm’s responsibilities he said he would rather not fulfill. He said he would probably let Resource Reclamation Inc. of Murphysboro handle those recyclables.

Waste Not was awarded the franchise in February after a public hearing.

El Salvador films, talk scheduled

Two films never shown before in Carbondale and a talk about human rights violations in El Salvador will be presented at 7 p.m. Friday at the Wesley Foundation.

"Morazan is Ours" and "Sea of Liberty" will be shown prior to a talk by Secundino Ramirez, a representative of a Human Rights Commission of El Salvador. The Commission has been nominated for the 1982 Nobel Peace Prize.

The events, sponsored by the El Salvador Peace Committee of the Coalition for Change, are free and open to the public.

was the sole bidder. Fourteen other recycling firms were sent bids applications in December, but did not compete for the franchise. According to the franchise agreement worked out between the city and Dow, Waste Not will collect wet newspaper when placed on a curb, but since wet newsprint cannot be recycled, the city is asking that it not be placed out for collection.

Newspaper pickups will occur only during the first week of a month. After the May pickup, scheduled May 4-6, newspaper need not be set curbside until June 7-10.

knock the coin out of the circle

Chances are, they won’t be able to (this is a good time to work on your Lite Beer and act smug)

When you shoot, do one of two things: hit the object ball head on with follow-through so the cue ball knocks the coin out, or hit the cue ball very, very slowly so the coin rolls off the object ball

TABLE MANIERS

Now for some simple table etiquette. After you’ve "hustled" your friends, you gotta keep em. So do what I call: "Clearing the Table."

Simply offer to buy the next round of Lite Beer. They will clean the table and head for the bar (or to your room or apartment). Then once they all have Lite (just one apiece - you’re not too rich, remember) - I tell them with a grin - and a smile - that the hand isn’t a smirk on your face that your shots were no big deal - you were just shown off.

BANK SHOTS, TRICK SHOTS

AND OTHER TABLE MANIERS.

by Steve Mizerak

I’m gonna teach you some things that if I impress your friends, and 2) maybe lose some friends.

All you need is good eyesight, a little dexterity, and some extra cash, a pool table, a pool cue and some Lite Beer from Miller

CHEAP SHOTS

Here’s the goodie. I call it the Cheap Shot. Place a ball on the edge of the corner pocket. Then take a half dollar and lean it against the side rail at the other end of the table. If you don’t have a half dollar, you can always write your friends’ names on the 40 cents. I want to hear from you.

Tell your friends you’re gonna sink the ball in the corner pocket using the half dollar as a cue ball. It’s not hard. Hit the coin kind of hard, just above the center and it will roll right into the pocket. But don’t forget to scoop up the half dollar because you’re not supposed to lose money doing trick shots - just win Lite Beers.

THE CLOWN TRICK

This one drives people nuts. Place a ball on the head spot. With the chalk, make a circle around it, approximately 8" in diameter. Then put a quarter or a half dollar on top of the ball. Yes, you can use the same one from before, or you can write home to your parents again. Place the cue ball behind the foot line and have your friends try to

Japan urged to buy farm products

BLOOMINGTON (AP) - The Japanese are beginning to get the message - if they want to sell us cars they are going to have to buy our beef, the president of the Illinois Farm Bureau said Tuesday.

Harrell Steele, who just returned from a trade mission to Japan, said he believes the Japanese will ease trade barriers on U.S. farm products.

Steele and Farm Bureau officials said there will be a demonstration at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Four qualified Alexander Technique, which Steele says the Japanese were warned that Congress might limit imports of manufactured products from Japan if they do not ease their trade restrictions.

Japanese officials have been asked to buy American agricultural products.

Steele said they need to end restrictions on other U.S. food products.

No mistake on service award; aide to Morris is the choice

By Kathy Kaminski
Staff Writer

Don't tell Charlie Feirich a bunch of humans thought he should stick to Southern Illinois Normal University. He insists the decision was made by a computer. "It just proves you can make mistakes with computers," Feirich adds.

Either way, Feirich, 74, of Cobden, a retired newspaperman and college administrator, will pick up the honor during a dinner comedy sketch Sunday at the Southern Illinois American Legion Post 31.

No doubt Feirich will accept the honor with a typical dose of humor. In a rare serious glimpse, he says, "I can think of people probably more deserving," but hastens to add, "But what happens is they run out of people to give it to or you get so old. No, actually I am honored."

Feirich's first tie to the University was in 1918 when he attended the sixth grade at the Southern Illinois Normal University training school.

One refer to him as the University's first student actively. At the time, he was a freshman and refused to sign an agreement to teach after leaving SIU.

"Oh, I don't know what activism is really, but we still had chapel. If you were ever wigged in your seat, the president wanted to throw you out. So refusing that was my activism."

"But I had no intention of teaching. It was a problem because the University had lower tuition for people who agreed to teach. They just didn't know what to charge me when I wouldn't do that."

As for his stint as a university administrator, Feirich admits heぼpped to the lighter side. Of course that's a title he got at the late Deley W. Morris.

But to hear Feirich tell it, "I was an errand running aide, although there was some confusion on that title. I decided I was office boy junior grade. At a time when people were always scrambling for again a field representative for the outdoor laboratory at Little Grassy. He was hired in 1973. He also spent eight years as a National Park Service ranger in Arizona, Maine, Montana and Pennsylvania. He's a member of a half dozen conservation groups.

He was president of the Southern Illinois Editorial Association in 1939 and 40, and his weekly "Charter's Column" took top honors in 1971 SIEA competition for best original column. He was inducted into the SIU-C Journalism Hall of Fame as a Master Editor in 1979.

"Retirement isn't a term Feirich takes seriously either."

With his wife, Mildred, he's active in the SIU-C Elderhostel program, and was one of the program's organizers in 1979. The program gives persons over 60 a chance to visit college campuses and take courses.

He developed his computer expertise last spring, in fact, "I remember telling us computers don't make mistakes, but then this happens," he says.

He's also an active volunteer nurse at the Southern Illinois Nursing Home and participating in two volunteer programs at Memorial Hospital of Carbondale.

"Sort of work as a substitute nurse, it is good exercise taking flowers up four flights of stairs."

The Service to Southern Illinois Award, given to recognize outstanding individual service to Southern Illinois, will be presented by Mrs. Dorothy Morris, widow of President Morris, and William H. Lyon, publisher and director of the University News Service.
Southern Illinois," Brown said, "and at a time when tuition increases, unemployment, inflation and decreasing aid to students, on both the state and federal level, are beginning to limit access to education."

The Illinois Board of Higher Education recently met to consider fiscal 1983 appropriation bills for colleges and universities. Brown said the higher education appropriation bill was referred to a subcommittee that will meet next week. He said he expects the Senate to vote on the bills in two weeks.

Brown also pointed out that according to the Chronicle of Higher Education, the median salary for system heads of higher education institutions is $42,000.

"Currently Chancellor Kenneth Shaw earns $42,000, $44,000 more than the director of the Illinois Board of Higher Education, who is the top administrative official for higher education in the state," said Brown.

Last year the Legislature cut the $21,000 appropriation bill by $12,000 to eliminate a housing allowance for Shaw, she told the committee, but "our board subsequently replaced that housing allowance, including raising Shaw's salary by $12,000."

Brown said she expected that her suggestions would be considered "an example of what some have called the enemy within," referring to complaints made by Shaw last week about critical problems facing higher education.

"However, the information I have summarized is public information and concern is widespread," Brown said.

"We do not want to go down the institutional path," she said.

"We do want to strengthen institutional integrity," she said. "We do want to strengthen institutional concern. We want to see the crucial issue of access to education, an issue which is of concern to all the people of Illinois, discussed openly and fully."

SIU students are not asking the question of how many students will be enrolled at SIU next year, Shaw said. "But which students will be there? Will minority students be there, will home students be there and will students from rural areas be at SIU or any other institution in the state?"

Shaw, who spoke earlier before the committee, and heard Brown's testimony, Wednesday declined comment on Brown's comments saying, "It would be inappropriate to respond to something that was directed to others."

Last week Shaw said that "the enemy within" — the question of threats to institutional autonomy, could be the biggest issue for higher education in the 1980s.

When asked if the phrase "the enemy within" could apply to Brown's comments, Shaw said he was stating a general principle, and far be it for me to say, but if the shoe fits ..."

Rep. Wayne Alstot, R-4th District, said Wednesday that Brown's comments have a lot of merit and don't seem out of line given the current fiscal situation I'm really in favor of her proposal.

Administrators "are going to have to bite the bullet for a time until this crunch is over," he said. "If students have to do all the giving and the top is doing all the taking, the top should give a little too. There's a lot of room for give and take."

Netters reach peak just in time for Missouri Valley tourney

By Ken Perkins
Staff Writer

Peaking right around tournament time is the key to any coach in any sport, and that's probably why coaches are drooling with envy over the situation of men's tennis mentor Dick LeFevre.

Riding high on a five-match win streak, LeFevre will lead his netters to Wichita, Kan., for the three-day Missouri Valley Conference Championship.

SIU-E opening tournament play on Thursday, will be searching for its first MVC crown. The tournament will resume Friday, with finals slated for Saturday.

LeFevre, rounding out his 25th year at the helm, takes a "surprising" 16-13 record to the home of the defending champion Shockers. He said although his squad is ranked third in the tournament, he has something up his sleeve.

"We've got a chance to win it," said LeFevre. Monday during the Saluki's 7-6 thumping of Illinois-Chicago. "With these flights, you never know what will happen up there.

meter run, steeplechase and 1,500-meter run. The "well­ stocked" Illini squad of Larry Dickson, Tom Stevens and John Schmidt is awesome, the Illini coach said.

Schmidt won both the mile and the mile and two-half run at the indoor meet in February, while Stevens placed first in the 1,000­ meter run and second in the mile in the mile run, eight seconds behind teammate Dickson.

"They've got people in some places where we can't touch," Hartzog said.

One of them is NCAA indoor shotput champion Michael Lehman, who beamed the shot 69'-1 to win the indoor event. John Smith will put the shot for the Salukis.

But the field events are where SIU-C should shine. The Salukis have a distinct advantage in the hammer throw with the Smithson Marks duo, and with Markanday in javelin. Terry Taylor and Kevin Baker are expected to do well in the long jump, as is Stephen Wray in the high jump.

SIU-C also will be favored in the pole vault event, where either John Sayre, who will also compete in the decathlon, Andy Geiger or Jim Sullivan can wind up as champion. SIU-C is favored to win both the 400 and 1,500-meter relays.

The Salukis will send Karsten Schulz in the 1,500, with relief coming from Tom Ross, who is also entered in Friday's steeplechase. Junior Bill Moran will run two events, the 1,500 and 5,000, and sophomore Tom Breen, the native of Northern Ireland, will compete in the steeplechase and 5,000.

The 400 intermediate hurdles, according to Hartzog, will be a "toss up."

Saluki luncheon set

The Saluki Athletic Club will host a luncheon at Morrison's on Thursday at noon. Featured speakers will be SIU's gymnastics coach Bill Meade with Saluki gymnasts and NCAA qualifiers Tom Somski and John Levy.

down and plays well, he is capable of beating anyone there.

Nine Valley teams will join the Salukis in the run for the title. LeFevre said Tulsa will be the other team SIU-C will have to worry about.

Three-time defending champ and favorite WSU has beaten both SIUC and Tulsa. The Salukis' only Valley competition other than the Shockers was against Illinois State and Bradley. SIU-C won both matches handily.

"I would put us third or fourth, I guess," said LeFevre.

"But I don't think Tulsa is stronger than we are. We know what to do. We haven't played them."

Players who win in the first round will earn three points. Players who receive byes to the second round will get six points if they win. Players who lose in the first round go to the consolation bracket, where a win is worth one point. Two losses means elimination.

"The same will go for the doubles, too," said LeFevre. "I'm hoping by then we'd have more than enough points.

"If I can concentrate, I should do fairly well," he said. "There will be some tough people there."

Tough is an understatement concerning WSU's Roberto Saad, ranked among the best in the nation. Saad defeated Stanford several weeks ago when WSU swept the Salukis 6-0 in Corbendale. He will be even tougher to beat the tall, lanky player at home, but LeFevre has confidence in his No. 1 man.

"There are so many good No. 1 players in the tournament," he said. "But it's up to Stanley. If he gets his concentration..."

Lady netters vie for team, individual honors at state meet

By Jackie Marchlewski
Staff Writer

The women's tennis team hopes to net the title of Illinois state champ at the five-team AIAW intra-state meet Thursday through Saturday in Champaign.

Last fall, the Salukis lost to the Fighting Illini in one of the few matches in which they did not play very well, according to Auld.

"We can't overlook that first match," said the Saluki coach in reference to the tournament faceoff with the Redbirds. "ISU gets up for tournaments. It seems. There should be some close matches, but I'm pretty optimistic we'll pick up points from everyone."

Maureen Harvey and Stacy Sherman have played consistently well for the Salukis this spring. Harvey, a freshman from Peoria, carries a .892 mark. Said Harvey, "I'm just so happy because we are here at the same time."

"They've both been good," Dempsey said. "It just so happens that they are here at the same time."

The defensive line, Defensive coordinator Walizer believes, will be strong this spring. With three seniors and two juniors returning, the Salukis' defense should be able to stop the offense's rushing attack. The defense, which Dempsey said is "ahead" of the offense in training this spring, will feature a battle for the two starting end positions between Ashley Sledge, Dan Debb and Dan Wetzel. Ed Norman and Ken Foster have won the starting tackle jobs, while Duncan Lesteved will be the starter at noseguard.

John Harper, a defensive end last year, and Granville Butler, a second-team all-state star, will be key players on defense. Butler, a third-year starter, has 14 tackles and 0.5 sacks. Harper, a sophomore from Peoria, carries a .892 mark. He said his goal is to "get better." The two are expected to lead the Salukis' defense in the spring meet.

"Last fall, the Salukis lost to the state champ at Champaign. The Salukis get past the Salukis have a good chance to win the tournament."

The women's tennis team has a good chance to win the tournament, according to Auld, especially since the netters are coming off a strong performance in the Edwardsville tournament last week. The Salukis have looked good, the Saluki coach added, but the doubles teams have not played as strongly.

The team's first match will probably be against Illinois State, whom ISU beat 6-3 in the fall.

Hitting woes continue in double loss to EIU

By Steve Menach Sports Editor

Wes Wiener, baseball half-of-famer, once said the key to hitting was "hit'em where they ain't." The Salukis continued to ignore that advice of old Willie Wednesday and managed just seven hits in a double-header loss to Eastern Illinois' Panthers at Abe Martin Field.

The first game 8-5 in 11 innings and the nightcap 7-4 to improve their record to 29-11. SICU is now 1-6 and has been shut out three times in the last four games.

The Salukis have a chance to snap their four-game losing streak when they play Murray State in a single game at Murray, Ky., Thursday. Tom Caufield will start for SICU Wednesday's second game was highlighted by the pitching of the first baseman Craig Crutcher, who nearly no-hit the Salukis. Center fielder Corey Zawadski up his bat with a line drive single to left in the sixth.

"He hit a fast ball, a good pitch outside," said Crutcher. The right-hander had a perfect game going until Mike Yocum walked on with it in the sixth.

Crutcher said the EIU defense deserved a lot of credit for his performance.

"It is the infield's job. It could have easily been a five­ to-eight-run game," said Crutcher. The Panthers scored 10 ouces in 11 innings against the Salukis. The score on the mound.

In the opener, starter Jay Bellissimo was rocked for five runs in the first, but the Salukis fought back and tied the score two in the second, third and one in the fifth.

Saluki Rich Koch relieved in the sixth and pitched an out­ ing of six hits, five runs, with one man on with none bases in the ninth.

The Panthers scored five runs in three innings off starter Tom Johnson, 4-1, before he was taken out. Jeff Irvin was touched for two in the sixth before giving way to Mesh, who made his season debut on the mound.
