Three Students Prepare for Hike to Chicago

By Nancy Baker

Three students will begin their spring break with a 320-mile walk to Chicago in an effort to raise money for the United Services Organization (USO).

The hike by Bill Holden, physical education major from Elgin; Jerry Sigmund, physical education major from Chicago; and Jack Morris, a radio-television major from Hurst, is a gesture to show American soldiers in Vietnam that they support them.

The three reported they will carry buckets to collect the money and ring bells as they pass through towns. They plan to leave at approximately 6:45 a.m. March 15 and hope to reach Chicago March 24 or 25 at which time they will submit their collection to the USO at the WLS radio station.

Their route is planned to be north on U.S. 51 to Centralia, east to Salem and then northeast on Illinois 37 and U.S. 45 into Chicago.

Morris reported they plan to average about 30 miles a day when walking 14 hours. Holden reported the group has received a $10 contribution from a man in Bloomington but that they have received no responses as of yet from area people.

"We expect some contributions and hope we get some," Holden said. "It would look kind of funny coming out Carbondale without any," he added.

Each of the three has saved up about $25. But they report they will have to sleep in barns or jails unless they get some invitations for overnight accommodations.

Approximately a week before the trio begins the walk they plan to spend a day or so in downtown areas of surrounding towns such as Murphysboro, Marion, Herrin and Hurst as well as in Carbondale seeking contributions to the USO fund.

Student Senate Drafting Bill On Dorm Hours

By John Epperheimer

The Student Senate sent a special committee Wednesday night, with the provision that another draft of the measure be presented next week. The bill would have sought "self-determined" hours for most women.

The first draft considered Wednesday had the Senate giving Student Body President Ray Lenzi and the special committee on hours "necessary and proper" powers to carry out the bill.

University statutes provide that the Senate's role is one of advising the administration on matters of student welfare, establishing a structure in which only the administration could change women's hours regulations.

There has been discussion--referred to Wednesday--centered around students ignoring administration rules or holding a "sleep-out" in defiance of the rules.

A Look Inside

... Salukis lose to Kentucky Wesleyan 59-56, page 16.

... Romney withdraws from race, page 10.

Several senators spoke of the need to submit a request for changes in women's hours through administration channels.

Lenzi said Morris told the Senate during a retreat Sunday at Little Grassy Lake that he wanted consideration of a change to "go through channels"--including the Faculty Council, Graduate Council, University Council, dean of students, vice presidents and Morris.

However, Lenzi advocated passage of the bill immediately. When several senators reminded him that Morris has requested that all proposals be scrolls printed which they hope to have signed by SIU President Delyte W. Morris. According to Holden they plan to present one to radio station WLS and one to Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, honorary chairman of the USO.

The scrolls will support the men in Vietnam.

Concerning the arrival date Holden said, "I'm sure weather will be a factor.

"If it's cool it won't be too bad, but if it's snowing we'll just have to make the most of it," he said.

"And the guys I'm going with have a lot of guts," he added.

Any persons or groups wishing to contribute may reach the three walkers at Stevenson Arms dormitory on Mill Street. Morris said any would be acknowledged to the USO in the group's name.

Holden said the three want to show a lot of people that college students aren't all a bunch of draft-dodging, pot-smoking, hippy demonstrators.

They plan to return to Carbondale by another means of transportation.

Personnel Ordinance

City Employee Accord Seen

By George M. Killenberg

The City Council's decision to appoint a special board to rework its controversial personnel ordinance will delay its passage for at least 30 days, but some city officials think it probably will help to improve strained relations between the administration and city employees.

The discord that reportedly exists between the city workers and the administration was underscored by Councilman Frank Kirk during discussion of the personnel ordinance at Tuesday night's Council meeting.

"There is much hostility, fear and suspicion" at city hall, Kirk said, adding that "it's not a healthy situation."

Mayor David Keene supported Kirk's observations. It is no secret, the mayor has said, that some city employees are still nursing hurt feelings that were incurred during last year's hotly contested city election when the government abruptly changed hands.

Tuesday night's action by the Council establishing an independent board to review the personnel ordinance is looked upon by both Mayor Keene and William Held, spokesman for 70 of the city's 130 employees, as a step towards ironing out differences that have split the city workers and the administration.

The board, which will consist of three citizens appointed by the Council and two city representatives selected by an employee election, is expected to report its findings back to the Council within 30 days.

Tuesday's discussion also resulted in the apparent solution to two other problems arising from the proposed personnel ordinance.

One is an agreement by the city's water and sewage department employees to fill out job classification forms which they had previously refused to complete.

The employees decided to cooperate in completing the forms after they were assured that the job classification study, which is called for under the proposed personnel ordinance, would not present a threat to their seniority.

In dealing with a second problem, the Council decided to exempt the Community Conservation Board from falling under provisions of the personnel ordinance.

William Burns, chairman of the CCB, asked for the exemption on the grounds that the board was quasi-independent in status and that its employees, since they are paid out of federal funds, are not actually part of the city work force.

Although several major objections to the personnel ordinance were cleared up at Tuesday's meeting, Keene feels that there will be additional negotiation.

The employees' representative, William Held, also indicated that more talks will be needed before the ordinance is acceptable. "We're making progress," he said, "but there are still improvements to be made."

Article Represents Frosh Views, Goals

A statistical portrait representing some views and career goals of the Average American Freshman is included in the February, 1968 issue of "College Management."

The statistical sketch presents the students' views on such topics as marriage, society, college curriculum, student protests, money, and the importance of developing a philosophy of life.

The statistics show that the education profession attracts nearly one-fifth of those students who have already set their career goals and that only 29.7 per cent of those interviewed plan to receive higher than a bachelor's degree in their field.

Chemist Will Discuss

'1-3 Rearrangement'

William A. Mosher, chairman of the Department of Chemistry at the University of Delaware will speak at a chemistry seminar at 4 p.m. Friday in Parkinson 204.

His topic will be the "1-3 Rearrangement." The seminar is open to the public.

They were fined $50 plus $15 costs each.

Kenneth E. Klausner, 18, of Chicago; Gary F. Wood, 17, of S. Holland; and Thomas M. Townsend, 18, of Riverdale, were ordered to make restitution of $38.66 each to the Illinois Central Railroad within 60 days.

The money is to cover repair to a telephone booth and equipment, according to State Attorney Richard Richman.

Case Continues

Sentence was postponed today in Jackson County Circuit Court as the case of Mrs. Rosalyn Ellis, 304 1/2 E. Hester St., was continued until March 8.

Mrs. Ellis, an SIU student, was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the stabbing of her husband last May 25.

Discussion Slated

On Soybean Cyst

A public hearing on the control and eradication soybean cyst nematode in parts of eight southern Illinois counties will be held from 10 to 12 a.m. today in Room 209 of the Agriculture Building.

William T. Larkin, superintendent of the Division of Plant Industry, Illinois Department of Agriculture, said the meeting will be concerned with suggestions of farmers for controlling the root attacking worm.

Correction

An SIU freshman who was found guilty Monday in Jackson County Circuit Court for driving a car while his driver's license was revoked did not enter a plea of guilty as previously reported in the Egyptian.

Talmon Hegwood, 19, from Chicago, was ordered to pay a fine of $200 plus $25 costs and to serve 20 days in the county jail.

Air Force Announces Officer School Changes

Air Force recruiting representatives said Wednesday that priority in selecting officer applicants has changed drastically in the past week.

Administrative and non-engineering positions have been closed to male applicants for the present time, but remain open to women applicants. This is due to a high percentage of officers now on active duty who are remaining in the Air Force and the increased emphasis on placing women in administrative and technical positions.

Beatle Film Scheduled

"Help" starring the Beatles plus a short feature on blood circulation will be shown at 7:30 and 10:30 p.m., Friday, in Furr Auditorium. The movies are sponsored by the SIU Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental Societies and cost 75 cents a ticket.

According to the representatives, opportunity for selection for the Officer Training School Program for other than pilot, navigator, or engineering specialties for males is non-existent.

Wanted: Right to Be Heard

To The Daily Egyptian: We are appalled! We are two SIU seniors who have recently attended the partial lecture given by The American Nazi Party leader, Matt Koehl, Monday evening at the University Center.

We sat through the ridiculous display of prejudicial incognizance emanating throughout the ballroom, which hampered Koehl's lecture and culminated in its termination.

We feel greatly cheated in that, although Koehl's views did not agree with the majority of the students present, he was not allowed to finish.

As American Jews, we had as much right, if not more, than any others in voicing our protests of his exasperating remarks about the Jewish people. But, our desire in remaining stemmed mainly from our lack of knowledge concerning American Nazism.

From world history it is evident that prejudice and closely related fanaticism are major premises of the Nazi doctrine.

Who is to say that Koehl did not actually gain more support by the radical demonstration? "American prejudice" is his theory and it was furthered by the students' display of obvious ignorance.

Freedom of Speech is allegedly one of America's basic rights, but the freedom to be heard evidently is not guaranteed by our constitution.

Donald Weiss Harvey Kaluzna

Student Activities Open to All

To The Daily Egyptian:

The belief that student orientation programs and student activities participation is limited to Greeks is not true.

The Student Activities Office in the University Center offers to interested students applications to participate in any of a number of student activities like Spring Festival, student orientation, student government, and others.

Your active participation in organizing and carrying out these various activities would be greatly appreciated and mutually rewarding.

Rusk's Answer

Why would Sen. J. William Fulbright choose a time when Americans are besieged at Khe Sanh to demand public disclosure of whether tactical nuclear weapons "have been or would be deployed in South Vietnam?"

If Secretary of State Dean Rusk had answered affirmatively, the United States would have been excoriated globally as a prejudged warmonger whether it had intended to use them in extremity against North Vietnam.

And if Rusk had answered negatively, he would have handed North Vietnam and China an enlightening piece of intelligence on which they could proceed more aggressively and with greater confidence to bring new military pressure on the United States.

Whether Sen. Fullbright was asking his question out of innocent curiosity, or out of deliberate intent to harass, malign or plant doubt about the President and his policies, his gambit had the larger effect of being what Secretary Rusk named it—a disservice to the country.

Defending the Right to Speak

To The Daily Egyptian:

On the evening of February 26 I attended the first 20 minutes of the speech given here in the University Center Ballroom by Matt Koehl, leader of the American Nazi Party.

I had gone to hear Mr. Koehl because I was curious as to how he, a self-styled "Nazi," would address a "sophisticated" college audience. I left early out of a sickness of the heart—and this sickness was not due to what Mr. Koehl had to say.

I personally regard National Socialism as an abomination against all that is good in mankind, and am horrified at the atrocities which those who ascribed to this political ideology have committed against the human race.

But when Matt Koehl, an "American Nazi," was continuously heckled and interrupted that night during the course of his speech, I found myself almost sympathizing with him as a speaker, and I was disgusted at the conduct of a large segment of the audience.

If I had previously had any confidence in the ability of students to show courtesy toward a speaker, no matter how controversial he may be, this confidence was cruelly assaulted that night.

The hecklers at the speech seemed to be largely members of that group of Americans who are the most vocal today in insisting on the enforcement of their rights as citizens. And yet, they felt free to turn around and deny an essential right, the freedom of speech, to a speaker they didn't happen to agree with, one Matt Koehl, a "Nazi." This attitude displayed by this group seems a bit hypocritical to me.

The matter of civil rights, including the right of freedom of speech, is a two-way street, and the "Golden Rule" applies here as anywhere else in the area of civilized social conduct. If I may paraphrase Voltaire, I would say with him that I may emphatically disagree with what a given speaker may say, but I would defend to the death his right to say it in this country, whether he be Matt Koehl or Dick Gregory, whether he be H. "Rap" Brown or George Wallace.

Fellow students, let us be courteous toward one another and toward all visitors to our campus, because courtesy may be about all we will have left to us before this century ends.

Road T. Smith

Nazi Stopped Too Soon

To the Daily Egyptian:

The American Nazi Party leader, Matt Koehl, solely because of a poor decision of the Security Chief of SIU, was able to be a total success, even beyond his own expectations.

On Monday night, after absorbing much heckling, the Nazi leader regained his confidence and showered us with "out of context" statistics of "Jewish Power" in the economic levels of the U.S.

Many Questions were formed in our minds that could have completely rebuked Matt Koehl's "hasty generalizations."

The whole room pulsed with an emotion of a chance to defend ourselves and the free democratic system of ours, in a clear and logical manner under our right of freedom of speech.

But we were never able to exercise this right. Because of a minor scuffle outside of the auditorium, an SIU official under orders of the Security Chief cancelled the rest of the Nazi leader's speech and the most important question and answer period that was to follow.

We were stabbed in the back—inhuman ideas were allowed to float unquestioned and supreme as they left the Nazi's mouth.

Matt Koehl, the American Nazi leader, turned his back to us and walked away with a smile of accomplishment on his lips. His dried seeds of hate had been strewn without worry of the natural frost of selection to purify them.

New Voice Found

Underground Adds to Flower Power

EDITOR'S NOTE: Curiosity over the hippies was reflected again and again in an Associated Press Managing Editors Association survey of what is on readers' minds. This article explores one aspect of the hippie culture that is readily available to outsiders: the underground press.

By Jerry Buck
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The turned-on generation is finding a new voice in the burgeoning underground press.

Underground newspapers—a romanticized self-description that contradicts their easy availability—are popping up all over the country like so many posies adding to flower power. There are about 80 such newspapers.

Within their pages, America's rebellious youth—all but a few of the papers are edited by people under 30—has found itself free to bell that cat called Establishment and to print the unprintable. Four-letter words abound as they toil to close what they see as a credibility—and perhaps profanity—gap in the mass media.

'East Village Other'

One of the oldest and liveliest of the underground papers is the "East Village Other," published in New York's Greenwich Village. Evo, as it's familiarly known, seems hung up on sex, drugs, the Vietnam war, psychedelic phenomena and mysticism. Tips on how to avoid the draft are dished out like advice to the lovelorn.

Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., has called the newspapers "a nationwide conspiracy to try to contaminate and ruin the youth of America." He prompted the House

Un-American Activities Committee to begin a preliminary investigation of the newspapers.

Press Syndicate

The newspapers, in fact, are linked—they have their own syndicate to exchange news—the Underground Press Syndicate. Bob Rudnick, coordinator of the syndicate, said its 80 members have a combined monthly circulation of one million. He figures readership is five times that much.

The true circulation of the underground press is hard to come by. Some of the newspapers are published weekly, others biweekly, and are therefore counted more than once in Rudnick's monthly figure.

The Los Angeles Free Press claims a circulation of 61,000. Evo claims 60,000 and the Berkeley Barb 42,000.

The papers' financial condition varies. Some pay a full-time staff. Others have to depend on strays anxious for an audience for their views or regular part-timers who are poorly paid or work free. Most papers cost 15 or 20 cents a copy.

Opinion mixes with fact in the underground press and often overwhelms it.

Allan Katzman, editor of Evo, contends that all newspapers make up stories from time to time and that the underground press is no exception.

"We don't necessarily tell the truth. We just tell the other side of the story," he said.

It is an understatement to say that the hippie papers are irreverent.

A favorite target for wit and wrath is President Johnson. In one issue Evo showed him in a Nazi uniform doing a seig heil salute. The swastika armband had been replaced with a dollar sign.

"Most of the papers are fad papers based on a single issue. They are liable to disappear when the issue or fad disappears," said Art Kunkin, editor of the Los Angeles Free Press, an early entry in the field. Kunkin said he is trying to broaden the base of his newspaper beyond the underground.

Another influential paper is the "Barb," which is put out in an old mansion in Berkeley, Calif., by Max Scherr, 51, a bearded lawyer.

"We try to provide as much news as possible on the radical left side of the freedom question, including individual freedom," Scherr said. "We are not looking for a mass solution to the problems of individual freedom, but for ways for people to start being free now, so they won't feel completely isolated in what they're doing. In order to do this they have to know about issues, movements, tendencies and trends."

Suppression Attempts

Despite the prominence of four-letter words and classified advertisements that read like an open invitation to orgy, the newspapers have run into few attempts at suppression.

The big exception is in Boston, where Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe has asked the attorney general to consider seeking a ban against the "Avatar." Volpe said the paper is "not fit to be read by anyone, especially the youth of the commonwealth."

Pool's condemnation was even stronger. He said, "The Communists are right in the middle of this thing. This is part of their plan to divide and conquer this country."

He succeeded last year in getting "Notes from the Underground" ejected from the campus of Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

Evo is published in a downtown-at-the-heels office above a defunct theater in the eastern section of Greenwich Village. Psychedelic posters and graffiti cover the walls.

$50 Salary

Huddled over typewriters in an inner office, with only a small electric heater against the sub-freezing cold, were Katzman and Peter Leggieri, the editor-in-chief. The heat in the building had been turned off because of a legal dispute involving the theater.

Katzman, 30, is a former accountant and department store buyer who turned to poetry. He has lost most of his red hair, but he wears a beard. Leggieri, 25, a law school dropout, also bearded, wore a green wool cap. Each takes home about $50 a week salary.

Katzman and Walter Bewart, an artist, who is publisher, founded the paper in 1965 with $1,500. This is how underground papers start—with just enough cash to pay for the first printing.

"This is the only paper in New York where you can walk in off the street and rap with the editor," said Leggieri.

"It's personal journalism," Katzman added.

The classified advertising is startling.

Some advertisements are overtly homosexual, but few leave to the imagination what is being offered or sought.

And this classified ad turned up in a recent Washington Free Press:

"LOST: Four H-bombs in the vicinity of Greenland. If found call 456-1414."

The number is that of the White House.

Saigon Will Never Be the Same

By Wyatt Daniels
Copley News Service

SAIGON—The taxis, Hondas, cycles and pedicabs are choking Saigon's streets again.

The market is open. PX alley, where any item from the U.S.-operated PX and commissary can be had for a price, is once again a beehive of activity. The bars and nightclubs are opening up despite the curfew.

Nevertheless, Saigon will never be the same.

Saigonese and Americans alike will catch themselves furtively looking over their shoulders when a truck backfires or a firecracker explodes.

For the American there will be an instinctive, suspicious distrust of every Vietnamese he does not know and for many a Saigonese there will be a smoldering resentment toward the foreigner whose planes, bombs and rockets destroyed his home and killed his loved ones.

Who won the battle of Saigon?

No one really, since the Viet Cong never intended to capture the city. What they did do, however, was to prove that they could infiltrate not only Saigon but every major city in South Vietnam, causing a disruption of daily life at the least and major destruction with total disruption at best.

From 3 a.m. on Jan. 31 until the morning of Feb. 6, they virtually paralyzed a metropolitan area of some four million people. For a week nothing moved on the streets except armed patrols of Vietnamese police, American troops and occasional ARVN (South Vietnamese army) units. Shops were closed and barred, the marketplace deserted.

Garbage piled in the streets, ships lay idle at wharfs, there was no ingress or egress by air, rail or motor, no postal service, and no cable service.

Electric power and water supply continued in most of Saigon proper although at greatly reduced levels. Had these gone, the amount of suffering cannot even be estimated.

For a city where more than two million do not have refrigerators and for whom water means drawing by the bucket from public spigots, a week can be an eternity. Housewives who every morning bought one day's food for their families, except of course rice, found that all they had was rice and this too dwindled fast.

Water, after the first 48 hours, became a precious commodity.

For Americans and the more affluent Vietnamese, there were problems too. The former, cut off from their commissary and PX found their stocks running out while those who lived in hotels were soon reduced to a monotonous diet of rice and wonton soup. The latter fared somewhat better on the Vietnamese diet but not much.

The numerous American messes and snack bars operating in American military billets found themselves without Vietnamese cooks, waiters and dishwashers. Army and Air Force officers became cooks and hash slingers while many of the female secretaries and clerks assigned to the U.S. Embassy and the U.S. Agency for International Development found themselves doing household and kitchen duties long forgotten.

For those without a job, the endless hours of just waiting became almost intolerable. They gathered in the public rooms, lobbies and corridors of the Caravelle, Embassy, Astor, Eden Roc, Park, Excelsior and others in groups large and small.

With an almost complete dearth of information as to what was going on, rumor supplemented fact. "The VC have taken Saigon International Airport." "No, we still have it but they did overrun the 3rd Field Hospital." Neither occurred.

"Did you hear?—Hue has fallen, so has Can Tho, Dalat and Nha Trang." "What are we supposed to do? I hear 32 Americans are killed or missing in Hue and at least 100 have been wounded."

"Somebody told me the second assault will come tonight—I got an M-16 from a GI who showed me how to use it. Boy, they won't take me alive."

Fortunately, cooler heads prevailed and when the initial shock wore off, American resilience and know-how took hold. The VN Armed Forces Radio began to broadcast hourly local news bulletins. Volunteer drivers took convoys under armed escorts on limited commissary and PX runs for the necessities of life. Block wardens were assigned and a head count undertaken.

The U.S. Embassy and USAID began once again to function, though on a reduced scale. By the 10th day, order began to emerge from chaos.

It will be at least another month before even a degree of normalcy can be re-established. The number of American civilians killed, wounded, missing or captured is surprisingly low but the invisible scars are there. Many an office, house and apartment will never see its Vietnamese clerks, typists, cooks, maids and housekeepers again. They lie dead in the ruins of Cholon.

Saigon will recover. But it will never be the same.

A recent Associated Press dispatch said Communists overran the Christian and Missionary Alliance at Ban Me Thuot and killed five American missionaries, three men and two women, yet did not harm Mrs. Ford, an education specialist at the Ban Me Thuot Normal School. They used her home as a command post. After her release she left Ban Me Thuot for two days, but returned to her job.

Wheeler Makes War Report to LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, saying the enemy now holds some of the initiative, gave President Johnson and other top officials a new war report Wednesday that could lead to U.S. troop increases in Vietnam. The White House refused to say what—if anything—Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended to the President in detailed war discussions. But Wheeler—arriving in Washington before dawn after a quickie inspection tour of Vietnam following the Communists' latest cities offensive—may have indicated to newsmen the tenor of his report.

"I think the initiative lies on both sides," the four-star general said when asked if the enemy is now calling the shots in the conflict.

"In certain areas where the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have sizable uncommitted forces, of course they can move. In other words they have tactical flexibility."

Wheeler maintained, however, that the Communists failed to achieve their objectives in recent weeks of fighting and, where they were repulsed, the forces of Gen. William C. Westmoreland held the initiative.

With the recent wave of Communist assaults has come heightened speculation Johnson will have to reach once again into the military manpower pool to beef up the U.S. effort in Vietnam.

Though there has been no official indication of what troop increase, if any, is in store, congressional figures have mentioned numbers as high as 100,000 above the current 525,000-man ceiling. Pentagon officials indicate this is excessively high, but point out that any increase probably will require a call-up of reservists.

Wheeler briefed the President and other ranking war planners for two hours, working from preliminary notes.

White House press secretary George C. Christian said Wheeler covered "the problems we face" in Vietnam and gave a "balanced, factual picture of his impressions of the situation at the present time."

But when asked about possible decision on adding more troops, Christian said: "I cannot give you specific details."

Sitting in on Wheeler's report were: Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the man soon to succeed him, Clark M. Clifford; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor; the deputy secretary of defense, Paul H. Nitze; and others.

Senate Drafting Bill On Women's Hours

accompanied by detailed rationale and a presentation of supporting evidence, Lenzi produced a question-by-question tally of the questionnaire filled out by 6,527 students. Stuart Novick, assistant to Lenzi, read a two-page rationale for the bill.

The bill would have set a deadline of April 10 for the Senate to authorize the new rules, regardless of administration action.

The bill debated Wednesday provided for "self-determined" hours for female students who have been in school at SIU for three quarters or more, or for those over 19 years of age.

Lenzi also announced that John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs, told him that the administration will continue to withhold student paychecks. Lenzi said Richard Gruny, University legal counsel, had prepared a brief on the subject. Lenzi said he is studying the brief and will seek aid in interpreting it.

Lenzi praised a new statement of policy on exempting students from Saturday classes for religious reasons as embodying the concept of a bill previously passed by the Senate.

The Senate also entered into a lengthy discussion of their retreat with Morris. The discussion centered around the Senators' interpretations of Morris' positions on major issues and on his techniques in discussing the issues.

France Says Bomb Halt Will Definitely Lead to Talks

PARIS (AP) — France has information "explicitly" stating that an unconditional halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would be the gesture needed to open negotiation on ending the war, a government spokesman said Wednesday.

It was assumed the information came from the North Vietnamese. France maintains a diplomatic mission in Hanoi and North Vietnam has a delegate general in Paris.

There was no comment in Washington, but American officials there said Secretary of State Dean Rusk had been informed of the statement before attending a Vietnam situation meeting at the White House with President Johnson and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The French government statement again stressed President Charles de Gaulle's position that unless talks begin shortly the war will spread through Southeast Asia and involve other nations.

De Gaulle has repeatedly criticized the U.S. role in Vietnam. He has referred to it indirectly as "monstrous," and said the withdrawal of American troops is the only real solution to the conflict. "There are no other ways that those we propose," he said in a New Year's address to the nation.

Wednesday's statement was read to reporters by Information Minister Georges Gorse after De Gaulle's weekly Cabinet meeting.

It said: "The declaration of U Thant according to which the unconditional cessation of American bombardments of North Vietnam would be a necessary and sufficient condition for the opening of peace negotiations corresponds to information explicitly received by the French government.

"The Cabinet considers, as does the secretary-general of the United Nations, unless such negotiations are opened, the war of destruction now being conducted in Southeast Asia will continue to spread and take on a character which threatens more every day to endanger the peace of the world."

Thant, returning from talks with North Vietnamese representatives in Paris and New Delhi, had said Saturday that "it could be reasonably assumed" that an unconditional bombing halt would be followed by "meaningful talks. . . perhaps within a matter of a few days." Thant had reportedly conveyed this impression to Johnson earlier in the week at a meeting in the White House.

The administration's position, outlined by Johnson in a speech at San Antonio last year, is that the bombing could not be stopped without reasonable assurance that the North Vietnamese would not take advantage to move men and equipment toward the South.

A French Embassy spokesman in Washington said he had not been instructed to communicate the Cabinet statement to the U.S. government, but indicated that it might have been transmitted through the U.S. Embassy in Paris.

Annual Theta Xi Show Will Feature 16 Acts

1967 group act category, will be trying to retire the six-foot group act trophy. Three-years-in-a-row winners are allowed to keep the $500 traveling trophy.

Six students are finalists for the annual Service to Southern Award, according to Gregory Drinan, Theta Xi committee chairman.

Women finalists are Rosemary Brown, Carolyn Gray and Susan Loomis. Male finalists are Richard Karr, G. Keith Phoenix and Bill Potter. Awards are based on the person's "total service to Southern," Drinan said. This includes participation in campus activities and scholarship, he added.

Winners chosen by a panel of four faculty judges will be announced following the Saturday performance of the show and will receive a gold watch. Runners-up will receive pen and pencil sets.

The Kaplan Scholarship Award will be presented at the Friday evening performance. Sixteen students have applied for the $400 award. The recipient will be chosen by two members of Theta Xi social fraternity and the chapter's advisers.

Qualifications for applicants include the student be a sophomore or junior science major with at least a 3.7 cumulative grade point average who shows financial need.

Tickets for the show are on sale at the Information Desk in the University Center for $1 and $1.50. Saturday's performance was reported almost sold out Wednesday, but many seats are left for Friday's performance.

Bill Padgett and Nancy Mecum will serve as co-masters of ceremonies for the show. Ron Glenn and Rick Pasco are co-chairmen of the show.

Romney Withdraws from Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney, whose candidacy never caught fire, pulled out of the Republican presidential nomination contest Wednesday to clear the way for another moderate to oppose Richard M. Nixon.

Romney told a crowded gathering of newsmen that "a critical moment" had arrived at which the dominantly progressive GOP governors should select a candidate to support their viewpoint.

Romney walked away from a question as to which man he would support. But Republican leaders agreed that his action had projected Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York toward a contest with Nixon, former vice president and the 1960 nominee.

From 16 of 18 of the Republican state executives, assembling here for a National Governors Conference meeting beginning Thursday, have said that if Romney faltered as the banner-carrying leader of the moderates they would support Rockefeller.

Arriving for the governors' conference, Rockefeller insisted in an interview his position as a noncandidate had not been changed by Romney's decision. But he said he plans conferences with Republican governors. He noted that the governors "have stuck together."

While he said he is not a candidate, the New York governor said again, as he had Saturday in Detroit, that he would accept a draft. He said he had tried to talk Romney out of withdrawing.

Romney has criticized President Johnson's Vietnam war policies, calling for neutralization of Southeast Asia. Nixon has supported Johnson's basic objective of fighting Communist aggression there. Rockefeller has given past support to the President's course but has been silent about Vietnam for months.

At the end of a disappointing campaign trail that began long before his formal announcement last Nov. 18, Romney said it was clear his candidacy "has not won the wide acceptance with rank-and-file Republicans that I had hoped to achieve."

Polls indicated he was the underdog in the March 12 New Hampshire primary where his name was on the ballot with Nixon's. A write-in drive for Rockefeller is under way there.

In the April 2 Wisconsin primary, however, Nixon seems to have a clear field, since Rockefeller already has withdrawn his name.

Romney told fellow GOP governors in a letter that they ought to work for a candidate and a platform that would offer "effective alternatives to foreign and domestic programs dealing with such major issues as Vietnam, inflation, crime, indolence, delinquency, race and power group politics."

The Michigan governor indicated he expects a quick decision by the GOP state executives. He scheduled a news conference in Manchester, N. H. Friday morning to announce his support for a candidate they may pick.

In his letter to his colleagues, Romney pledged "I will support wholeheartedly the candidate for president to whom the Republican governors give their support."

Rockefeller's continued public reluctance to become a candidate did not keep party leaders from predicting he will get into the race.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a Romney supporter, said the Michigan governor's decision releases Rockefeller from this pledge to support Romney.

"We who admire Gov. Rockefeller look forward to his starting an active campaign for president in the near future," said Scott, a former GOP national chairman.

More Teachers May Stage Walkout

By the Associated Press

The possibility of a statewide walkout by 27,000 Oklahoma school teachers persisted Wednesday while Florida officials sought ways to break an impasse in a strike by 22,000 teachers.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., 1,000 city teachers were poised for a midnight walkout.

And in Albuquerque, N.M., teachers voted 1,546-908, to return to classes Thursday after shutting out some 80,000 children for more than a week.

On the West coast, in San Francisco the 1,500-member Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, was scheduled to meet Thursday and vote on a proposal to strike the city's schools. An earlier strike deadline, Jan. 25, was postponed when School Supt. Robert Jenkins agreed to some of the federation's 90-plus demands.

The Florida State Board of Education—a five-man panel of the State Cabinet with Gov. Claude Kirk as chairman—met in Tallahassee Wednesday in emergency session amid unconfirmed reports a majority of the board's members have agreed with teacher representatives on a method of resolving the dispute.

About one-third of Florida's 1.3 million public school pupils had been out of school for eight class days.

Teachers Feb. 16 rejected as too skimpy a financing package that would raise Florida's sales tax from three to four cents, add new taxes on liquor and cigarettes and provide $254.5 million to education. The bill has been on Kirk's desk, unsigned.

In Oklahoma, it was the veto by GOP Gov. Dewey Bartlett of three bills to raise cigarette and liquor taxes by $23 million a year to pay for teacher raises that precipitated the crisis. But a confrontation was averted Wednesday when Bartlett said he could change his position and meetings continued.

The Oklahoma Education Association said it had thousands of signed resignations from its teacher members to be used "unless satisfactory progress is made" on a school program.

Bartlett proposed a $1,000 annual raise to take effect over three years. He agreed to a $1,300 yearly pay hike but over a three-year period instead of two years as in the vetoed bill.

LBJ May Have Influenced Illinois' Democratic Slate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington political community is wondering if President Johnson contributed to the failure of Illinois Democrats to produce a big-name opponent for Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, apparently will be opposed in the November elections by State Atty. Gen. William G. Clark.

The laborious process by which the Democratic slate-makers came up with Clark's name and that of Lt. Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro for the governor's race indicated these two were far from runaway choices for the top candidates in a crucial state.

There had been talk for months that Sargent Shriver, head of the Office of Economic Opportunity, or Adlai E. Stevenson III, both generally listed in the big-name category, might be endorsed for the offices.

The President's close political relationship with Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, who runs the Democratic party of Illinois, suggests that Johnson was consulted about every detail of the decision-making process.

Shriver didn't show up to make his case with the king-makers, a slight in which he would not have indulged if he had had any White House backing to run for either senator or governor.

If Johnson now appoints the poverty director to an ambassadorship in Paris or some comparable job, a segment of the political community will conclude that the President didn't want his old friend Dirksen opposed by a Democrat who would attract outsized publicity in his campaign.

Dirksen has supported Johnson's basic Vietnam policies when many about him in both parties were assailing them. The Republican leader has just made a U-turn that promises to provide the Senate voters for passage of an administration civil rights bill, with an open housing provision of sorts, that was doomed without his support.

Stevenson, who was willing to run for either office, apparently flunked out as a candidate when he said he couldn't guarantee to support Johnson's Vietnam policies.

Beset as he is within his own party by critics of his Asian course, Johnson is obviously not inclined to welcome any dissenters on the ticket in Illinois, with its 26 electoral votes.

Clark and Shapiro back the President's handling of the war. From that standpoint, Johnson can't lose whether it's Dirksen or Clark.

Pearson Survives Confidence Vote

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson won back Wednesday the confidence in his Liberal government that was jeopardized by an upset vote in the House of Commons while he was away on a Caribbean holiday.

With all Liberal MPs present, the House voted 138 to 119 in favor of the confidence measure introduced by the 70-year-old prime minister. His government had been defeated 84 to 82 on a tax bill Feb. 19.

Pearson plans to retire anyway in the spring, but for his party Wednesday's vote was a crucial victory. The Liberals have still to choose a successor to Pearson and a confidence defeat, bringing with it new elections, would have badly shaken the party.

Wednesday's solid turnout of Liberals contrasted to the Feb. 19 tax vote that caught 47 of them absent. Pearson flew home the next day and charged that there had been trickery in the circumstances of the vote.

The tax bill, which had been approved in principle on a second reading, went down to defeat when Conservatives, sensing that the Liberals were caught short-handed, responded "now!" when a deputy speaker asked what time a final vote should be taken.

The 129 Liberal MPs backing the confidence measure Wednesday were supported by Real Caouette and his seven Creditiste party followers and by an independent. The Liberals have been governing from a minority position, requiring support from other parties to stay in power.

The Liberals will hold a leadership conference April 4-6 to choose Pearson's successor. Pearson last December announced his plans to retire, noting that he had been in public life for 40 years. He has been prime minister since 1963. He won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957 for helping bring temporary quiet to the Middle East.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION--Roger Leisner explains to his cameraman, Peter Robertson, and actress, Candace Dean, their roles in the shooting of a short subject film about candlemaking. This is one of the short films and commercials being produced by the Cinematography 341b class in the Department of Photography and Printing.

Students Get Taste of Hollywood

Films Produced in Class

By John Durbin

The Department of Photography and Printing offers a course, Cinematography 341b, which gives the student a taste of what Hollywood directors and producers go through in filming commercials and short subject films.

The course, taught by John Mercer, chairman of the department, requires the student to select an idea for a three or four minute film, write a script for it, shoot it and then edit the film after it has been processed.

Mercer said that this course is the second part of a three quarter cinematography series. The first course is designed to teach the student the techniques involved in achieving continuity in taking pictures and the ability to edit films.

"Each of the 46 students in this quarter's class was required to write a script," Mercer explained. "After reading the scripts I selected those which I felt were suitable for filming."

"The students were broken up into pairs consisting of one student whose script was selected and one student whose script was not," Mercer said. The former then serves as the director while the latter does the filming.

The actual filming of the skit is done in the form of a lab session at various times throughout the day. The students use the film production studios located on the third floor of the University Center building.

Mercer explained that a commentary is recorded on magnetic tape in order to coincide with the film. These magnetic tapes are played back over a tape recorded in conjunction with the film.

"The students this quarter have finished shooting 20 short films and nine television commercials," he said. The short "How To Do It" films consisted of such subjects as candlemaking, smoke screen printing and the use of a view camera.

50 years. There were few unfavorable figures used, but those which were used were explained as the "difficulties of an advanced and highly developed country."

After the speech, Markov answered questions from the audience. Among the questions came one asking him to give the Soviet view of the difference between Socialism and Communism.

The speaker answered, "We consider Communism to have two stages. The first stage is Socialism and the second is Communism. We have accomplished the first one and are approaching the second." Under "full Communism," as he called it, "the state will be able to provide a Communist citizen with whatever he wants."

Full Communism Approaching In Russia, Ambassador Says

The industrial output of the Soviet Union is expected to double in the next eight years. Eventually communism in the U.S.S.R. will be developed to such a point that "the state will be able to furnish the individual with anything he desires," P. Markov, a key official at the Soviet Embassy, said in a speech at SIU.

Markov, second secretary and chief economist in the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., spoke on the economic achievements of the U.S.S.R. since the 1917 revolution. His talk, sponsored cooperatively by the Department of Economics, the Economic Club and the University Lecture and Entertainment Committee, consisted primarily of statistics which painted a rosy picture of Soviet development during the past

Uniform a Symbol

Recruiters Concerned By Campus Opposition

The combined Navy sponsored "salute to SIU" and aviator recruiting campaign today and tomorrow is one of the most thorough armed forces promotions ever undertaken on this campus. This is because the Navy is both publically and privately concerned over the wide spread vocal student alienation.

Lt. Cmdr. Marvin W. Swain, who heads the team interviewing interested students, said "last year your long-haired friends (student demonstrators) helped the first few days by calling attention to our presence. But by the third day, the halls were so jammed people couldn't get in to see us."

Capt. W.T. Peterson, commanding officer of the Fifth Naval Recruiting District, sees the demonstrations against service recruiting as the students' need for symbolic scapegoats.

Capt. Peterson said, "Take Dow Chemical. They're picketed because they make napalm. But what about IBM and General Electric, who also make war materials? What about the makers of bombs and machine guns? Unfortunately, the uniform has become the same kind of symbol."

Capt. Peterson expects a steady increase in navy officer applications in the aftermath of the new graduate deferment ruling.

"Our normal processing time is three months," he said, "but we're working to cut that time down."

At a press luncheon, Lt. Cmdr. Sam B. Lancaster, public relations officer for the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit at Memphis, Tenn., explained the Navy's concern over student demonstrations.

"We're worried about this new domestic enemy. We don't want to see ourselves displaced on campuses in order to avoid demonstrations and notoriety. We will not be debating. We are here to talk to interested students."

"We need new graduates to fly our planes," he concluded, "and we want to talk to them before they leave the campus."

Therefore, the Navy has put together an impressive promotion conducted by Lt. Cmdr. Swain, Chief William C. Brasch and Chief Don Chamness of the Marion recruiting office.

Swain and Brasch will conduct tests for prospective naval officers. In addition, three T-34 Mentor training aircraft are available at Southern Illinois Airport to give students their first Navy plane ride after passing the aviation officer exams.

The Mentors will also perform daily fly-overs in the Carbondale area.

VTI to Host Open House

Open House will be held at the SIU Vocational-Technical Institute on Friday, April 26, and Sunday, April 28.

It will be the seventh annual such event designed to allow prospective students, parents, the business and industrial community and the general public to see the two year technical school in operation, according to Chief Academic Advisor Harry Soderstrom. Opened in 1952 as the first school of its kind in the state, VTI has pioneered in developing two-year associate degree programs in many fields, said Soderstrom, who is in charge of the open house.

The 29 one- and two-year courses and options with a current enrollment of some 1,500 students include corrections and law enforcement, data processing, forest products technology, mortuary science, dental hygiene and dental laboratory technology, tool and manufacturing technology, electronics and architectural technology.

Music Sorority Invites Pledges

Epsilon Kappa Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon professional music sorority has announced the initiation of its 1968 pledge class. The new actives will join in the activities planned for the remainder of the term.

The concert was given in Shryock Auditorium at 8 p.m. Sunday, the chapter hosted a work party supervised by the district director, Mrs. Marion Davidson. Following the work party, the sorority presented a musicale at the home of the faculty advisor, Mrs. Nancy Shelby.

Membership in the sorority is based on music ability, scholarship, and leadership. The present membership is approximately 20.

New Illinois members are: Marietta Muhich, Carbondale; Linda Lampman, Carterville; Patricia Brock, Fairfield; Nancy Reece, Johnston City; and Leslie Retzer, Peoria.

Out-of-state members are: Jo Ann Dearden Gunter, Paducah, Ky.; Raeschelle Potter, Gulfport, Miss.; and Gloria Barringer, Huntersville, N.C.

Officers Elected For Pledge Class

Other new officers are Sandy Worrrell, vice-president; Kandy Malony, secretary; and Cyndy Williams, pledge master.

Pledges are Jeanette Morgan, Rena Schweizer, Nancy Drummer, Carolyn Meadows and Marian Buecher.

As their pledge project the group is sponsoring and planning the all-communication faculty party to be held early spring term.

Science Foundation Grants Project Funds

A $30,400 National Science Foundation grant has come to SIU for a two-year research project on "the crystal chemistry and structures of evaporite minerals" to be conducted by J. H. Fang and Paul D. Robinson, SIU associate professor and instructor of geology, respectively.

Fang says the work has been made possible by equipment allocations and development of the Department of Geology's X-ray diffraction laboratory.

The NSF-supported program involves the use of high and low temperature single-crystal X-ray diffraction techniques along with newly-developed computer methods for rapidly solving unknown crystal structures. The evaporite minerals under study are hydrated sulphates such as those found in saline mineral deposits in western United States and in Chile, South America. They are highly important to the chemical industry, Fang says.

Bach to Work In U.S. Office Of Education

Jacob O. Bach, SIU professor of educational administration, is on a three-month assignment to the U.S. Office of Education in Washington.

Bach, who will be in Washington until March 29, is working with the program planning and evaluation section of the Bureau of Elementary and Secondary Education. He said his current activities, which began the first of January, include assisting the bureau staff develop evaluation instructions for Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and Titles III and V-A of the National Defense Education Act.

Bach returns to the SIU campus on weekends to work with doctoral students on their dissertations and direct work on a Jacksonville, Ill., school survey being made by School Research Services, which he heads.

Coxeter to Give Second Lecture

The Department of Philosophy and Mathematics will present the second of two lectures by H.S.M. Coxeter, at 4 p.m. Friday.

The lecture is aimed at mathematicians, and is entitled "Equiaffinities."

Coxeter's principal field of interest is geometry. The SIU Press will publish his latest work, "Twelve Geometrical Essays."

The most recent important piece of equipment added to the X-ray crystallography laboratory is a $15,000 X-ray fluorescence spectrophotometer for quantitative chemical analysis of solid materials. It makes a graphic record of the elements in a sample of material and indicates the percentage of each present.

Claims 111 Victories

Gymnast Coach Vogel Master of Two Fields

By George Knemeyer

Herb Vogel doesn't dress like the conventional SIU instructor. He seldom wears a tie and rarely wears a suit. But then Vogel is not the conventional instructor. He teaches health education courses and coaches SIU women's gymnastics, and is highly respected in both fields.

Vogel is regarded as one of the leading women's gymnastics coaches in the nation, having compiled the impressive record during 12 years of coaching of 111 victories and only two defeats.

Both defeats came before he started the women's gymnastics program at Southern five years ago. During his stay at SIU, his teams have won 48 consecutive meets. But this is not the record for a Vogel-coached team.

While at Flint, Mich., for seven years, his teams ran up a string of 49 consecutive victories. SIU can tie that record against Centenary College, March 23.

In addition to being a coach and instructor at SIU, he also is a hotel manager of sorts. Five of the women gymnasts live in his 11-room house, along with Vogel's wife and five children.

Vogel admits this isn't the best situation for the gymnasts, but "this is one way I can make it financially easier for the girls."

All these duties keep him busy, but he still finds time to fly around the country to conduct gymnastics clinics.

Vogel bases his success on his gymnasts' ability, and not his coaching. Vogel has produced 18 participants in international competition in his 12 years—seven from SIU.

Vogel has also coached numerous All-Americans, including seven from last year's Collegiate Champion team.

All this points out the dedication he has to promoting women's gymnastics. This dedication is felt by the rest of the team.

Often the girls practice 30 hours a week, whether Vogel is there or away at clinics.

Vogel normally puts emphasis on the team, and not on individuals, but has changed his outlook slightly this year.

"Most of the time, I like the girls to work together as a team," Vogel said, "but this being an Olympic year, I'm having the girls concentrate on winning Olympic berths and just forget about the team's record."

Even with emphasis on improving individual performances, Vogel's team has streaked to a 5-0 record this season.

His duties sometimes limit the amount of sleep he gets, and with the National Collegiate Open Championships March 29 and 30 at SIU, his time for rest and relaxation will grow shorter.

Two years ago Vogel said that he didn't get to sleep before 7 a.m. for six weeks before the championships. This year, he says, he has had a good night's sleep in his room at SIU. Vogel

CHECKING THE SCORE—SIU's Women's Gymnastics Coach Herb Vogel is looking at the scoreboard checking how his team is doing. His teams have been involved in 113 meets, yet have lost only twice. His SIU team has never lost and sports a 48 meet winning streak.

Lutz Gives Boost To Upward Move Of Diamond Sport

The growth of baseball at SIU is merely an outgrowth of a nationwide trend that has seen the diamond sport become the fastest growing collegiate sport in the nation.

In 1942 there were 242 colleges playing baseball. Today, there are more than 2,200 teams in action each spring—nearly 50,000 collegiate players on the baseball diamond from coast to coast.

Coach Joe Lutz caught the bug of the recent trend and, through his energetic and ingenious methods, has single-handedly taken great strides in promoting baseball at Southern.

Batgirls, instead of batboys, sky divers delivering the game ball at the season opener and numerous other ideas by the veteran coach have established an uphill surge in baseball's popularity on the SIU campus.

This year Lutz has already announced plans to continue the use of a musical combo at all the Saluki home games and he's also instigated a bat day in which miniature bats will be given to each fan who attends a scheduled home game this season.

The increase of the diamond sport's popularity on the SIU campus, as well as elsewhere in the nation, was further revealed in a survey taken by the National College Athletic Association in which it was disclosed that for all colleges, including junior colleges, the sport has a monetary value of over $200 million.

With an exciting ball club that has one of the finest pitching staffs in the nation, speed on the bases and a tight defense, Lutz will have a team with which to stir fan interest this spring.

The Salukis will open their home slate with a doubleheader against Monmouth College, April 2.

In 1966 more than $5,556,800 was expended on baseball operations and $2,862,800 on coaching salaries at NCAA member schools. NCAA schools alone give financial aid to student-athletics in the amount of $1,963,700 in a single season.

The real estate value of playing fields and practice areas across the country is set at more than $100,000,000.

Saluki Wrestlers

Face Indiana State

In Last Dual Meet

The SIU wrestling squad will complete its dual meet schedule tonight at Terre Haute, Ind., against 12th-ranked Indiana State University.

The host Sycamores will carry a 14-1-1 record and the Indiana Collegiate Conference championship into the meet against a 5-5 record for SIU.

"Indiana State is the strongest team that SIU will meet this year," said SIU Coach Jim Wilkinson, "and the outcome of the meet will determine whether or not SIU finishes with a better than .500 season."

Three outstanding performers for Indiana State are Ted Parker in the 137 pound weight class, Dave Hauloko at 152, and Mike Kelly at heavyweight.

Both Parker and Kelly recently won their third consecutive individual weight championships in the Indiana Collegiate Conference and Parker was a finalist in NCAA competition last year.

Knicks Provide New Excitement

NEW YORK (AP) — Yes, these are not the same New York Knickerbockers.

Going into this National Basketball Association season, the Knicks had finished fourth in the Eastern Division eight straight times, and that meant the cellar until last season when a fifth team was added.

But the current New York team has dead aim on third, which would be the highest Knick finish since 1958-59, and has a good chance to finish above the .500 mark for the first time since that same season.

These Knicks have won 21 of their last 32 games. These Knicks play defense, hustle and, more often than not, are exciting even when they lose.

"No secrets," says Red Holzman, who took over as coach 32 games ago. "They've been playing real well together. No secrets, just work."

And the club has been working at both ends of the court, even when things aren't going well.

Take Tuesday night's 108-102 loss to St. Louis. The Knicks trailed by 17 points at halftime but came back to tie it 97-97 before losing.

"We were aware it took them a half to get 17 ahead and we knew we still had a half," center Walt Bellamy said after the game.

"Over-all, everyone is playing together, and the defense has improved," says Bellamy.

"Generally, we just help out more on defense," says All-Star forward Willis Reed. "We try to keep a man out of his range. Everybody is helping out on the court."

The Knicks' brass also did some helping out the court, and it now is paying dividends. They signed rookies Walt Frazier of SIU, Phil Jackson of North Dakota University and Bill Bradley, the Rhodes Scholar from Princeton.

These three are real diamonds in the rough, especially for a club that hasn't done too well in the rookie market in the last 10 years. And the diamonds are getting smoother with each game.

Wesleyan Desperation Shot Nips SIU

Southern Collects Three Technicals in 59-56 Loss

By Dave Palermo

Three technical fouls, one on the team mascot, and Ky. Wesleyan's hot shooting George Tinsley paved the way to a Saluki defeat, 59-56, Wednesday night in the Arena. The Panthers won the game on a climatic 20-footer by guard Tom Hobgood with two seconds remaining. The three-point margin was added after Howard Keene fouled Hobgood attempting to snare a long pass. The Panther guard converted the free throw after the final buzzer.

With 14:06 remaining and the Salukis leading in the game, 38-32, the first of two technical fouls called on SIU Coach Jack Hartman in the game was called by an official.

The call came after a foul was called on Saluki forward Chuck Benson for holding Tinsley while attempting a shot. Tinsley made both free throws and the technical throw to cut the lead to three, 38-35.

Then a gesture by the Saluki mascot resulted in a second technical and Tinsley again made good from the line to cut the lead to two.

SIU forward Dick Garrett stole the inbound pass and went in for the layup to put the Salukis back on top by four but Keene was called for fouling Panther Dallas Thornton and when Hartman jumped off the bench to argue the call he was slapped with his second technical.

Thornton made good on the foul shot but missed the technical to make it 40-37 with 13:38 to play.

A turn around jumper by forward Chuck Benson with 12:44 put the Salukis on top, 43-39, but Panther center Dick O'Neill hit a layup and a free throw to cut the lead to one.

Keene missed a free throw and O'Neill countered from underneath. The KWC bucket and the Panthers led for the first time in the game, 44-43, with 10:41 to play.

Thinclads to Split For Track Meets

Coach Lew Hartzog and his indoor track team will have little time to savor their third place finish at the Central Collegiate Conference Championships last week as they split into two groups for track meets this weekend.

One group will journey with Hartzog to the Knights of Columbus Invitational meet in Cleveland, Ohio, Friday, while another group, accompanied by assistant Bill Fritz, will meet the Illinois Track Club in a dual meet at Champaign Saturday.

SIU thinclads are entered in five events at the Knights of Columbus meet. The individual events will see Mitch Livingston going in the high jump, Ross MacKenzie in the 440 and Jeff Duxbury in the 1,000.

Two relay teams will also compete: mile relay--MacKenzie, Thel Jeffries, Willie Richardson and Dennis Gomez; distance medley relay--Duxbury, Glenn Ujivc, Bobby Morrw and Barry Liebovitz.

Southern scored eight straight points to go back on top but Wesleyan came back and with 2:43 to go in the game Tinsley hit on two charity tosses to pull the Panthers within four, 56-52.

Benson was called for traveling on the in-bounds pass and Tinsley countered again to cut the lead to two points.

The Panthers went into a tedious zone press in an effort to get the ball back and it proved effective as a Saluki pass went astray and Wesleyan had the ball.

O'Neill scored on his second rebounding effort and the game was tied, 56-56, with 1:59 to go.

Hartman's forces got the ball into the forecourt and slowed the pace of the game trying to get the percentage shot. Panther reserve Steve Deskins fouled Craig Taylor and the junior guard went to the line with a 1-1 situation and a chance to put the Salukis back on top with :39 to play. But Taylor missed.

Southern went into a 2-1-2 zone defense in an effort to close the lane and force Kentucky Wesleyan to take the outside shot.

With :02 remaining, Hobgood connected on the 20-footer and iced the victory.

The Salukis pulled out to an early lead and led at the intermission, 31-25.

Tinsley finished the game with 21 points to take scoring honors. Dick O'Neill had 11 and Dallas Thornton 10 to account for all three Panthers who hit for double figures.

Benson had 16 to lead Saluki scorers followed by Garrett with 14, Keene with 11, Willie Griffin, seven and Craig Taylor with five.

Kentucky Wesleyan outbounded Southern, 39-36, but the Salukis led in the shooting accuracy department, hitting 42 per cent as compared to KWC's 40 per centile.

The victory boosted KWC's winning streak to 15 games; the longest in the school's history.

The loss dropped Southern's record to 12-11 for the season. The team closes out the season against Centenary College in an 8 p.m. encounter Friday in the Arena.

IN AND BACK OUT--Howard Keene (54) so wanted Kentucky Wesleyan not to score on this basket that he knocked it back through the hoop. Also wanting the rebound that didn't come are KWC's Tom Hobgood (25), SIU's Craig Taylor (10), KWC's Dick O'Neill (45), partially hidden, and Dick Garrett (22). KWC won, 59-56.

Frosh Grab Easy Win In Preliminary

Opening up a wide second half lead, the SIU freshmen cagers coasted to an 85-60 win over the Kentucky Wesleyan Baby Panthers.

Mike Hessick paced the Saluki scoring by pouring in 26 points. All the Saluki starters hit in twin figures as Tom McBride dumped in 19, B. J. Trickey tallied 12, Martyn Bradley flippin in 11 and Terry Buhs added 10. Gene Cross chipped in 7.

SIU held a slim 37-34 advantage at the half, but at the 16:10 mark in the second period, KWC forged ahead 39-38. This was the final time that the Panthers were in command as the Salukis scored eight consecutive points to make it 46-39.

Until the final five minutes of the first half, both ball clubs played on even terms, but with 2:55 remaining, SIU jumped into a 33-24 lead.

KWC was led in scoring by Larry Elliot who managed 19 points. He was followed by Curtis Mitchell with 12 and John Brown with 11.

SIU claimed 34 of 65 field goal attempts for .523, and KWC hit 24 of 58 for .414. The Salukis also won the rebound battle, 32-31.

Roger Westbrook, highly-regarded Saluki guard, did not dress for this game because of an injury he sustained in the Evansville game Saturday night. Westbrook said the injury was alright, but said that playing this game might do more harm than good.

The Saluki freshmen closed their season with a 7-6 record, and the Panthers finished 14-6.

The Brown Gods and Sigma Pi "A" teams will meet in the finals of the intramural basketball tournament at 6 p.m. Friday in the Arena prior to the SIU-Centenary College varsity contest.

The Brown Gods quintet earned its way into the finals by defeating the Animals 47-45, Allen III 59-35 and Sukes Dukes 45-43. The Gods defeated the Dukes after a Brown player was fouled after time had run out in the game with the score tied at 43-43. He converted both free throws for the win.
