Students to Quiz Mayor, Council

The Carbondale City Council and Mayor D. Blane Miller will answer questions from members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, and other students at a press conference at 4 p.m. Nov. 4 in Mockeitoy Auditorium in Agriculture Building. The conference, called "Face, the Campus," is the second in a series with University and area officials. The first was held last April with President Dallyne W. Morris. The first part of the hour-long program will be devoted to questions from a four-member panel of SDX members. The latter part of the program will be opened to questions from the audience.

John Matheson, faculty adviser for SDX, will serve as moderator for the panel.

Faculty to Debate On Monday Night

A faculty debate, with speakers representing both sides of the Viet Nam issue, will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Participating faculty members will be H. B. Jacobini, adviser for SDX, and Dan Paul Silverman, associate professor of history. Jeff Sheo, a Chicagoan and a representative of the Students for a Democratic Society, is also scheduled to speak.

The debaters will present their opinions in support and opposition to U. S. policy in Viet Nam. The program is sponsored by the SDS.

Local Firm Gives House to Students

Off-campus students have been given a two-story frame house at 108 W. College St. Dening Realty Co. bought the nine-room house for use as a residence hall. Mrs. Anna B. Kuo, supervisor of off-campus housing, said.

Students living off-campus have not had a central meeting place. A student committee will begin cleaning and painting Nov. 6.

Coronation Held At Shryock

Janice K. Ockerby, a junior from Creve Coeur, was crowned queen of the 1965 Homecoming ceremonies in Shryock Auditorium Thursday night. Miss Ockerby placed the crown on the head of the ninth blonde queen since the pageant began in 1922.

Miss Ockerby represented Thompson Towers.

Other members of the court included: Eileen F. Brocockway, Plainfield; Jacqueline Ann Carlson, DeKalb; Susan King, Mt. Vernon; and Lavona J. Shryock, Belleville.

Attendees to the court were Anna Marie Mayeski, Benton and Linda Sparks, West Carbondale.

Miss Ockerby was elected queen in the Oct. 1 election but here identity was kept secret until the moment of coronation.

The queen and her court will ride in the Homecoming parade Saturday morning and will appear at the football game that afternoon.

Miss Ockerby is a trainee of the Peace Corps said.

Jeff Gilliam, singer. Entertainment was provided by the Carbondale High School Glee Club and the Carbondale High School Band.

Master of ceremonies for the coronation was Mike West.

THE MONEY MAKER

NATIONAL SCIENCE FESTIVAL AT THE SIU MUSEUM...

Mimi McCarthy, Clarendon Hills, and Wally DeLuca, Princeton, R. I., were named Miss and Mr. Freshman at Wednesday night's pep rally. The pep rally was the first event in the schedule of Homecoming activities.

At the rally Coach Don Shroyer introduced the team to a crowd of about 300. He spoke about the game Saturday and said SIU would be up against one of the best passing combinations in the country.

Shroyer also commented on the poor spirit of the student body. He said, "We haven't given you a lot but then again you haven't given us much either." The cheerleaders lead the audience in several cheers. Also present was the pep band of the Marching Salukis.

After the pep rally the crowd proceeded to the bonfire where the Campus Folk Arts Society presented a homecoming. Cochairmen of the event were A. William Moos and Brenda S. Loverkamp.

We've got it! We finally got it! The present injustice in the draft system is demoralizing, and that a fair method is necessary. Why do we need a universal draft? We are deeply involved in Viet Nam, but we are not engaged in world war.

But the Job Corps, now under the newly formed sub-committee of abhorrenting college-going students from university participation in the program, could be transformed into a compulsory rehabilitation program such as that advocated by Gen. Hershey.

The Herhey Job Corps modification, if adopted, might eliminate the need for the draft system and also provide a comprehensive training program for all of the disadvantaged.

Free Speech 'Is Fine, But This Is Ridiculous!'

By John Goodrich

The auditorium in the Commencement Building at the University of Wisconsin belongs to the people of Wisconsin. But the voice coming out of the loudspeaker belonged to Cheddi Jagan, foreign prime minister of British Guiana. And the speech was a down-the-Party-line denunciation of the U.S.A.

It was my first "teach-in." This one had a twist. A mass meeting protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam was held on the campus of the University of Wisconsin, and it was being piped to a number of American campuses. The Wisconsin audience, comprising some 500 people, including five boards, was hardly a mass meeting, even, in a university setting.

Let's Forget Inveective, Keep Letters Logical

The Wednesday, Oct. 28 letter to the editor by A. L. Lorenz would not seem to merit a reply since it lacks any semblance of logic or good taste. Mr. Lorenz, who masquerades for feeling piqued at the suspension of his marchers, while taking part in an orderly, police-sanctioned demonstration, is entirely as skittish over his justification for Viet Nam presence in Viet Nam as he should be over his justification for Viet Nam presence in Viet Nam.

There are three points, however, which may merit consideration. The first is the analogy made in attacking "Masses, Elwitt and bush;" he says that "they on the left or the right had been justified by the United States should stop acting as though they were American citizens." The second point is that on the other, they want protection for themselves, and besides the strained nature of this comparison, it seems rather illogical that because the object to the fact and manner of the United States "acting as the policeman" in Viet Nam, the marchers should be scolded for wanting some protection from the Viet Nam aggressors when they are well within their national rights, (United States protection of a nonconstitutional basis). "The argument is another matter." Moreover, we find that a marcher across Dr. Elwitt and SDS of "turning on their heels when more than a few questions were asked" is presented after "decrying the apparent one-sidedness of their arguments," that is to listen to both sides of the Viet Nam question, I "do not know what you mean by 'one-sidedness.'" They might have "defended" rather than just "said." They certainly did not "turn on their heels," which brings us to the point number three, where as Lorenz says, they refused to "recognize that the United States is in Viet Nam, not because it wants to be there but because the Vietnamese government wants us there." I'm sure that Dr. Elwitt and SDS would have a field day with these "Viet Nam people" "turning on their heels."

The points of view are valuable, and the Egyptian should allow students a chance to reflect diverse outlooks upon important issues. I am not a fan of naivete, and it is my knowledge I am acquainted with the statement, "It does seem, however, that writers should not abuse their privilege by adjective logic and substituting emotion and invective.

Do We Need Universal Draft?

In 1966, some two million boys would have been conscripted into the military. Nearly 600,000 of these will be going to college, and will be needed to maintain the national defense as long as they remain in school and are receiving academic requirements.

In that same year, the military draft was introduced to the Lokai nation. About 400,000 men enlist into the armed services each year, and are available for new men, even with the elevation of the war.

College students are uncertain as to whether they will be drafted, especially when they get out of school? This uncertainty exemplifies the current draft policy.

State College Religious Study
To Be Topic of Conference

Teaching religious courses at state-supported universities will be analyzed at a conference here next week.

More than 100 participants and observers from 20 states have registered for the conference set for Nov. 4 through 6.

"This is the first time those responsible for teaching religion and religious philosophy in the state universities have come together as a group to analyze where we stand and to try to arrive at a workable solution to this thorny problem," said Milton D. McLean, consultant on religious studies, who is a visiting professor in sociology at SIU this fall.

Jews, Protestants and Catholics and educational organizations such as the Danforth Foundation and the Anti-Defamation League, will be represented at the conference.

Religions will be analyzed at a meeting called the Consultative Conference on Religious Studies at State Universities, which will discuss objectives of religious studies taught in these institutions and actual course content.

Key speakers are Robert S. Michaelson, head of the department of religious studies at the University of California at Santa Barbara, and Wilber G. Katz, professor of law, University of Wisconsin.

Michaelson's authoritative new book, "The Study of Religion in American Universities," is being furnished to all the conference delegates as a major reference work for the discussions, noted by Michaelson's opening address on Thursday evening, McLean said.

Katz, formerly professor and dean of the University of Chicago law school, is also the author of a new book on religion, entitled "Religious and American Constitutions." He will speak Saturday morning on "The New Climate of Legal Opinion."

At the luncheon session Friday, a panel presentation on "Strategies for Teaching About Religion in a Pluralistic Society" will be given by speakers representing three different faiths—Roy Banehouse, chairman of the Indiana University committee on the study of religion; Samuel Sammel, professor and provost of Bible and Hellenistic literature, Hebrew College-Jewish Institute of Religion at Cincinnati; and Anthony Neufeld, professor of philosophy, University of Cincinnati, and contributor to Catholic journals.

A similar panel on "The Creative and Crustial Role of Religious Studies in the University of Tomorrow" will be presented at the Friday evening dinner session, with Franklin H. Littel, professor of church history, Chicago Theological Semi-

The information about Zond 2, launched toward Mars Nov. 30, 1964, was given at a meeting of Soviet astronomers, Tass said. It gave no indication of when the meeting was held. So it was not clear whether Zond 2 signals had started up again or whether the data was obtained before the unmanned satellite fell silent. Soviet scientists reported in May that signals from Zond 2 had ceased and said the trouble probably was due to failure of solar batteries that fed power to the satellite. As late as August no further word had been received from Zond 2.

Tass pointed out that storms on the sun cause powerful radio waves. But it said those picked up by Zond 2 were about 100 times stronger than what had been expected from previous data.

Sneak Viet Cong Raids Impossible to Prevent

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials said Thursday further sneak attacks on U.S. bases in Viet Nam must be expected because it is "absolutely impossible" to provide an airright defense of such installations against guerrilla infiltrations. These officials recalled that they gave similar warnings, for the same reasons, after other attacks on U.S. air bases and other installations earlier this year. This reflects both a military and a civilian viewpoint in the Pentagon that the guerrillas, operating under cover of night and taking advantage of natural cover, can elude roving patrols and defense posts.

This is the advantage enjoyed by any guerrillas operating in small numbers by ambush. These officials said the 40 helicopters lost in Wednesday night's mortar and grenade assaults on two Marine bases represented a very small percentage of the helicopter strength in Viet Nam.

Negroes Halt Civil Rights Marchers

LINCOLNTON, Ga. (AP)—Crowd of Lincolnton Negro men halted a march led by out-of-town Negroes Thursday day after 16-hour argument, demonstrators retreated.

The confrontation between the Negro men, most of them sawmill and pulpwood workers, and the civil rights demonstrators was believed to be without precedent in the Southern racial struggle.

"Why? Why are you doing this?" asked Walter Bolden, Atlanta, a field director for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which he runs into local Negro opposition to its demonstrations.

"What's going to happen to us after you leave?" asked one of the Negroes in the opposing group of about 40 men who barred the marchers on a dirt road.

Watch 10,000 Top Section Placed In St. Louis Arch

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The Gateway Arch, memorializing the pioneers and pointing the way to the future of America's heartland, was finished Thursday afternoon. The ceremony in the Anglican Cathedral was attended by President Johnson, the first lady, and a crowd of 2,000, including Mayor William Beavers.

The job of inserting the keystone was a perilous one. Workmen hoisted the 10-ton eight-foot triangular section a half-hour early because the sun's rays were causing the stainless steel skin on the arch to expand. This would tighten the 8 1/2-foot opening at the top.

Churchill Town House Sold; May Be Shrine

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill's town house was sold Thursday for more than a quarter-million dollars. The new owner said he may turn it into a museum.

The buyer was Dr. Samuel Leonard Simpson, chairman of the clothing firm of Simpson's of Piccadilly and a noted endocrinologist. Simpson, 65, at first told newsmen he had no firm plans for the house. Then he was asked if he planned to live in it or turn it into a museum.

"I don't know," Simpson replied. "Both in their proper time might come into it. There is a possibility of its becoming a shrine."

When Churchill fought the house in 1945 he paid 30,000 pounds.
School of Business to Form Advisory Council Saturday

An organizational meeting of the Business Advisory Council to the School of Business will be held Saturday after a luncheon in the University Center, according to Robert E. Hill, dean of the School of Business.

The meeting was planned in connection with Homecoming to enable SIU business alumni as well as area business leaders to participate in the discussion and planning of the new council.

One purpose of the Business Advisory Council will be to meet with Dean Hill and the school of Business faculty. The council will also develop programs and laboratory experiments for business students and assist the faculty in establishing projects which the students will meet with various companies and firms.

The objective will be to establish a better program for business managers in Southern Illinois.

Grad-Student Examination in Languages Set for Nov. 13

The Foreign Language examinations for graduate students will be given from 10 a.m. to noon Nov. 13 in Wheeler Hall.

Persons taking the examination on the doctoral level are required to submit 675 pages of material in the foreign language in which they are being examined. The material will relate to their fields of study.

According to the Graduate School announcement, this material must be submitted to the Department of Foreign Languages between Monday and Wednesday noon of the examination week. In addition to excerpts from this material, the students will be given a control passage for translation. Use of dictionaries is permitted.

Each student taking the examination must present written authorization from the Graduate School.
Southern's Film Society has planned a weekly program of foreign film classics for the remainder of the quarter. The movies will be presented at 8:30 and 3 p.m. Sundays in the Morris Library Auditorium.

"Girl With a Suitcase," starring Claudia Cardinale, Jacques Perrin and Romolo Valli, will be presented Sunday. It is an Italian film with English subtitles. It is the story of a voluptuous young singer who is having an affair with the leader of a small dance band.

"The Phantom Horse," a Japanese film with English subtitles, will be shown Nov. 7. The movie depicts modern-day Japan. It is the story of a young farm boy who lavishes all his affection on a race horse, and of the lives of those around him.

A Polish film, "Eye Wants to Sleep," will be presented Nov. 14. Barbara Lanz and Stanislaw Mikulski star in the movie directed by Tadeusz Chmielewski. The film combines comedy, satire and fantasy in a story about a young girl who has just arrived with the leader of a small dance band.

RATS IN SPACE ENVIRONMENT TESTS — George H. Gass (right), professor of physiology, and his research assistant, Michael Nudd of Orland Park, are studying the body's ability to absorb basic nutrients from the stomach and intestinal tract during long space voyages. Gass is conducting the study using rats in a restricted environment for periods up to six months.

George H. Gass, professor of physiology, has received a one-year grant of $36,906 from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to study modifications in living conditions man may have to make while traveling in space capsules. The NASA grant also covers a study of means other than eating by which to obtain food on long space voyages.

In the study, rats are placed in a restricted environment for periods up to six months. Absorption efficiency of the animals living under this stress is periodically tested using radioactively tagged nutrients. Gass and his research assistant, Michael F. Nudd, put the rats into cages designed to restrict the rats' movement to a fraction of their normal cage space. This space is adjustable and is in proportion to the animals' body weight following a formula developed by NASA scientists.

The researchers feed test meals to each rat and determine what effects the restricted environment has on the body's ability to absorb basic nutrients from the stomach and intestinal tract.

If Cold Resists Aspirin, Rest,
Try Garlic, Sage, Onion Soup

By Ed Rapetti

One frosty morning not long ago I woke up to the pre-dawn darkness and let fly with glass-shattering sneezes that sent the window curtains flapping.

I’m getting a cold, I thought to myself. Rising, I fumbled and stumbled my way to the bathroom in search of aspirin or cold tablets that might be hidden in some deep recess of the medicine cabinet.

Remembering the advice of our modern-day healers...take several aspirin, stay in bed, and drink plenty of fluids to cure a cold...I found a bottle of aspirin. Unfortunately it was empty.

I returned to bed disconsolately. Visions of the medicine cabinet again I awoke in the pre-dawn light and stumbled my way to the window curtains or cold tablets that might be hidden in some deep recess of the medicine cabinet.

I tried the “garlic cure.” It worked but I lost a lot of friends and my wife still calls me “Stinky.”

Undaunted by this experience, I set out to find out if, in this “enlightened era,” any of the old folk–remedies still were practiced.

The first I discovered was 4 Universities Set Botany Meetings

A month's symposium on systematic plant classification has been set up by the faculty and graduate students of the Department of Botany at SIU, University of Missouri St. Louis University and Washington University. According to Robert H. Molembrook, chairman of the SIU, Department, they will discuss current problems of plant classification at the first meeting, Dec. 8 at St. Louis University.

Saluki Yearlings Win In Tennessee 20-18

Southern's freshman football team scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to gain its second victory of the season by defeating Tennessee Tech's freshmen 20-18 at Cookeville, Tenn., Wednesday.

Tennessee had possession of the ball only four times in the second half as Coach Joe Lutz's freshmen held the losers to only three first downs in the second half. Southern, 2-15, will journey to Southeast Missouri State at Cape Girardeau Monday for the second meeting of the two teams. Southern defeated the junior varsity Indians earlier in McAndrew Stadium, 20-7.

Jerry Hughes, a 190-pound halfback from Lombard, scored the winning touchdown on an eight-yard run and led the SIU ground-gainers with 100 yards in 21 carries.

Mel Smith, a halfback from Zito, caught three of Southern's four completed passes for 78 yards. One of the passes was a 55-yarder from Chip Marlow that set up the final score with less than three minutes remaining in the game.

Southern gained 288 yards on the ground compared to Tennessee's 123. Southern completed four of nine passes for 84 yards. Tennessee passed for 44 yards on five of 15 aerial attempts.

Southern lost three fumbles which spoiled near-disaster for the Salukis. Southern lost two fumbles in the second quarter which set up two of Tennessee's three touchdowns. In second half, Southern fumbled on the Tennessee four-yard line.

Jerry Hughes scored Tennessee's first touchdown on a one-yard plunge. The score was set up by a 30-yard jaunt by Bob Wagner, Tech's quarterback.

Southern's quarterback Tim Kelley, scored on a six-yard run to knot the score at the end of the first period. The scoring run climaxed a 64-yard drive by the Salukis on seven plays.

Tech took the lead in the opening minutes of the second quarter when Wagner passed seven yards to end Louie Ladd. Tennessee recovered a fumble on the Southern 22-yard line to set up the scoring pass.

Wagner scored his first touchdown of the day for Tennessee on a one-yard run after Tennessee recovered a fumble on the Southern four-yard line.

Both teams failed to score in the third quarter, but Southern was inside the opponents 10-yard line twice in the frame. Southern fumbled the ball on the four and lost the ball minutes later on downs on the right end of the eight-yard line.

Behind 18-6, Marlow plunged over from the one-yard line for Southern's second touchdown. Quarterback Kelley flipped a pass to Inglis for the two-point conversion.

Inglis's eight-yard scoring run climaxed a 72-yard drive after Tennessee lost its ball by punting on a fourth down situation.

Temper Flares

Fighting Saluki Lost to Team; Kicked, Tickled, Hines Off Line

By Joe Cook

Another Saluki football player has bitten the dust. Lew Hines, a defensive tackle on the football team, let his temper get the best of him at a practice session this week and was promptly kicked off the team.

Players were mum on the actual happenings, but reports indicate that Hines slapped assistant coach Bill Knuckles, after he reportedly was kicked.

Hines, a junior, has shown flashes of brilliance at his defensive tackle position, but has often been criticized for his indifferences.

He had been bothered this year with a sprained ankle and was kicked out of the Lincoln University game and had only returned to his position last week against Wichita State University. His place in the lineup will probably be filled by John Eliasik, Isaac Brigham or Ralph Galloway.

If a person doubted that football is a popular sport around here, he need only to have been in the Arena Monday for the start of freshman basketball practice.

Coach Jim Smelser was swamped with players as 20 hopefuls reported to practice. This was in addition to the eight players who are on scholarships.

The job was hard, but Smelser has currently cut the squad down to 13, plus the scholarship eight. More will be cut.

Fund Meeting Will Honor Ken Boyer

Ken Boyer, former third baseman with the St. Louis Cardinals, will be honored at a dinner at 7 p.m. Nov. 5 at the University Center.

Boyer, general campaign chairman for the St. Louis Area Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, will present awards to the volunteers in the Southern Illinois area who worked on the Multiple Sclerosis Hope Chest campaign.

Multiple sclerosis is a progressive disease of the central nervous system and mainly strikes adults in the 20-40 age bracket. There are approximately 5,000 victims in the 71 counties in Southern Illinois and eastern Missouri.

The dinner is open to the public. Reservations should be made before Tuesday by contacting Mrs. Doris Smith, 500 Missouri St., Carterville, or Mrs. Jean Donelly, 321 Cherry St., Mount Vernon.
Mighty Wall Rings
Tulsa's Golden Arm

By Bob Reincke

The Tulsa University football team, complete with three probable All-Americans, the nation's most prolific offense and a pair of huge lines, will bleed into Carnallton Saturday for its biggest game.

"There's no doubt about it," said Coach Don Shroyer looking to the game, "that Tulsa is the best team that has ever played here in Mc-Andrew Stadium. We'll simply do the very best we can against them."

With this, Shroyer generally expressed the consensus of the community—it looks like a rough day for Saluki fans. The Hurricane has averaged nearly 400 yards a game in beating four of six opponents.

The bulk of their yardage comes from the passing combination of Bill Anderson to Howard Twilley. The combo has accounted for 1,014 yards and seven touchdowns, and both lead the country in their respective departments for passing and receiving.

The Hurricane also has a pair of massive lines. The offensive line average 229 pounds per man and the defensive front wall scales about 250 pounds. The weight is especially significant at the tackles where Tulsa has a 170-pound range ranging from 240 to 285 pounds.

Coach Gene.Command's starting lineup will have Twilley and Mark Maddox (205) at the ends with Joe Brooks (269) and Don Bundy (250) at the tackles. The guards will be Richard (218) and center John Omond (240).

In the backfield Dobbs will undoubtedly go with Anderson at quarterback. Bob Dauntyy (200) at tailback, Neal Sweeney (170) at wingback and fullback Gene Lukaiuk, a stocky 200-pounder.

Sweeney is Anderson's second favorite target. He has hauled in 49 passes for 513 yards and five touchdowns. Another man to watch in Tulsa's backfield is Jimmy Hall, a fleet 155-pounder who does the hundred in 9.4 seconds.

The big man in the starting defensive line is to W-T Line, a 271-pound tackle, who was voted sophomore of the year by the United Press International, Joining Townes in the line are ends John Jiljojahl (213) and Scott Schuhmann (217), tackle Tom McGuire (253) and middle guard Sheldon Moomaw (243). Linebackers will be Dwight Claxton (205), Bill Pennington (209) and Darrell Wolfe (173). Screening out the defensive backfield are halfbacks Jack Suggs (171) and Charlie (191) and safety Gary Berchtold (179).

These lineups make Tulsa the biggest and also best team Southern has played or will play this year.
