Decisions on Calendar, Finals
Not Yet Reached by Council

Final decisions have not yet been reached on proposals to revise the University calendar and to return to a two-hour final exam system.

Reaction from the Campus Senate favoring two-hour finals has been received and the matter will be taken up at the Nov. 9 meeting of the University Council, according to Roland Keene, secretary to the Council.

Points of protest have included, a scheduled three-day spring break in the calendar as it was first announced.

The matter of revising the calendar has been presented to the Campus Senate. A decision on guidelines for the calendar could be reached before the Nov. 9 meeting of the Council, Keene said.

If a set of guidelines is revised from the Senate before then, Keene explained, Council members could be polled by phone.

The University Council is an advisory body composed of faculty members and administration. The Council conducts regular meetings with President DeJone W. Morris.

Keene said that the University Council will not take any action on the first half of the report of the Coleman Commission.

The Council will meet again with Coleman and members of the commission to "place the report in perspective." The first half of the report, considered by the Council on Oct. 19, dealt with the student's role and participation in University affairs. The second half will concern the University's role in society.

Women's Recreation Association will hold a hockey game at the hockey field on the east end of McAndrew Stadium between the women's varsity and the alumni. From 9 a.m. until noon, the School of Home Economics will hold a coffee in the Home Economics Building lounge. At 10:30 a.m., the Women's Recreation Association will have a coffee in room 114 of the Women's Gym.

Following the parade Saturday morning, alumni are invited to the Homecoming buffet to be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the University Center Ballrooms. The Association for Computing Machinery will hold a demonstration at 11 a.m. in Wham Building, B-24.

From 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., the School of Agriculture will have a barbecue in the Agriculture Building Arena.

The Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority luncheon will be at 104 Small Group Housing from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Delta Chi social fraternity roast pig dinner at 101 Small Group Housing.

An alumni coffee hour held by the SW Engineering Club in the Ohio Room of the University Center.

Senior Crowned

By King Menes

Nancy Sunderland is Homecoming queen.

Long live Queen Nancy!

Miss Sunderland, a senior from Alton was presented by King Menes, the traditional, mysterious sovereign of SIU homecomings, in the coronation ceremonies in Shryock Auditorium Thursday night.

Steve Jasper served as master of ceremonies, other performers were Joyce Commeil, court dancer; and Leighton Rockafellow, court scribe.

Queen Nancy, her court and attendants attended a Homecoming reception at 9 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom.

The entire court will be presented during the Homecoming parade Saturday morning, during the halftime ceremonies of the SIU-East Carolina State football game that afternoon and at the queen's dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Ballroom.

Wilson cited the reasons for his resignation as stemming from a "feeling of powerlessness, futility and bitterness," and the fact that he had been unable to reach any understanding with the administration in the area of student rights.

Following Wilson's resignation, the senators completed the week's business and adjourned in almost record time.

Bob Drinan, student body president, submitted copies of a letter to the senators that was drafted by the National Student Association concerning the draft and the United States commitment in Viet Nam. Drinan said he endorsed the letter and that it will now be forwarded to President Johnson.

The letter stated the NSA believed the growing commitment in Viet Nam is not in tune with the threats placed on America's interests.

In a report regarding the Nov. 4 Board of Trustees meeting in Edwardsville, President Morris has indicated that only Drinan, Ann Bosworth, Bard Groose and Terry Stofflin will be allowed to address the board, it was announced.

Initially it was planned that a large number of students from the Carbondale campus would attend the meeting, but...

Alums Find Changes Don't Affect Memory

Well alums, you've made it back again.
And as you wander over the familiar paths you'll notice a few single buildings, few more students, a few more rocks and fewer motorcycles.
The University is not quite the same as when you were here, but then, it never is.
The seas in the classrooms, the dorms, McA ndrew Stadi m, the University Center, and the bars downtown are now filled by different people.
Although people are the same, the faces are different.
That's the stuff that memories are made of.
By now you have been approached by a number of groups seeking your support, either financial or moral.
Fraternal-minded moments show that new stereo to the chapter room, and the student government wants outside help to supply regulations and philosophy.
You have pumped hundreds of hands, nodded your head a second time, and plied your aid to the brothers over that fourth pitcher of brew.
You could say that you haven't seen since graduation, is also back.
For the first time the old marriage would only come after he made his first mate and had an apartment in the East Fiftnes on Manhattan Island.
Today he has a milepost in suburban Skokie, three kids and a station wagon.
Plans do change.
The classmates themselves look different.
Now your halo rings are replaced, and nylons and heels are where bobby socks and loafers used to be.
Shoulder length varies have given way to the more manageable bobbed cut, and some hairlines have moved back before an expanding forehead.
The conversations have changed a little also.
Your classmates no longer argue about the need for more academic freedom, the elimination of ROTC or the need for compulsory attendance.
Now it's the cost of corn-flakes, rising prices, parking problems, air pollution and the national debt.
So alums, times and people change.
Each Homecoming brings nostalgia and a little disenchancement, but that's all part of it.
Homecoming, like apple pie, grandmother's house, the 4th of July and trading stamps, is an American Institution.
It's kind of an institution here too, so have a good time, and welcome back!

Student Image Affected
By Frankster's Bonfire

Two observations can be made about the incident which caused the bonfire for Home coming to be ignited a night early.
First, Alpha Phi Omega, a service fraternity, spent much time and effort to build the woodpile for the fire.
The time and effort was wasted when someone decided it was a good idea to light the fire Tuesday and destroy part of the Home coming festivities.
Alpha Phi Omega rebuilt the woodpile so the fire could be ignited Wednesday as scheduled.
It's doubtful whether the fraternity who rebuilt the pile thought it much of a joke.

Nature Needs
Modern Noah

In the past four centuries 162 species of birds have become extinct, mainly as a result of either man's plunder and his indifference toward their fate.

Tomorrow hundreds of exotic species of birds, mammals, and fish may disappear from the face of the earth forever.
Conservationists, zoologists, wildlife specialists, and many other individuals met recently in San Diego to discuss the fate of these fragile creatures as the Tasmanian thylacine, the Arabian oryx, and the Selous leopard.
The consensus is that, to prevent the marvelous, multifarious creatures of the earth, man must provide a kind of Noah's ark.
He will do so, not in response to an antediluvian injunction, but only if he realizes that to allow the extinction of species with willful purpose is to destroy enlightened civilization.

Kennedy, Verwoerd Slayings Similar—No Reason for Either

The man who killed South Africa's Prime Minister Verwoerd has been adjudged insane—a not unexpected development, but one which strains serious curiosities between the assassinations of Dr. Verwoerd and of President Kennedy.

Mr. Kennedy's assassin probably could have pleaded insanity had he not been killed himself by a man who did plead insanity. After both assassinations, people jumped at what seemed to be obvious explanations, and in both instances they proved wrong.

The Dallas crime was hastily and widely blamed on "right-wing extremists" who had reason to dislike Mr. Kennedy.
The assassin turned out to be a shiftless ex-convict who had lived in Russia.

Whatever impelled the two men to their deeds, it was not reason. In earlier times and in more primitive countries, there has generally been understandable reason for many murders of heads of state and government, however cruel or inadequate it may have been. History abounds in examples of rulers and would-be rulers who met untimely deaths at the hands of conspiring political enemies and sometimes even relatives; assassination was a more or less accepted, if untidy, method of removing an obstacle to ambition.

It seems ironic that in this 'age of reason' many of the most appalling crimes have been committed for an apparent reason at all—most recently the tragic murder of Valerie Percy. Of the four assassinations of American Presidents, not one was committed by a sane man for a logical reason. Abroad as well as here, the job of assassina tion is being increasingly left to the crackpots.

Maybe there is an encouraging explanation, namely that if a man has a logical reason for hatred, he is capable also of realizing that assassina tion nowadays won't help his cause and is more likely to hurt it. Modern democratic governments cannot be overthrown by doing away with one man. Or maybe the explanation is simply that security of office is more likely to be a deterrent to assassins than against rational and thus foreseeable attacks than against irrational ones.

Letter

Policy Won't Build Chiefs
To the editor:
When I came to this University, I intended to shake away my unalienable right to freedom of speech, the freedom of contract (housing), and to the freedom of choice of my own transportation.
I am now told what to do, when to do it, and how to go about it. The education I receive here is one of how to be ruled and not one of how to act like an adult. The people graduating from this University could never make presidents because they wouldn't know how to govern if they got elected.

We at University are truly a pack of sheep.

In case you hold with my opinion, I am starting a club.

White Collar Union

The Rev. William H. Dubay, rebellious Catholic priest in the Los Angeles diocese, has carried out his threat to form a clerical union, Father Dubay, a young priest, has formed the American Federation of Priests.

We suppose this unique labor organization will be known as a whitecollar union.

The next steps would seem to be application for membership in the AFL-CIO and contract demands for time-and-a-half with Sundays off.

Belafonte Stage Show Tonight

Homecoming festivities continue today with a star-studded stage show at 8 p.m. in the Arena.

On tonight’s program will be singer Harry Belafonte, comedian Nilepsy Russell, Nana Mouskouri and the Belafonte singers.

Belafonte, known for his acting as well as his singing, was born in New York but spent some time in Jamaica, his mother’s home. He spent two years in the Navy before launching himself into the theater after World War II.

His singing career began in the mid-1950’s. His repertoire includes a spectrum of songs ranging from the serious and tender to the humorous and dramatic to songs of other lands.

Comedian Nilepsy Russell will appear with Belafonte. Russell’s command of the English language punctuated with humorous comments about the world around us makes him a comedy favorite.

Nana Mouskouri is from Greece. Her special type of talent is marked by the excellence and the moving quality of her musical renditions.

Saturday Parade Rolls Out at 9

Saturday’s Homecoming parade will begin at 9 a.m. at University Avenue and Sycamore Street.

The annual parade, which will feature 24 floats, 27 high school bands and the Homecoming queen and her court, will move down University and disband at the Old Main gates.

The reviewing stand will be located at the west entrance to the Home Economics building.

OPEN SUNDAY: NOON TILL 8 P.M.
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—In a challenge to North Viet Nam, President Johnson says the United States and its allies in South Viet Nam have built a military shield "strong enough to prevent the aggressor from succeeding." Until North Viet Nam withdraws its forces, "we must continue to resist the aggression that threatens South Viet Nam," he said in a report Thursday to the American people.

"We do so because we believe that the Communists will unroll the door to peace only when they are convinced their military campaign cannot succeed," he declared.

The speech was taped in Manila and released as Johnson spent the day relaxing at the resort village of Bang Sien after 10 strenuous days on his Far East tour. He goes by helicopter today 68 miles northwest to Bangkok where he is to be welcomed by King Bhumibol and Queen Sirikit.

In his two-day visit to Bangkok, he will have an opportunity to discuss with Premier Thanom Kittikachorn the growing Communist guerrilla menace in Thailand's impoverished northeast.

Johnson also will have an opportunity to see some of the 27,000 U.S. soldiers based in Thailand although he is not scheduled to visit any of the five air bases from which American pilots fly to bomb targets in North Viet Nam.

Johnson's speech was in the form of a report on the Manila summit conference and his flying visit to the big U.S. naval base at Cam Ranh Bay in South Viet Nam.

'Report for Physical'
Actor Hamilton Told
NEW YORK (AP)—The local draft board Thursday ordered actor George Hamilton to report for a physical examination in what was described as a move "to get all the possible information possible into his record."

Hamilton, a frequent escort of President Johnson's eldest daughter, Lynda Bird, has been deferred from active service on the grounds that members of his family are dependent upon him for support.

Continued fair and mild today, highs in the low to mid 70s. Outlook for Saturday: fair and a little cooler. The record high for this date is 92 degrees set in 1927. The record low is 24 degrees set in 1925 according to the SIU Climatology Laboratory.
Women 'Licking Lids' to Save Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Shoppers are sampling, pinching, and licking their way through the supermarkets these days, leaving a trail of empty cookie packages and licked lids, says one Dallas grocer, who can't catch 10 people a day at breaking open packages. "It is a kind of disappointment," says Fred Gallamore, manager of a Safeway store in Dallas. "People switch labels on meat to get 20 or 30 cents off a hash tomato, and pull the leaves off the lettuce," he adds.

An Associated Press survey of supermarket managers and shoppers found numerous reports of melon pinching, cookie nibbling, jelly-tasting, and other unusual behavior. Moscow's pledge was stated at $200 million and the total of the other East European Communist contributions as about $200 million. Asked if this is for an entire year or some other period of time, a Polish source replied, "This is for right now. God knows what will be needed four months from now."

Poland agreed to give $3 million. The pledges of Czechoslovakia, Romania and East Germany were described as higher or in the same range. Contributions of Cuba and Mongolia, non-European nations at the Moscow summit, were thought to be only token amounts. "You can imagine what a drain this will be on our economies, but it has to be done," a Polish informant said.

The view expressed here is that the European Communist states naturally would prefer to pour such resources into building their own economies, but the kids nibble them while she shops. "It keeps them quiet and happy and I can get my shopping done much faster," she said. "Of course I pay for the cookies on the way out." But a woman in Atlanta said she had put packages back on the shelf after her child opened them.

"I figure I do enough shopping for them to absorb the loss," she said.

No Evidence

Drivers Training Questioned

CHICAGO (AP)—Alan S. Boyd, undersecretary of commerce for transportation, said Thursday there is no evidence that driver training does any good.

Boyd said while that he is "inclined to accept" the notion that driver training is better than nothing, there is no evidence to support driver training as having any particular benefit.

Boyd's remarks were recorded for broadcast next week over the Mutual radio network and other stations. He said that with millions of dollars spent annually for driver training, "we ought to try to find out what is being done with the money."
Play to Make

Two Day Run

"Arms and the Man," a satirical comedy on war, will make its final run starting at 8 p.m. today in the Communications Building theater under the direction of Charles W. Zoeckler, associate professor of theater.

Zoeckler, who was graduated from West Virginia University, is directing the Southern Players in their presentation of the George Bernard Shaw play.

Before coming to SIU in 1967, he held several administrative positions in the speech and theater field throughout the midwest.

Since coming to SIU, Zoeckler has served as producer of the Freshman Talent Show for four years and the Theta XI Variety Show for seven years.

Zoeckler is designer, advisor and consultant for the SIU Homecoming shows, for Percy Whistle Stop

Scheduled 5:40 p.m.

Charles H. Percy, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, will arrive in Carbondale at 5:40 p.m. today rather than 6:40 as previously stated in the Daily Egyptian.

The train will stop for 30 minutes by the Illinois Central District office one block north of the IC station. On the campaign tour with Percy will be Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, who is up for reelection, and Harris Rowe, Republican candidate for Illinois state treasurer.

The Percy stop is sponsored by the SIU and Jackson County Young Republican organizations.

Jewish Student Center Service Tonight

Services at the Gov. Henry Horner Jewish Student Center will begin at 7 p.m. today. Ann Abramowits, a junior from Springfield, will conduct the services. Richard Herman, a graduate student in sociology, will deliver the sermon.

Members and their guests will attend the Belfonte Concert and return afterward for a reception at the Horner House. The house will be open Saturday afternoon and evening for a reception for returning alumni.

And not just for the football games.

We'd like to clear up what appears to be a misunderstanding. It is somewhat popular opinion to decry a business career on the grounds that you stop learning once you start working for Cliché Nuts & Bolts.

That idea is groundless.

We can't speak for Cliché, but we can for ourselves—Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. 6 out of 10 college graduates who have joined us over the past 10 years, for example, have continued their higher education.

How's these for openers:

- We're Tuition Refund Plan lets employees pursue degrees while working for us. Over 6 thousand have attended schools in 41 states under this plan. We refund more than $1 million in tuition costs to employees a year.

- To name another program: Advanced Engineering Study, under the direction of Lehigh University, is conducted at our Engineering Research Center in Princeton, N. J. Selected employees are sent there from all over the country for a year's concentrated study leading to a master's degree.

You get the idea. We're for more learning in our business. After all, Western Electric doesn't make buggy whips. We make advanced communications equipment. And the Bell telephone network will need even more sophisticated devices by the time your fifth reunion rolls around. The state of the art, never static, is where the action is.

At Western Electric, what's happening is the excitement and satisfaction of continued doing and learning. If this happens to appeal to you, no matter what degree you're aiming for, check us out. And grab a piece of the action.

Museum Presents SIU History in Photos

The SIU Museum has prepared a special display for Homecoming weekend, and it will be shown both Saturday and Sunday.

It is designed to illustrate the history of the University and is entitled "Southern in Motion." Included are many photographs dating back as far as Southern's first graduating class in 1879.

All the buildings that were constructed from the late 1800s to the early 1900s are pictured. These famous landmarks, except for the original Old Main, are part of SIU's present campus.

A photograph of the first Old Main shows before it was destroyed by fire. Photographs of other buildings include the Allyn Building, the Wheeler Library, and the Parkinson Building.

Photographs of each SIU president from the first, Robert Allyn, 1874-1892, up to the incumbent Delyte W. Morris can also be seen.

One of the most interesting items on exhibit is the general plan that was drawn up in 1942. It is a sketch showing the proposed design of an expansion of the SIU campus 25 years in the future.

Another historic piece on display is the original fountain pen which the late Adlai E. Stevenson used in signing three Senate bills that created a separate Board of Trustees for SIU.

The display illustrates how the Saluki was selected as Southern's mascot. Included are pictures of all the Saluki dogs from the first mascot, King Tut, who was killed in 1954.

Mrs. Georgia Harrison was both the artist and designer of the exhibit.

The museum will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. It will also be open the same hours on the weekend of Parent's Day.

Owner of Little Store Recollects Early Days Spent at Southern

Editor's note: One of the old-timers on campus is W.W. Trobaugh, whose wares have been offered to students for over 30 years. For the benefit of returning alumni, here's a current report on him.

By Sally Murphy

"My name's W.W. Trobaugh. The first W stands for William... but I never use the building," he said. "The University owns all the property in Southern Illinois.

"I came here on the first day of September, 1932, and started a filling station," he began. "I had a house on the corner of Harwood and Thompson - right out there where the bicycles are now.

"I worked six years with the pumps, then 12 years with the pumps and the store," he continued. "Then, on the Tuesday after Thanksgiving... in November, 1950, they took the pumps out. On the 28th day of May, 1953, I got moved into this building. I guess I own the only private business on campus," he added.

"I sell candy, soda, ice cream, and a small line of groceries. I sold 99 sandwiches yesterday and 101 sandwiches Friday."

Trobaugh has quite a memory for dates and figures. "They become a part of me," he said.

As he talked, he stood erect with his hands folded on the counter. He wore a blue ivy league sweater - and looked like someone's grandfather who had come back to college.

"I went to college here in 1949 and 1949, when Old Main and Algoeld were the only buildings on campus," he said. "On the 15th day of September, 1900, I began teaching school. I came back to summer school in 1901, and then I taught school for six more years."

He then farmed for 21 years after marrying in 1903. Trobaugh now lives with his second wife, Edith, at 508 S. Beveridge St. His youngest son, Carl, manages the University Bookstore.

Trobaugh works alone in his tiny store from 7 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., Monday through Friday. He likes the students who frequent his store. "They're very much the same as all the others before them have been," he said, "very nice and courteous."

Williams," said the white-haired gentleman.

"I didn't think you were coming today, I thought maybe they told you that I've had too many stories written about me... I can't even remember how many times I've been interviewed," he added.

Trobaugh is 86 years old and he is the owner of the tiny store in the barracks outside the north entrance to the University Center. "I own the store, but I don't own the

You don't have to get all wound up in a flag or a banner, that would be a bit uncomfortable. If you must wave a flag, how about wearing one of our many graphic knits, that will surely get more attention. Come and let us wrap one up for you!

Some fitting advice...

Be sure your knit is fitted just perfectly, take time and look in the mirror when you buy. It will be worth it - a poorly fitted knit can give away your figure's deepest secret.

Harmon football highlights
Saturday is the first reckoning day for two of the three leaders of the Big Eight Conference, 16th-ranked Missouri meets 17th-ranked Nebraska in Lincoln in a struggle for supremacy, and we’ll pick the Tigers of Columbia to beat the Cornhuskers by three points. Oklahoma, No. 3, the other contender, is a seven-point favorite over Colorado.

In the Southwest Conference, both top teams are in trouble. Texas A&M and 3 and 0 in the conference, is a 7-point underdog to Arkansas, ranked 9th nationally. S.M.U., No. 11, is going to be upset by 14th-ranked Texas. The difference...one point.

Tulsa will lead the Missouri Valley Conference by itself on Sunday, disposing of co-leader Cincinnati by 22 points.

The two teams on the top rungs of the Atlantic Coast Conference should still be in a tie for the lead after Saturday. Maryland will whip South Carolina by two, and Clemson should win over Wake Forest by seven points.

With the three top teams in the Southeastern Conference all undefeated in conference competition, Decision Day may be a few weeks away. Alabama, third in the country, is a 10-point 10-point favorite over Mississippi State, and Florida, No. 6, will scuttle Auburn by twenty-one. The other leader, 18th-ranked Georgia, goes outside the conference where it is favored by 8 points over North Carolina. Top dog in the Big Ten—and the only team with an unblemished record in league play—is Michigan State, the Number Two team in the nation. The Spartans are a big 31-point choice over Northwestern.

Undefeated Miami of Ohio is sitting in the top spot in the Mid-American Conference. The Redskins are favored to bump Bowling Green this week by 20 points.

After 2 Years of Defeat

Siu Wants Homecoming Game Victory

The bombfire has gone to ashes in the South, for some one is anxiously awaiting the festivities of the coming Homecoming week. A course of planning your homecoming weekend did you ever stop to ponder what lies behind the Homecoming tradition at SIU?

What did it all start? In 1921 the first Homecoming was planned and put over. Here's what the Egyptian of Nov. 11, that year said about the event:

"It (Homecoming) is a project this year in which SINU students will come back hundreds of thousands. It will be a day when the Institute will not only be a project, but an institution.

The institution is entering its 46th year of existence. The old interuniversity in the annual game came in 1943 because of World War II.

For the first Homecoming Southern played host to Cape Girardeau, a game which has lasted 0-0. Since then SIU has played 15 different Homecomings. Southern has an overall record of 22 wins, 19 losses and 3 ties.

Back in 1921 Southern was officially Southern Illinois Normal University and the team was called the Maroons. Included in the homecoming record are two six-game winning streaks. These came between 1929 and 1934 and from 1958 through 1963.

The 1930 team, which dumped Illinois State 39-0, was Southern's only undefeated team. "Abe" Martin, director of interuniversity, was a member of that team. SIU started its last six-game streak with a 36-7 victory over Washington in 1958 and Lee in 1959. The string continued with victories over Eastern Illinois 7-0, Illinois State 3-6, Eastern Illinois 34-14, Illinois State 14-0 and finally a 27-0 triumph over Northern Michigan.

That victory was the Salukis' last Homecoming success. Since then SIU has been beaten by North Texas 14-13 and Men students have been given a special invitation to join the Badminton Club which meets each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Women's Large Room.

Marilyn Harris, club leader, urges all SIU men to think of the club is only for women since it is sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association. But the club is open to both men and women, she said.

Tark Heels Losing

North Carolina's last winning football season was in 1958. Since then the Tar Heels won 11 of 11 games.

Siu Wants Homecoming Game Victory

The first Homecoming was in 1921, the first Homemomeg was a 41-0 rout of Eastern Illinois in November 1943. The worst beating suffered by a Southern Homecoming squad was last year.

The SIU record stacks up this way: 15-15 against the 15 opposites: against Eastern Illinois Southern is 9-3, against Illinois State 4-1-1, Southeast Missouri 3-1-2, Western Illinois 1-3-1, Western Michigan 1-2, Washington University of St. Louis 0-2, Shurtleff 1-1, Washington and Lee 1-0, McKendree 1-0, Eastern Michigan 0-1, Central Michigan 0-1, Texas 0-1 and Texas 0-0.

Nothing Impossible
Coach Predicts Navy To Beat Notre Dame

By Jack Kneece
Associated Press Writer

ANAPOLIS (AP) — Navy Coach Bill Ellas predicted this week that his sky-high Middle Atlantic football team would beat No. 1 ranked Notre Dame Saturday.

Navy, which is 3-0 for the season, has revved up so for the clash Saturday that Ellas went out on a limb with the prediction, adding:

"In all sincerity, I've never seen a team as high as this team since I've been here. I have so much faith in this group of young men I'm confident that nothing is impossible. I think we'll win it."

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian, in a long-distance chat with Ellas and writers, would not predict victory and even said that service academy teams have so much spirit that anything could happen on any given weekend.

Ellas and his staff feel there are other plus factors the oddsmakers have overlooked in the 20-point spread favoring Notre Dame.

The biggest is that spectacular sophomore end Jim Seymour has an injured ankle and will probably not play -- though Parseghian would not commit himself on that question when asked by Ellas.

Another is a report that quarterback Terry Hanratty's tossing arm is not in the best shape following a mild sprain, "You take away Hanratty and Seymour," said Ellas, "and you have the same team that we played to a standout last year in their own backyard."

Ellas referred to the fact that Navy led the Irish 3-0 until moments before the first half ended when Nick Eddy took a screen pass 55 yards for a touchdown, Notre Dame went on to win 29-3, but it was the Navy feeling that--had they taken a 3-0 lead to the dressing room--they could have pulled it out.
