Alumni Council to Promote T. C. Cause

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

SOUTHERN APPOINTS ALEXANDER TO RENDER ALUMNI SERVICES

For the first time, Southern has a director of alumni services, appointed to work with the Alumni Association and to serve alumni in any and all ways possible.

Dr. Orville Alexander, 1931 graduate of Southern, was named to this new post by President Chester F. Lay at the beginning of the spring term.

He will devote three-fourths of his time this spring and half time thereafter to his duties serving alumni, and, as professor of government, will also teach part time.

For the past year, Dr. Alexander has been on leave of absence from the Southern faculty to serve as director of research for the Illinois Legislative Council in Springfield.

He plans to make a determined effort to find out where Southern's former students are and what they are doing, and to bring records of these activities up to date.

One of his first assignments is to serve as faculty chairman for the 1946 Homecoming, to be held next fall. Already he is thinking in terms of bringing alumni "more into the picture" at Homecoming, both in the planning with students and faculty, and in the activities scheduled for that occasion.

Currently he is engaged in mailing out the 5,000 copies of the new Alumni Directory which recently came from the press, containing names of some 7,000 men and women who have graduated from Southern since 1876.

Already Dr. Alexander has made a number of trips to Southern Illinois communities to visit with alumni in an effort to find out what services they want from their alma mater.

Alexander Named President of Group

Organization of a Joint Alumni Council of the five teachers colleges and universities of Illinois was effected in March, with the avowed purpose of mobilizing the thirty to forty thousand alumni of these institutions in the cause of higher education.

Composed of five representatives of each institution—the president, the person in charge of alumni work, the president and two elected members of each alumni association—the Council elected Dr. Orville Alexander, director of alumni services at Southern, as president.

Other officers chosen were: Vice president, William E. Peters, president of Eastern alumni, Charleston; secretary, Miss Annetta Gibson of Rockford, Ill., representing Northern; executive committee members—Richard V. Lindsey, superintendent of schools at Galesburg, representing Illinois State Normal University, and Miss Blanche Breed, Peoria, representing Western.

Objectives of the group were agreed upon as follows: (1) to act as a "watch dog" to safeguard teachers colleges in all legislative matters; (2) to inform the public as to what is going on in teachers colleges so that the public may become teachers college-minded; (3) to aid in extending post-graduate and "in-service" training to graduates of the teachers colleges.

To accomplish these objectives, the council voted to carry on the following activities: (1) to collect and disseminate to appropriate groups information concerning legislative matters affecting teachers colleges; (2) to work through local alumni groups to encourage high

Southern Accredited As University In Regional Association

Recognition of university status for Southern Illinois Normal University has come from the Commission on Colleges and Universities of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Southern has been "promoted" from Group 2 to Group 4 in the commission's membership rolls.

Group 4, according to a letter from John Dale Russell, secretary of the commission, is composed of institutions offering the doctor's degree and institutions organized in four or more units which regularly offer the master's and/or professional degrees.

"This advance in our accredited rating with the commission recognizes Southern's expansion into the university class, since we are now in the same classification with the larger state and endowed universities of this 20-state area," President Lay pointed out.

"This rating gives us something to live up to," he declared, "for we must now conform to the highest standards of faculty, scholarship, and procedure."

Since 1931 Southern has been accredited as a teachers college with the North Central Association in Group 2, which is composed of institutions offering only bachelors' degrees in one college.

Southern's new rating acknowledges its qualifications in offering degrees in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the College of Vocations and Professions, and the Graduate School, as well as in the College of Education.

Student Body Doubles Since Last Spring

With 681 veterans on the campus, enrollment took a big upward spring during the spring term, climbing to 1,528, or more than double the 750 in school during the spring term of 1943.

For the first time since the war, men students outnumber the women—960 to 668.

Spring term registration was 30 per cent above that of the winter term.

Leading in enrollment is the College of Education, with 906 prospective teachers enrolled. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences attracted 424 students, and the College of Vocations and Professions 198. Graduate students number 49.

POET-IN-RESIDENCE ON SUMMER FACULTY

A poet-in-residence will be added to the Southern faculty this summer when Miss May Sarton joins the English department in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. She will teach two courses, emphasizing modern poetry. Miss Sarton has published two volumes of poetry, Encounter in April and Inner Landscape, and two novels, The Single Hound and The Bridge of Years.

The latter novel has just come from the press and is attracting high praise from the critics.

EDUCATORS ON TOUR

To aid Southern Illinois county schools in their reorganization plans, Southern cooperated with school superintendents of the Southern block in arranging a tour of reorganized schools in four neighboring states recently. Some 35 school officials and committee members made the trip, accompanied by Dr. E. R. Fair, dean of the College of Education, Dr. Howard E. Bosley, Dr. Emerson Hall, and George Bracewell, associate professors of education.

Five More Veterans Return To Faculty

Veterans who have returned to Southern's faculty include the following: Dr. Fred R. Cagle, curator of the biological section of the Museum, now on leave to lecture at Tulane University; Dr. Edward C. McDonagh, assistant professor of sociology; Van A. Rubolz, assistant professor of commerce; Robert W. English, assistant professor of industrial education, and Jean Fligor, instructor in rural education.
Maroon Sports

Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin's basketball team wound up its current season by bringing unprecedented honors to Southern. For the first time, the Maroons came out on top in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference basketball race, and went on to cop the title in the Kansas City National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament.

Southern played five games in six days to take the Kansas City championship, topping the 32 teams entered. Martin's team met Indiana State Teacher's College in the finals. Pitted against them in the semi-finals was Loyola University of the South, last year's champions, who defeated Southern in the semi-finals that year.

Besides the championship, other tournament honors came to Southern with the selection of freshman Gene Stotlar, Pinckneyville, to receive the Chuck Taylor award given for the most valuable player in the tournament. Stotlar was also placed on the first All-American team. Placed on the second All-American team were Don Sheffer, senior, and Sam Milosevich, junior, from Zeigler, and Quentin Stinson, freshman from Eldorado. Each of these players received a 17-jewel wrist watch, while a diamond-studded gold basketball was presented to each squad member and Coach Martin.

President Lay gave the students a holiday when the champions returned, and Coach Martin and the team have been honored and entertained by various organizations.

Out for the track team this spring are 24 aspirants, including four lettermen from last year, and six veterans who were lettermen in former years. Coach Leland "Doc" Lingle's trackmen have defeated both Western Teachers and the Normal Redbirds this season, winning over the former 95-36, the latter 99-31.

Succeeding Dr. Charles Tenney as tennis coach, Bill Freeburg has coached his squad through two successful matches—winning over Illinois State Normal and Washington University.

SENIOI'S START THE UNION FUND

This year's seniors voted to leave as their institutional gift a nestegg for the proposed Student Union Building fund. Voting unanimously to subscribe a contribution from each graduate, the class felt that while their contribution might not be in the "millionaire" bracket, it would start "things going."

Champions of I. I. A. C. and Kansas City Tourney
Letters from alumni have been coming in, since the last issue of the Southern Alumnus, and we are glad to publish a part of this correspondence.

Attended in '74

Coming from Lettaside, Avon Park, Florida, is the following from E. E. Moberly: "I attended the Southern Illinois Normal University at the opening year '74 and '75—age 15 years. During that period there was a three months business course, five years later a friend secured me a job with a Chicago lumber concern. When I appeared for work, I was greeted with the question could I keep the books—I could and did, which led to something better. "These three months have been a fond memory all my life and I hope the instruction is still remembered and given at Carbondale on an advanced system."

CLASS OF 1891

Another early alumnus, Arthur J. Snyder, class of 1891, and his wife, Mary Davis Snyder, class of 1892, write for a copy of the latest catalog "just to learn what is being done at S. I. N. U. now . . . we have been reviewing the Twenty-fifth Anniversary book published in '99 and recalling old friends and teachers."

Writing from Springfield, Idaho, Mr. Snyder recalls, "this little settlement of which we were the first to tackle and burn the sage brush and start irrigation had a congenial small group of people who did many enjoyable things in common."

Strange meetings oft occur. Recently when taking a grandson to Pocatello to return to work in the Pacific two lonesome looking service men stood near us, and I started conversation with both to find that one was a graduate at Carbondale, and in a very few minutes before the Pullman left, we compared similar experiences in the days of long ago tho his years were long after ours.

"After I had spent seventeen years teaching and supervising in Illinois, wife sometimes teaching with me, we came in '94 to Idaho and started the new home twenty-seven miles from the nearest depot. Many things have come to us including electricity, water, and a portion of prosperity."

"Another old friend, John W. Emmerson, graduate of S. I. N. U. (class of 1892) was postmaster in Denver many years, is now retired and recently wrote me a fine letter telling of his fine children."

Father and Son

J. P. DeLap of Norris City, student here in 1910-11, recently sent in a request that the January issue of Southern Alumnus be sent to his son, Lt. Col. David F. DeLap, now stationed in the Aleutians. In reply, Lt. Col. DeLap wrote—"It is indeed a pleasure to learn about the activities of the Association in welcoming veterans back to S. I. N. U. as students or as visitors. How wonderful it would be to be present at the banquet in June but that appears out of the question since my tour of duty in the Aleutians will not be completed at that time. Someday before too many years I hope to return to Carbondale and renew acquaintances of faculty and former students."

"I shall be pleased to receive an issue of the Southern Alumnus and other publications of the University. Many thanks for offering to send them to me. They will help to shorten some of these long Aleutian nights in the Bering Sea."

"Shemya is a small island twenty-five miles east of Attu and has done its share in the defeat of Japan. Already I have been here fourteen months as Post Quarter-master, a very interesting and important assignment. Of my twenty-three years of military service, I consider this task to be the most satisfactory and worthwhile. Picturesque mountains, fierce blizzards and hazardous seas are challenging to men of my age as well as to the younger men."

"My family at present is at home in Bozeman, Montana, where we have lived for the past twenty-three years. Since September, 1940, I have been away on different assignments in the army and I shall be happy to get back to Montana and civilian life again, which I hope to realize before the end of this year."

CLASS OF 1923

E. J. Zeiler, class of 1923, principal of Richards School, Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin, who asks to be sent a statement for the subscription price for the Southern Alumnus, adds: "The news of the death of the beloved George W. Smith and Dr. Delia Caldwell was read with much regret. They were good personal friends of such a multitude of students. As I look back upon my days at Carbondale I begin to realize the debt I owe to that fine group of faculty members of whom only a few remain. Such names as Boomer, Felts, Wham, Smith, Steagall, Bailey, Browne will always be remembered by hundreds who respected their scholarship and devotion to Southern and who felt those fine human qualities which welded such a close bond between students and faculty."

"I notice with much satisfaction that 'Slatz' Valentine is carrying on as Alumni President with the same vigor and energy he displayed in leading 'the gang' in cheers at a Southern-Cape game. More power to you 'Slatz'. I hope the Association continues to prosper. The suggestion for a Life Membership plan sounds fine, it deserves serious consideration. Here . . . I am far removed from contact with the old S. I. N. U. gang, but you can count on my interest and loyalty."

"This will probably be read by a complete stranger to me, yet I feel I'm talking to someone I know. If possible, pass this on to someone like Hilda Stein, Fount Warren or W. G. Cise."}

From Honolulu

Speaking of reading about the success of the Maroons in the Kansas City Basketball Tournament, D. Ransom Sherretz, class of 1924, now in Honolulu, Hawaii, suggests "I think a desired end is some uniform name for the use of the press. Your athletic scores have been published in the Honolulu papers this year under the following names:

Southern Illinois
Southern Illinois Normal
Southern Illinois University
Southern Illinois Normal University
Carbondale Normal
Carbondale Teachers."

Mr. Sherretz adds that "graduates of the school located here have been glad to hear of recent progress."

Also writing from Honolulu is J. Brooks McNeill, class of 1944, who informs us "at the present time, I plan to make my home in Hawaii and to continue my education at the University of Hawaii by means of night courses. It is uncertain just now when it will be possible for me to start, since I am in the process of starting to work again in the commercial field."

"During the time that I have been away, many changes have taken place and it is obvious that war has had noticeable effect on Southern. Now that the war is won, it is my feeling that Southern will again take her place among the universities of the United States and play a vital part in winning the peace. A step in that direction is evident from the service which is being furnished veterans."

"It would be a great pleasure to be able to attend the Alumni Banquet this year, but as is obvious, it is out of the question for me."
