Homecoming Expanded to Three Days

Seven Nominated As Queen Candidates

Nomination of seven co-eds for Queen and four for Queen's attendants resulted when Southern students went to the polls Oct. 7 for the first balloting on Queen candidates.

In the second balloting on Oct. 21, the Queen candidate receiving the highest number of votes will become the 1947 Homecoming Queen, although her identity will not be known until the moment of her coronation Thursday evening, Oct. 23.

The two runners-up among the Queen nominees will become members of the Queen's court. The two top-ranking candidates among the four attendant nominees will serve as junior attendants. Queen candidates must be juniors or seniors, while candidates for attendants are freshmen or sophomores.

The following have been nominated for Queen honors: Peggy Coleman of Marion, Joan Fairbairn of Harvey, Veda Hallom of Price of Texico, student chairman, and Dr. Orville Alexander, faculty chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Ray Anthony's Band Plays For Dance

Engagement of Ray Anthony's band to play for the Homecoming Dance at Southern Oct. 25 has been announced by Bill Price of Texico, student chairman, and Dr. Orville Alexander, faculty chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Arrangements for securing the band were carried out by a sub-committee headed by Ralph Myers of Grand Chain.

Ray's band is currently completing an engagement at Roseland in New York. He has the distinction of having the only band to play a five-week booking at the Chase Hotel in St. Louis, Price pointed out.

A former trumpeter with Glenn Miller's band, Anthony organized his own dance orchestra on his return from the Navy. While in the service, he played with submarine base bands in the South Pacific.

The dance will be held in the gymnasium from 9 to 11 o'clock.

Ceremonies For Southern's New University Status October 23-25

Tradition went out the window this year as the Homecoming Committee prepared to celebrate Southern's first Homecoming as a full-hedged university.

First of all, the 1947 Homecoming, set for Oct. 23-25, will be a three-day affair, with the reunion combined with ceremonies in recognition of the new university status.

Next, the committee voted to crown the Homecoming Queen at the beginning — not the end — of Homecoming, so that the campus favorite may reign over all reunion festivities.

Thirdly, the parade will be held Saturday noon, rather than on Friday, as in the past.

More than 65 student organizations and the faculty-vice chairman's committee prepared to celebrate Southern's first Homecoming as a full-hedged university.

SON OF IRAQ DIPLOMAT ENROLLS

Saad Salih Jaber, son of the prime minister of Iraq, has enrolled as a freshman premedical student at Southern. He is being welcomed by University President Chester F. Lay (right) and Dean of Men Marshall S. Hiskey (left).

The Little Theatre Stages "Poor Nut"

The Little Theatre will present its annual Homecoming play on Friday night, October 24. An able and experienced cast will perform in "Poor Nut," a comedy by J. C. Nugent and Elliott Nugent.

Several of the members of the cast have been in numerous plays at Southern. Dr. Archibald McLeod, assistant professor of speech and director of the play, has announced the following cast: Dave Kittle, Wayne City, will play the male lead; Phyllis Johnson, Du Quoin, and Julia Ann Harper, Carterville, will play the two female leads.

The cast will also include Jerome Seltzer, Ed Melvin, Lewis Hamack, Bob Veach, George Seifert, Art Carter, Charles Weber, John Sawyer, Ralph Lane, Peggy Coleman, Dorothy Coleman, Rosemary Wollard, Dave Rendleman, Don Harris, John Koonce, and Vernie Barnett. Rusty Chaney will be stage manager for the production.

Noted Educator Guest Speaker

Ceremonies to celebrate the new university status will be held on Southern in conjunction with Homecoming, Oct. 23-25, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

As an official opening for the joint celebrations, a distinguished educator who assisted Southern in achieving university recognition in educational circles has been invited to address students, faculty and alumni on Thursday evening, Oct. 22.

Dr. John Dale Russell, director of Higher Education, U. S. Office of Education, has accepted Southern's invitation to make the principal address on this occasion. His subject will be "Higher Education for Modern Needs."

Dr. Russell, former professor of education and former dean of students at the University of Chicago, for a number of years served as secretary of the commission on colleges and universities for the (Continued on page two)

The traditional bonfire and pep rally will be held on Thursday evening...
Two Southern faculty members, Miss Hilda Stein and Miss Frances Barbour, attended the first post-war international convention of the International Federation of University Women in Toronto, Can., Aug. 11-16. Miss Stein is serving her second term as state president of the Illinois Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Jose Luis Reyes of Mexico City, holder of two degrees from the National University of Mexico, has enrolled at Southern this fall as holder of the first $200 international scholarship awarded at Southern by the 149th District of Rotary International. This fall he is teaching conversational Spanish in the foreign language department.

Sad Salih Jaber, 18-year-old son of the prime minister of Iraq, has enrolled at Southern this fall as a graduate student and faculty assistant at Southern this year. He came to Southern in the summer as holder of the first $200 international scholarship awarded at Southern by the 149th District of Rotary International. This fall he is teaching conversational Spanish in the foreign language department.

A Freshman Week — the first ever held at Southern—brought more than 800 of the 1,200 fall freshmen to the campus for a four-day "short course in college life," sponsored by Miss Helen A. Shuman, dean of women, and Dr. Marshall S. Hayek, dean of men. The new students got advance information on how to register, how to use the library, how to choose their courses and the multitude of other things that usually baffle a "greenhorn." By the time the old students hit the campus, the freshmen were "old-timers" too, and had already formed the first of their many friendships with other new students and faculty members as the result of the round of social events which were major phase of Freshman Week.

Re-classification of student jobs at Southern this summer has meant that most students are now getting a $1.75 an hour higher wage than last year, according to Dr. Marshall S. Hickey, director of the Student Employment Service. The rate scale has been raised from a floor of 35 cents to 40 cents, and the ceiling from 75 to 83 cents. Meanwhile, all jobs on the campus have been evaluated and re-classified, so that the student receives a rate of pay in proportion to his responsibilities and capabilities. Last year, Dean Hickey said, 426 students held part-time jobs working for the University itself, and many others held jobs off-campus.

Several new department chairmen were appointed during the late summer and early fall, including: Dr. W. B. Schneider, chairman of the English department, succeeding Miss Emma Bowyer, who had held that position for 26 years and who retired this fall; Dr. J. R. Purdy, acting chairman of the mathematics department, in place of Dr. J. R. Mayor, who has obtained leave of absence for 1947-48 to accept a position at the University of Wisconsin.

The new faculty representatives on the Southern campus, and other appointments, include: Dr. Lewis A. Maverick, chairman of the economics department, a position that has been vacant for a number of years; Dr. Floyd F. Cunningham, new associate professor of geography, acting chairman of the geography department.

Dr. Lowell Tucker, new associate professor of agriculture, acting chairman of that department, has been named to replace Dr. R. C. Cassell, resigned; Dr. John Winfield Scott, new professor, chairman of the new department of business administration, formerly known as the department of business and commerce; and Robert A. Steffes, acting chairman of the new journalism department.

A four-day school for firefighters was held at Southern Sept. 30-Oct 3 for approximately 75 firefighters of Southern Illinois, under joint sponsorship of the University and the Egyptian Firefighters Association.

A new type of extension course made its appearance on the Southern schedule of extension classes this fall when a course on "Business, Professional and Technical Speech" was opened in Cairo. Enrollment in the course was limited to 30, and students were business men, industrialists, doctors, law years, engineers and other specialists.

The course is being presented by the Extension Service, with Dr. P. M. Larson, associate professor of speech, as the teacher.

Southern's Film Service is being expanded into an Audio-Visual Aids Service, and a new full-time director has been appointed this fall to head the service and carry out the expansion program. Donald A. Inglis from the University of Wisconsin has been named director. Mr. Inglis has had extensive teaching experience and in recent years specialized training in the relatively new field of combined audio and visual education.

The Film Service has been without a director since the retirement of the late C. C. Logan a year ago.

Two Southern staff members have been elected to posts in the Illinois Academy of Science — Dr. Walter B. Schneck, associate professor of English, as secretary of the faculty and ex-officio member; Dr. Dorothy Davies, professor of physical education for women, and Dr. William F. Schneider, professor of English.

THE SOUTHERN ALUMNUS 8
Fall Enrollment Climbs to 2850

Final enrollment for the fall term at Southern has climbed to 2,850, compared to 2,718 last fall and 1,064 in the fall of 1945, the Registrar’s Office reports.

There are 1,999 men students in school this fall, and 851 women students, a ratio of well over two men to each girl, in contrast to the predominance of co-eds in the fall of 1945, when there were 735 women students and only 329 men students enrolled.

In addition to the 2,850 students attending classes on the campus here, Southern is conducting extension courses in more than a score of Southern Illinois communities. These courses, according to Extension Service Director Raymond H. Do, have a total enrollment of 1,565, making a grand total fall term enrollment of 4,213. Last fall, there were 880 students enrolled in extension courses.

According to the breakdown of on-campus enrollment made by the Registrar’s Office, 1,347 of the fall term students are enrolled in the College of Education, 665 in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, 737 in the College of Vocational and Professional Education, and 81 in the Graduate School.

These totals for the various branches of the University compare with 769 for the College of Education, 223 for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, 51 for the College of Vocations and Professions, and 26 for the Graduate School.

There are 1,148 freshmen enrolled this year, compared to 1,150 last fall and only 539 in the fall of 1945. The extraordinarily large freshman class last fall is attributed by the Registrar’s Office to the large influx of veterans, coupled with the fact that many of the smaller high schools of this area graduate seniors only every other year, rather than every year.

The peak of veteran enrollment was apparently reached last fall, since enrollment of former service men and women is slightly lower this year than last year. A total of 1,385 veterans — 1,375 men and 10 women — are enrolled this fall, compared to 1,509 in the fall of 1945, and of this term of 1945 only 90 veterans had enrolled.

Last fall’s large freshman class is reflected in the substantially larger sophomore class this year, which numbers 885 compared to 616 a year ago. In the fall of 1945 sophomores numbered only 256.

There are 277 seniors enrolled this fall, 424 juniors, 10 post graduate students (students who have graduated but who are taking additional undergraduate work), and 13 unclassified students.

The Junior Classical Association will hold its annual state meeting on the Southern campus Oct. 18.

Southern Plans to Run U-Recognition Programs All Year

Plans to continue “University Recognition” observances throughout the remainder of the year were started at the last Southern faculty meeting, as University President Chester F. Lay appointed faculty committees to develop several series of educational conferences.

In addition to the two “recognition” ceremonies at Homecoming, one or more conferences will be considered in each of the major fields of university-type activity: teaching, research and service.

An exhibit from Southern’s Museum will be on display at the Saline County Centennial in Harbursburg, which runs concurrently with Homecoming, Oct. 23-25.
