Diamond Jubilee Homecoming
October 20th-22nd

75th Anniversary Program

by E. G. Lentz, Chairman
Diamond Jubilee Committee

Southern alumni within convenient reach and many from long distances will be returning to the old campus for the 75th anniversary. Some who have not been back for many years will be here to revive old memories and to meet friends and schoolmates of former years. The Diamond Jubilee festival is dedicated to the memory "that build acquaintance may not be forgot." And all the hosts of the sons and daughters of Southern, whether present or absent, will be keenly interested in the rich and varied program of the Jubilee activities.

Southern has already celebrated with impressive ceremonies its birthday, July 2, as Founders Day. Now, October 20-22, with reunions, dinners, memorial addresses, exhibits and pageantry, the old school will greet its students of other days. The two days' review of a significant past will mark the close of an historic era. Southern will then look to its greater destiny of the immediate future as a developing great regional university. In the early spring of 1950 a great conference of conference leaders will be held on the campus to which will be invited distinguished leaders in education as well as representatives of the alumni of Southern Illinois. And this observance dedicated to the future will conclude Southern's 75th anniversary celebration.

Zetetics And Socrates Again

An outstanding feature of the Diamond Jubilee Homecoming will be its reunions on Friday afternoon, October 21.

The Zetetic Literary Society, organized seventy-five years ago by authority of the Board of Trustees on the petition of students, and the Socratic Society, its counterpart and rival, similarly organized a few months later, have long since ceased to function. They have given way to the newer developments in speech and dramatic training. But these societies for more than a century rendered an inestimable service in extra-curricular training for leadership. The Socratic and Zetetic Societies will be recalled to life during our Homecoming with programs reminiscent of old times.

Homecoming—Southern Style

All the fine features of our traditional Homecoming will be in evidence, but projected upon a much more elaborate scale with emphasis upon Southern's 75th anniversary as the three-day ceremonies get under way Oct. 20.

The annual Homecoming play, the coronation of the Homecoming Queen, the freshman bonfire, football game and above all the gigantic parade are given a new significance in this historic celebration.

Homecoming will be launched with a reunion banquet honoring former members of the S. I. U. Board. Immediately following the banquet a special program has been planned in Shryock Auditorium with University President D. W. Morris, presiding.

Guest speaker for the Thursday evening program will be Judge Fred L. Wham, U. S. District Court, Eastern District of Illinois. Judge Wham, a '04 alum of Southern, practiced law in Illinois and Arkansas for nearly 20 years before 1927 when he was appointed to the U. S. District Court. He will be remembered by many as a former member of the firm of Wham and Wham in Centralia. He still resides in Centralia.

Continuing a practice begun in 1947, the queen will be crowned Thursday evening following the reunion program. She and her court will then reign over all the Homecoming events.

The induction of the freshman into the inner circles of Southern tradition via the bonfire will take place on the athletic field after the queen's coronation.

Friday morning, students will gather for a pep session at ten. When classes will be dismissed for the remainder of the week. In the afternoon students will be guests of the Varsity Theatre for a free movie.

Friday afternoon, a reception will be held honoring the new Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees and their wives, to which alumni, faculty, employees, and citizens of Southern Illinois are invited.

Climaxing Friday's events will be "The Male Animal" staged by the Little Theatre at 8:30 p.m. in the Auditorium.

Saturday is always a big day for Homecomers and this year

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

It is fitting that the celebration of Southern's Diamond Jubilee brings with it new opportunities for growth and service by the University to the southern 31 counties of Illinois. As you know, Southern now has the added responsibility of operating under its own Board. In a sense, we are now on our own.

The new responsibilities and the opportunities this creates present a challenge to all who have an interest in Southern. That challenge—as we move into the last quarter of our first century—was accepted by the members of the new Board when they took their posts. The new administration has already given us a road map to show the direction Southern will take to meet the growing needs of the 31-county area.

The citizens in the 31-county area are participating in the new program through the recently organized Committee of 100. The challenge is being accepted by the University's administration, the faculty, the students and by the citizens of the community.

There is one more group to be heard from. They are the alumni of Southern. I believe I speak for all of them when I say that the Alumni Association will carry its full share of our new responsibilities.

As a first step to create active alumni participation, we are bringing our lists up-to-date. We will continue to keep Southern alumni advised of new developments and new programs as they are evolved. We will try to keep them well-informed of the educational and vocational needs of the 31-county area and what is being done to meet these needs. There will be many opportunities for alumni to act and do something constructive to implement Southern's program to bring the 31-county area up to par with the northern 71 counties. The Alumni Association hopes to act as the spark plug to keep this group going.

Full cooperation of the Board, the University administration, the faculty, students, citizens and alumni is needed to bring our plans to fruition. More than that, active participation by all assures the democratic character of Southern. While Federal and State funds are needed to carry on an adequate program of higher education, vocational training and community service, their administration belongs in the hands of the community if we are to maintain our free, American way of life.

Southern, I am sure, will find its alumni equal to their task and eager to do their share.

SIU TO SPONSOR SOUTHERN ILLINOIS SYMPHONY

Southern Illinois musicians have been invited to join the Southern Illinois University Symphony Orchestra, and to play throughout the year with the musical organization.

The new plan, Dr. Maurits Kestner, music department chairman, explained, will give musicians of the area an opportunity to engage in their hobby or profession, enable the orchestra to undertake more difficult musical selections and will afford the area an opportunity to hear its own symphony performing a wide variety of music.

Rehearsals are held Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Southern now has an auditor of its own. Bruce Benedict, for the past two years senior accountant at the University of Illinois branch at Galesburg, has been appointed to the new position in the business office.

Swimming Pool Included in Building Plans

A two-pool indoor natatorium—the first school-owned pool and the first indoor pool of any kind to be constructed in Southern Illinois—is included in the building plans for this biennium.

Plans for the pools and for a 2½ story industrial arts building have been worked out with State Architects and will be added to the new training school site. The training school is expected to be completed within the next year.

The new industrial arts building will provide classrooms and laboratories for shop work, general industrial education, arts and crafts, and vocational agriculture, according to Dr. Douglas E. Lawson, dean of the College of Education.

In the swimming pool unit will be a standard-size pool, which will meet all requirements for conference swimming regulations, and a second shallow pool to be used to teach swimming to small grade school children and also to be used for therapeutic work with the handicapped children.

When not in use for instructional purposes, the larger pool may be available to the public.

PBX CONTROL BOARD NEARS COMPLETION

Southern's new PBX telephone system will be in operation within two months, according to University officials.

The campus telephone system which will make available 80 separate lines for University use is now being installed. The control board will be in the 36-room Laboratory and is now in the process of being adjustable, and may be used as soon as the cables and outside lines to campus offices are installed, the system will go into operation.

Fall Enrollment Soars Again

Fall enrollment figures have reached the record mark with 3,065 registered here on the main campus and an additional 46 at the Belleville Residency Center, totaling 3,111, an increase of 98 over last year's record of 3,013.

In addition, Miss Marjorie Enrietto, states that at least 40 more students were in the process of registering at the time of this writing.

A breakdown of the 3,065 on-campus students who have completed registration shows 239 in the Graduate School, 11 postgraduate students, 547 seniors, 482 juniors, 698 sophomores, 1,083 freshmen, and 7 unclassified.

There are approximately two men to every one woman student now enrolled—2,013 men and 1,052 women.

Veteran enrollment has dropped to 962 as compared with 1,200 a year ago.

Alumni Director Meets With Governor

Dr. Orville Alexander, director of the Alumni Services, participated in a meeting with Governor Adlai Stevenson on Tuesday, Sept. 12.

Representatives of the Alumni Associations of the four schools under the State Teachers College Board were also present. The meeting was held to introduce the problems of the various schools as seen by Alumni Associations to the governor.

Following the game, the annual Homecoming Tea will be held at Anthony Hall. Highlight of the Homecoming celebration is the dance to be held Saturday night in the Men's Gymnasium. Freddy Martin's 10-piece orchestra has been signed to play for the dance, according to Lou Gaskins of Harrisburg, student chairman of Homecoming. Martin's band is also scheduled for an hour concert in Shryock Auditorium for those who do not plan to attend the dance.

The 1949 Homecoming is being planned under joint auspices of the Diamond Jubilee Committee, headed by Prof. E. G. Lentz, and the Homecoming Committee, headed by Gaskins and Dr. Orville Alexander, director of Alumni Services and faculty sponsor of the general Homecoming Committee.

ALUMNI URGED TO SING IN "MESSIAH" CHOIR

All alumni who are interested in singing are urged by Dr. Maurice Kesnar, chairman of the music department, to participate in the University's annual production of Handel's famous oratorio, "The Messiah." This year's performance, the fourth here at S. I. U. under the direction of Dr. Kesnar, will be presented on Dec. 11 in Shryock Auditorium.

The first choir rehearsal will be held in the Little Theatre on Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

$275,000 For SIU Service Shops

Governor Adlai Stevenson has released $475,000 for construction of a new service shops building at Southern.

For the first time in many years, University officials look forward to relief in operational problems of storage and work space for physical plant maintenance crews.

The new factory-style building, with glass front and concrete piers and footing, will provide space for University electricians, plumbers, and furniture repairmen. Large bays will store storeroom space, making it possible for the University to stock large quantities of supplies, equipment and other commodities to be dispensed to various departments as needed without delay.

Loading docks for trucks will be constructed along the front of the building and the rear will have a loading dock to handle supplies being transported by train.

W. A. Howe, director of the University Physical Plant, says that the new building will be of tremendous value in centralizing craftsmen and materials as well as allowing space for much needed machine tools.

It is estimated that with the completion of the new service shops and of the new training school now under construction that 70 to 90 more classes for University students can be accommodated.

As yet contracts have not been awarded, although bids have been received by the State Division of Architecture and Engineering.

University President D. W. Moore expressed gratification that machinery has started rolling on the school's new building program after only two and one-half months of the new biennium has elapsed.

HISTORY PROF PUBLISHES ARTICLE

An article on "The Early Theatre in the Upper Mississippi Valley" by Dr. Harold E. Briggs, professor and chairman of the history department, and Mrs. Briggs, recently appeared in Mid-America, a historical quarterly issued by the Institute of Jesuit History at Loyola University, Chicago.

The article just published is part of an extensive research project that will eventually be published as a two-volume history with the history of the legitimate theatre and other types of entertainment on the American frontier.

Homecoming concert and dance tickets will be on sale in several Southern Illinois towns. Watch your local paper for ticket headquarters.

Art Fair Added Homecoming Attraction

Something new has been added to the Diamond Jubilee anniversary program. An Art Fair conducted by the Southern Illinois Art Association in cooperation with the University art department will be held during Homecoming, giving alumni and the general public a chance to view the rich creative resources of Southern Illinois.

Several hundred artists and craftsmen will display their work and demonstrate their techniques in an outdoor exhibition, according to Ben Watkins, acting chairman of the art department and executive secretary of the art association.

By calling attention to the work already being done in metal work, pottery, weaving, painting and sculpture, the association members hope to encourage the practice of the arts and crafts.

Although the primary purpose of the project is educational, Watkins said, attention will be given to the sales possibilities of the native arts and crafts.

All Southern Illinois artists are invited to participate in the exhibition, and they may secure additional details of arrangements by writing the art association headquarters at the University.

promises even bigger activities, nearly every Southern Illinois community and has worked out arrangements for community floats for the Homecoming parade. Approximately 400 floats are expected to be in the parade. Cannon has also secured permission from the Illinois High School Association to allow Southern Illinois high school bands to march and has completed arrangements with a number of the area's most colorful high school aggregations. The parade will start moving from Carbona Community high school at 11 a.m. and will continue down Main Street and Illinois Avenue, ending its tour at the stadium.

An aerial demonstration of U.S. Navy planes will be staged at the same time.

A strong Eastern eleven will meet the Varsity football team in the first home game of the season. All Homecoming awards will be presented between halves of the football game.

Southern Grad Named Dean

DEAN I. CLARK DAVIS

Drafting of architectural plans for five construction projects at Southern was authorized by the University Board of Trustees at their regular meeting here Sept. 24.

The State Division of Architecture and Engineering is proceeding with plans for the first unit of a new library, and the Board authorized employment of private architectural firms as associate architects in a life science building, including green house and animal quarters, dormitory units for men and women, service garage, and physical plant completion.

Hollabird, Root & Burgess of Chicago were given the assignment to design plans and specifications for the life science building; Hooten & Shaffer of Bloomington, the dormitories; McCoy & Wilson of Mt. Vernon, the self-liquidating basis. This information is to be submitted to the Board at the November meeting.

Size and number of the proposed dormitories are yet undetermined, General Davis said.

The Board also approved purchase of several additional tracts of land near the main campus to make way for the new life science building.

Board Approves Building Plans

Homer E. Takes "Carter's"

Carter's, now called the Canteen, has been taken over by the Home Economics Department and is being supervised by Miss Caroline Van Mason, instructor in home economics.

The favorite campus hang-out is being run on the self-service plan with students getting their own food and returning the dishes. Student employment is being used entirely for the present. The Canteen is considered as a self-supporting unit and will receive no school subsidizing.

A new paint job and thorough cleaning have made the old place nearly unrecognizable to the old-timers.

Another new feature of the Canteen is the sale of Grade A milk. According to Miss Van Mason, the Canteen is the only eating place in Southern to sell Grade A milk.

Office and Classroom Changes

During the summer months, several changes have been made in the location of offices and classrooms. Many of the changes include the utilization of several residences which provide additional space.

The Education Department is now at 306 West Grand; Guidance and Vocational Education, 304 West Grand; Duplicating Service, 308 West Grand; Audio-Visual Department, 310 West Grand; Speech Department, 312 West Grand; Veterans Guidance, 400 West Grand.

The Journalism Department is now at 313 West Harwood; Information Service and Alumni Department, 314 South Todd; Extension Service and Placement, 1010 South Thompson; Economics and Sociology Department, Women's Gymnasium; Botany Department, first floor of Old Main, and Geography Department, 304 West Grand.

The Foreign Language and Music Departments have each acquired a second house on South Illinois.

Panel Appoints Building Plans

The Southern Board of Trustees, at their regular meeting here Sept. 24, authorized the drafting of architectural plans for five construction projects at Southern.

The State Division of Architecture and Engineering is proceeding with plans for the first unit of a new library, and the Board authorized employment of private architectural firms as associate architects in a life science building including green house and animal quarters, dormitory units for men and women, service garage, and physical plant completion.

The Board referred the architect's contract to a committee composed of John Page Wham of Centralia, Guy Clendenen of Chicago, and Linda V. Sturgis of Metropolis, giving the committee power to act in completing and obtaining signatures to the contract.

The Board also approved the purchase of several additional tracts of land near the main campus to make way for the new life science building.

The Board approved plans for the demolition of a dormitory building and the construction of a new building to be added to the life science building; fees of $3 per quarter hour at the Belleville residence center, established this fall; and a cooperative instructional program in pre-professional training in social welfare work between the University and the Department of Public Welfare, opening this fall.

Other Board members present for the meeting were O. W. Lyerla of Herrin, Dr. Leo J. Brown of Carbondale, Kenneth L. Davis of Harrisburg and ex-officio member Dr. Vernon L. Nickell of Springfield, State superintendent of public instruction. This, the third meeting of the new independent Board of Trustees for Southern, was the first at which the full membership has been present.

Followling the Board meeting, University President D. W. Morris said next meeting of the Board, Oct. 21, an open house or reception would be arranged to give faculty, employees, alumni, and people of Southern Illinois an opportunity to meet the new board and their wives. It is expected the November board meeting, a session with students would be set up.

The next board meeting will convene on November 11 and 12, with James E. Carroll as chairman; following the Board meeting, a session with students would be set up.

Little Theatre To Stage

"The Male Animal"

"The Male Animal," a comedy dealing with college life, Elliott Nugent and James Thurber, has been selected as the Homecoming play, and will be presented by the Little Theatre Oct. 24, 25 and 26 at 8:20 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Dr. Archibald McLeod, associate professor of speech and director of the Little Theatre, is the director.

The play was a smash hit in New York City at the Court Theatre as produced by Herman Shumlin with Elliott Nugent in the leading role.

The setting of the play is at a Mid-Western university where "The Male Animal" is brought into an academic controversy when a college student writes an article for the literary magazine. WIFE trouble, fear of losing his position, and detection to stand by his principle of freedom of ideas makes the hero the courage to show that he is a pretty good example of "The Male Animal."

The cast includes the following: Phyllis Johnson, Du Quoin; Ralph Neufeld, Herrin; Stimson Miller, Marion; Robert Van Raalte, Salem; James Trigg, Tamaroa; Dorothy Paterson, Carbondale; Bill Smith, Herrin; Phyllis Wilcox, Herrin; Pat Brown, Herrin; Dorothea Reynolds, Herrin; John E. Clark Davis of Benton replaces Dr. Marshall S. Hickey, who has been appointed head of the new department of guidance and special education at Southern.

In his new capacity Dean Davis will have charge of aiding students with academic, vocational and social problems as well as student employment, student loans and social programs for students.

Before joining the Navy in 1942, he taught in the Benton high school and the Chicago Public Schools. In 1945, he received his M.S. degree from Indiana University where he was counselor of students and chairman of the interfraternity council.

He worked for two years at Purdue University where he became assistant director of student affairs. During the past summer he has been working toward the doctorate degree at Indiana University. He plans to finish his degree at Indiana with a major in guidance and personnel and minors in secondary education and public administration.

Mrs. Davis is the former Dorothy Frailey of Benton. They have one child, Robert Clark, 18 months old.

CHEM ALUM HONORED BY ACS

Dr. Richard T. Arnold, '34, formerly of Collinsville, received the American Chemical Society Award in Pure Chemistry at the society's 116th national meeting in September, in Atlantic City, N. J., according to Dr. J. W. Neckers, chairman of the Southern chemistry department.

Dr. Arnold, who is professor of chemistry at the University of Minnesota, and who last year studied in Europe under a Guggenheim fellowship, received the first University of Illinois fellowship in chemistry ever granted to a Southern graduate.

The Atlantic City meeting was the largest in the society's history. Dr. Neckers said, with more than 10,000 chemists in attendance and more than 1,000 scientific papers to be published.

Dr. Arnold read his award address before the organic chemistry section Tuesday, Sept. 30. The subject of his address was "The Steric Effect of Methylene Groups."

-SUMMER WORKSHOP ENROLLMENT UP-

Enrollment in 1949 off-campus summer workshops conducted by Southern climbed to 716 students, compared to 583 enrolled in similar extension activities in the summer of 1948, Raymond H. Hey, director of the Division of Extension and Adult Education, reports.

The 1949 extension program included two education workshops (at Carmi and Belleville), two health education workshops (at Nashville and Golconda), and 17 one-week conservation workshops (at Anna, Benton, Cave-in-Rock, Edwardsville, Fairfield, Harrisburg, McLeansboro, Marion, Mt. Vernon, Murphysboro, Olive Branch, Pinckneyville, Ridgway, Salem, Sparta, Vienna, and Waterloo).

Enrollment in the conservation workshops this summer totaled 491, compared to 444 a year ago.

69 Added To Fall Faculty

Sixty-nine persons have been added to the faculty including 46 of the rank of instructor or above for the 1949-50 school year, according to the President's Office.

Of these, 45 are new members, 3 are associates professors, 7 assistant professors, 36 instructors and 16 faculty assistants. Also included are a full-time dean of men and an assistant dean of women, an associate University Physiologist and a director of the physical plant.

Southern now has 284 full-time faculty members and 30 graduate assistants.

The new faculty members are:

Dr. Martin J. Arvin, associate professor, physics; Lewis A. Bartley, instructor, business administration; Oliver W. Beitmehr, instructor, geography and geology; Bruce Benedict, assistant; Miss Ethel V. Bennett, faculty assistant, museum; Willard A. Benson, faculty assistant, recreation; Mrs. Betty Borella, faculty assistant, audio-visual aids; Miss Rosalie Brown, instructor, University High School; Rollin E. Buckman, instructor, speech; Dr. John R. Bucar, associate University Professor.

Miss Margaretta Carey, instructor, Allyn Training School; Mrs. Deris Chaney, faculty assistant, University High School; Miss Eleanor Casebier, Mrs. Peggy Blackman, faculty assistants, Allyn Training School; Mrs. Maxine Blackman, faculty assistant, business ad­ ministration; Dr. Leonard D. Nichols, instructor, business ad­ ministration; Phillip H. Olsson, instructor, business administration; Mrs. Anna M. Russo, faculty assistant, health service; William F. Price, faculty assistant, alumni services; Carl Pride, instructor, mathematics.

Raymond S. Rainbow, instructor, English; Robert S. Resnick, instructor, music; Mrs. Anna M. Russo, faculty assistant, health service; Dr. Maude A. Stewart, associate professor, sociology; Stanley E. Harris, Jr., associate professor, geography and geology.

William C. Horrell, instructor, psychology; W. A. Rowe, director, physical plant; Paul Hussing e, instructor, speech; Robert A. John­ son, instructor, University High School; Dr. Harold M. Kaplan, associate professor, physiology; W. H. Lucke, assistant professor, zoology; Miss Lillian B. Knudson, assistant professor, home economics; Dr. William Lewis, assistant; Mrs. Anna M. Russo, assistant professor, health service; Miss Lilian B. Knudson, assistant professor, home economics; Dr. Robert A. McGrath, assistant professor, government; Mrs. Betty Lou Mitchell, faculty assistant, English.

The courses, which are now be­ ing given in Johnston City, West Frankfort and Herrin, have the endorsement of Ben P. Watkins, acting chairman of the University department and of the Southern Illinois Art Association, of which Morris is president.

The Southern Alumnus wants to hear from you. If you pass the reunion classes, you may pass it along to your former classmates and teachers.

We want to know what you’ve been doing since you left the school, and if you are married and have a family. We also need to know your present address.

By the way, when you write be­ sure to send along any news you happen to know about other alumni and send them a visit to the Alumni Service Office during Homecoming and let me know any names that might interest me in the reunion classes, and I will print them in the next issue.

Be seein’ you at Homecoming, Oct. 29.

MORE THAN 100 GRIDIRON HOPEFULS WORKING OUT DAILY

18 LETTERMEN AMONG CANDIDATES

With the largest freshman squad in history out for football, Southern is putting the “spit and polish” to a new-and-old team in preparation for the 1949 Southern season. Of the 107 suits checked out, 73 of them belong to freshmen.

Head Coach Glenn “Abe” Martin has abandoned the old T-formation in favor of a single-wing line up, as a means of utilizing to the fullest a comparatively small array of veteran talent on hand.

Martin and his aides aren’t enthusiastic about the prospects for the 1949 season, but predict a winning combination in a year or two as the present crop of newcomers mature.

Leading contenders for quarter-back this year are lettermen Fred Brencel, Staunton, and Herb Cummins of Harrisburg. Other prominent prospects are freshmen Bill Garrett, Fairfield; Don Heath, Lawrenceville, Gene Sims, Murphysboro; Jim Kahmann, Edwardsville; and Tom Fly, Carbondale.

Halfbacks showing promise include freshmen Harold Call, Pana; Johnny Vanderpylum, Harrisburg; J. D. Cooley and John Organ, Edwardsville; Milt Martin, Hoopeton; and Joe Sutfin, Lawrenceville. Another leading candidate is sophomore Bob Ail, 205-pound center of Carbondale boy who showed up well in other sports.

Maroon Sports

Maroons Drop Opener To Wayne

Southern opened their 1949 grid season in Detroit, Mich., against the Eastern Illinois Normal University and the highly touted Tartars. Out of the Maroons 48 to 7. Despite the score, the Tartars were too much to overcome.

Hazelzy raced to three quick touchdowns in the opening quarter and the outcome of the initial tilt was never in doubt after that.

Southern did flash a fine running game with Harold Call of Pana pacing the attack. He tallied the lone Maroon score in the third period.

Twenty-one freshmen made the trip to the Motor City.

CROSS COUNTRY OPENS IN OCTOBER

Although no definite date has been set for the opening match of the Southern cross-country runners, Coach Leland P. "Doc" Lingel is trying to arrange a meet for the first weekend in October.

Returning from a year ago are veterans Joe McAfferty and Phil Coleman of Carbondale.

Promising newcomers include Art Asbe, Collinsville freshman who gained second in the state half-mile a year ago; Lawrence Tallman, junior of Mt. Vernon and a member of the Maroon cinder-squad for two seasons; and Tommy Millikin, sophomore basketball player of Pinckneyville.

Many others are expected to participate in the early season tryouts with the five-man team being chosen several weeks before the first encounter.

George Boltz, stellar track man of Marion, has been added to the men's physical education department as a faculty assistant. Incidentally, George is the holder of the school mile-half-mile record.
Wrestling Now Intercollegiate Sport

Wrestling is the latest sport to be added to the Southern Intercollegiate program and the Maroons will compete in the “grunt and groan” contest this winter.

Coaching the grapplepers will be Jim Wilkinson, a member of the Southern coaching staff and a former Big 10 wrestling champ for years, wrestling has been confined to an intra-mural basis, but a year ago, the material was so promising that the department decided to begin competition with other schools.

At present, no schedule has been drawn up for the winter season but it is expected that the Maroons will compete against member schools of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference plus a few meets with other schools.

With the addition of wrestling to the program, the Maroon now sponsor eight teams in eight different sports, namely football, cross-country, basketball, track, baseball, golf, and tennis.

HUGHES READY FOR BASKETBALL

Joe Hughes, the versatile athlete of West Frankfort, is trying daily to get his injured leg back in shape for the basketball season. Winner of the Henry Hinckley award for 1947-48, Joe received a broken leg during a January game, but a year ago because of a broken leg.

In addition to the returning regulars, Coach Lynn Hilde can call on any of the freshman team, lost of only one game during last year’s schedule.

Pacing the parade of returning veterans is captain Charlie Goss of Marion. Many thought that the 1948-1949 season was the last for Charlie but he dropped out of school last spring in order to have one more year of competition. He paced the team in scoring from his guard position and was rewarded for his fine play by being selected as the most valuable player in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in addition to being named captain of the Holdermen for the coming season.

Also on hand will be the versatile Bob Colborn of Flora who will be seeking his fourth letter in basketball and his fourth season as a regular. He was hampered a year ago by a broken leg received during the gridiron campaign, but did return in time to rank seventh in individual scoring although he competed in only one-fourth of the games.

OTHER MEMBERS OF LAST YEAR’S FIRST FIVE WHO WILL BE ON HAND ARE:

Frank “Fud” Gladson, sensational freshman of Pinckneyville, Jack Long, senior center of Flora, and Bob Kissack, senior forward from Hoopston.

First team reserves include Tommy Millikan, rapidly improving sophomore of Pinckneyville, Ernie Bozarth of Wabashville, Eddie Bryan of Freeburg, Bob Cernhardt of Carbondale, Charlie Burkett of E. St. Louis, and Truman Hill of Benton.

Joe Hughes will be remembered as a first team regular in the 1947-48 season in which the Maroons copped the I. I. A. C. and later went out to Kansas City to compete in the N. A. I. B. tourney.

A transfer student from Murray State of Kentucky, Dave Davis of Pinckneyville, should also press the regulars for a position on the squad.

This year’s schedule includes a trip to New York for games with Siena and Hartwick College and then a game with Wayne University in Detroit to close the eastern jaunt.

MAROON HARDWOOD RECORD HIGH

Southern may be behind in its football record but in basketball, the Maroons have an all time mark of 402 wins against only 244 losses. Of those victories, McAndrew accounted for 307, Martin won 41, and Holder is responsible for the remaining 54.

And speaking of basketball Southern has played Arkansas State 26 times and the only time that the boys from the Razorback state have emerged victorious was in the opening tilt in 1914. Since that time the Maroons have annexed twenty-five consecutive tilts from State.

Bill Freeburg is back in the fold once again after a year’s leave of absence to work on his doctor’s degree at Indiana University.

Bob Colborn, Charlie Helms, and Jim Lovin are all seeking their fourth letter with the gridiron eleven this fall.

Wayne University, with an enrollment of 19,062, had 24 lettermen on the field against Southern. Among them was Lorenzo Wright, a member of the Olympic team a year ago.

LINDEGREN CHANGES MENDELIAN THEORY

In a new book, The Yeast Cell, Its Genes and Cytology, Dr. Carl C. Lindegren, professor and chairman of the biology department at the University of Illinois, has developed a new theory of heredity which challenges the long accepted Mendelian theory.

His new concept is that the gene is a complex of molecules composed of a class of "dyes," which affect the "factory" which produces gene-products. The parts of this complex are the "locus," a catalyzing agent which he has designated as a "chromogene," which is attached to the chromosome at the locus.

By this theory, Dr. Lindegren can account for the seemingly strange fact that some cells producing a red one. One or both of the white cells may have inherited the characteristics of the red cell. These white cells did not show the red color; they may produce a red offspring.

GREETINGS TO ALUMNI

A 75th anniversary is an occasion for a gathering of the clan, whether it be a family or the sons and daughters of a university.

Southern's Diamond Jubilee Homecoming, October 20-22, is the occasion which we hope will bring all Southern's sons and daughters and her friends as well to celebrate this important milestone.

You should need no special invitation, for Southern is YOUR university, and the Diamond Jubilee is YOUR celebration. However, on behalf of the largest student body in history and of the 300-member faculty now responsible for the educational program, I wish to extend you a warm and indeed an insistent invitation to "come home" for this significant event.

You will find, we feel sure, a heart-warming pleasure in renewing old acquaintances among former classmates and former teachers. You will find, we believe, a real satisfaction in the continued allegiance today's students and faculty are maintaining for the traditions and the spirit of Southern that you have known and loved for so long. You will find, we hope, a glow of pride in the steps that are being taken to develop the kind of university you have so long urged and worked to create.

Southern is now, under its own separate Board of Trustees, in a position to work out its own destiny, its policies, and its own program for meeting the higher educational needs of Southern Illinois—so critical, and so divergent from those of other parts of the State.

For the first time in two decades, a major attack is being made upon the building problem which has so acutely hampered the development of the University. By the time you arrive, the new power plant will be in operation. The new training school is going up, and it is expected to be completed by next fall; construction of new service shops—long critically needed—will soon be started; plans are being drawn for the new industrial arts building and two swimming pools, to be built as units of the training school project; plans are being developed for the first unit of the new library, and for several self-liquidating dormitories.

You will find some "face-lifting" operations have been performed on Old Main and Old Science buildings, and you will find a widely dispersed campus, even though new permanent educational buildings have not yet been provided. "Eye-sore" frame structures—former stores, filling stations, and residences—have been rehabilitated, painted, papered and otherwise cleaned up and are now being used as temporary classroom and office space.

You will find many new faces among the student body and among the faculty, even though you have been attending Homecoming regularly. There are 1,088 new freshmen enrolled this fall—and a third of the student body—and there are 46 new faculty members who have been brought in during the summer and in September, about two-thirds of whom are filling new positions to give some relief to overloaded faculty and to strengthen the services of the University.

But with all the changes that may appear strange to you at first, we believe you will find the same warm welcome, the same Spirit of Southern, that you found when you first came to the campus, whether it was last year, or ten years ago, or on that opening day of school, 75 years ago!

Until Homecoming, then, I am

Cordially,
Delyte Wesley Morris
President
Southern Illinois University.

WELCOME HOME!
