From the Rio Grande
Greetings from the beautiful Rio Grande Valley in the southernmost tip o’ Texas!

We’re now living in McAllen where Danny’s going through his primary flight training at Moore Air Base. He completed his T-34 training and is now flying the T-28.

This must be the paradise of Texas way down here because it sure is a wonderful place—just a short drive to the Gulf of Mexico and beautiful Padre Island, and just a few minutes from Old Mexico. Palm trees dot the horizon in every direction.

We always look forward to receiving the Southern Alumnus so we can keep track of our friends and the progress of Southern itself. It sure means a lot to us.

Since we’ve been traveling around, it seems as if we’re always bumping into old friends from SIU—a small world! Danny and Mildred Ahner Cox, ’56, ex ’57 519 North Main McAllen, Texas

Proud Members
Enclosed is our membership renewal for the coming year. Needless to say, my husband and I are proud to be members of the fast-growing Alumni Association, eagerly looking forward to each issue of the Alumnus.

Because of flood conditions in St. Clair County, Meryl and I were unable to attend the Alumni Day activities as we had planned. We hope next year to see many of our ‘43 classmates at the fifteenth reunion.

Our 8-year-old Kent and 4-year-old Kay both enjoy hearing about the “olden days” at Southern! After hearing their comments, and then returning to the campus, which has expanded so tremendously, we are almost convinced of our antiquity.

Meryl continues to enjoy the practice of law in Mascoutah, and I must continue to enjoy teaching, as I find myself going back to school with the youngsters each fall. In the summer we are among the many camping enthusiasts who like to spend as much time as possible “roughing it.” We took a trip to the northern states this summer, initiating a sleeping trailer which Meryl planned and designed.

Hope to see many of our friends at this year’s Homecoming! Patricia Lill Schroeder, ’43 15 Grant Dr. Mascoutah, Illinois

Appreciates SIU Teachers
Enclosed is a check for our dues for another year. A word of thanks for the fine job the Alumni Association is doing in keeping the old grads informed of Southern’s progress. Each time I receive my copy of the magazine I am more and more convinced that I was born ten years too soon, for the strides that Southern has made in the last ten years have made an outstanding school out of an institution that already had an outstanding faculty and a great president.

After I came to New York I attended graduate school at New York University for two years, and was a lecturer in physiology at N.Y.U. Dental College for three years. For the last three years I have been laboratory supervisor for a large private hospital here in New York.

Since I left Southern I have met numerous fine teachers and have been associated with outstanding educators in this area, but I believe that my greatest claim to fame was to have studied under such men as Dr. Carl Lindberg in biological sciences and Dr. Helmut Hartwig in the language department.

I don’t see much news about Southern grads here in New York. However, there certainly is a need here for men with a good scientific background.

Delmer L. Porter, ’49 150-32 17 Road Whitestone 57, N.Y.

News Gets Around
I am never amazed anymore to hear about Southern Illinois University by means of various communications but I felt very confident that this news might cease when I reached Europe. Then on yesterday’s (April 21) Sunday edition of Stars and Stripes I saw a picture of SIU’s ROTC boys and coeds.

It is always interesting news when it concerns SIU. I am always looking forward to receiving the alumni news and am even more interested now that I am in a foreign country.

I am stationed in Hanau, Germany, about 22 miles east of Frankfurt. I find the country very interesting and beautiful.

Keep up the good publicity and news releases.

Good Wishes from Germany
Since I have been receiving the Southern Alumnus I have been wishing to thank you for providing me with the most recent news from Southern. It is certainly a great thing to feel oneself connected with one’s old university even over distances of several thousand miles. I think all former students of Southern greatly appreciate your efforts to keep up that feeling.

As to me, I attended SIU as a German Fulbright Grantee from September, 1955, to August, 1956. I took my master’s degree in English with Dr. Faner and Dr. Stibitz. My thoughts often wander back to my friends and fellow students with whom I share so many unforgettable experiences. Your picture on the cover of Volume 18, No. 10, reminds me of our beauty queens as well as of the lovely peach orchards in the vicinity of Carbondale. I wished I could participate in the festivities on Alumni Day.

Since my return to Germany I have been studying at Bonn University, working particularly on my subjects German, English, and philosophy. My final exams are going to be held in July, 1958.

Last fall we were happy to have Tom McClintock, ex ’52, staying with us at home for a couple of days Tom, who serves with the Air Force in Newfound-land, was spending his leave in Europe. About Christmas another American student dropped in here. You see, we have not entirely lost personal contact with people from the New World. Moreover, there has been a constant flow of letters across the Atlantic from and to my friends in Southern Illinois.

Please extend my sincere greetings to all those to whom I was not yet able to write personally.

Thank you very much once more and good luck to all

Rolf K. Hoegel, M.A., ’56 5 Saarlandstrasse (22b) Andernach/Rhein Germany

Missed 1917 Reunion
How I wish I could attend our 1917 class reunion! Circumstances prevent my doing that so I shall send my best wishes for a very happy time.

After graduation from SINU, I taught seven years in the high school in my hometown, Sparta. Then I taught 20 years in (Continued on page 21)
On The Cover

The Division of Area Services at Southern Illinois University is assisting in a campaign to draw more tourists to Southern Illinois.

As part of this program, SIU is sponsoring a clinic October 1–2 in cooperation with the American Motel Association of Illinois. Dr. Donald G. Hileman, associate professor of journalism, is general director of the clinic.

One of the area’s scenic spots is the Little Garden of the Gods. Pictured on the cover is Camel Rock, with the uninhabited Shawnee Hills stretching into the distance.

From the highest point in the Garden, 450 feet above Rose Creek to the south, the tourist is afforded an excellent view of the Shawnee National Forest.

The six-county Shawnee Hills area has caves, mountains, bluffs and boulders. Cactus, pine, cedar, and wildflowers form a typical western mixture that the average tourist does not associate with Southern Illinois.

Photographic Service at SIU has been taking a series of pictures of these scenic spots. Information on how to secure prints can be obtained by writing Photographic Service at Carbondale.

SEPTEMBER, 1957
The Summer Opera Workshop dedicated its production of Carousel to the memory of Floyd Wakeland, SIU choral director and professor of music until his death July 18.

The cast featured more than 60 University and area high school students and was the entertainment highlight of the summer session. Held on August 2 and 3, the leading roles were played by Pamela Hindman of Anna, who took the part of Julie Jordan, and Robert Walker of Herrin who played the role of Billy Bigelow. Both students are music majors.

Playing the parts of Carrie Pipperidge, Nettie Fowler, Enoch Snow, and Jigger Craigin on opening night were Jo Ann Henson, Carrier Mills; Priscilla Metcalf, Johnston City; Philip Falcone, Bethlehem, Pa., and Fred Bertram, Carmi. The same parts were played the second night by Kay Sue Eadie, Vandalia; Geraldine Snyder, Pinckneyville; John Wilkinson, Mount Carmel, and William Perry, Mount Vernon.

Paul Hibbs of Du Quoin was stage director, and Mrs. Jane Daqqaq of Carbondale was choreographer. James Lash was technical director, and Darwin Payne was in charge of scenery. Lash and Payne are from Carbondale.

During the summer session the Student Union sponsored a trip to the Municipal Opera in St. Louis to see Damn Yankee . Two other Union-sponsored events were a trip to the Egyptian Music Camp at Du Quoin for the presentation of Showboat and a tour of some of scenic Southern Illinois. Other leisure-time events held during the summer were watermelon parties, an all-school picnic and a coke party.

Sue Kleinschmidt of Granite City won first prize in the annual Tri-City area art exhibit for her oil painting, "Seated Girl." The exhibit was sponsored by the Junior Minerva Reading Club of Granite City.

Donald Anderson, Louisville, Ky., succeeds Robert McMurtrie, '57, as president of Kappa Alpha Mu, honorary photojournalism fraternity. Other officers for this year are William Spacy, Carbondale, vice-president, and Charles Drone, Ridgway, secretary-treasurer.

Bob Taylor of Metropolis, catcher for the Milwaukee Braves, has been granted permission to register late for the fall term. "Ordinarily," explained Dean Henry J. Rehn, head of the School of Business, "the World Series wouldn't be enough of a reason to permit a person to register late, but this student may be playing in it."

Taylor, who will enter as a freshman, is the highest bonus player in the history of baseball and recently received more than $100,000 for signing a contract with the Braves. Graduated from Metropolis High School last June, he plans to major in business at Southern.

The Student Christian Foundation has a new director. He is Reverend Malcom Gillespie, former pastor of the Bethany Congregational Church, Bethany, Conn. He received his bachelor of arts degree at the College of Wooster and his bachelor of divinity degree at Yale Divinity School.

A Navy veteran, Mr. Gillespie is married and has two children. In addition to directing the foundation, he will teach courses in religion. He succeeds Reverend Donald B. Johnson, who resigned last spring to accept a pastorate in California. During the interim, D. Wayne Rowland, professor of journalism, has been acting director.
NEW RESIDENCE CENTERS OPEN

Pre-registration figures at Alton and East St. Louis exceed highest expectations

Another dream of Southern's administrators becomes a reality this month when the Alton and East St. Louis residence centers are officially opened.

In July Southern took over Shurtleff College at Alton and courses were offered from that point. Shurtleff, founded in 1827, closed its doors June 30 due to financial straits. Southern has leased this Baptist school for a two-year period, with an option to buy at the end of that time.

Meanwhile, at East St. Louis classes will be held temporarily at the Morrison School. The old East St. Louis High School will be used after completion of the new high school. The Board of Education is leasing the old high school to Southern on a $1-a-year arrangement.

The residence center which Southern has maintained at the Belleville Junior High School since 1949 will continue. Belleville students, however, must spend a certain amount of time on the Carbondale campus or at the East St. Louis or the Alton center to meet degree requirements.

No Need to Go Away

With the opening of the two new residence centers, residents of Madison and St. Clair counties can obtain a complete education without going away from their own area. Starting September 24, 120 classes will be offered to day and night students at Alton, for both graduate and nongraduate levels. Graduate students will be required to spend only one summer on the main campus at Carbondale. At East St. Louis, 46 classes for college freshmen and for employed grade and high school teachers will be available. At present, only freshman students will be admitted on a full-time basis at East St. Louis but higher levels of instruction will be added each year until a full four-year program is in force.

Dr. Harold W. See has been named executive dean of the newly established Southwestern Illinois Residence Center Office, which will administer the centers. The office is in the Broadview Hotel in East St. Louis. Dr. See, a former university administrator and professor, Fulbright lecturer in Burma, and educational consultant to the United States Office of Education, has been head of the SIU residence center in East St. Louis since 1955.

Same High Quality to Prevail

The same high quality instruction will be offered at the residence centers that is being offered at Carbondale. Some of the faculty from Carbondale are being transferred to the centers. The same course outlines and textbooks will be used. High school graduates may register at either center to work for degrees in the liberal arts, the sciences, business, nursing or in the teaching field. Two-year preprofessional training will be given in engineering, law, medicine and dentistry.

Tradition-laden Shurtleff campus is one of the focal points of Southern's accelerated educational program. During its last semester only 134 were enrolled, but in a year Dr. See anticipates that its capacity of 600 full-time students will be reached. There were 200 enrolled in the summer term and more than 800 have already signed up for the fall quarter for day and evening classes.

Tolman Hall, former girls' residence at Shurtleff, will have its first floor converted into a Student Union. A cafeteria in the basement will be in operation for students.

Appointments Announced at Centers

Director of the Alton Residence Center is Dr. Eric R. Baber, former superintendent of the Waukegan High School and one-time associate professor at Kansas State Teachers College.

Directing the East St. Louis center will be Dr. Carlyle C. Ring, formerly superintendent of schools at Jamestown, N.Y., and president of Jamestown Community College.

Fall enrollment for freshmen in East St. Louis has already exceeded 100 in the day program and 150 in the evening.

During the coming year Dr. See will not only be in charge of these programs but will also co-ordinate other SIU activities throughout the area. He will be assisted in this long-range development program by Chelsea Bailey, chief of the Bradley University study team which returned recently from Iraq, who will serve as supervisor of adult education for the two centers. Bailey has been a sales promotion engineer for Republic Steel, industrial education supervisor for the Ohio Department of Education and an assistant professor at the University of Cincinnati.
Mr. Jerry Fear has reported to the Southern Illinois Residence office to head the community development program in East St. Louis.

Other administrative appointments include that of associate registrar and admissions officer for Alton and East St. Louis, Dr. John H. Schnabel. Caswell E. Peebles, chief accountant at SIU, has been named business manager and Howard Davis as supervisor of student affairs at Alton. Serving as director of student affairs in East St. Louis, as well as instructor in physical education, is Thomas D. Evans, a former test psychologist at Mitchell Air Force Base and at Scott Air Base.

FORCED TO INCREASE ALUMNI DUES

Due to increasing costs of operating the alumni program and the expansion of the program during the past ten years, the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association voted to increase the membership dues. This is the first increase since the dues were set up in 1946.

A single membership is now $4.00; family membership (husband and wife both alumni), $5.00; a single life membership is $100.00. A new type of membership has been established—family life—at $125.00.

This new rate will not affect those who were already paying $5.00 installments on a life membership before the increase went into effect September 1.

For those taking out life membership at the new rate, the installment rate is $10 for a single life and $12.50 for family life membership.

The publication of the Southern Alumnus magazine has increased from one issue in 1951 to six issues yearly, without additional cost to Association members.

Organizing and maintaining alumni clubs across the country; working with the Student Steering Committee and the Office of Student Affairs in planning the annual Homecoming; arranging the Alumni Day program; cooperating with various University departments in holding departmental alumni meetings; helping with departmental alumni newsletters; co-operating with the student organizations and living groups when they are planning reunions or sending newsletters; sponsoring the Senior Class Banquet; holding membership drives; assisting with student scholarship programs; aiding the University with legislative matters; cooperating with the University athletic program; holding elections for the Legislative Council; and publishing the Alumnus magazine and news bulletin—all are part of the alumni program.
One of the most rewarding careers a woman or a man can pursue is that of nursing. No other career gives more opportunity for helping other people or helping them to help themselves. No other career prepares young men and women for life as does nursing.

Opportunity to pursue this profession is now open at Southern, with the launching this fall of the first class in the Basic Professional Program in Nursing. This new curriculum leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing and prepares the student for beginning positions in any field of nursing, including public health.

Two Programs Offered

Two programs of study are being offered, the four-year course for the high school graduate and the program for the R.N. (registered nurse) which requires approximately two years and one quarter. In addition to being taught on the main campus in Carbondale, courses in nursing will be offered at the Alton and East St. Louis residence centers. The high school graduate can take the first year's work at one of these centers rather than coming to Carbondale.

A strong academic background for the highly specialized study of nursing will be offered. Many of the same courses will be required that are prerequisites for such fields as law, medicine, teaching, etc. Sociology, psychology, chemistry and physics will give the basis for study of the patient. The student will learn to understand himself as a person and as a member of the community.

During the first year the student will carry some nursing courses but principally he will be getting ready for advanced work. Field trips and observation periods will be part of the program.

Experience with patients will begin during the sixth quarter, when the students will work with mildly ill patients, help the doctors and nurses, and learn by listening and observing. A short assignment to a nursery school will also be part of the program, in order that the student can gain a better knowledge of healthy, normal children.

The next portion of the program can be secured by transfer to the University of Illinois School of Nursing in Chicago, where five quarters of paralleling nursing courses and practice have been selected by the faculty of Southern as partial requirements for the degree. The courses taken during the first six quarters have been planned to meet the prerequisites for admission to the University of Illinois School of Nursing, with advanced standing.

While the clinical facilities at Chicago will be used, the program is not in co-operation with the University of Illinois. It was entirely set up by Southern Illinois University.

After completion of the required five quarters in Chicago, the student will return to Southern for a year in residence to meet degree requirements. Part of his practice will be in a small community hospital where he will be given increased responsibility as he learns to serve as a junior administrator and leader of a nursing team. One quarter will be devoted to work in a psychiatric hospital where he will be given instruction and supervised practice in the care of the mentally ill.

Quality of Service to Improve

Chairman of the Department of Nursing at SIU is Miss Virginia Harrison. Her assistant is Miss Stephanie Conwell. Miss Harrison and Miss Conwell visited the Alton and East St. Louis areas this summer in order to learn from the nurses in those areas what their needs are and what courses are required in order to improve the quality of serving the patients. With this thought in mind, additional extension courses and workshops are being planned for Alton and East St. Louis starting in September.

Nurses themselves have indicated a strong interest in improving themselves and their academic backgrounds in order to bring improved quality to those they serve. They want to become more specialized in their fields and want to be able to assume more responsibility. The new program is designed to furnish more qualified nurses. The auxiliary program, which provided quantity, did not furnish the desired quality.

Southern's new program will make this highly qualified service available.
NEW SCHOOL CREATED
By action of the Board of Trustees at its July 25 meeting, Southern now has another school, a School of Home Economics. Dr. Eileen Quigley, who has been serving as chairman of the home economics department since 1948, was named dean of the new school.

The school will consist of four departments. Their chairmen are Adeline Hoffman, clothing and textiles; Marion A. Wharton, food and nutrition; Betty Jane Johnston, home and family; and Anna Carol Fults, home economics education. Dr. Hoffman will join the faculty September 23. The other chairmen are regular members of the home economics staff.

Southern now boasts five schools, two colleges and two divisions. The schools, in addition to the new one, are School of Agriculture, School of Business, School of Communications and School of Fine Arts. The colleges are College of Education and College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. The two divisions are Extension and Technical and Adult Education.

NEW GRADUATE PROGRAMS
The board has authorized the University to grant master's degrees in newly organized departments, including the general areas of home economics, business, and business education.

Advanced degrees will also be awarded in animal industry, general agriculture, and plant industry under the School of Agriculture; speech and theater in the School of Communications; education, administration and supervision, and secondary education in the College of Education; design in the School of Fine Arts, and anthropology and physiology in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Southern now offers 42 fields in which master's degrees are awarded.

Dr. Floyd F. Cunningham, chairman of the geography department, has announced plans for a round-the-world summer geography study tour for college credit for 1958.

Tentative plans call for leaving Seattle, Wash., by ship about June 15, 1958, visiting Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, Malaya, Burma, India, the Holy Land, Egypt and southern Europe before returning to New York about September 15.

Including registration and tuition fees, approximate cost will amount to $2,250. This figure also includes meals, transportation and lodging from Seattle to New York. A special discount will be given those who enroll before January 1.

College juniors, seniors and graduate students may earn 12 quarter-hours of credit in geography for successfully completing the course. Provision will also be made to accommodate a limited number who are not interested in credit.

For additional information, contact the SIU geography department.

DR. GREENLEAF RESIGNS
Co-ordinator of student activities at Southern and a member of the staff since 1952, Dr. Elizabeth Greenleaf resigned this summer to become associate dean of students at San Jose State College. In general her work will be similar to that which she has done at Southern.

Dr. Greenleaf received her A.B. degree in political science from DePauw University. She also holds the M.A. degree in political science from the University of Wisconsin and received her doctorate in personnel and guidance from Indiana University.

LARGEST SUMMER CLASS
The largest summer class of graduates, more than 380, received degrees at Commencement exercises held August 9 at McAndrew Stadium. Included in this number were 124 who received master's degrees. Associate degrees were awarded to 19 graduates of two-year terminal programs at the Vocational-Technical Institute.

The commencement address was delivered by Dr. David Kenney, '47, assistant dean of the graduate school and associate professor of government.

During the ceremonies eleven graduates of the AF ROTC were commissioned as second lieutenants in the U.S. Air Force.

Highlighting the occasion was the presentation of a distinguished service award to Joseph C. McCormick of Olmstead, a 1922 graduate of Southern. A former teacher in Southern Illinois rural schools, McCormick has been instrumental in promoting legislation for the improvement of county road and rural school districts. He is an original member of the Educational Council of 100, Inc., the Rural Education Committee, and is a director of the Southern Illinois Association for the Crippled, Inc.
Southern Loses Two Veteran Teachers

Mae Trovillion Smith

Death took from Southern this summer two of her favorite teachers, Mrs. Mae Trovillion Smith and Floyd V. Wakeland.

Mrs. Smith, wife of Colonel T. B. F. Smith, '01, died July 11 in Holden Hospital, Carbondale, after an illness of more than a year. She taught English at Southern from 1919 to 1931 and from 1941 until her death. Mrs. Smith received both the A.B. and the A.M. degrees from Indiana University and prior to joining Southern's staff she was head of the English department at Herrin High School.

Author of several books, her most recent one was entitled Elizabeth Abbott, a novel with its setting in Southern Illinois. Her other published works include Famous Dogs of Famous People, Famous Pets of Famous People, Your Friend Lucy and History of Zetetic and Socratic Societies, the last book written for the SIU Diamond Jubilee.

Mrs. Smith was a member of the Presbyterian Church, the American Association of University Women, the American Association of University Professors, the American Legion Auxiliary, the National Council of English Teachers, the Pen and Brush Club of New York and the Carbondale Woman's Club.

Husband Follows in Death

Just a month later, on August 8, Col. T. B. F. Smith, '01, followed his wife in death. Mr. Smith practiced law in Carbondale until 1933, when he retired because of ill health. He was a member of the State Board of Equalization in 1917–19 and city attorney of Carbondale for 16 years. From 1929 to 1933 he served as a member of the Board of Pardons and Paroles. A national lecturer for the Modern Woodmen of America for eight years, he resigned in 1917 to enlist in World War I. During the war he received the Croix de Guerre and Military Medal citations in France.

Wakeland Honored

Wakeland, associate professor of music, also died at Holden Hospital, just one week after Mrs. Smith, July 18. He died of a heart attack which struck him as he was directing choral rehearsals for a church music conference.

A member of the SIU staff since 1939, Professor Wakeland organized the annual Fall Choral Clinic, the Madrigal Singers and Music Under the Stars. He was an officer in the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs, National Association Teachers of Singing and Music Educators National Conference. He was also a member of the Carbondale Community Concert Association, Phi Mu Alpha, music honorary, American Association of University Professors and the Carbondale Methodist Church.

A former professional singer, he toured with a light opera company before starting his teaching career at Central College in Fayette, Mo., in 1928. He later taught at Kansas State Teachers College in Emporia before joining the staff at Southern. He was a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University and received his master's degree at Bush Conservatory, Chicago, in the fields of voice and conducting. He was listed in Who's Who in the Midwest.

At the request of the family, no flowers were sent but instead the Wakeland Memorial Music Fund was established, at the University and at the First Methodist Church of Carbondale.

At the Chicagoland Music Festival luncheon held August 23 in the ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Philip Maxwell, director of the festival, called for a moment of silence in memory of Mr. Wakeland and his contribution to the field of music. Mrs. Wakeland was a guest at the luncheon, as well as at the twenty-eighth annual festival held in Soldier's Field August 24.

Mr. Wakeland is survived by the widow, a son, William, '52, '55, and a daughter, Mrs. John Hoskins (Marilyn ex '54). A brother also survives.
New Athletic Director

Dr. Donald N. Boydston, head of SIU's health education department for the past two years, is the new athletic director.

Boydston, who will remain as acting head of the health education department, replaces Dr. Carl Erickson, who resigned to take a similar position at Kent State University.

A former Marine, Boydston was head of the graduate program in health and physical education at the University of Mississippi before coming to SIU. Prior to that he taught at Teachers College, Columbia University, and at Oklahoma A & M. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Oklahoma A & M, where he was an outstanding athlete, particularly in track, and received his second master's and his doctorate from Columbia.

Boydston is a former newspaperman and has had several articles published in well-known magazines.

Mrs. Boydston, who also holds a doctorate, is a member of Southern's College of Education staff.

Graduate Assistants

Twelve graduate assistants in physical education, health education, recreation, and athletics have been announced.

In addition to working on advanced degrees at Southern, they will teach classes and in some cases assist in the coaching of various sports.

Named in physical education for men: Donald Otness, a basketball standout from Minnesota State Teachers College; Francis Coxen, swimming star from Baker University; and Roy Fouley, ex '50, veteran SIU wrestler.

In athletics: Gib Kurtz, '57, former SIU basketball star; Gerald Hart, '57, former SIU quarterback; and Harold Drescher, Little All-American grid star from Minnesota State Teachers College.

Recreation: Jerry Engle, Oklahoma City, and Loel Verble, '57, Anna.

Physical education for women: Roslyn Beck, Brooklyn (N.Y.) College graduate, and Mary Lyon, Briar Cliff (Ia.) College.

Assistant Coach

Southern's new assistant basketball coach is one of her own alumni, Tom Millikin, '55.

One of Southern's all-time greats in basketball, Millikin served as captain during the 1951-52 and 1952-53 seasons before entering the Army. He returned to action during the 1954-55 season.

A member of the 1948 state championship Pinckneyville High School basketball team, he has been assistant coach in football and basketball at West Frankfort for the past two years.
Assistant Coach

William Brown, '41, has been signed as an organizer of special coaching clinics and courses and as a consultant to area coaches. He will also teach courses in physical education.

A West Frankfort native, Brown was an athletic star in both high school and college. He received his master's from the University of Missouri and has been working on his doctorate at Indiana University. He has been on the West Frankfort High School staff since 1943. During that time he has served as assistant coach of all sports for four years, head coach of all sports for four years, and athletic director for six years. A veteran of service with the U.S. Navy in World War II, he began his coaching duties as head coach and athletic director at Woodlawn High School in 1941.

Athletic Trainer

A former professional baseball player and an ex-trainer in the Major Leagues, Robert Spackman, Jr., of Fountain City, Tenn., is the new SIU athletic trainer. A veteran of eight years of professional baseball experience, Spackman served as assistant trainer for the old St. Louis Browns' American League baseball team before going into physical therapy work in the hospital in St. Louis and Knoxville, Tenn.

Sports Briefs

Ed Hayes, 240-pound ex-SIU tackle, received a dislocated shoulder in opening drills with the New York Giants professional football team.

Ramona Simpson, SIU student from Benton, thought she was fully prepared to serve as a counselor at the SIU Little Grassy Lake Camp this past summer. Last spring she took tetanus, typhoid and poison ivy shots. Soon after arriving at camp she developed a rash. You guessed it—the camp nurse diagnosed it as poison oak.

SWIMMING COACH NAMED

One of the nation's best-known swimming coaches, Leslie (Ralph) Casey, head swimming coach at the University of North Carolina, was added to the SIU physical education staff August 27 by the Board of Trustees.

Casey replaces William Heusner who left Southern this summer to become head swimming coach at the University of Minnesota. A graduate of the University of North Carolina and Columbia University, Dr. Casey coached his North Carolina squad to a 10–0 record last season, winning the Atlantic Coast title. He later conducted the NCAA swimming championship meet at Chapel Hill, N.C.

The "worst" records his teams have had during the past six years were 8–2 marks registered in 1954 and 1955. His 1956 team won nine and lost one, tying for the Atlantic Coast title.

Casey began his coaching at Goldsboro (N.C.) High School in 1935. His team won 18 meets and lost none, capturing state high school championships in 1936 and 1937.

His coaching experience also includes a year as track and swimming coach at Virginia Military Institute in 1947. His overall nine-year college record for coaching swimming lists 57 wins and 14 losses in dual meets. He has coached three world record holders, three national collegiate champions and four national AAU champions. The 1957–58 AAU Swimming Guide lists 29 American record holders he has coached.

ODANIELL ATTENDS ALUMNI MEETINGS AND AAC

Bob Odaniell, '51, Southern's alumni secretary, attended the 42nd General American Alumni Council Conference June 30 to July 4 at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena, Calif. On his way out to the conference he stopped off in Houston, Texas, where he spoke to a meeting of fifteen alumni living in that area. Held at Kelley's Restaurant, the meeting was preceded by a dinner.

Odaniell brought those present up to date on the University and the Alumni Association. The possibility of organizing a club was discussed and William Bauer, '49, was appointed temporary chairman of a committee to investigate further this possibility. Vice-chairmen appointed were Robert F. Blackman, '51, and Dale Houghland, '49. Houghland was in charge of arrangements for the dinner meeting.

Following the AAC Conference, Mr. Odaniell met with and spoke to the Southern California Club on July 8 and to the Northern California Club on July 10. At both meetings he showed the new movie, "The People's University," which is in color and sound.

The Southern California dinner meeting was held at the Mona Lisa Restaurant in Los Angeles with 39 in attendance. Harry W. Moss, '34, the club's president, was toastmaster. Special guests at the meeting were Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Maverick. Dr. Maverick is retired chairman of the economics department at SIU.

Officers elected at the business meeting were Robert D. Lightfoot, '47, president; William H. Rife, '36, vice-president; Mrs. Norma Trotter Melton, '48, secretary; and Jack R. Hedges, '46, '47, treasurer.

A constitution was adopted and a meeting of the executive committee was set up for October 7 to be held at 6134 Grand Ave., Buena Park, Calif.

At the San Francisco meeting, with 30 in attendance, future meetings were discussed and plans were made for holding two meetings a year. The dinner at St. Juliens Restaurant was preceded by a cocktail hour.

Miss Pat Sherman, ex '54, secretary, presided in the absence of Dr. Gilbert G. Lentz, '31, president, and Robert E. Hurley, ex '50, vice-president. Both of these officers were visiting in Carbondale at the time of the meeting.

HOMECOMING TO BE A SALUTE TO SOUTHERN

Scheduled for November 9, this year's Homecoming will be built on the theme, "Salute to Southern." The coronation will be the royal salute; the parade, a musical salute, the house decorations, a literary salute.

Les Brown and his orchestra will play for the Homecoming concert and dance, both to be held in the Carbondale Armory.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE

by Ed Hasse

Two Southern Illinois University scientists have offered new evidence to explain how the earliest units of living matter climbed the ladder of evolutionary progress.

In view of their findings, Dr. Carl C. Lindegren and David D. Pittman said the time scale of evolution from the lowest forms of life to creatures of a higher order was probably much shorter than is generally believed.

Lindegren and Pittman told the American Institute of Biological Sciences that irradiated cells which are given one "forced feeding" of nutrients can "learn" their value as foods and pass this information on to their offspring. Thus, a whole family of cells becomes harder and more versatile.

The nutrients act in harmony with radiation to make the initial "forced feeding" possible, the two scientists say, and they believe the same feeding pattern was working in the primeval oceans when early forms of life were exposed to organic materials and background radiation.

If such spontaneous changes for the better were induced in living things at various stages of evolution and those improved characteristics were passed on by heredity, the whole process of evolution could have been greatly accelerated. Some scientists have held that evolution works so slowly that higher animals could not have emerged from primary forms of life in the relatively short space of time the earth has been in existence.

In their experiments, Lindegren and Pittman exposed yeast cells to certain sugars and found that only a very small proportion of them were able to grow by using the sugars as food. The percentage of utilization went up considerably, however, when the cells were treated with X-rays.

The explanation of this phenomenon lay within the cell, in the invisible gene which not only controls heredity but is the determining factor in what foods the cell can "digest."

Dr. Lindegren, director of the Biological Research Laboratory at SIU, and his associates devised a method of studying the gene in terms of the influence it exerts on the way a cell reacts to its environment. Their radiation studies indicate the gene has an irregular surface made up of units pieced together in an intricate pattern. If the cell is to feed off some organic substance, the irregular "teeth" of the gene have to be roughly comparable to the surface of the nutrient.

This is where radiation figures in. It occasionally gives the gene a plastic quality, enabling the gene surface to conform to the shape of the nutrient with which it comes in contact.

Lindegren and Pittman said about one of every 100 million cells that survive exposure to X-rays develops the capacity to feed on nutrients it could not "digest" before. Descendants of the improved cell have the same ability.

Thus, dosages of radiation which generally kill or cripple cells some-

The Elijah P. Lovejoy monument in Alton, Ill., stands as a shrine to the man who, in 1837, was killed by a mob because he refused to give up his fight as an abolitionist editor and chose death rather than the ignominy of deserting his cause of liberty "to speak, to write, to publish" whatever he chose.

At Southern's third annual National Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors in July, Horace V. Wells, Jr., editor of the Clinton (Tenn.) Courier-News received the Elijah P. Lovejoy Award for Courage in Journalism.

The South's first major clash involving Negro-white integration in the schools was centered at Clinton last year. While personally opposed to integration, Wells insisted that the Supreme Court's ruling be upheld, regardless of local prejudices and animosities.

"We believe that the government of the United States is a government of the law and not of man, and that the Supreme Court is the final arbiter in deciding what is law," Wells wrote. "Therefore, once the Supreme Court has spoken and until the decision of that Court is changed by amendment to the Constitution by a vote of the people, we have no choice except to obey the law."

The award was presented by Dr. Howard R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism which sponsors the conference. Long praised Wells for "his realistic devotion to the principles of law and order while subjected to the scorn and abuse of a large element in his community."

Lovejoy Abolitionist Editor

This is the second year the Elijah P. Lovejoy award has been presented for courage in journalism. Lovejoy was an Alton, Ill., abolitionist editor who was killed by a mob in 1837 when he refused to cease publication.

"But, gentlemen, as long as I am an American citizen and as long as American blood runs in these veins, I shall hold myself at liberty to speak, to write, to publish whatever I please on any subject," said Lovejoy more than a century ago, "being amenable to the laws of my country for the same."

"I can die at my post"

Another quotation inscribed on Lovejoy's memorial in Alton is this, "If the laws of my country fail to protect me I appeal to God, and with him I cheerfully rest my cause. I can die at my post, but I cannot desert it. I have sworn eternal opposition to slavery, and by the blessing of God I will never turn back."

Wells was one of six weekly editors nominated for the award, which went last year to Mrs. Mabel Norris Reese, editor of the Mount Dora (Fla.) Topic.

Another feature of the conference, which was held from July 15 to July 19, included an address by Brig. Gen. Thomas R. Phillips, military analyst for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who delivered the second annual Sigma Delta Chi lecture on July 18. Phillips is author of several books on military tactics and famous military leaders.

TO HOLD PICNIC

The annual all-day family picnic for Chicago area alumni will be held Sunday, September 15, at Mannhein Woods west of Chicago on U.S. Route 45 between Twenty-second and Thirty-first streets.

Russell Deason, '34, is chairman of arrangements. Bring your family and a picnic dinner which will be served buffet style at 12:30.

All sorts of games and contests are being planned for children and adults.
Carl Burkhart and William H. Etherton both enjoyed their 60th reunion at SIU last June. Mr. Burkhart lives at 406 S. Main St., Marion. He has five children, all college graduates. Two of them, George and Jean, are medical doctors. Margery attended Southern two years and was graduated from the University of Chicago. Kate is also an SIU graduate, Ellen teaches in Benton. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Etherton, whose address is 840 N. Kirkwood Rd., Kirkwood 12, Mo., was principal at Carterville for some time. He remembers teaching on the first floor of Old Main. He found quite a few changes on the inside of this old landmark. Mr. Etherton later taught architectural design at Oklahoma A. & M. College and also taught at Kansas State Agriculture College.

Lillian Gubelman wrote the Alumni Office expressing her regret at not being able to attend the class reunion in June. She sent her good wishes, not only to the members of '02 but to members of other classes and to the faculty.

W. W. Vandever, former president of the SIU Alumni Association, had eight horses at the Du Quoin State Fair. His Avalon Darnley won the Shape Shake Stake and a $2500 purse and trophy. This was a grand circuit harness race.

Mrs. R. G. Crisenberry (Myrtle Henson, ex '09) of Murphysboro retired July 1 after 40 years with the Illinois Electric & Gas Company. Wife of the senior senator in the Illinois Legislature, she joined the company in 1917 as a cashier in Johnston City. The general office was moved to Murphysboro in 1918. Mrs. Crisenberry advanced from the job of cashier to that of office and sales manager in the company's four-county area. She plans to continue her activities in social and civic organizations.

Cecil Eberhardt of Orient died last May. He is survived by the widow, the former Mary Sheppard, ex '41.

1947

Mrs. James L. Creemens (Barbara Bostic ex '47) was killed in an automobile accident August 3 while en route from her home in El Cajon, Calif., to Fairfield, Ill., for a vacation with her husband, ex '48, and three children. The accident occurred near Socorro, N.M. Mr. Creemens sustained chest injuries; daughter, Karen, 7, a skull fracture; son, Jimmy, 5, and daughter, Jackie, 3, minor injuries.

1955

On August 24 Arturo Brenes, Jr., M.S., was killed in an automobile accident in Indianapolis, Ind., while on his way to Purdue University where he was a student. Brenes earned his Ph.D. in bacteriology at Purdue. Services were held August 28 at Puerto Rico National Cemetery, Hato Tejas, P.R. He is survived by his parents.

1957

Caroline Emery of Tinley Park died July 12 in St. Joseph Hospital in Highland Park of injuries suffered when her car collided with a truck near Marine. Miss Emery was pulling out of a produce stand when a two-ton tank truck struck her auto broadside. Miss Emery attended Thornton Junior College and Roosevelt College in Chicago before transferring to SIU a year ago. Survivors include her parents.

John A. Morrison, emeritus professor from the University of Maryland, is another prominent educational leader who will serve at SIU this year. Morrison was deputy chief in the Office of Strategic Services; chief of the Eastern European branch of the Department of State, and director of studies for the National War College. He will teach geography.

Francis B. Smith, author of a textbook SIU classes use on History of the South, will lecture in history. He has been visiting professor at Princeton University and the University of Texas.

Hobart H. Willard, former professor at the University of Michigan and currently a consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission, will be visiting professor of chemistry. He previously served in this capacity at SIU.

Dr. Charles C. Colby will return to the Southern campus again this year. For many years geography chairman at the University of Chicago, Dr. Colby will spend a year directing a pilot study of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and their relation to Southern Illinois. A land planning consultant to the Tennessee Valley Authority, he is author of Pilot Study of Southern Illinois.

Colby will be assisted in his research by Mitchell G. Zadrozny, who has been on the staff of Wright Junior College.

MATERIALS CENTER
Ralph McCoy, librarian and director of instructional materials at Southern, has announced that an Instructional Materials Center has been established at SIU.

Designed to provide SIU and area school teachers and administrators with teaching materials needed in planning school curricula, the center has the latest editions of encyclopedias and reference books for children and young people.

Other material at the center includes study guides, children’s books, building catalogs, standard tests and a collection of about 1,000 plays suitable for production by high school and community groups.

The center will be expanded to include audio-visual aids, such as maps, charts, filmstrips and models.

Located in the basement of the library, the center contains approximately 4,000 of the latest editions of elementary and secondary school textbooks, workbooks and teachers manuals.

SIU TO OPEN LAUNDRY THIS MONTH
A combination laundry and laboratory building is to be completed this month. It is situated just south of the physical plant.

The laundry will be housed in one end and workshop space for industrial education classes will be in the other end.

Original plans called for the SIU laundry to be a quonset-type structure near the new agriculture building. The laundry will have a full-time manager and will employ approximately 20 students.

TV WINNER ON FACULTY
Harry T. Moore, chairman of the Babson Institute Department of English and winner of $32,000 on the $64,000 Challenge TV show earlier this year, has been appointed to the SIU faculty. He will serve during the current fiscal year as lecturer in English literature.

WITNESSES TEST
Dr. A. Frank Bridges, '29, civil defense director for Southern Illinois and assistant professor of health education at SIU, was in Las Vegas, Nev., last month where he witnessed a series of atomic blasts during a two-week testing period. He was invited to participate in the tests by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Chicago. I attended summer school and evening classes and received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Chicago in 1926.

I was married in 1929 to W. Esmond East. We knew each other in Sparta and met again in Chicago. After marriage I continued to teach. We spent four Christmas vacations in Miami, Fla. Then I took a sabbatical leave from Chicago and spent it here. I taught two more years after that in Chicago during the war but secured a position teaching math here (Miami) in 1944. After six years at Ponce de Leon High School, we moved to a new building and became the Coral Gables Senior High School. I became head of the mathematics department. We have a math faculty of 10 teachers, and I am kept very busy . . .

Life has been good, and I feel that many things were the result of the two years I spent at Carbondale. I shall always be grateful for the start old SINU gave me.

Are you interested in how I look? I am a bit heavier, have beautiful brown hair, due to Roux No. 108, and still have all my own teeth.

From California

I am enclosing the questionnaire card you sent us, but I thought you might want additional facts.

My husband (Eldon Evans, ex '53), graduated from the University of Illinois College of Medicine in June and is now interning at the Naval Hospital in San Diego. It really feels good to be able to put Dr. in front of his name at last.

We received the July issue of the Alumnus and noticed that you had a picture of my brother, Roger Aydt, '56, but no address. Roger is stationed across the bay from us in Coronado, Calif. Although he is now in Hawaii, he will be back at the end of August. His address is: Ens. Roger D. Aydt, B.O.Q. 158, U.S. Naval Amphibious Base, Coronado, San Diego, Calif.

Greetings from S.A.

I can think of nothing I would enjoy more than to be with you at our 35th reunion, but somehow I never seem to be in the States at just the right time.

I read the names and addresses of all of my former classmates very carefully, hoping that some one of you might be living in South America but found myself to be the only gypsy in the lot.

We find living here in South America delightful and most interesting. Bogota is the capital city of Colombia and has a population of over a million people. It is located high in the Andes Mountains and the climate is eternally spring. For the 4,000 Americans living here, life is more or less the same as in any other large American city, except for the customs, a revolution now and then and the language—you should hear my "kitchen Spanish."

I do return home annually for a visit. Our son, Jim, lives in Matawan, N.J., and the blond and blue-eyed grandson there is an added attraction. Ann, our daughter, lives in Boston but is in Europe for the summer. She seems to have inherited some of our wanderlust . . .

With Atlantic Refining

A brief sketch, as requested. I entered graduate school in geology at Ohio State University in March, 1955. On June 19, 1955, I was married to Nancy Bowers (Miss Southern, 1955). Following the wedding we journeyed to Sandusky, O., on Lake Erie. Not for a honeymoon. I had to report for work that Monday as I was employed by the Ohio Division of Shore Erosion. I conducted a shore study in the East Harbor area which served as the field work for my master's thesis. We returned to Columbus in September, where I went to school while Nancy slaved away as an R.N. at University Hospital in the nursery. On September 10, 1956, Nancy came home to take care of our own private nursery which was stocked by one small baby whom we named Jeffery Scott.

I completed the requirements for my M.S. degree in geology during December, 1956, and was graduated in absentia in March, 1957. While at Ohio State, I became a member of Sigma chapter of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national honorary earth science society. Since graduating I have been initiated as an associate member of the Ohio State Chapter of the Society of Sigma Xi, national honorary science society.

I accepted a job as a geologist with the Atlantic Refining Company of Dallas, Texas, in January. After spending a week in Dallas I was assigned to the Billings, Mont. office to begin an eight months training program. I spent six weeks of the summer in Artesia, Colo., taking part in a surface mapping program . . .

The mountain scenery is beautiful and we have driven through most every mountain range within a 200-mile radius. Thus far we have been to Yellowstone National Park, the site of Casters last stand, Helena, and Butte.

Edna E. Huck, '20, resigned in June. However, she will continue her private reading clinic. For the past 33 years she has specialized in remedial reading in Pasadena, Calif. While she uses the tachistoscope to a large extent Miss Huck found it necessary to develop her own reading technique in order to cope with the problems of reading in reverse, slow recognition and emotional blocks. The tachistoscope was developed and used during World War II. Removing physical and mental blocks has been one of her most rewarding fields of endeavor.

Miss Huck lives at 130 Arlington Avenue in Pasadena, where she raises 8-foot-tall azaleas as a hobby.

times have a completely opposite effect. In this respect, the findings of Lindegren and Pittman also fit into the argument that Darwin’s “survival of the fittest” concept was at work at the most elemental levels of life.
