Any Southerners Alaska-Way?

I'm on leave of absence from the University of Chicago Laboratory School, teaching at Monroe High School in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Alaska is a national and international melting pot, but I've met no one from SIU. It seems there should be some one with all the air bases here.

A plane hop of a thousand miles to Juneau seems less adventuresome than a bus ride home to Pinckneyville did (if I had the money) when I was at SIU.

Travels Abroad

We continue to receive and read all SIU publications with interest and extend our gratitude for your efforts in making them both readable and opportune.

I have lived in France for the past year and one-half with the exception of four wonderful months in Madrid, Spain, and a memorable trip through the Mid-East.

By the way, Bob Edgell (Robert E. Edgell ’56) and I were fortunate enough to meet in Casablanca last month. We discussed the “good old” days and wished everyone well at that time. I wish you the same now.

And Mark Makes Three

Our new address is R.R. No. 3, Edwardsville, Illinois. My wife and I are buying a home on Dunlap Lake just a mile outside of Edwardsville. I am employed as speech correctionist with the public school system. We have a boy, Mark, who is now 19 months old.

We miss Southern very much. We haven’t been able to get back as often as we would like, but we hope it will be different in the years ahead.

Best of luck to a wonderful university.

Where Are the ’39ers?

I enjoy the alumni magazine tremendously even though news of my class and classmates is lacking. I’m presently with the Blue Island Savings and Loan Association as vice president and director. Am hoping to see the SIU athletic teams in the “big time” in the not-too-distant future.

At Boys’ Ranch

Please change my address to: Delmar D. Smith
McCrossan Boy’s Ranch

In my new position I am counselor to six to fourteen high school age boys from broken homes. The Ranch is nonsectarian. Anyone interested in more information about the Ranch please feel free to write me.

Do Drop In

Now that I am settled in England and have a definite address, I would appreciate your sending my newsletters and all further correspondence to me at this address:

Lt. D. M. Stroup, Jr.
55th Tac. Ftr. Sq.
APO 120, New York, N. Y.

In case any SIU students, faculty, or alumni are in England, we would enjoy hearing from them or have them drop us a note and come up this way. We are 40 miles northeast of London, stationed at RAF Wethersfield. Our address here is: Ramsey Cottage, Wethersfield, Near Braintree, Essex.

High Praise for Alma Mater

... I think of ascending the steps to the second floor of Old Main in 1892 as my first steps toward a higher education. I am thrilled beyond measure each year when I return and visualize the tremendous growth, physical and educational, of Southern Illinois University.

Sincere congratulations to those who have in any way assisted by words, deeds, and thoughts to make it what it is today and to make it continue progressing as the tomorrows come.

On the Cover

What better spot for reflection and meditation than the reflection pool fronting Morris Library! But moments of quiet and calm such as this are rare in the midst of a busy campus. Another haven is Thompson Woods behind the library—where one can stroll among the tall trees and lush underbrush, hear the songbirds overhead and watch the squirrels dart about.

Thanks to the generosity and cooperation of the General Publications Department and its editor, Earl Eugene Parkhill '50, the Southern Alumnus proudly presents its first four-color cover.

Mr. Parkhill long has been a friend in deed of the Southern Alumnus and the Alumni Office. A physics graduate, he started as a student worker for the Duplicating Service, which in turn became the Printing Service. He served as supervisor of Printing Service from 1953 until General Publications was organized a year ago. Now he has the job of publishing the University's bulletins.

Credit line for the picture goes to C. William Horrell '42, director of Photographic Service and photographer extraordinary.

A deep nod of appreciation goes to Printing Service, which helped make this cover possible. The Printing Service is a fraternity of capable, affable craftsmen who do the excellent job of printing this magazine, the Southern Alumnus bulletin and various other alumni pieces. They act as consultants and trouble shooters to make the way of an editor a smoother path to trod.

As you can see, team work is not a monopoly of the sports department. It is found everywhere on campus.

Published monthly except August by the Southern Illinois University Office of Alumni Services, Carbondale, Illinois. Member of the American Alumni Council. Payment of membership dues of $4.00 annually or $100 for lifetime membership entitles an association member to all alumni publications. Subscription to the Alumnus is by membership only. Entered as second class matter December 1, 1939, at the Post Office at Carbondale, Illinois, under the Act of August 24, 1912. All information concerning alumni or special feature material should be addressed to the editor or the director of Alumni Services. Address changes should be sent to the Alumni Office. Please allow four weeks for changes.
Knowledge-hungry students have requested that Morris Library, now in use more than 88 hours a week, remain open additional hours on weekends beginning next fall. This was the suggestion of members of the student government during a semi-annual, two-day conference with President Morris. The library now is open longer than at most colleges and universities—from 7:45 A.M. to 11 P.M., Monday through Friday, plus 12 hours on weekends.

Prof. George W. Adams, chairman of the History Department, was one of four Illinois College alumni to receive the Alumni Citation for Distinguished Citizen last month in Jacksonville. He served as director of Salzburg Seminar in American Studies in Austria from 1954 to 1958. Housing Director William M. Rogge, at SIU since 1951, has resigned to become director of housing and food services in the fall at the University of Buffalo, Buffalo, N.Y. Mr. Rogge in 1957 was a member of President Eisenhower’s Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

Top Scholars, Capable Leaders

Some 230 students, including 57 graduating seniors, received recognition for academic achievement during their school careers at the annual Honors Day ceremonies in Shryock Auditorium in May. Among those cited were three senior women whose four-year averages were slightly above 4.9 or a few fractions below straight “A”—Marilyn Barker Foster and Jane Elspeth Charles, of Carbondale, and Ivan Marie Loucks, Sesser. Sixty students were winners of special awards and scholarships.

Also receiving recognition in May were 98 students who were given merit certificates and recognition awards in an Activities Day program. They were honored for leadership and service in student government, scholastic and professional societies, service organizations, and other groups.

A chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, was installed at Southern June 1. Seven professional members and 10 students were initiated as charter members. Only male upperclassmen with above-average grades who plan careers in advertising are eligible for student membership. Another newly-organized group is the SIU chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management, which received its national charter late this spring. Forty-five students are members.

Summer Commencement will be held in McAndrew Stadium on Friday, August 14. Another date for your calendar is Homecoming on October 17. The Southern Players are “at home” this summer in their newly air-conditioned Playhouse. Starting July 1 they have billed “Private Lives,” “Glass Menagerie,” “The Copperhead,” and “Morning’s at Seven.” With Opera Workshop they will present the musical, “Most Happy Fella.”

“Country Life” Comes to SIU

National convention of the American Country Life Association will be held on campus July 12-14. Some 200 members are expected to attend, including representatives of farm and church groups, government officials, and college and university personnel.

First issue of “The National Photojournalist” published by SIU’s Department of Printing and Photography was mailed out in June. The publication, official organ of Kappa Alpha Mu, honorary photojournalism fraternity, was transferred to Southern from the University of Missouri.

New president of the SIU student body is Robert Hardwick, Mattoon; new president of the Student Union Board for 1959-60 is John Crowell, West Frankfort. Class presidents include Robert Hunt for seniors, Susan Puntney for juniors, and Sue Easterday for sophomores.

Summer in California

This summer E. Leon Dunning, professor of applied science, is doing engineering research at aircraft research laboratories in Culver City, Calif., arranged through the Hughes Aircraft Company’s school-industry program which is promoted by the American Society for Engineering Education. Professor Dunning joined SIU in 1957 as a specialist in mechanical engineering after teaching at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

First annual Family Outdoor Living Show held in McAndrew Stadium in May attracted almost 5,000 visitors despite unseasonably cold weather and later an all-day rainstorm on Sunday.
Governor William G. Stratton (shown center above) paid a visit to the SIU campus on May 26 and a busy visit it was. He dove-tailed at least seven official visits into one, laying a cornerstone and dedicating 18 buildings.

Two of eight family housing units at Southern Hills, for 128 married students and staff members, appear at the upper left. At upper right is one of the nine small group housing units for 405 students. And the largest structure, shown at the bottom of the composite picture, is the multi-million dollar University Center.

The governor had dedicated or laid cornerstones for 13 buildings at SIU since 1953. He commented in his address in McAndrew Stadium to 5,000 students, faculty and staff members, and guests.

"While the average of 13 buildings in seven years looks impressive on my personal records up to now, I doubt if there has been anything from a mass production standpoint to compare to 18 buildings in one day. If construction is going to continue here at this rate, I had better plan to spend at least a week on the campus the next time I am invited to a dedication ceremony."

Most of the funds for the 18 buildings, which are in various stages of construction, came from state and federal self-liquidating loans. State appropriations will cover one-fourth of the cost of the housing projects. University Center is being built with a federal loan, a state bond purchase, and funds from students who have been assessing themselves quarterly since 1954 for the new building.

Governor Stratton had high praise for the University. "This University has shown that the state and national problems of increasing enrollments and overcrowding of campuses can be alleviated to a large degree by various economies, by better utilization of space, by better use of both academic and non-academic manpower. At the same time, this University has attracted considerable attention and has set precedents of its own by establishing close, practical working relationships with the people of southern Illinois, thereby contributing to an accelerated development of this region."

Ceremonies began in McAndrew Stadium on a bright spring morning. After the governor's address an Air Force review of 1,600 cadets was held, followed by a delicious chicken barbecue served by a host of competent chefs on the lawn east of the Agriculture Building.

Illinois School Veteran Retires

At the end of 1958-59 school year Russell D. Rendleman ’40 closed his desk in the Union County Courthouse in Jonesboro and ended a 23-year career as Union County school superintendent.

It has been a notable career marked by innovations, progress, success. A native of Anna, Mr. Rendleman started in the education field in 1913 when he began teaching in the Mounds public school system. After serving in the Navy during World War I, he returned to Anna to teach in the Union County school system.

He first was elected superintendent of schools of Union County in 1934 and has served continuously since then. At the time there were 84 school districts badly in need of a reorganization program. Since then he has cut the number to 14 school districts and has helped start several unit districts.

In 1954 Mr. Rendleman began a county-wide bookmobile program which later included all of Johnson County. The program now is discontinued.

One of the first projects he instituted was a county-wide health program. It has been carried out since with the help of lay people, doctors, and dentists. Another was the start of a school lunch program in the school system. In proportion to the population of the county, Union County’s lunch program now is the largest in the state.

A music program, concentrated mainly in the rural school districts, was one of the first of its kind started in the small counties of southern Illinois. A few years ago Mr. Rendleman instituted a county-wide school testing program, the first one in the state.

Mr. Rendleman’s membership and activities in various organizations would fill a column. He is a life member of the National and of the Illinois Education Associations and is legislative chairman and past president of the southern division of the state group. He has served on the State Library Board, State Nutrition Committee, The Educational Council of 100, Inc., State Curriculum Committee, and State Museum Board.

He is a member of the American Association of School Administrators, of the State and National County Superintendents organizations (he was treasurer of the Illinois group). For 15 years he was president of the Union County TB Association before resigning a year ago.

He is active in Rotary, American Legion, Farm Bureau, Masons, and Presbyterian Church and is a member of Kappa Phi Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, and Kappa Delta Pi, all professional education fraternities. He also has served as president of the SIU Alumni Association.

Mr. Rendleman attended Illinois College and the University of Illinois before entering Southern in 1929. He completed work for his bachelor’s degree in 1940. He is married and has two daughters.

What will he do after retirement—just rest and enjoy life!

Mr. Rendleman is a veteran among Illinois educators and his record speaks for itself. In answer to a request to comment on education today, he has written this article for the Southern Alumnus.

WHO PAYS FOR DELAY?

By Russell Rendleman

Each year a great number of students in Illinois and the nation pay a tremendous price because we are unwilling to provide them with the best educational opportunities that are possible through school reorganization. It would appear that many school boards in Union County, like many throughout the nation, are interested solely in keeping the status quo in education.

It is hard to understand this state of affairs when we realize that thousands of our young people are moving on in schools without receiving a broad general education. They are being cheated.

Perhaps fear is the great deterrent to school reorganization. Many board members are afraid they might “get lost in the shuffle” with the formation of a new board. Some administrators and teachers feel that their services might not be sought in a new situation, or if they were, there might be a cut in salary. Parents often feel that they would not have a strong personal relationship with a larger school at a different location. Too, they are fearful of higher taxes or a depreciation in real estate values.

A person who has been a county superintendent since the middle thirties and has been directly and intimately connected with the problem of reorganization can appreciate the many fears people have regarding changes in their schools. Evidently they do not know the facts.

There are far more teaching positions in Union County now than there were before reorganization, even though 69 schools have been closed. More teachers are needed in schools which have enriched curricula. Real estate always increases in value when better schools are provided in a community. Taxes are almost never increased by the formation of a larger school unit.

People seem to forget that the sole purpose of reorganization is to provide a much better and richer program of education for a given area. A small school cannot meet the needs of the slow learning, retarded, handicapped, and gifted children.

Beautiful new school buildings with fine janitor service, winning athletic teams, colorful bands, and spacious gymnasiums do not make good schools. They merely add frosting to the cake.

Teachers, and only teachers, make a good school.

Yes, our schools in the past have done a fairly good job, but we must not boast until we look at the record. How about our boys who went into the service? Did they measure up in every respect or were many rejected because of mental, physical, or emotional unfitness?

How about the ones who go to college? Do they all get along well or are some sent home or have to be taught some of the things they should have learned in the secondary schools? Do they all become good law-abiding citizens?

These facts indicate a very real need for integration of our schools from the kindergarten through the university. We need to have some very definite goals and objectives in education. These can, of course, best be set up through a unit type organization. The good administrator of grades kindergarten through twelve, working with his staff, can best do the job of arriving at some goals and objectives for his pupils at different levels.

Union County, like many other counties in Illinois, has reduced its number of schools very considerably. Going from more than 12,000 schools in Illinois to some 1,600 has been difficult. A democracy works slowly. One wonders if it might not be a good idea to prod the democratic process in education a bit. Perhaps our state, like many other states, should have an over-all plan for school reorganization.

It does not seem fair to thousands of pupils in Illinois that much of their time and opportunity must be lost because of a slow-moving society. Our political, economic, and scientific structures change but our schools often go unaltered because of pride, selfishness, or fear on the part of a few people.

The Salukis have curled into their annual summer hibernation with the knowledge that they had the most successful year in SIU’s sports history.

Competing on 10 sports fronts, the Salukis compiled a mark of 107 wins and 31 losses—a remarkable .775 percentage, or a win three out of every four times in competition.

Five teams captured Interstate Conference championships, two finished second, two fourth, and one fifth. Two squads (wrestling and track) completed their slates undefeated.

A potent football crew opened the year with a rush, winning its first four games in a row. The final season mark of 7-2 was the best football record since the undefeated squad of 1930. The 4-2 record was good for runner-up spot behind Western Illinois, whom SIU dropped 32-31.

At the same time Coach Doc Lingle’s cross country runners were scrambling to their best mark since 1953. With John Flamer, a veritable “man on the go” from Yonkers, N.Y., leading the way, the hill-and-dalers won six while losing two.

Flamer set records over SIU’s new 3.3 mile course every time out, finally settling on 16:22 as top time for the distance. He helped the Salukis to fifth in the IIAC with his third-place finish. The Salukis were fifth in the state meet and in NCAA college division finals, where Flamer ran fifth in a field of over 100.

Harry Gallatin set aside his playing equipment after 10 years of pro basketball to guide SIU’s cagers to a 17-10 record and second in IIAC.

The Salukis set a new school team scoring mark as they poured in 2,353 points for an average of 87.1 points per game for 27 contests, fifth in the final tally of the nation’s NCAA small colleges.

Coach Jim Wilkinson’s wrestlers crushed all opposition to post the second undefeated season in succession, 9-0. The grapplers took the University of Illinois Invitational, Wheaton Invitational, and IIAC. They also won second place at the NAIA national tournament.

During the year Wilkinson’s crew roughed up Big Ten members Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Northwestern. The victories extended Southern’s win streak to 22 straight over the past three seasons.

Saluki gymnasts hustled their way to an 11-4 season record, Southern’s first IIAC title, and SIU’s first NCAA university division medals.

Jack Wiley, jumping junior from Fresno, Calif., came away from the national meet with a second-place...

Doc Lingle fielded his 12th undefeated track squad in his long history at Southern. The Salukis swept to a 6-0 record, won their 11th state college meet, and fourth in IIAC meet.

Spring sports continued the winning ways. Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin won his second IIAC title in succession with a 14-3 league record. The over-all mark of 20-5 won the Salukis an invitation to the NAIA national play-offs at Alpine, Tex.

At the national meet Southern won one and lost two, the single win coming from Larry Tucker, giant freshman southpaw from Lemay, Mo., who compiled a 9-0 record for the season.

 medal in tumbling, and Ed Foster, sophomore from Elmhurst, won seventh in rings. The two athletes later were honored with spots on the All-America gym team selected by the nation's gym coaches.

Coach Ralph Casey's swimmers drew national attention as Norbert Rumpel, German freshman, shattered American and NCAA records to pace the Salukis to a 6-2 dual record and their first IIAC crown.

Rumpel owns the American 220-yard breaststroke mark of 2:36.1, and he is defending 200 meter champion with a time of 2:47.8.

Spring sports continued the winning ways. Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin won his second IIAC title in succession with a 14-3 league record. The over-all mark of 20-5 won the Salukis an invitation to the NAIA national play-offs at Alpine, Tex.

Spring sports continued the winning ways. Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin won his second IIAC title in succession with a 14-3 league record. The over-all mark of 20-5 won the Salukis an invitation to the NAIA national play-offs at Alpine, Tex.

At the national meet Southern won one and lost two, the single win coming from Larry Tucker, giant freshman southpaw from Lemay, Mo., who compiled a 9-0 record for the season.

Doc Lingle fielded his 12th undefeated track squad in his long history at Southern. The Salukis swept to a 6-0 record, won their 11th state college meet, and fourth in IIAC meet.

Sparking the year's efforts were record-breaking performances by Flamer, Carver Shannon, Dale Gleghorn, and Ron Helberg.

Lynn Holder's golfers, playing on their home-away-from-home at West Frankfort, won eight straight before a loss and went on to have their best year in history, 14-3.

Freshman Bill Barnett, West Frankfort, remained undefeated and helped SIU to fourth in the league with his individual fifth-place finish.

On the tennis courts, Southern mowed down the opposition with regularity to end with an 11-3 dual record and the IIAC title for the second straight year.

Coach Dick LeFevre guided his squad past such foes as Iowa, Wisconsin, Vanderbilt, and Mississippi during the year.

Saluki dominance of the IIAC sports scene also brought the league's All-Sports trophy to Carbondale. It marked the first time since the award was originated in 1950 that SIU had received the traveling trophy.

Dear Reader,

An alumnus has inquired about the hieroglyphics following names in the Southern Alumnus. To avoid further confusion, here is the editor’s explanation:

Names of alumni appear in the Names Make News section in italics and under their respective classes unless otherwise indicated.

Barbara Allen '32–'39, received a two-year diploma in 1932 and her four-year degree in 1939. Blanche Young, ex '32, dropped out of school in 1932. Blanche Young, ex '32, '56, dropped out in 1932, returning to get her degree in 1956.

Scott Stark, VTI '56, received an associate degree or a certificate in 1956 from the Vocational Technical Institute. Thomas Andrews, VTI '56–1, received a certificate for a one-year course at the institute.

Master of Arts, Master of Science, and doctoral degrees are abbreviated M.A., M.S., and Ph.D.

Another explanation in answer to many inquiries—anyone attending Southern for at least one school term is considered an alumnus. You don’t have to be a graduate to become a member of the Alumni Association.

The Editor

Mrs. Reynolds wrote early in the spring, “I have spent the winter with my daughter, Mrs. A. F. Starbuck, and my youngest son, Dr. Thomas Q. Reynolds, who is head of the math department at Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss. I would like very much to attend Commencement this year but doubt that I will be able to.” Mrs. Reynolds retired several years ago after teaching for 40 years, six years in Illinois and 34 in North Carolina. Her seven children are college graduates.

From O'Fallon Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd V. Mitchell (Thelma Gregory, ex '43) write, "As you will note, we have left the sunny southwest (Bisbee, Ariz.) and returned to our home state of Illinois. Late in January I accepted a position as Chief, Synoptic and Dynamic Studies Branch, Directorate of Scientific Services, Air Weather Service, USAF, Scott AFB.

"Our arrival was a homecoming in more than one way. First, I had spent more than nine years with Air Weather Service before accepting a position with the Army in 1951. Second, we are closer to Carbondale than we have been in 17 years. We are building a new home in O'Fallon. In the meantime, we are in a two-bedroom trailer which is 'cramped quarters' for the four of us.

"We have found O'Fallon residents to be the typical friendly midwestern type. Also we have met a number of Southern alumni here. Our daughter, Melba, is in the seventh grade and has Emyra Nichols Hill, ex '41, as her home room teacher. Emyra and Thelma had classes together at Southern. Also living here are Maj. Charles L. Frey, ex '41, and Margaret Williams Frey; he is assigned to the Air Weather Service too, Mike Frey and Gregory, our nine-year-old, have become sports pals at school. We are expecting to meet many more of our friends from Southern as time goes by."

These alumni have expressed their loyalty and desire of service to their Alma Mater through the Alumni Association, whose chief purpose is “to assist in the promotion and defense” of Southern Illinois University. As the alumni family grows, so should the Association—in stature as well as in size. But it takes the continuing interest and support of each member to insure that growth.

To become a life member is simple. If you are an annual member, your present membership can apply to a life membership. The price of a single life membership is $100. It is $125 for a family life membership for alumni husband and wife. You can pay in annual installments of $10, $15, $20, $25, $50 for the $100 membership or $12.50, $25, $37.50, $62.50 for the $125 membership.

Write to the Alumni Office, SIU, Carbondale, for complete information about becoming a life member.
