RUSTIC BEAUTY AND CHARM ON SIU CAMPUS

Southern Alumnus

November, 1960
Keeping Up With SIU

When I receive the Southern Alum­nus, it not only brings news of friends, but also makes me aware of the growth of my Alma Mater. I have not been on campus to see the progress; however, it is good to know that challenges have been met and goals achieved. The bulletin keeps me in touch . . . cheers to the staff and to all those responsible for making Southern something to write about.

May Southern continue to provide her students with a liberal education, the philosophy of searching for new ideas, and a foundation strong enough to meet the demands of specialization. I am loyal and proud of my Alma Mater, Southern Illinois University.

Prize-Winning Hobby

Since my retirement from teaching at South Shore High in Chicago, I have been attending the Contempo­rary Art Workshop in Chicago and the last two summers attended the Pi Beta Phi Art and Craft Division of the University of Tennessee at Gatlin­burg, Tenn.

Last May at Chicago Lapidary Show I won second place for a gold and jade necklace and first and second places plus a trophy for enameling.

Busy, Busy Breezes

There have been some changes made in the Breeze household.
1. On May 17 Sidney Ann arrived at Brooke General Hospital at Fort Sam Houston.
2. On June 1 Carter was promoted to the rank of Technical Sergeant.
3. On June 13 we moved to a new address.

It was a busy thirty days!
We were home on leave recently and drove over to Southern. We’d never be able to find our way around anymore. Wish we’d had time to really explore but we were unable to do so.

“No Chimney Corner . . .”

(Founder’s Note: In a recent Southern Alum­nus it was reported that Mrs. A. B. Bowman (Alice Brainerd ’99-2), of Grayville, had to curtail her activities, especially outside her home, because of arthritis. Late in September came this letter—)

I have a news bulletin for your page. I have recovered my health to a great extent. My daughter took me swimming twice in late August. That doesn’t sound like expecting an obitu­ary notice soon.

I am busy and happy so this is my aspiration—
“No chimney corner save for me
Where I should knit incessantly,
And sip small cups of tea.
Reserve for me a sunlit space
Where I may sit in silk and lace,
And ponder youth’s bright grace.”

It keeps me going.

Inside Springfield and Illinois

After being such an “inside South­ern” student for so long as a member of the Egyptian staff, I naturally miss the news and events on campus. I’m looking forward eagerly to satisfying my intense interest and curiosity by reading the Southern Alumnus.

I started to work on the Illinois State Journal and Illinois State Reg­ister staff (which happens to be part of the Copley Press chain of news­papers) August 22. I’m only one block from Abe Lincoln’s home place and within seeing distance of the State Building . . . thus I feel steeped in the history and the progress of Illinois.

On the Cover

It has been there about four years now, encircled by trees—sycamore, cedar, dogwood, white and black birch, white willow, and cypress—and by vines and shrubbery of various kinds. A pump circulates the water from the Reflection Pool directly in front of Morris Library to the pond and then back to the pool.

The rocks were hauled to the campus from a spot south of Carbondale. It all makes for a lovely setting enjoyed by everyone who walks by—and who sometimes pause and admire the serenity of the landscape.

This fall about 35 more sandstone rocks and boulders—of all sizes and shapes—have been brought to the campus from a spot near Cobden. These rocks have been “planted” in many places and for several reasons. They add to the rustic landscaping scheme and also they discourage vehicular traffic on sidewalks and paths. Some of these rocks weigh up to four or five tons and are there to stay. Covered with moss, vines, and lichens, they already look like part of the background.

The cover picture was taken last month by Jay King ’51, whose official capacity is field representative of the SIU Alumni Association. Other pictures he has credited to him appear on Pages 5, 10, 13, and 15.
Enrollment Up Almost Two Thousand

SIU officials need a new crystal ball. The old one failed them this fall when 13,332 resident students registered on all three campuses, surpassing by a wide margin all previous predictions. According to Registrar Robert McGrath the total is 1,938 above last fall's count, a 17 per cent increase, and more than 800 above pre-registration estimates.

Of the total, 9,028 are enrolled on the Carbondale campus, 2,259 at the Alton residence campus, and 2,045 at East St. Louis. The campus-by-campus increases since last year are 1,083 at Carbondale, 317 at Alton, and 538 at East St. Louis.

Officials were surprised at the unexpected climb in view of housing problems at Carbondale and more rigid entrance requirements that went into effect this fall. Southern admitted high school students in the bottom fourth of their graduating class this fall only by examination scores. Graduates with low standing will be admitted as usual for winter and spring terms.

Mr. McGrath estimated that some 400 students were excluded from fall quarter admission under the new rules.

Population studies previously made indicated the World War II baby boom would hit the college doors beginning in 1963. But the tidal wave has started early, causing a revision upwards of estimated enrollments for the years ahead.

Count by class shows 4,982 freshmen, 2,664 sophomores, 1,934 juniors, 1,529 seniors, 1,328 graduate students, and 895 unclassified.

Men students continue to outnumber the women two to one.

On the Carbondale campus the College of Education tops the list with 2,587 with a close second registered by Liberal Arts and Sciences with 2,083. Following in order are Business with 851, Agriculture 428, Applied Sciences 324, Communications 223, Home Economics 216, Fine Arts 186, and Nursing 88. Vocational and Technical Institute has 563 students.

Although Jackson County, as the "home" county, again leads in number of students with 1,043, the trend shows steadily growing enrollments from northern Illinois. Cook County, which ranked ninth among counties five years ago with 135 students, had 639 last year and 813 this year, again being the second largest producer of SIU students from Illinois.

Williamson County shows 650 students and Franklin County 605. Northern Illinois counties moving into the "Top 20" for the first time during the five-year period from 1954 to 1959 were DuPage and Lake.

Students come from 46 states, including Hawaii and Alaska. Out-of-staters number 626. Missouri, with 187, is the leading representative while New York lists 91. Indiana, Kentucky, and New Jersey all show 33 students, followed by Massachusetts, Michigan, and Wisconsin.

Foreign students from 41 countries number 233 with Formosa's 72 continuing to dominate the list. Korea has 24 and India 23. Other countries represented are Japan, Viet Nam, Venezuela, Iraq, Germany, British Guiana, Pakistan, Philippines, Thailand, Turkey, Greece, Austria, Brazil, Chile, England, Australia, Cyprus, France, Ghana, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Kenya, Laos, Macao, Poland, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Spain, Guatemala, Switzerland, Norway, Iceland, Finland, Malaya, Peru, and Uganda.

The unexpectedly high enrollment, of course, created a number of problems. The Textbook Service ran short 1,607 books and had to send rush orders to publishers. The Air Force ROTC detachment had to order more uniforms.

To handle the enrollment many classes were added during late stages of registration and, in other cases, sizes of classes had to be expanded beyond desired limits. Mostly, new limits were set at the number of available seats in the classrooms.

Although 3,000 students were tested before New Student Week and 400 more during the week, the Testing Office still had about as many tests to go as the entire freshman class of 1950. All University housing was filled. Former lounges in Woody Hall were converted to permanent apartments to accommodate 24 coeds. Rooms off-campus were at a premium.

Lunch hour was extended to a three-hour period—from 10:30 A.M. to 1:30 P.M.—because diners outnumbered seats.

Fewer program changes were requested this fall, reported the Sectioning Center, probably because all classes were closed and students had little opportunity to make changes.
To Challenge and Stimulate—

SIU's "Plan A" Program for "A" Students

Thirty SIU freshmen meet in a classroom building all their own. They receive special assignments in three courses and are told, "Find out what you can about this idea." Then they exchange their ideas in informal discussion sessions. There are no textbooks.

A far cry from the customary academic methods, this "non-traditional" honors program established this fall at Southern. The 30 students, chosen on the basis of high school records and test scores, are part of a new "Plan A" curriculum devised to "keep a group of interested and specially talented students continuously challenged and stimulated."

The plan will spread in successive years to include 30 sophomores, 30 juniors, and 30 seniors, and then a continuing program of 120 especially selected superior students.

The "Plan A" curriculum was studied two years before it was given the green light by officials who pointed out that they believed traditional methods should be supplemented for these students by bolder and freer methods.

Prof. E. Claude Coleman, of the English Department, is directing the program which was set up by himself and Professors William H. Harris, chairman of the Philosophy Department; Leo Kaplan, Botany Department; Charles Kaut, Anthropology Department. Three other teachers have been added to the program faculty—Professors George Axtelle, College of Education; Wilbur Moulton, Chemistry Department; and Charles Blinderman, English Department.

The entire faculty is serving the program without a budget, as a voluntary addition to their present academic load.

The students are divided into three sections of 10 each, taking three courses—in science, social studies, and humanities. They meet in their own building called the "Plan A" house. There are no textbooks but reference books are available at the house.

Each student is given an assignment and told to find out what he can about it. Then the student reports on his inquiries and exchanges ideas with the rest of the class.

The 30 students have many different individual majors. In this first group one is from agriculture, another from applied science, several from the College of Education, one from the School of Business.

In explaining this innovation, Professor Coleman commented, "In the complex society of the 20th century, it seems more and more important that great numbers of our best minds develop interest in, understanding of, and respect for many areas of learning.

"We are convinced that some of these 'best minds' are among SIU students. We are trying to help them discover what capacities they have to serve society as well as themselves."

Education and Travel Abroad

SIU Holds Classes in Europe

Southern Illinois University is acquiring an international air as more and more foreign students enroll, foreign teachers come here to conduct classes, and classes travel abroad for on-the-spot instruction. This last summer two SIU classes were in Europe to study.

A class of 11 students, all but three from SIU, took the senior and graduate level course, "Development of German Democracy," at the University of Hamburg in Germany. Conducted by the SIU Government Department, the group left Chicago July 16, had a week’s orientation program at Reinbek, a small town outside Hamburg, then started their course work July 25 with final examinations on August 20.

Orville Alexander ’31, chairman of the Government Department, was in charge, assisted by Prof. Hellmut Hartwig, of the Foreign Language Department. Students lived in the homes of German families. Classes were held four hours or more a day with weekends and evenings free for sightseeing.

People from city and state government, the Hamburg representative at Bonn, and business leaders lectured to the class. Newspapers, government offices, and many sections of the city were visited to give students an opportunity to study this thousand-year-old Hanseatic town and state. Court systems, taxes, all phases of local and regional government were studied, including the growth of German democracy, and the rise of an economic, social and political European community in which West Germany plays an important part.

A visit was made to Berlin, to both east and west sectors, with a reception for the class in West Berlin. Illinois Governor William Stratton had written letters to the Hamburg and West Berlin officials and the group was given a warm and cordial welcome.

Name Director for SIU’s University Center

Meet Clarence G. (Doc) Dougherty, the new director of SIU’s University Center!

This smiling, good-natured gentleman arrived on campus in September to undertake the gigantic job of running the center, one of the largest student centers in the country.

The University Center will operate seven days a week, about 16 hours a day. Between 200 and 300 workers will be needed, including part time help. The center will be available for use by the area—for conferences, meetings, and such events.

Although the $4.6 million building still is under construction, Mr. Dougherty is hard at work organizing the complex setup of a student union on a bulging, bustling campus, with one eye on the May 10, 1961, completion date for the first stage of the building.

He comes from Ohio State University, where he rose from the ranks to the top echelon of the Ohio Union. A veteran of World War II, he left his mill job in a Canton, O., steel plant to attend college. As a GI student he took a part-time job at the union newstand. Later he was cashier in the cafeteria.

After graduation in 1950 he became newsstand manager and assistant accountant, holding these jobs when the new Ohio Union opened in 1951. He later became administrative assistant and for a time was acting director of the union. He was assistant director when he left Ohio State.

Doc, his wife Glorianna, and their three boys—Brian, Bret, and Bill Joe—already feel at home in southern Illinois and are busy getting settled in their new home on Pine Lane in Carbondale.

Asian Theme for Fine Arts Festival February 12-25

"Asia and the Arts" will be the theme of SIU’s sixth annual Fine Arts Festival next February. Phillip Olsson, associate professor in the Department of Music, is chairman.

The two-week series of public lectures, exhibitions, drama, dance, and music performances keyed to "the artistic expression of Eastern peoples" will be held from February 12 through February 25.

A new feature of the 1961 festival will be guided lecture tours of all exhibits, offered free to area social and civic organizations. Exhibitions of Asiatic painting, prints, sculpture and miniatures will be scheduled in the University Galleries. Club officials wishing to set up lecture tours for their organizations should make reservations through the SIU School of Fine Arts office.

Among attractions engaged for the festival are Kimio Eto, concert performer on the keto, a Japanese instrument; the St. Louis Symphony; Henry Cowell, American composer who works in the Oriental tradition; and variety and folk music presentations by Asiatic students at SIU.

Because of the enthusiasm and success of the class, it probably will again be held next year.

Nineteen students, most of them home economics teachers from Illinois, accompanied Prof. Adeline Hoffman, chairman of the Department of Clothing and Textiles in the SIU School of Home Economics, in a summer session abroad for the study of "Fashions and Textiles of Western Europe."

The class left New York June 29 and traveled by plane, bus, and boat through nine countries, returning August 14.

The group viewed fashion shows in Dublin, London, Rome, and four in Paris. They visited the Liberty Fabrics plant in London and attended a wool auction at the wool docks, saw fabric firms in Cologne, the center of Swiss textiles and embroidery at St. Gallen, viewed an exhibit of Fortuny Fabrics in Venice, a dress factory in Milan, the textile museum at Lyon, and the Gobelin Tapestry Museum. Final exams were taken in Paris.

In Dublin the members attended "The Mikado" during the Irish Music Festival; attended a session of the House of Commons in London and were entertained by several women members of the house; had a boat ride down the Rhine, across Lake Constance, and also down the canals at Bruges, Belgium, and Amsterdam; visited diamond factories, a wooden shoe factory and cheese factories in Amsterdam; attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau; were in a papal audience at his summer residence at Gandolfo; enjoyed the opera "Aida" in Rome; saw the Folies in Paris.

Also in Paris they met Dora Loues Miller, co-author of one of the textbooks, "Dressmakers of France," used by Miss Hoffman in her classes. When they visited Oxford, they had as their guide Camille Albert Becker.

SIU won its first All-American Honor Rating Award this fall when its 1960 Obelisk was judged one of the six top yearbooks out of 310 entries in the annual competition of Associated Collegiate Press for colleges and universities with 7,000-10,000 enrollment. From left, W. Manion Rice, SIU journalism professor and Obelisk adviser; Ronald W. Rathberger, Mt. Prospect, 1961 editor; Marian McBride Racey, Marion, assistant editor; and Ronald J. Vaskie '60, Elkville, 1960 Obelisk editor.

Billy G. Jackson (left), Taylorville sophomore, receives the Borden Freshman Award and congratulations from Arthur A. Swanson, M.S. '60, co-ordinator of SIU's Financial Assistance Center. The award is presented to an SIU student annually for leadership and academic achievement. Mr. Jackson, management major in the School of Business, received a perfect 5.0 average during his first year.
Returning to the SIU Homecoming were two beauties, both of whom reigned twice as queen—Mrs. Shirlan Eckert (Marilyn I. Liebig '56), St. Louis, at left, who was Military Ball Queen in 1954 and Homecoming Queen in 1955—and Mrs. Bill Koeneman (Norma Jo Rushing '54), Chester, queen of SIU's first Military Ball in 1952 and Homecoming queen in 1953.

Queens—Past and Present

Blonde Sandy Keller, junior education major from Witt and a member of Sigma Kappa sorority, reigned as 1960 Homecoming Queen during a weekend of pageantry and fun-making October 22-23. AF ROTC Cadet Ronnie D. Dalton, Salem, served as the queen's escort at the football game.

Another homecoming has passed into SIU history. The 39th Homecoming last month surpassed all expectations and more as the campus was turned into a gay carnival from Thursday evening, when the Homecoming queen was crowned, until Sunday, when the last weary visitors were homeward bound.

Statistically, some records were set. An estimated 35,000 students, faculty, alumni, and friends participated in homecoming. A capacity crowd of some 12,000 squeezed into the grandstands and bleachers of McAndrew Stadium to watch the Salukis romp over Illinois State Normal 30-6.

The second annual Southern Illinois Symphony Concert drew an enthusiastic crowd of 1,200 into Shryock Auditorium on Friday evening, and Marjorie Lawrence, former Metropolitan Opera star and now on the SIU faculty, won their hearts with her beautiful singing and great courage. Carmine Ficocelli, of the Music Department, conducts the orchestra.

The Homecoming Parade Saturday morning, the biggest ever, was watched by 25,000 delighted adults and children along University Avenue. Shryock was filled twice on Saturday evening for the Homecoming Show which featured June Valli and the Kirby Stone Four. A thousand dancers danced to the music of Skitch Henderson and his orchestra in the Carbondale Armory.

Traditionally Homecoming 1960 continued its reputation and custom of entertainment, revelry, and beauty. Statuesque blonde Sandy Keller, of Witt, was crowned Homecoming Queen by the mythical King Menes in Shryock Auditorium amidst pomp and ceremony. Her court included Sue Easterday, Metropolis; Connie McGinnis, Pittsfield; Sharon Rush-
Getting ready for the take off of the Homecoming Parade were these members of SIU’s smart-stepping band.

At right—returning alumni were very interested in the building project of the Student Christian Foundation. The Rev. Malcolm E. Gillespie (at left) explains the plans to Sadiq Saleh '60, Jordan; the Rev. Loren A. Windhorst '57, Lenzburg; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Emrick (Margaret Ann Williams '56), St. Louis; Mrs. Windhorst (Grace Siever '57); Mrs. Audrey D. Wagner (Patricia McCree '59) and Mr. Wagner, ex '55, Marissa.

ing, Energy; and Donna Schuchard, Kirkwood, Mo. Attendants were Pam Gilbert, Carbondale, and Sandy Newbrough, Highland Park.

The Southern Players opened their season with an exceptionally fine performance of Thornton Wilder's 1939 Pulitzer Prize winning "Our Town," Darwin Payne '53, M.A. '55, on campus this year for graduate work, headed the cast of 26.

Theta Xi fraternity swept house decorations and parade entry competition, taking first place in both, winning the men's house decorations for the fifth consecutive time and the parade trophy for the second straight time.

Among the thousands of alumni who came back were Mr. and Mrs. Orval T. Moore '30-2, '57 (Margaret Clemens Moore '34-2, '57), East St. Louis, who never have missed a homecoming. Their son, Clemens T. Moore, is a senior at SIU. Alumni who no doubt traveled the farthest were Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Fly '57 (Ruth Henderson '54), from Kwajalein Island in the Pacific, visiting in southern Illinois.

Among others who registered were Mrs. Fred H. Wykes (Grace Swoford '95-2), Benton; Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Chance '23-2 (Ruth Mugge '20-2), Salem; Robert W. Brown '55, Minot, N.D.; Robert Nee '57, Brentwood, Mo.; James E. Hankins '59, Louisville, Ky.; Lt. and Mrs. George E. Hargrave '59 (Lois Goldsmith, ex '59), Harlingen, Tex.; Mrs. C. E. Glatart (Mary E. Furr, ex '33), Highland Park; Charles E. Woolard '49, M.S. '50, Joliet; Capt. and Mrs. Edward E. Betts, ex '49 (Mary Elizabeth Miles '47), Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Small '58 (Margaret Wilson '56), Canton.
Dates for 1961

June 10—Alumni Day. Reunions of classes ending in 1 and 6 plus the Class of 1960. This will be a memorable Alumni Day, the first to be held in the new University Center scheduled to be finished next spring.

October 21—Homecoming. Southern plays Eastern Illinois. Colleges, departments, and housing groups will hold open houses, coffee hours, and receptions.

Northern Club Gives Southern Party

Thirty-one SIU students from the Kankakee area—from brand-new freshmen to returning veterans—were treated to a party, southern style, by the Kankakee Area Alumni Chapter September 12 at the Tri-K Restaurant, Kankakee.

The coffee hour mixer was held to give these students an opportunity to get acquainted with each other and to ask questions about Southern Illinois University and life on the campus. William Morin, Kankakee senior and president of the SIU Student Council, spoke on activities at Southern.

Douglas Shepherd '53, M.A. '58, president of the club, was toastmaster. Carolyn Bernhard '55, secretary-treasurer, was chairman of the party. Alumni Field Representative Jay King '51 spoke on the Universities Bond Issue. He offered the assistance of the Alumni Office to the students and invited them to stop in and meet the staff.

November Meetings

The Massac County Alumni Chapter is holding a dinner meeting Monday, November 7, at 6:30 P.M., at Weaks Cafe in Metropolis. Guest speaker is E. Claude Coleman, professor in the SIU English Department. President Howard Keller '46, M.S. '52, Joppa, is chairman.

Annual meeting of the Champaign Area Alumni Chapter will be held Wednesday, November 16, 6:30 P.M., at Wheat's Steak House, Urbana. Members, families, and friends are invited to the dinner meeting. SIU basketball coach Harry Gallatin will speak to the group. President Gerald Obrecht '47, Rantoul, is in charge.

Prof. E. C. Coleman will speak to the Macoupin County Alumni Chapter Thursday, November 17, at a dinner meeting at The Gardens Restaurant, Litchfield, beginning at 7 P.M.

On Friday, November 18, at 7:30 P.M., the St. Clair County Alumni will have a buffet dinner at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville.

Kankakee Area Alumni will enjoy a spaghetti supper and square dance Sunday, November 20, at Watseka Elementary School Gymnasium.
Odaniell Goes West For Alumni Meetings

Later this month Robert Odaniell '51, executive director of the SIU Alumni Association, will head south and west for meetings with alumni.

On Wednesday, November 16, he will be in Kansas City, Mo., for a dinner meeting with Southern graduates and former students of the area. There are 125 alumni in and around Kansas City. Dinner will be at 7 p.m. at the Wishbone, 4455 Main Street, Kansas City. Mrs. Donald G. Gibbs (Patsy June Bruce '57) and Mrs. Dwight W. Parsons (Patricia Zook '54) are in charge of arrangements.

The Capri Room at Sabella's Restaurant, Fisherman's Wharf, in San Francisco, will be the place for the 8 o'clock dinner of the San Francisco Area Alumni meeting on Friday, November 18. Robert E. Hurley, ex '50, is in charge.

On Saturday, November 19, Mr. Odaniell will attend the fall meeting of the Los Angeles Area Alumni Club at the Chapman-Park Hotel, 615 South Alexandria, Los Angeles.

Dinner is at 7:30 p.m. with a social hour beginning at 6:30. Charles V. Brockett '49, club vice president, is heading the committee.

Alumni Named To SIU's CIA

Two members of the SIU Alumni Association have been named by President D. W. Morris as members of the 12-member Council on Intercollegiate Athletics, upon the recommendation of Alumni Association President George T. Wilkins.

Albert Ede '12, Cobden, has been reappointed to serve during the year 1960-61 and Roger E. Spear '48, Carbondale, is the second alumni representative. Vice President John Grinnell is chairman of the council.

One of the highlights of the Homecoming football game was a ceremony between halves when two members of the first SU varsity track team were honored. George T. Wilkins '29-2, '37, Illinois superintendent of public instruction and president of the SIU Alumni Association (in center of group) and Glenn Storme '29-2, treasurer of the Alumni Association and secretary-treasurer of the SIU 1-Men (at far right) were given certificates of award and monogrammed SIU blankets. Both were on the first track team that competed for SINU in the first dual meet ever held on campus and on the first team coached by Leland P. (Doc) Lingle '21-2, '27 (second from right). At left, President D. W. Morris and Athletic Director Donald N. Boydston.

The only undefeated team in SIU football history (up until this date), the 1930 team with a 9-0 record, had its first reunion at Homecoming and were honored at the Homecoming game. Flanking the lineup are the co-captains, Glenn (Abe) Martin, Carbondale, on the left, and Clarence Harris, Carlyle, on the right. In between, from left, are Tom Newton, assistant coach, Riverside; Elsworth Robertson, Mayfield, Ky.; John Chapman, manager, Alto Pass; Paul J. Brown, Carbondale; Harry Canada, Flint, Mich.; Jimmy Lauder, Philadelphia; Richard E. Watson, Carbondale; Robert Doty, Benton; Albert Patton, Edwardsville; Clarence W. Stephens, Carbondale; and Frank Eovaldi, Murphysboro. Not in the picture but attending the reunion were George Sauerswein, Reddick, and Cannon Storment, Marthasville, Mo.
With its first Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference football championship all but wrapped up and with Coach Lew Hartzog's cross country team unbeaten in its first five outings this season, Southern Illinois University's over-all sports outlook has never been better.

The Salukis are defending all-sports champions in the IIAC, having copped the crown for the past two years, and from all early indications they're out to make it three in a row.

Virtually certain of getting Southern off on the right foot in the point standings are Coach Carmen Piccone's red-hot Salukis gridders. With six straight victories behind them, including four over league opponents, Capt. Tom Bruna and his teammates need only two more decisions over second-division loop clubs to give Southern a perfect 6-0 slate in IIAC competition and the school's first football championship.

Outside of a narrow 21-20 squeaker over Northern Illinois in their initial league skirmish, the Salukis have left little doubt about their superiority. They were convincing in beating Western 21-12 and shellacked Eastern Illinois 52-8 with a tremendous display of offensive power. Homecoming produced an effective 30-6 verdict over Illinois State as a record-breaking 12,000-plus crowd looked on.

Put these with a pair of early-season non-conference victories over Missouri Mines (34-14) and Ohio Wesleyan (30-13) and the results are a 6-0 over-all slate which has vaulted Southern into national football recognition.

It's impossible to pinpoint credit for such an outstanding grid campaign as many are responsible. Piccone, who is in just his second season at the helm here, likes to give credit to his pair of first-class assistants, Bob Franz, line coach, and backfield coach Harry Shay.

Many players are involved and several are apparently headed toward record-breaking seasons. Bruna, team captain, is considered an irreplaceable member by the coaching staff, and two other backs—Ron Winter and Amos Bullocks—fall into the same category.

Winter equalled SIU's existing touchdown passes record before the Homecoming crowd when he connected twice with payoff pitches. That gave him a total of six for the season and matched Joe Huske's 1955 total.

Bullocks also is seemingly headed for a record-smashing season as he is virtually certain of topping Carver Shannon's school record of most yards gained in a single season. Only an injury could prevent Bullocks from surpassing Shannon's 725-yard total as he needed only 129 yards with four games yet to be played.

Clarence Walker, the expected backfield flash, has been sidelined much of the season, but appears set now to bolster the squad for its rugged contests with Bowling Green and Ohio University. In Walker's absence Charles Lerch and Dennis Harmon have stepped in and played exceptionally well.

Up front the stars are by the dozens. Houston Antwine tops the list alphabetically and perhaps deservedly. Others, however, who have been playing tremendous roles in Southern's success include Jim Battle, Paul Brostrom, Shaun Hawthorne, Jim Hayes, Ray Knecht, Dick Nelson, Gardy Seeker, Sam Silas, Jim Thompson, and Gene Williams.

The Saluki cross country squad has been paced this season by a brilliant-running freshman ace, Joe Thomas, of Uniontown, Pa. Thomas, who ranked among the nation's elite track stars as a prepster, has been pushed only once all season and that was by his teammate, John Flamer.

Cross Country freshman ace Joe Thomas hopes to pick up a few trade secrets from the SIU mascot, the Saluki, oldest pure bred dog in the world and renowned for its speed and endurance.
Thomas and Flamer have finished one-two in each of the five meets Southern has competed in and the squad has monopolized the first seven places in the last three meets.

Southern's first annual invitational cross country meet was held October 29 with Marquette, Eastern Michigan, and Southeast Missouri appearing here.

Fred Orlofsky, first Southern athlete to qualify for the Olympics while still a student here, looked forward to renewing his friendly rivalry with members of the Soviet Union's world-champion gymnastics team in New York October 30, when the United States and Russian Olympic squads were to meet in an international match at the West Point Military Academy. But the meet was cancelled when the Russian athletes encountered visa technical difficulties.

Orlofsky placed well behind the outstanding Russian gymnasts in the Olympics but was 17th in the sidehorse event and was reported "much improved" by Coach Bill Meade upon his return from Rome.

Basketball Coach Harry Gallatin, Swimming Coach Ralph Casey, and Wrestling Coach Jim Wilkinson, along with Meade, have launched preparations for the approaching winter sports season and prospects are bright on all scenes.

Success of Southern's basketball squad may be partially determined by Charley Vaughn's ability to regain his eligibility. Vaughn, who has already established many school scoring records in just two years at SIU, is hoping to rejoin the squad January 1.

However, Gallatin has a host of talented cagers on hand and is anticipating another fine season regardless of Vaughn's status.

Bill Brown '41 SIU's assistant athletic director, was elected president of the I-Men, an organization of former Southern sports letter winners.

Brown, who lettered in football at SIU in 1938-39-40, was elected at the organization's business meeting following the Homecoming game. Other officers elected were Frank Eovaldi, ex '31, Murphysboro, vice president; Glenn Storme '20-2, Carbondale, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Doty, ex '31, Benton, and Elbert L. (L) Kimmel, ex '24, East Alton, directors.

The I-Men have 1,287 potential members in their group and 375 attended the Homecoming meeting.

The 1930 football team, the only undefeated team in SIU football history—up until this time—held its first reunion at Homecoming. The team holds the Saluki record for most points scored in a season and lowest number of points scored by their opposition. It had a 9-0 record for the season.

Doc Lingle Retires from Coaching

The familiar figure above is in an unfamiliar pose. Leland P. (Doc) Lingle '21-2, '27, is better known to SIU alumni and the campus coaching on the athletic field—as he has done for 34 years. A severe asthma attack last winter sidelined the veteran coach and now he is sticking strictly to teaching physical education classes, counseling P. E. majors and minors, and serving as advisory coach.

Doc Lingle is the dean of the Southern coaching staff. His name and track are synonymous at SIU. Up until this fall he was the first and only track coach, holding that post since 1927.

A native of Cobden, Doc had been a high jumper and middle distance man in high school. After getting his two-year diploma from SINL, he went to Sikeston, Mo., High School as principal and coach of all sports for four years. He returned to Southern for pre-medical work and his degree and became a faculty assistant in athletics. He was named track coach and stayed on to chalk up a remarkable record.

During his 34 years his teams won 129 dual meets, lost 43, and tied one. Included in this saga are 11 Illinois State College Championships and two Interstate Conference crowns—in 1938 and in 1946. The Salukis have finished second in the state meet five times and second in the IIAC four times.

One of the highlights of this fine career was a trip to Australia in 1956 to the Olympics. A fund of more than $1,700 was contributed by alumni and friends to send Doc to see one of his former trackmen, Philip Y. (Phil) Coleman '52, become the first SIU athlete to participate in the games.

Mrs. Lingle is the former Dorothy A. Furr '26-2, '28.
More Traveling Around the Country

A few months ago the Southern Alumnus carried a story about alumni in the travel, resort, and restaurant business. Since then more information has been received on this subject and is hereby presented.

A number of SIUers are in the air travel field. For instance, the hostess on the TWA Skyliner flight from LaGuardia Field in New York City could very well be Kathleen Campbell ’59, of Litchfield. She completed her training at the TWA Hostess School in Kansas City, Mo., last spring and was assigned to flights from LaGuardia. Before she took to the air, she was a secretary in Litchfield.

The pilot of the Delta Airlines’ Convair 440 from Memphis, Tenn., just might be Delton G. Rea ’40. He joined Chicago and Southern Airlines in 1945 after discharge from the Air Force. In 1953 the airlines merged with Delta. Mr. Rea was a school teacher near Benton and at Buckner for five years before the war.

He flies over most of the central and southern parts of the country—to St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, New Orleans, Houston, Atlanta, and has logged nearly 14,000 hours. A major in the AF Reserve, he and his wife Charlotte have three sons.

Alumni traveling Route 37 in southern Illinois—look for the A & W Root Beer stand one-half mile north of Benton. Fred W. Burri ’56 is the operator of this thriving business which serves hamburgers, hot dogs, small steaks, fish, chicken, shrimp, and barbecue. With him is Joseph Lucini, ex VTI ’57. When they aren’t serving food they are selling Mobile Homes and travel trailers. In the trailer business about two years, they sell Champion, Lakewood, Magnolia, and Don-A-Bell house trailers and the Nimrod and Apache campers.

Down south, Florida-way, a special welcome awaits all SIU alumni at the Illinois Courts, 2000 Washington Street, Hollywood, Fla.—16 miles from Miami and several miles from Ft. Lauderdale. M. J. Bozarth, ex ’30, Murphysboro, is one of the partners of the 12-unit apartment and hotel room court. Manager is C. O. Naumer, who has two SIU children—Gene C. ’53 and Margaret Sue, ex ’51 (Mrs. William E. Herig, Jr.), who once was a secretary in the Alumni Office.

On the next page appears a story about the Yesteryear in Kankakee.

Other alumni in the travel and vacation field are invited to send pictures and information for the SIU Alumni Travel and Pleasure Guide.
Yesteryear... gourmet dining in Wright setting

Anyone who has received a postcard from the Yesteryear in Kankakee and has not succumbed to curiosity about this unique restaurant is missing an unforgettable experience.

The card reads—“Gracious dining, in an atmosphere of beauty and quiet elegance, a toast to the memories of your innocent pleasures of yesteryear and to all your beautiful tomorrows. ‘The food is famous, you’ll be intrigued with the decor, and the service will spoil you forever.’ A delightful river setting . . . house and garden by Frank Lloyd Wright circa 1900 . . . six interesting shops on the court . . . open every day, 12 noon ’til 8:30; Sundays and Holidays, noon ’til 7 P.M.”

There are several unusual facts about this unusual dining place. Two bachelors own and operate it. One of them, an SIU alumnus, is a former Army mess sergeant—Marvin Hammack, ex ’39. He and Ray Schimel bought the 18-room Frank Lloyd Wright house in August of 1952 and opened it the following February.

They started out with a restaurant and have gradually added various shops around an open court, guest rooms, show rooms, and a travel agency. Their reputation is outgrowing the confines of state lines.

The charm and graciousness of another era permeate the atmosphere of Yesteryear. There is the feeling of unhurried, unruffled hospitality, yet the service is superb. Oak woodwork, paneling, stained glass, beamed ceilings bespeak the elegance of the early 1900’s. The house has been left pretty much as Mr. Wright designed it. There are four main dining rooms with smaller rooms thrown open to service when needed—165 people can be served at a sitting.

As lovely as Yesteryear is, it is the food that makes people come back again and again. The giant-size menus turn the most stalwart soul into one huge appetite.

Thick, sizzling steaks, mouth-watering seafood, chicken fit for a king are enhanced by the unusual vegetables which Yesteryear specializes in. Numerous and various appetizers, assortment of breads which includes cubes of spicy kuchen, date and nut bread, and rum-frosted sweet rolls—all this topped by any one of 14 desserts from a special dessert card offering irresistible confections from fresh Michigan cherry pie to fudge pecan cake ball and “tipsy squires.”

Such feasting requires a period of resuscitation and this can be spent in a pleasant manner browsing through the courtyard shops. The Americana offers gifts in wide variety; the Antiques delights the most avid antique hunter; and Party Pickens is lined with shelves of exotic and unusual foods from all over the world.

Marvin Hammack, who hails from Sparta, says his interest in food goes...

Deepest sympathies are extended to Mrs. R. W. Karraker, the former Margaret Browne, 2, Jonesboro. Her husband, R. Wallace Karraker, was killed August 15, when the tractor he was driving on his farm near Jonesboro overturned on him. He was 69, a prominent Union County lawyer who served two terms as that county’s state’s attorney and two terms as Illinois state senator.

He was a vice president of the First National Bank, Jonesboro; director, Anna National Bank; and director, Dongola State Bank. He was a member of the Anna-Jonesboro Community High School Board and its attorney and attorney for the Illinois State Senate.

Besides his wife he leaves three sons, David G. ’42, Gordon ’47, and Robert ’53; two daughters, Mrs. Lois Finney, ex ’44, and Mrs. Jane Spink; and a brother and sister.

Mrs. Stella Brewer Hagler, 2, reports a new name and a new address. She now is Mrs. George L. Gill and lives at 2510 Orchard Street, Soquel, Calif. A teacher since 1917, she taught most of that time in Hanford, Calif, where she also was principal of Washington Elementary School. Later she was in the Millbrae schools.

Mrs. Gill, who says she still will be in the San Francisco Alumni Club, writes, “It will soon be clamming season and the shores of Monterey Bay in this area are a good clamming spot. Alumni friends are welcome to come down so George and I can prove it.”

Richard G. Browne, 2, executive officer of the Illinois Teachers College Board since 1919, has announced his resignation from that post effective August 31, 1961. He wants to return to teaching on a part-time basis and to carry on some research.

The board supervises Northern Illinois University, DeKalb; Eastern in Charleston; Western in Macomb; and Illinois State Normal in Normal.

Mr. Browne, son of the late George Mervin Browne, chemistry professor at Southern for 30 years, has been on the faculty of State Normal 23 years, as professor of political science and then as head of the social science department. He started his teaching career as a high school instructor in Marion, then spent two years at Chicago Heights before going to Normal. He has served on a number of state commissions for various phases of education.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yates, 2 (Margaret Hall, 2), Los Angeles, could not attend their class reunion last spring but wrote, “We are so very sorry that we will be unable to attend the reunion. Edward is teaching school and it won’t be out until June 17. This is a wonderful year of anniversaries for us, 40 years since our graduation, 40 years of marriage, and 40 years of teaching for Edward.” Mr. Yates teaches in the Los Angeles city schools. Originally from Belle Rive, they have eight children.

Alta L. Skelley, 2, has moved from Pasadena, Calif., to Tucson, Ariz. After receiving bachelor's and master's degrees from Colorado State Teachers College, Greeley, Colo., Miss Skelley for many years was head of the art department of New Mexico State Teachers College in Silver City, N.M.

Mrs. Rolla B. Smith (Dorothy Sams, 2) lives in Belleville and has a son, Robert S. She is the daughter of the late Fountain F. Sams ’90.

From Colorado Springs, Colo., Mrs. A. P. Cummins (Ruth Louise Hood, 2) writes, “We had such a wonderful time on the campus Alumni Day, June 11th, that we felt fully repaid for making the trip. We greatly enjoyed seeing old friends and classmates and the Alumni Association deserves a big ‘Thank You’ from all of us for your kindness and very gracious hospitality. We could hardly believe our eyes when we saw the great growth and many changes on the campus. I knew it was a great school but I hadn’t realized how much it had grown.”

After many years of practicing law in Chicago, Deneen A. Watson, 2, has moved to La Jolla, Calif., and now is associated with Dempsey Tegiler and Company, investment firm. A graduate of the University of Illinois, he has served as president of the U. of I. Alumni Association and the U. of I. Law Alumni. The Watsons, who have two sons, formerly lived in Winnetka.

Lydia E. Walter, 2, who has been an elementary teacher in Alton for many years, retired in June and now resides in Brownfield.

Saudi Arabia Visitor at Fish Fry

Although this was only the second annual Fall Fish Fry of the Jackson County Alumni Club, its reputation evidently has spread far and wide. One of the guests at the September 9 fish fry at the Jackson County Country Club was Fredrick W. Oehlert, ex '44, of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia.

Mr. Oehlert, who originally hails from Murphysboro, is senior construction engineer for the Arabian American Oil Company in Dhahran. He has been with the firm 13 years, ever since he received his civil engineering degree from the University of Illinois. He served four years in the Air Force, two of them with the Eighth AF in Europe, before returning home and finishing college.

The oil company’s engineering department does all kinds of construction work, including the building of cities for American employees. It has built three towns within a territory of 300-400 miles, each having a population of 3,000-4,000 people. These towns are complete with theaters, bowling alleys, etc. Their inhabitants see the best of TV from two television stations—the Armed Forces network and the company’s station.

The Oehlerts—including two sons five and eight—return to the States every two years for a visit. In doing so they have visited places all over the world—Hawaii, Ceylon, all through India, Africa, Bangkok, Tokyo, Cypress. During this year’s jaunt they spent two weeks in Germany and Denmark. About once a year Mr. Oehlert goes to the company’s office in The Hague.

The two boys go to private schools established by the Arabian American Oil Company and will attend through the ninth grade. Then they will go to school in Europe or return to U.S.

Asked about the political situation in Saudi Arabia, Mr. Oehlert observed that there was more disturbance about it here than in Saudi Arabia.
World War II served in the Navy. Mrs. Kerr is Eleanor Moseley, ex '38, and they have three children.

Another college teacher is Wilbert C. McAfee, associate professor of history at Southern University in Baton Rouge, La. He has two sons.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McNeill, ex (Isabel Anderson, ex '40) operate McNeill Jewelry Store in Carbondale.

Since 1956 Gaylord P. Whitlock has been director of health education for the National Dairy Council, Chicago. For 10 years before that he had been a technical service specialist with Merck and Company, New Jersey pharmaceutical firm. A Navy veteran, he holds master and doctoral degrees from Pennsylvania State College. He lives in Western Springs with his wife and two children.

1940

Clay Hunter, M.S. '52, is the new principal of Johnston City High School. He had been on its faculty from 1947 to 1952 and for the last seven years has been teaching at Marion High School. He also has taught at Buncombe, Eldorado, Ozark, and rural Johnston City.

Mrs. Frank J. Silvania (Kathryn Cox, M.S. '52) writes that she and her husband have operated Frank's Mens and Boys Wear store in downtown Carbondale since September, 1958. All alumni are welcome to stop in and see them.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Millikan (Alice Wiedeman '36-2, '41) live in Vero Beach, Fla., where he has been a building contractor for 15 years. They have five children.

Leland H. Grizzell is music supervisor for Murphysboro Unit School District 186.

In Chicago Alvin W. Ziegler has been an insurance underwriter for Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company for nine years. He lives in Des Plaines with his wife and two children.

In Eldorado Merrill E. Stricklin operates a photography studio, Stricklin Studio. His wife is Betty Metcalf, ex '41.

Mrs. Horace M. Winn (Eugenia Muir Waring) teaches the second grade in the Scottsdale, Ariz., public schools.

Principal of East Junior High School in Alton is A. Donald McKenzie '31-2, who has held that job 10 years.

James H. Bucher, ex, is a partner of the Sikeston, Mo., CPA firm, Bucher and McCann.

New job for Warren G. Jennings, M.S. '52, former principal of Metropolis Community High School, is that of principal of the U.S. Air Force Dependents School

The list of SIU alumni who are college deans continues to grow. Newest addition is the name of Richard E. Whalen '47, who became dean of Moline Community College late in August. The college is a community and state-supported school offering two-year degree programs.

Mr. Whalen went to Moline from Peoria, where he was associate professor of education at Bradley University. He had been on the Bradley faculty since 1955. Mrs. Whalen, the former Magdalen Ehresmann, ex '47, taught at Sipp School in Peoria and now is teaching in the Moline elementary schools.

The Whalens have three children, six, 11, and 12.

Mr. Whalen holds a master and a doctor of education degree from Indiana University and a master's degree from the University of Mississippi, where he was an instructor in education. Later he was superintendent of schools at Wheeler, Miss., and then director of adult education at Pan American College in Edinburg, Tex.

in Izmir, Turkey. Mr. Jennings also has served as principal of Carrier Mills High School and as a teacher in the Rushville High School. He and his wife (Lorelei Baker '45) have two children.

Branch manager in Centralia for Western Adjustment Company is Ernest R. Moss. Mrs. Moss is the former Louise Gibbs, ex, and they have two daughters.

Mrs. R. E. Packard (Margaret Lou Wiley) lives in Omaha, Neb. She has a daughter Vicki and a son Charles.

For 15 years Emery G. Lamb, ex, has been an estimator for the Central Illinois Public Service Company. He lives in Marion.

Hal R. McCarty, ex, Anna, is owner of the McCarty Funeral Home in Anna. He is married to Jean Barnes, ex '47, and they have three children—Anne, 10; Patty, eight; and Robin, three.

Kenneth A. Etherton, ex, left Illinois in March of 1959 to go to Bulolo, Territory of New Guinea, as a missionary with the New Tribes Mission. His wife and four children are with him.

Mrs. Samuel R. Craddock (Lucille Ellis, M.S. '60) is home economics teacher at Benton High School. She has a son Bruce.

Mrs. Paul Dunihoo (Virginia Bradley, M.S. '55) teaches third grade in the Pinckneyville public schools.

In Dallas, Tex., Richard H. Lence is chief of operations analysis in the aeronautics division of Chance Vought Aircraft. He has a master of science degree in mathematics from Northwestern University and formerly was a research associate at George Washington College in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Lence is Majel T. Stephens, ex '46.

Anna Fay Hampton is a counselor for the Indians in the Coolidge, Ariz., public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rose, ex (Betty Stilley '44) live in Pleasanton, Calif., with their young son, Kenneth Alan. Mr. Rose is a sales engineer for the A. E. Staley Manufacturing Company of Decatur.

Second novel from the pen of Mrs. J. Lee Rauch (Mabel Thompson, ex ’07) is “The Little Hellion,” published by Duell, Sloan and Pearce, New York.

Like her first book, “Vinnie and the Flagtree,” the setting is southern Illinois but the time is near the turn of the century instead of during the Civil War.

Sally, the judge’s daughter, is the “little hellion,” who tells about horses, races, county fairs, gypsies, the G.A.R. reunion, “balloon ascensions,” and all the wonderful and nostalgic incidents of that colorful era.

Dave Felts, columnist for the Lindsey-Schaub newspapers, writes, “...the book is rich in anecdote and in atmosphere that will be relished by all who have lived in the area.”

Reports the Virginia Kirkus Book Review Bulletin, published for librarians, “Mabel Thompson Rauch brings spontaneity and warmth to her subject, evoking the richness of that time in American history when society was simple enough to allow for intimate community life and yet sufficiently stable to permit cultural and social exploration. A delightful book with a natural and winning heroine.”

Mrs. Rauch, who has been writing about Little Egypt for many years, feels very close to SIU, for her father’s farm and lake are part of the campus. Many of the happenings she describes in her books are part of her childhood. She now lives in Hollywood, Calif.

Another story laid in southern Illinois is “Tangled Weft,” by Coy A. Randolph ’54, teacher in Golconda for 25 years and in southern Illinois 39 years.

“Tangled Weft” is the story of the Randall family which fled from Shenandoah Valley in Virginia to southern Illinois because of problems brought on by the Reconstruction Period in the South. A series of episodes tells of members of the family and the people of the valley where the Randalls live.

Published by Forum Publishing Company of Boston, the book is full of romance, comedy, tragedy, history, mystery, intrigue, just about everything that could happen during a hundred-year span—from 1860 until the present. Indians, snow storms, escaped convicts, religious meetings, country school, swindling, superstition all are found in this action-packed book.

Mr. Randolph is a native of Golconda, where some of the story takes place. His wife, Ruby Hazel, also is of the Class of ’54.

Yesteryear . . .

back to the tender age of 10, when he and the chef at the Sparta Country Club became good friends. He worked for Scharf and Bickfords in New York when he quit SIU and went east. In 1940 he entered service and was sent overseas in early 1942, serving in the Pacific with the 132nd Infantry, the American division. He was in the Philippines when war ended and he was sent home.

He and Mr. Schimmel became acquainted when both worked at the Spinning Wheel in Hinsdale in 1946. Later they did industrial catering in Detroit for five years, during which time they leased Holiday House in St. Joseph, Mich., and operated it as a summer place. Still later they managed the White Chimney in Joliet.

The two men operate Yesteryear from March to January with a regular staff of 25. During January and February they travel around the world, learning about foreign cooking and foods. They've been to England, Holland, Belgium, France, Germany and Italy. When they had difficulty making plans and reservations for these jaunts, they decided to enter the travel business—and now operate the Imperial Travel Service. Come January they'll be off for Spain, Portugal, England, Scotland and Denmark.

Yesteryear has become a popular spot for teas and wedding receptions and for meetings of community and area organizations.

Daniel E. Gorman, Jr., general business graduate from the Alton Residence Center, was killed in a plane crash April 3. His home was in Alton.

John Serocky, VT1, dental technician in Kansas City, Mo., has been reported deceased.
This fall Southern Illinois University retired $80,000 worth of Woody Hall construction bonds ahead of maturity dates. The residence hall was built with funds from revenue bonds sold in 1952 to secure a $1.1 million dollar loan from the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. The University expects to begin to retire some of the bonds on the Thompson Point Residence Hall development of 1956 ahead of maturity in 1961. . . .

Interest made to date on SIU's University Center, invested pending need of it for construction bills, totals $114,000 and has enabled the University to arrange for installation of the entire 16-lane bowling alley instead of the eight-lane alley planned for the first stage.

Friends of the Library Meet

First Friends of the Library Day was held at Southern October 17 with 75 book collectors and dealers, business and professional people, alumni, and faculty members present. Speaking to the group were Lawrence Thompson, University of Kentucky library director, and Frank Luther Mott, dean emeritus of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, Pulitzer Prize winner, and author of a number of outstanding journalism history books. Dean Mott, distinguished visiting professor in journalism at SIU, has given a series of lectures this fall.

Nine southern Illinois towns are offering beginning college courses through the SIU Extension Program for the first time this year. This new system will allow persons with no college training to start work toward undergraduate degrees. In the past SIU extension courses have been geared principally for grade and high school teachers seeking to complete degree requirements, and most of the courses have been at the upperclass or graduate level.

Credit from these courses can be transferred to SIU and to junior colleges at Mt. Vernon, Centralla, and Belleville and next year to the new junior college at Harrisburg. Towns in which the new program is being presented are Anna, Carmi, Eldorado, Elizabethtown, Fairfield, Flora, Harrisburg, Olney, and West Frankfort.

Freshmen Pick and Choose Convocations

Freshmen don't necessarily have to attend Freshman Convocation on Thursday mornings anymore. Because there are 3,232 freshmen on the Carbondale campus and only 1,700 seats in Shryock Auditorium, first-year students now can choose their times for attending convocation for credit. They can go to night lectures, Sunday concerts, or any of the Community Concert series as well as the regular Freshman Convocations on Thursday . . . The Southern Trio made its debut at the Sunday Concert in Shryock Auditorium October 16.
