Budget to Legislature

Full-Quarter Summer Session Requested

An operating budget of $52,845,120 for the 1961-63 biennium has been submitted by Southern Illinois University to the 72nd Illinois State Legislature.

The request includes funds for a 12-week summer quarter and a year-round schedule of classes to offset enrollment pressures. To operate the full-quarter summer session would require $2,915,260, including some non-recurring costs of adjustment. A request for funds for a 12-week summer session was turned down two years ago.

With enrollment continuing to mount, President D. W. Morris said plans for the full four-quarter program are being made in order that classrooms, already in use from 8 A.M. until 9 P.M. and later and until noon on Saturdays, will not remain idle in late summer. Two weeks of the summer session would be prior to the beginning of the biennium July 1 and the 12-week session would extend for two months into the new biennium.

Resident enrollment jumped from 11,394 in the fall of '59 to 13,332 last fall and is expected to reach 16,695 in 1962. SIU's enrollment has quadrupled since World War II.

President Morris pointed out that the expanded program would be in line with a national trend toward year-round scheduling of classes. The trend has been reflected at Southern by steadily increasing summer session enrollments at both undergraduate and graduate levels in all fields.

"It is thought that a summer quarter would accelerate the academic progress of those students who desire to go to school throughout the calendar year and thus make room sooner for other students," President Morris commented. "It would tend to decrease the number of students going to school during each quarter of the present academic year because of the additional opportunity for completing nine months of schooling at a time other than from September to June, thus making more facilities available."

To meet enrollment increases which repeatedly have exceeded predictions, the Board of Trustees has authorized request for funds to make possible salary adjustments designed to retain present staff members and to enable Southern to compete in the teacher market, where bidding comes from government and industry as well as from other universities and colleges. The salary increases asked for are in line with recommendations of the Illinois Commission on Higher Education, Illinois Joint Council of Higher Education, Association of University Professors, and President Eisenhower's Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

For salary adjustments during the 1961-63 biennium the budget request includes $3,410,400. President Morris said salary increases would be on a merit basis and not "across the board."

To provide staff to handle enrollment increases anticipated for the two-year period, the budget request shows need for $4,385,770 for additions to the in- (Continued on Next Page)
Dates and Deadlines

Three other items amounting to $1,211,010 are asked to meet expected increased costs of operation, and $914,300 is requested for providing additional staff to help reduce teaching overloads.

A capital improvements budget amounting to $80,106,000 also has been submitted by SIU to the Legislature. This includes $50,306,000 for the Carbondale campus and $29,800,000 for the Southwestern Campus.
Sports at Southern

by Fred Huff

Winter sports have a firm hold on the athletic picture at SIU by now with Coaches Harry Gallatin's cagers, Bill Meade's gymnasts, Ralph Casey's swimmers, and Jim Wilkinson's wrestlers all battling for national recognition.

Gallatin's outfit recently was rated among the top five small-college teams after having pushed the number one quintet, Tennessee A. & I., to the limit in championship play at Quincy's holiday tournament.

The hot-shooting Tigers gained a 95-93 decision over SIU, but the Salukis' stock zoomed upwards nevertheless. Early-season play has netted Southern nine victories in its first 12 outings and Gallatin's outfit is hoping to chalk up SIU's first undisputed IIAC cage crown this season.

Scoring kingpins have been Tom McGreal, Charlie Vaughan, and Don Hepler, all of whom have averaged more than 20 points per game since Vaughan, the former Tamms prep ace, rejoined the lineup late in December. McGreal and Hepler were virtually high-school neighbors at Rantoul and Champaign and both have been vital cogs in Southern's rise to basketball prominence in the past two seasons.

Gallatin is also receiving fine performances from Herrin's Jim Gualdoni and Ivan Jefferson, Harold Bardof Sparta, Dupu's Dave Henson, Ed Spila of Chicago, and the squad's only out-of-stater, Randy McClary, of Milltown, Ind.

Wilkinson's wrestlers emerged with one-sided victories in both of their pre-holiday meets as well as a good showing in the Illinois Invitational which does not distinguish a team champion.

The Saluki wrestlers wrapped up a 30-8 decision over Central Michigan and whitewashed Miami, O., 26-0.

At Champaign the SIU wrestlers captured three individual championships. Stan Bergmeier, St. Louis senior, took the 147-pound division; Eddie Lewis, Harvey sophomore, defeated teammate Roger Plapp, DeKalb sophomore, in the 167-pound finals, and Larry Meyer, Mattoon senior, won the 187-pound title.

Casey's swimmers have been competing against the finest tank talent in the country as they have collided with Indiana's outstanding outfit three times already. Casey called the Hoosiers the "greatest college swim team ever assembled" and they have disappointed few in early-season outings.

Although bowing to Indiana in the opening meet of the campaign here, Southern's sensational sophomore, Ray Padovan of North Miami, Fla., established two new collegiate marks and has given every indication that even better times may be forthcoming.

Padovan lowered both the collegiate 50 and 100-yard freestyle events as he posted respective 0:21.8 and 0:48.4 times. The 19-year-old also walked off with top individual honors at an AAU-sponsored meet held in conjunction with the Orange Bowl activities in Miami during the holiday season. Padovan recorded three firsts and one fifth in grabbing the solo title, and it was largely through his efforts that SIU gained the team championship.

Meade's gymnasts, led by U.S. Olympic squad member Fred Orlofsky, have indicated already this season that Southern is by no means a one-man squad. Although the veteran all-around ace Orlofsky has excelled, the Salukis have several other top-notch performers.

Southern scored a sensational team victory in copping the Midwest Open as the Salukis compiled a 111-point total as compared to Illinois' 80, Michigan's 37, Michigan State's 27, and Iowa's nine.

In addition to Orlofsky, a native of North Bergen, N.J., Meade has relied on Len Kalakian, junior from Fresno, Calif.; Hugh Blaney, sophomore from Park Ridge; Bob Kies, St. Louis senior; Bruno Klaus, sophomore from New York; Fernando Tijerina, junior from Elmhurst; Ed Foster, Elmhurst senior, and versatile Bill Simms, Chicago, as his chief point-winners.

Bob Goalby, ex '48, 29-year-old professional golfer from Belleville, was winner of the $45,000 Los Angeles Open Tourney last month. He pocketed $7,500 in winning the 72-hole tournament by three strokes.

Voted golf's "freshman of the year" as a pro in 1958, he won his first title that year at Greenville, N.C. He wound up his 1960 season winning the $20,000 Coral Gables, Fla., Open. Last year he finished in the first five in seven other tournaments and collected $25,580 in prize money.
