

Articles & Essays

Encounters [oil painting and poem]. Darlene St. Georges . . . entering a field of memory carried across hills, valley, and corridors silhouettes of lucid dreams unfold before our eyes transfixed and unbound by time we skim waters and an abundance of blue skies where a new horizon emerges calling for the metaphors in our hearts

eternity flickers . . .