Dorothy R. Davies and the Dorothy R. Davies Gymnasium are pictured above after the Board of Trustees named the women's gymnasium in her honor last month. Miss Davies received the Great Teacher Award from the Alumni Association in 1968. She retired this year after 35 years at SIU, 25 of them as chairman of the women's physical education department.

Board Approves Budgets

Southern Illinois University-Carbondale is asking the Illinois Board of Higher Education to recommend a $76.8 million operating budget and $30.6 million for capital construction projects during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Included in the capital construction requests last month is $6.9 million for an emission control system for the SIU-C central steam plant, $7.1 million for a new School of Technical Careers (formerly VTI) classroom building on the main Carbondale campus, a $7.2 million School of Law building and $1.8 million to remodel the SIU-C Dorothy R. Davies Gymnasium.

Major items in the operating budget include $6.7 million for faculty and staff salary increases, $3.2 million for new programs at the School of Medicine and $3.9 million for other new and expanded programs. This is a $13.4 million increase.

The Board of Trustees also approved the annual internal operating budget for the present fiscal year. Figures presented to the board show SIU-C received an allocation of $63.4 million of a total SIU appropriation of $92.4 million, an increase of $4.6 million over the previous fiscal year.

Of this increase, $3.4 million went to the SIU-C School of Medicine, giving the rest of the SIU-C campus a $1.2 million increase over fiscal year 1974.

Living Endowment Begins

The Living Endowment of Southern Illinois University was launched last month by President Emeritus Delyte W. Morris as the first annual gifts program of the SIU Foundation. In a letter to alumni and former students Morris declared that he had accepted the national chairmanship "because I have seen some of the great work SIU has been doing for the last one hundred years."

The new program is designed to afford alumni and friends the opportunity to express their interest in and support of the University. It is no longer a "tax supported" institution but has evolved into a "tax assisted" institution.

Alumni Association Projects are among the areas to which gifts may be designated. The Alumni Telethon will become a part of the "Living Endowment" through Alumni Club groups and will serve as a part of the follow up campaign.

Other areas to which gifts may be made include Opportunity Capital or "where the need is greatest"; Scholarships for Deserving students; Resources for Our Library; Intercollegiate Athletics; etc.

J. C. Garavalia '56, served 4 years as Assistant Director of Alumni Services and resigned to accept a position as Director of Annual Giving at the Southern Illinois University Foundation.

The Alumni Office is now on the second floor of the new Faner Hall Humanities building next door north of the Student Center. It's just 99 steps from the north door of the Center to the big round red sign with the figure (4) entrance where you go through two doors. Up a flight of stairs to the second floor and you'll see the ALUMNI OFFICE sign on the left.

You will be interested in knowing that the new building is 914 feet long or approximately 3 blocks. You're always welcome at the Alumni Office and if you can't find us just stop at any office and call 453-2408. We will send a guide!

SIU Joins Missouri Valley

Southern Illinois University accepted an invitation to join the Missouri Valley Conference September 18. Commissioner Mickey Holmes and Southern Illinois University President Hiram H. Lesar made the announcement at press conferences in Carbondale and Tulsa.

The move, which came after long and careful study by the Conference, gives the Valley eight members with Division I football status and nine with Division I basketball stature. Thus, the Carbondale institution joins Bradley University, Drake University, University of Louisville, New Mexico State University, North Texas State University, University of Tulsa, West Texas State University, and Wichita State University in the now nine-member association, organized in 1907.

"We are exceptionally pleased to add an institution of Southern Illinois University's caliber," said Dr. Robert Holmer, Wichita State University faculty representative and president of the Conference. "Southern Illinois, in every aspect, is very compatible with all our member institutions."

Dr. Holmer added: "As an educational institution, Southern Illinois University is beyond reproach, offering doctorates in 20 areas and masters degrees in more than 60 fields."

"Athletically, our investigation indicated Southern Illinois had an exceptional 11-sport program and excellent facilities," said Holmes. "Under construction now is a new football stadium, which, when completed, will seat 26,400. The basketball arena seats over 10,000. Additionally, the institution has an impressive baseball stadium, all-weather track, and a fine complex for tennis."

Southern Sketches

Irvin M. Peithmann, who retired last year after 42 years at SIU, was honored by the Illinois State Senate in Resolution No. 444 offered by Senator Kenneth Buze, 61, for his archeological discoveries and investigations in the Kaskaskia-Ft. de Chartres Area as well as the Modoc Shelter, Micheageana Village and his years of pioneer archeological work. . . Floyd “Sam” Courtwright, 351 West Canedy, Springfield, Ill., 62704, has joined Jack Pfieffer, Ed McCall and Bruce Bagg in planning a 1976 reunion marking the 20th anniversary of alums at Little Grassy, Thompson Point #4 and Bailey Hall and invites those interested to get in touch with him . . . Three additional grants totaling $78,736.87 have been received by the Rehabilitation Institute at SIU bringing its total awards from federal and state agencies for 1974–75 training and service programs to approximately $405,000, according to Guy A. Renzaglia, Institute director . . . Two grants of $750 each have been made to SIU by the Weston Pulp and Paper Company of Terre Haute, Ind., to support research by Paul Roth and Gerald Coorts of the School of Agriculture faculty on utilizing hardwood bark chips. This is the fourth year Weston has supported this research . . . The Gulf Oil Foundation came to the aid of the Veterans Emergency Loan Fund with a check for $1,000 last month. Don J. Taylor, field coordinator for Gulf Oil’s 13-state Midcontinent Region, presented the check to President Hiram H. Lestar. The gift will be used by the SIU Foundation to replenish the loan fund—threatened by the recent expiration of a federal grant . . . A total of $117,949 in outside grant money for archaeological projects in Southern Illinois has been received by the University Museum at SIU. The National Park Service, Illinois Department of Conservation, Illinois Archaeological Survey, Illinois Department of Transportation, City of Carbondale, U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Soil Conservation Service, National Endowment for the Humanities, Wenner-Gren Foundation and Consolidation Coal Co., were among those making grants.
