Russia students and the war

Despite the compelling need for occasional便宜, two of those students, according to some, did not agree to attend. The student was later asked for a statement of his own view.

The Student Finance Committee, in a meeting held last Monday night, discussed the matter with the president of the university, who was present to give the committee a report on the financial situation of the university. The committee was asked to take action on the matter.

JUST A LITTLE INFLATION

The inflation theory, used in the House of Representatives in their usual tongue-in-cheek fashion, passed the anti-inflation bill by a 412-1 vote. It seems they felt a "little inflation wouldn't be a bad thing". The bill was estimated that with substances like bread, butter, eggs, milk, and sugar, a "little inflation" with its attendant evils of high prices, would be impractical.

The anti-inflation bill is now in the Senate and is expected to pass. However, the Senate and House of Representatives may force them to hold new hearings. There is still time to persuade your Senator and Congressmen that, even a "little inflation" could defeat the bill next year.

The anti-inflation bill, it has been explained, is a step in the right direction. It is expected. If a "little inflation" is not enough, there is always a "little inflation" with its attendant evils of high prices. With a higher cost of living, the bill would be unnecessary.

The anti-inflation bill will now go to the Senate for its decision. The Senate, it is expected, will pass the bill next year.

TWO GREAT REVOLUTIONS!

The First Revolution

The Revolution for Independence in 1776 was for individual freedom from oppression. The struggle was for the preservation of rights of the people, not just for freedom from one ruler. This was the beginning of the modern world.

The Second Revolution

The struggle for freedom from England's control through machinery and factories. The new factory system was a revolution. It made the factory owners very rich, but it also gave the workers the right to unionize and protect their rights.
