Southern’s Cagers to Open Season Against Oklahoma State Tonight

Game Starts At 8 in Arena

By Bob Reincke

Southern’s basketball team opens its 1964-65 season at 8 o’clock tonight in the Arena when it takes on the rugged Cowboys from Oklahoma State.

The game will mark the first time the Arena has been used for a basketball contest. The sprawling, domed structure has been the site of a busy shuffle in recent weeks, as workers were making last minute adjustments for the start of the season.

The $4 million Arena, completed this spring, will hold more than 10,000 fans, quite a switch from the crowded conditions in the Men’s Gym where the games were held in the past. The glassed-in booths above the playing floor have facilities for more than 20 radio stations, and sports writers will sit at floor-level on the west side.

The ticket office in the Arena will be open all day today and tonight before the game starts.

Students who have purchased an athletic event ticket for the quarter will have to show this ticket at the office to receive a ticket for the game. Those who do not have athletic tickets can pick up game tickets for 50 cents by showing their activity cards.

Those who have purchased their tickets before the game can enter at the west or south entrances. Wheel-chair students should enter at the south main lobby since they will sit at the south side of the floor.

Tonight’s game will only be the second in Southern’s history against Oklahoma State, which beat us 83-54 last year. The game will also have special significance for coach Jack Hartman since he will be sending the Salukis against his alma mater, Hartman lettered in football and basketball in his college days there.

The Cowboys are rated as one of the top teams in the Big Eight Conference this year, but they have been hampered by the loss of center Bob Swaffar. The 6-9 Swaffar had his right arm severed in an accident early in November. He is now recovering from surgery which reimplanted the arm.

The Salukis will also be in action Wednesday night when they face North Dakota State in the Arena.

Wednesday’s game will be televised on WSIU-TV, Channel 8, beginning at 7:45 with a pregame show. It will be the first live television coverage of a sports event by WSIU-TV.

Meantime, anyone who wants to see each one of 33 per cent of Southern Illinois towns has come in a car, a truck, or a bus. In a very short time he will be saying "Southern Illinois has no brighter fare to try."

Maybe you've read recently in newspapers that the Illinois legislature has孺ed 633 new physicians and surgeons last year. What became of all those people? A simple question—a complicated answer.

Most of these men, shini new black bag in hand, left Illinois for greener pastures. A large percentage of them remained in urban centers to specialize. Only a small min-ity returned to hang out a shingle in a grassroots community.

For example, eight major Southern Illinois towns have sent a total of 52 doctors to medical schools in the last 15 years. Only two of them came back to practice medicine in their home areas.

The need for general practice doctors in Southern Illinois is of prime concern. But it is not the only medical problem. There is a need for specialists in pediatrics, obstetrics, neurology, pediatrics, dermatology, surgery, orthopedics, and many more.

What's being done to redress this situation? Nothing. New medical schools are planned in three places in the country and the number of students is not expected to rise. The need for specialists in medicine is not being addressed.

Emerson Healthcare Coalition (Chicago, Illinois) What's being done to redress this situation? Nothing. New medical schools are planned in three places in the country and the number of students is not expected to rise. The need for specialists in medicine is not being addressed.

Police Chief Cites Peril of Slick Streets

With the arrival of hazardous driving weather, Carbondale Police Chief Jack G. Hazel warned motorists to be especially cautious of pedestrians.

He pointed out that while many students persist in operating bicycles and scooters well into the winter, they can be extremely hard to control on slippery pavement.

With the Southern Illinois climate often causing sudden shifts from freezing to thawing and back, Hazel said, motorists from other areas, are often caught by surprise when they find themselves driving on ice. A number of bridges in the Carbondale area are often coated even when the rest of the area is clear, he continued, thus increasing the necessity for alert driving.

Hazel also warned that a number of Carbondale's old brick streets can pose a hazard for motorists accustomed to driving on brick pavement. Snow-covered bricks can be much more slick than concrete.

Magazine Editor To Speak Tonight

The editor of the printing trade magazine Graphic Arts Monthly will speak on problems facing the printing industry when he visits the campus today.

Arch Macready will address a meeting of the SIU Printing Management Club at 7:30 p.m. in Room 106 of the Agriculture Building. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Macready, who was granted a combined degree in business, English, languages and engineering in 1950 from the University of Miami, has also done graduate work and has studied law.

He has been with the Graphic Arts Monthly since September, 1963, and was made editor in January of this year. Prior to joining the magazine staff, he was executive secretary of several associations in the printing industry in Illinois for several years. Earlier he was employed by a New York advertising firm.

DOORS WERE SHUT AND SHADIES WERE DRAWN TO KEEP OUT THE COLD NIGHT AIR, WHICH SENT THERMOMETERS SHIVERING DOWN TO A MINUS ONE DEGREE NOV. 30-1929, THAT IS.

Relax, it dropped to only eight degrees above Sunday night, which is still on the good side of the mercury reader.

Snowfall in the Carbondale area was light Sunday, but the snow fell fast and slick on the highways on which turkey-filled students rode back from their Thanksgiving holidays, causing much delay and dis­comfort to the bogged-down travelers.

SIU and the surrounding area need not expect any more snow for several days, despite the cold weather which will be present.

"I don't think there will be much snow, if any, for awhile," Floyd F. Cunningham, director of the SIU Climatology Laboratory, said.

"The weather will be fair, cloudy and quite cold for the next few days," Cunningham said.

The Midwest area is now on the receiving end of the cold air that has been building up in the Arctic regions. These outbursts of cold air, which will bring snow, wind, cold and all the delight­ful effects of winter, can be expected from now through January and February, Cunningham said.

There is no way of knowing for certain when a snow storm might slip up on you, he added. Second semester students might wake up and have to dip their way to classes.

Oh well, fighting forest fires, building flood water dams and floundering through snow are just part of the SIU curriculum.

SIU Applies For U.S. Aid

SIU is among 27 Illinois schools who have applied for federal aid in education to the Illinois Board of Higher Education. The University applied for $1 million for construction of the physical sciences building on the Carbondale campus. A second request of $200,000 was made for construction of the communications building on the Edwardsville campus.

The U.S. Office of Education will review the application for final eligibility after the state board determines project priorities. John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs, said he expects to be notified by Christmas if SIU has received its requested aid.

"Chances are very good for receiving it," he said.

Business Study To Be Discussed

Richmond Lloyd, assistant dean of students in the Graduate School of Business at the University of Chicago, will hold interviews from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Dec. 7.

Students interested in graduate education for business are urged to apply to Lloyd and should arrange interviews through the Placement Service at Anthony Hall.

Lloyd will discuss graduate programs of study at the Graduate School of Business and to provide information about financial aid and career opportunities.

Fall Enrollment Lists Students From 48 States, 63 Nations

As Robert MacVicar, vice president of academic affairs, once said, "Ours is a society where blue jeans and blue bloods mix equitably."

Ours is also a society where students and foreign na­tions mix equitably.

According to recent statistics, SIU's Carbondale campus includes students from 48 states and the District of Columbia, as well as from 63 foreign nations and territorial possessions.

A breakdown of the fall term registration supplied by the Registrar's Office through the Data Processing and Computing Center shows students leading in the number of stu­dents from outside of Illinois. The 296 Missouri students enrolled include 141 from St. Louis.

New York State is second in out-of-state enrollment, with 163 students. New Jersey is represented by 80, followed by Indiana with 76. Other states represented by 20 or more students are California, Florida, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Among international students, Nationalist China has the strongest representation, with 33. Iran has 25 students, Korea and Hong Kong 22 each. Canada 14 and India 13.

In all, the enrollment list shows 276 students with home addresses outside the United States.
Russian Funds Showdown Near As U.N. Session Opens Today

UNITED NATION, N.Y. (AP)—In an atmosphere of unprecedented uncertainty, diplomats from around the world converged on U.N. headquarters for the General Assembly session many regard as the most critical in history.

Failure to find a formula for postponing a U.S.-Soviet confrontation over U.N. peace-keeping assessments caused gloom to spread through the big glass and stone headquarters building in advance of today's opening.

Rusk-Gromyko Talks Fruitless, Soviets Reject U Thant's Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union reclaimed its battlefield last week that they would not be no occasion to question the voting rights of the Soviet Union.

The lack of immediate successor from the U.S.-Soviet ministers and others of intense diplomatic activity. All were watching the Soviet delegation headed by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Dean Rusk apparently failed toelsinki last of the year that could last for days, and put off indefinitely consideration of the demands of the lesser developed nations for a bigger slice of the world's economic output.

Failure to find a formula as in the past could bring a showdown on U.N. votes in the fall session could set off another round of U.N. voting.

There is evidence of some disagreement among both the State and Defense departments on the least means to safeguard the independence of leaguered South Viet Nam and meet the Communist guerrilla threat.

This divergence of views is more between individual officials in the U.S. government than between the State and Defense departments and the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Official spokesmen at State and Defense were under strict instructions not to speculate on the outcome of the president's meeting with Rusk.

The meeting is deemed of sufficient importance to call in the Secretary of State and Defense from today's opening session of the U.N. General Assembly's autumn meeting, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara also is due to attend.

Some pressure for strong action, including limited bombing of Viet supply routes in Laos, has come from Viet Nam, and from within the Pentagon.

Taylor to Confer With Johnson

On Plan of Action in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor held a final round of prelimentary talks Monday before reporting directly to President Johnson at the White House today on the tangled South Viet Nam situation.

There is evidence of some disagreement in both the State and Defense departments on the least means to safeguard the independence of beleaguered South Viet Nam and meet the Communist guerrilla threat.

This divergence of views is more between individual officials in the U.S. government than between the State and Defense departments and the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Taylor met with McNamara, Gen. Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Ambassador to the U.N. William P. Bundy Monday.

Hunter Drown's, Another Missing

At Crab Orchard

MARCIL, Ill. (AP)—A duck hunter drowned in Crab Orchard Lake and officials were searching late Monday for a third hunter suffering from exposure.

Terry Hudgens, 21, of Herrin was found on a shore of the reservoir with his bare foot wrapped in a life preserver and his face pressed against the cold water. Hudgens, who was within 10 feet of the shore, was found Saturday afternoon by a third hunter suffering from exposure.

The three hunters' overturned boat was floating nearby. Also in the icy water was the body of Michael Lindhorst, 20, of Carbondale.

Still missing was Jerry Hance, 21, of Cambria, who Hudgens said he heard thrashing in the frigid lake after wind-driven waves capsized the boat.

The three hunters were searching the lake for a third hunter suffering from exposure.

Congo Rebels Attack Stanleyville Airport

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo — Sharp fighting broke out Monday around Stanleyville Airport where a Belgian plane crashed Sunday amid heavy rebel sniper fire, killing at least 15 persons on board. Flights into Stanleyville were turned back.

It was not clear whether the Belgian DC4, chartered to transport refugees, was hit by rebel fire or by mechanical difficulties on its takeoff run. It crashed into a jungle at the end of the runway.

"The situation in Stanleyville is far from calm," a U.S. Embassy spokesman said Monday. Leopoldville indicated the rebels had regained virtually complete control over Stanleyville. Congolese Army troops held the jungle-edged airport. Six of the plane dead were Congolese. Among the Belgians over the weekend.

The Congolese troops remained around Stanleyville last Tuesday to join Liegeois, a Belgian who is a Congolese. Among the crewmen - and the seventh held the jungle-edged airport.

Saigon Forces Rip Viet Cong, Find New Enemy in Buffalo

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces ripped the Communist Viet Cong around Saigon and far to the north in actions reported Monday. In fighting near the capital, government forces stood off a charge by seven wild buffalo in addition to the Viet Cong.

A surprise helicopter-borne swoop 356 miles north of Saigon netted 34 guerrillas killed and 30 suspects captured, Only 18 miles from Saigon, the South Vietnamese repelled waves of yelling Viet Cong, killing 11.

Four Americans were repelled wounded in this action, three of them returning to duty after treatment. A Fifth American was wounded by small arms fire while on convoy duty northeast of Saigon.

Government losses from the Viet Cong and the buffalo near Saigon were placed at six men killed and 23 wounded, including one man gored as the buffalo chased by the scrapping instanter. Two buffalo were killed.

The buffalo charge came as an infantry battalion fought it's way through the three feet of water in swampy Vaico Oriental River country. The beasts charged a ragged defense line.

The Cong launched three attacks against the budding battalion Sunday afternoon. Thomas H. Flaker, an American adviser from Mineral Wells, Tex., said the Vietnamese troops first recoiled and then but off the Reds with the help of artillery and helicopter strikes.

The battalion withdrew Monday, still harrassed by sniper fire.

Frigid Air Mass Blankets Midwest

Bitter cold grips a broad section of the nation from the plains to the Appalachians. The mercury reached 30 degrees below zero Monday in northern Minnesota.

Record cold marks for November were reported by the Weather Bureau at Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., where the minimum was -16, at Norfork, Neb., with -15, and at Ottowawa, Iowa, with -8.

Heavy snow fell near the east and south shores of Lake Michigan, with a 17-inch fall climbing from 46 inches in the Twin Cities to nearly 48 inches in southern Michigan. There were snow-blocked roads also in the 1-state section of northern Indiana.

Schools were closed at New Buffalo, Mich., where snowfall totaled 13 inches.

D老实l s. the first round of inquiry into profitable business dealings of Baker, a "whitewash." Baker, who resigned in October, 1963, invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about his business affairs in the earlier hearings but nevertheless to be questioned again in the new round.

The already-completed phase of the inquiry ended with a major report accusing Baker of improper conduct but finding no evidence of law violation.

The Rules Committee plans to meet briefly this morning behind closed doors to agree on procedures for the inquiry which could get into some other explosive fields.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Nebr., a member, told reporters Monday that the committee has ample authority to investigate whether Baker was employed in connection with any business or political deals engineered from Control Hill.

Thanksgiving holiday traffic took a record 554 lives during the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

The toll was the largest in four-day Thanksgiving holiday traffic fatality surveys since they started in 1958, last year's November holiday period saw 543 traffic deaths, then also a record.

Baker Hearings to Resume On Campaign 'Payoff' Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — New round in the Bobby Baker probe starts here today, this time to explore in public hearings allegations of a hidden link between Kennedy Johnson national campaign fund.

The Senate Rules Committee is reopening the politically explosive investigation to look into charges linking the names of Baker, a former top Senate aide, and Democratic fund-raiser Matthew H. McCloskey with a reported payoff deal. McCloskey, a former ambassador to Ireland, has denied knowledge of any payoff.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., forced the reopening of the hearings with a Senate speech Sept. 1. I alleging that McCloskey, a Philadelphia contractor and often a Democratic party fund-raiser, had made a $35,000 overpayment to insurance agent Don B. Reynolds who wrote the performance bond on McCloskey's contract to build the Washington, D.C. Stadium.

Williams quoted Reynolds as saying that $25,000 of the overpayment was to be funneled into the Kennedy-Johnson fund through Baker, then secretary to the Senate Democratic majority. The Federal Corrupt Practices Act forbids campaign contributions by corporations. Reynolds and McCloskey are expected to be among the witnesses.

The committee's Republican members had sought in vain to launch the probe in the opening weeks of this year's presidential campaign. They called the investigation a "whitewash." Baker, who resigned in October, 1963, invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about his business affairs in the earlier hearings but nevertheless to be questioned again in the new round.

Cowboys Gallop Into SIU Arena
Minus Tall Center, Bob Swaffar

The Oklahoma State Cowboys will gallop into Carbondale intent on riding the Salukis into the floor of the SIU Arena in the 1964 basketball debut of both teams tonight. The Cowboys are led by Hank Iba, who is one of the winningest cage coaches in college history with more than 700 victories in his 31 years at the helm of the OSU team.

The 60-year-old Iba recently was honored for coaching the United States Olympic basketball team to victory in Tokyo. The Oklahoma squad, figured to be one of the Big Eight conference contenders, will be minus their big 6-foot-9 center Bob Swaffar.

Swaffar's right arm was severed last month in a commercial laundry machine accident in the basement of the OSU stadium.

In a miraculous operation, the severed arm was sewn back in place, and it now appears to have been saved. Just how much use of the arm will be restored is not known. Replacing Swaffar in the pivot position likely will be Gene Johnson, 6-7, who would otherwise have been playing at the forward position.

Other probable starters are Larry Hawk, All-Conference guard for two seasons and OSU's top scorer with a 13.8 average last year; Gary Hassman, State's second highest scorer last year, will be at forward or guard; James King, leading rebounder and third in scoring, will be the other forward.

Besides these seniors, all of whom have lettered twice, contenders for team positions will be seniors Paul LaBrune, Hugh Goodfield or Lester Berryhill, all lettermen. Several sophomores also may figure in the cage action.

Hartman's Hoopmen Open With Tough Test

Last Year's Leading Scorer, Four Other Veterans Enhance SIU Chances

Southern's basketball play-ers face a tough test in their first game of the season tonight, when they meet Oklahoma State, but coach Jack Hartman seems confident in his team.

"Our chances are good," Hartman said, "they have a good club, but we'll really be after them. If we play the type of game we are capable of, we'll be alright."

Hartman has six veterans in his probable starting lineup. Heading the list is last year's leading scorer and rebounder Joe Ramsey. The 6-5 senior from Sandoval averaged 16.7 points a game last year.

Joe McNeill will also have a good bench to rely upon this year. Included is one of last year's top reserves. McNeill will also have a six-foot guard who starred at Pinckneyville when he was in high school.

Hartman added that he would like to see a good crowd at the opener. "We would like to see good student support for the team, and we have the facilitating and the team for this year," he said.

Boegler, Wolfe Shine

Upperclass Gymnasts Trail

Underclass Team in Meet

The performances of Mike Boegler on the side horse and Bill Wolfe on the high bar were the only bright spots for the junior-senior gymnastics team as they bowed to a spirited freshman-sophomore team by 43 1/2-21.

Boegler, a transfer student from Flint, Michigan, Junior College, won the side horse event with a score of 92. Wolfe, apparently completely recovered from a knee operation last spring, finished first on the high bar with a score of 95.5. He also finished second on the rings with 90 points and the parallel bars with 84.5 points.

For the freshman-sophomore team Paul Mayer, Fred Dorn, Dale Hardt and Ron Harstad were victorious in five of the nine events.

Mayer finished first in free exercise and the long horse. Dennis won the rings, Hardt, the trampoline and Harstad, the parallel bars.

The varsity’s first regularly scheduled meet will be 4 p.m. Dec. 11 against the University of Denver.

SIU's Dan Shaughnessy Wins 6 1/2-Mile Run at Chicago Meet

Despite windy weather and sub-freezing temperatures, Danny Shaughnessy, SIU freshman from Allenton, Canada, captured the 6,000-meter grid of the U.S. Track and Field Federation by 120 yards.

Shaughnessy completed the 61/2-mile cross country run at Washington Park, Chicago, in 30:37.8. He had never attempted the distance in competition before.

For the first two miles of the race Shaughnessy and the University of Kansas’ top runner, Bill Silverberg, set the pace. At this juncture of the race, Shaughnessy grabbed the lead and extended it to finish. Southern finished with a score of 76 which placed them second in the meet. University of Tennessee, whose winning score was 41.

Saluki cross country coach, Lew Hartzog, who at the start of the season had predicted his team would improve over the season and finish strong, was pleased with the showing of all his boys.

Bill Cornell, the only senior on the team, finished 19th with a time of 32:17. Sophomore Alan Ackman and John Trowbridge finished 21st and 22nd respectively with times of 32:24 and 32:26.

Tom Curry and Dave Magee, freshmen, turned in credible times of 32:45 and 33:29 respectively. Junior Jack Leydig was next with 33:31.

Hartzog is looking expectantly to next season, since he will lose only Cornell from this season’s team. Next year, said Hartzog, “we should have the best cross country team in the school’s history.”
