Southern To Have Temporary Student Union Building

In view of the present never-ending space over which educational and industrial purposes are being planned for this university building, our temporary student union building, according to M. S. Huy, dunn, one of the campus brothers, will be installed in the future. In the immediate future a new housing arrangement will be provided for the students, and new buildings will be constructed to accommodate the increasing student bodies. The new building will be completed during the current year. The students are eager for the new facilities and are looking forward to the completion of the new building.

State Legislators Visit Campus; Pledge Support

Twelve members of the General Assembly, representing the Southern Illinois district visited the campus last week. They were guests of the University, to whom they extended their best wishes for the continued success and growth of the institution. They were received by President Robert J. Young, Mayor Ralph B. McMillan, and Dr. Charles T. Tenney, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Seniors Will Meet For Performances

Each year on senior night, the students of the College of Education meet for performances. This year, the performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. sharp on the campus lawn. The performances will feature the senior classes of the College of Education. The students will present their talents in a variety of ways, including music, dance, and other artistic performances. The audience is encouraged to attend and enjoy the talents of the seniors.

The Revellers

Revelers, Male Quartet Have Over 2,000 Songs

The library of the Revellers, a male quartet, is one of the largest in the nation. The group has over 2,000 special arrangements from all over the world. The Revellers are known for their unique style and their ability to perform a wide range of musical genres. They are a popular attraction on campus and are eagerly awaited by the students.

Letters to The Editor

As a member of the Student Council, I was pleased to see the results of the recent election, "Council vs. President." The victory by the council is not without significance. The election is not merely a contest but a reflection of the changing nature of student governance. In recent years, there has been a movement towards participatory decision-making, where the voices of students are heard. This is a significant step in the right direction, and it is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the council members.

It is also important to note that the election results are a sign of the times. The issues of transparency, accountability, and student voice are increasingly important in the governance of universities. The council's victory is a victory for the principles of democracy and student engagement.

As we look towards the future, we must continue to fight for the rights of students and the principles of democracy. The council's victory is a victory for all of us, and we must continue to work towards a future where the voices of students are heard and respected.

Yours sincerely,

Southern Has Less Than Half Space Per Student Needed

The chart below shows the space per student has been falling at Southern Illinois University since 1969. Prepared by a faculty-student committee to determine the school's critical need for new buildings, the chart shows that the space per student is not even the early 1960s, when the space per student was 200 square feet. In recent years, the space per student has decreased, with only 50 square feet per student in 2019.

This is not to say that the university is not doing its best to accommodate the growing student population. The university has added new buildings and renovated existing ones. However, the chart clearly shows that the space per student is not meeting the needs of the students.

As we continue to demand better facilities and resources for our students, we must also consider the impact of this trend on our future. The university must prioritize the needs of its students and ensure that they have the space and resources they need to succeed.

Yours sincerely,

AU-Star surprise Maroons Monday with upset win In accuracy shooting lesson

By Bill Holliday

The old adage that "the old gray mare isn't what she used to be" didn't hold true here Monday night as the 1941 Southern cage champions returned to the Sesame Court like弾丸with a bang. The Maroons, who had lost their first two games, scored an upset victory over the defending champions. The game was a thrilling spectacle from start to finish.

The Maroons, who had been held scoreless in their first two games, began the contest with a bang. They led 10-2 before the halfway mark and held the title even as the second half. The Maroons scored 10 points in the first quarter, 10 in the second, 12 in the third, and 18 in the fourth to win comfortably.

The Maroons were led by four starters, who averaged 15 points each. The starting lineup included Bill Collins, DuQuoin, Collins, Carl Birkner, and Pinckneyville. The latter two players scored 10 points each. Bob Colbourn, a reserve, scored 8 points. The Maroons also received 12 points from quarterback Frank Sheffer, who played both ways.

The Maroons played a fast-paced, high-scoring game. They made up for their earlier losses by playing a more aggressive style of basketball. They shot 50 percent from the floor and 35 percent from the three-point line. They also had 12 assists and 10 rebounds. The Maroons had 16 turnovers, but they forced 20 turnovers by the Bears.

The Bears, who had lost their first two games, were led by four starters, who averaged 14 points each. The starting lineup included Bill Collins, DuQuoin, Collins, Carl Birkner, and Pinckneyville. The latter two players scored 10 points each. Bob Colbourn, a reserve, scored 8 points. The Bears also received 12 points from quarterback Frank Sheffer, who played both ways.

The Bears played a more conservative style of basketball. They shot 40 percent from the floor and 25 percent from the three-point line. They had 12 assists and 10 rebounds. The Bears had 16 turnovers, but they forced 20 turnovers by the Maroons.
