EIGHTH GRADERS

BENEFIT GAME STUDENTS CHANCE TO AID STADIUM FUND

Time may be too late to be given the opportunity to express direct vote their support for the football stadium fund. However, in the railing of the necessary funds to begin construction, the stadium fund may be evidenced in the student body voting for the stadium. The student body vote is the only way the activities of the student body will be of value to the football stadium fund. It is estimated that about $200 can be secured from the stadium fund if the student body vote is favorable. To support the stadium fund, the students should vote yes.

This season the college had a twenty game schedule. The stadium will be used in the home game and played on the home court. One concession will be available for the student body to vote for the stadium fund. The student body vote will be made after the stadium fund is voted on.

There are always requests for new subjects but there is no guarantee that these requests will be met. The student body vote will be made after the stadium fund is voted on.

DOBBS ADMITS VALUE OF PUBLICITY AND \r
"YOU PANIC WHEN YOU \r WERE INTERVIEWED AFTER CONCERT"

BY FRANIE SAMUEL \r

Regina Zelenski, concert pianist, was \r completely unaware of the commotion \r outside the school where she was giving \r her annual recital on Thursday. \r

"I have been performing for the past 12 years, \r and I have never received such a response \r from the audience," she said. "It was \r wonderful to see all the people \r outside admiring my performance." \r

When asked what had caused the \r commotion, Ms. Zelenski said, "I \r think it was the music that \r moved them to come out and \r admire." \r

The crowd was so large that \r the concert hall was overflowing \r with people. Many had to stand \r outside, listening to the music. \r

"It was such a great night. \r We had so many people \r coming in and out," said Ms. Zelenski. \r

Later in the evening, after the \r concert was over, Ms. Zelenski \r received a call from a \r local radio station, \r asking if she would be \r available for an interview. \r

"I was so surprised when they \r called me," she said. "I \r never expected to be \r interviewed after the \r concert." \r

When asked what she thought \r of the interview, Ms. Zelenski said, "I \r thought it was a great idea. \r I think it's important to \r share the music with \r as many people as possible." \r

The interview was conducted \r by a local radio host, who \r asked Ms. Zelenski about her \r performance and her future \r plans. \r

"I'm really looking forward \r to the future," she said. "I have \r so many things \r planned for the \r
upcoming year." \r

The concert was a huge success, \r and Ms. Zelenski was \r overwhelmed by the \r support. She \r thanked everyone \r
for coming and \r expressed her gratitude \r for the opportunity to \r perform. \r

The next concert will be held in \r March, and Ms. Zelenski \r is already \r
working on her next performance. \r

"I'm already planning my next \r concert," she said. "I can't \r wait to perform again."
SOUTHERN WINS TWO AND SUFFERS FIRST DEFEAT IN LAST WEEK

Drop 27-25 Thriller To Wesleyan Here Friday Night

DEFEAT CAPE, 34-30, SATURDAY

Maroon Record Now Stands At 9-1-1. And One Loss

In their last three contests, the Southern Maroons added two wins and a loss to their record of 9-1-1, covering the three-game period of last week with a 69-76 defeat of 1955 Wesleyan, at Cape Fieldhouse, on Thursday night; and with the 34-30 defeat of Southern Cape on Saturday night at the Cape Fieldhouse.

The victory over 1955 Wesleyan was the second in a row for the Southern team, as they defeated the 1955 Maroons 80-74 on the first day of the week.

A full house of fans turned out to see the game. The game was the most exciting of the week, with both teams fighting hard for the lead. The Southern team managed to pull ahead in the final minutes, and withstood a comeback attempt by the 1955 team to win the game.

The 34-30 defeat of Southern Cape was also a hard-fought game. The Southern team managed to maintain a lead throughout the game, with a few exciting moments when the Southern Opponents threatened to pull ahead. However, the Southern team managed to hold on and secure the victory.
