SOUTHERN'S MADRIGAL SINGERS Take Part in Concert at SIU

Wearing authentic costumes of the Elizabethan age, 12 members of the university Madrigal singers combined talents with Madrigal groups from Benton, Murphysboro, and Carlin high schools to present a concert Monday night.

More than 50 singers, including the alumni of Southern's Madrigal group, sang without accompaniment of musical instruments at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

SOUTHERN'S MADRIGAL singers, organized in 1940 by Floyd V. Waelk, associate professor of music, increased the popularity of madrigal singing in Southern Illinois and the success of this group has led to the establishment of Madrigal groups in several high schools of the area.

According to Waelk, madrigals are simple folk tunes elaborated by the addition of melodies and counter melodies that flow freely in and out. The first madrigals, at least 400 years old, were probably Flemish folk songs which were written and popularized by Italian composers and quietly adopted by both the French and English. The singing of madrigals became extremely popular in England during Queen Elizabeth's time when every cultured person was expected to be a madrigal singer.

U. of I. Art Exhibit

To Open at SIU Monday

A new art show will open in Southern Illinois University's Little Gallery Monday, featuring paintings and sculpture by members of the University of Illinois art faculty.

Egyptian Editor, Business Manager Resign Positions

Hollida is planning to practice teaching at Mt. Vernon this spring. Under the 16-hour teaching system, he will live in Mt. Vernon.

Smith is resigning from another campus position.

The Publications Council announced that there may be a shuffling of the staff in order to fill the vacancies and applications are being accepted for editor-in-chief, managing editor, and business manager. Any student is eligible to apply. All three are paid positions.

Applications may be picked up at the Egyptian office. The applications should be returned by March 9.

Stressed To Discuss

Klein Report, Dorms /

This meeting this afternoon, the university Board of Trustees will discuss the Klein report, which is a report on the rules and regulations and by-laws of the university. The board will also take action on the report and discuss the proposed self-governing dormitories.

KNOP NAMED PRESIDENT OF AGRICULTURE CLUB

Ed Knop was named president of Southern's agriculture club in a meeting held Tuesday. Other officers were: Fred Price, vice-president; Robert Waltz, secretary; Robert Aaron, treasurer; Leon Luther, reporter; and Robert Quigley, sergeant-at-arms.

James Ewing, director of education and sales promotion for Dearborn Equipment Co., prefigured a movie entitled, "Waves of Green," which is a tribute to what college science has done for agriculture. The film is open to all agriculture majors and minors, will be Tuesday, March 20.

March 17: A broadcast from WGN in Chicago will be the climax of the tour on March 18.

Due to the housing shortage and transportation costs, only one-half of the group will make the tour.

The clarinet quartet will be Forrest Taylor, David Dickson, Jim Finn, and Leah Bradly. The quartet will be under the direction of Robert S. Resick.

More Than 50 Members of SIU's Choir And Madrigals To Go On Spring Tour

Southern's a cappella choir and Madrigal quartet will begin their annual spring tour on March 11, according to Floyd V. Waelk, choir director.

This tour will encompass towns in Illinois and Missouri. Concerts will be given at ten high schools and three churches. A performance of the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs will be given.

Retail Courses Offered by SIU

Another series of courses in "Modern Retail Salesmanship" will open in Marion March 7, according to Ernest J. Simon, director of Southern Illinois University's Vocational Technical Institute.

The courses are offered by the Institute as a service to the area and cover such subjects as "Approaching the Customer," "How to Develop a Sales Personality," "Selling," and "Closing the Sale."

The series will continue after school days in Marion. Tuition is $16.50 per student, and there is a $5.00 registration fee.

The series will begin March 7, and will be given on seven weeks in Marion, was completed Wednesday.

Purpose of the series is to benefit other sales people in the area who are unable to get into the class. There is no service charge for three dollars for the complete course. Instructional materials are furnished free by the University.

LAST EGYPTIAN TERM THIS YEAR

Symbol Election Is Scheduled for Registration Day

SIU symbol committee members decided at a meeting Wednesday to present a list of suggested names for the Southern symbol at a referendum to be held during the registration for spring term, March 19.

A proposal to that effect is being sent to the Student Council for consideration. Deciding to have the election during registration was based on the fact that more students may be reached on that day.

VOTERS NOT wishing to select any of the names on the ballot may submit a name of their own in a write-in space provided on the same ballot. The names and majority of votes will be considered the winner, and results will be announced by the committee.

This election is not restricted to students and faculty members may vote if they wish. Alumni of SIU and SIU employees residing in the area are also invited to vote.

Pre-registration For Spring Total, 2,123

A total of 2,123 students have pre-registered for spring term, university officials said this week.

Spring term registration will be held Monday, March 19. Spring vacation for Southern proceeds Saturday, March 20, and will continue through Sunday, March 21.

Gym Contest Extended, To Be Open To Public

A special student-faculty committee to pick a name for Southern's gymnasium has recommended an extension of the contest in a meeting Wednesday night.

The committee also voted to throw open the Egyptian gym contest open to alumni and persons living in the area in an effort to get the best name possible.

FOLLOWING THE committee's suggestion, the Egyptian has lifted its restrictions on nominations, pur­posing the contest open to all interested persons. A $75 award will be made to the person suggesting the winning name.

The committee emphasized that the name for a Southern's 26-year-old gymnasium is very important and that suggestions for a name for Southern's 26-year-old gymnasium are very important and that recommendations of names are not looking for suggestions for names of names.

A New College Deferral System

THE KOREAN WAR and the threat of Communist Russia have thrown the United States and the entire world into a period of fear and indecision.

This indecision and not knowing what to do is quite prevalent among college non-veteran males and high school students.

Many of their not knowing what to do, however, is not entirely caused by the tense world situation, it is caused by the lack of a more definite government policy governing the drafting of high school and college students.

Selective service officials have recently given college students the right to join which branch they want to, and still continue to college until summer, but on most things the present selective service system leaves students in the dark.

(According to draft boards, they also have much trouble knowing the true facts.)

WE DO NOT WANT to see selective service carried on unilaterally, but we think it is possible to clear up much of the students' indecision and at the same time help keep as many students as possible in college.

We advocate that all college students be allowed to continue in school until:

1. They graduate.
2. They drop out of school for low grades or other reasons.
3. They want to join the armed forces.

No one will deny that this would relieve the uncertainty surrounding most male students.

Under this system, a student could go ahead and make his plans to either go on to school or go into the service.

Many in college now might not return if their education were disrupted by two or three years of service in the armed forces.

MANY COLLEGES and universities now have an ROTC system similar to the one we are advocating for all colleges.

Under the ROTC program which Southern is trying to get, any ROTC student can continue his college studies and in addition be officers upon entering the service.

Some persons may say that under the suggested system, thousands of poor or mediocre students might flock to college to avoid the draft.

Such students would be eliminated as they were dropped from college because of their low marks. Also, everyone would have to serve in the armed forces sooner or later; hence, it is simply a matter of time.

We know that in case of all-out war, this system would not work, but if the Korean conflict continues at its present pace, then we think the system would work out very well.

Our editorship closes with this issue.

We appreciate the help and support students and faculty members have given us during our editorship.

We especially appreciate the editorial freedom which has been given us. The importance of this editorial freedom cannot be over emphasized.

We have tried to present the news fairly, accurately, and as quickly as possible.

Several Projects?

Some students have suggested to us that the KDA's should not spend all the Variety Show profits on just one Southern charit, but should distribute it over several things.

We think this idea is a good one. For one of the small items, may we suggest a sign advertising SIU along the Illinois Central tracks? (This idea was first made by a Southern student last year.)

We feel sure that students know of other small projects which need just a little financial backing.

The 60 good to miss department: Within the next year or two we expect to hear of a new book called, "From Adam to Atom." Maybe we'll write the book ourselves if the top sergeant will allow us plenty of time to do the research on it.

Wanted: Good Roommates

1. Be considerate (about light, radio, use of room, etc.).
2. Respect personal property and privacy.
3. Be loyal.
4. Go at least half-way.
5. Help keep a neat room.
6. Be able to discuss controversial questions without getting ruffled.
7. Makes reasonable adjustments.
8. Keep reasonable hours.
9. Cultivate a cheerful disposition.

Things to avoid, according to the survey are:

1. Thinking chiefly of self.
2. Making unreasonable demands.
4. Borrowing without asking.
5. Leaving things scattered.
6. Arguing heatedly and repeatedly.
7. Being too noisy.
8. Coming in late and waking everyone up.

A Vote Against Peacetime UMT

Universal Military Training under the present emergency or in a world war may be a necessity for the United States. However, we think a peacetime UMT should be avoided if at all possible.

We are afraid of the great burden UMT would make on our economy, but more than that we are afraid of the unforeseen effects that UMT would have on the morals, the thinking and the outlook of the nation's youth.

Under peacetime UMT we are afraid that the United States will become a very conservative (extreme liberalism is just as bad), that the nation's youths would become so accustomed to obeying orders and "getting by with the least possible work" that all civilian jobs would be hurt by this thought process.

We are not against drafting or UMT during periods of emergency or war, but we think permanent UMT is one of America's greatest potential dangers.

Smile Awhile

SAY THERE! Know what week this is? It's National Smile week! What's that? . . . wars, increasing prices, additional taxes, romance troubles, finals coming up next week, term papers due . . . nothing to smile about.

We'll be among the first to agree that there is plenty of things NOT to smile about in this world. But on the other hand, we think there are many things to be happy about.

Too often we are looking only for the gloomy side of life and in doing this, miss out on some of the brighter things. We don't like to see people go around laughing all the time. But on the other hand, we don't like people to continually take serious things lightly, but on the other hand a person who never smiles is about the most disliked person there is—and rightly so.

So how about it? How about a big smile . . . and before the day is over, let's have a few more of these smiles.

Semi-weekly Leads
In Egyptian Poll

The semi-weekly paper leads over the weekly paper according to the Egyptian poll of semi-weekly vs. weekly newspaper.

However, Editor Bill Hollada emphasized that only a very small number of ballots have come in so far and that conclusions could not be made until more students make known their view.

Another poll on the semi-weekly paper vs. weekly appears in today’s paper. If you haven’t voted yet, simply cut it out and drop it in the letter box editor or send it the Egyptian via campus mail.

HERE ARE SOME of the comments that have come in so far:

“Things get in the paper twice as quick.”

“I want to see the news as it’s made! If I have to wait a week to get the news, I haven’t heard it.”

Flight From Fear

SIU Student Tells of Escape From Russians

Veronika Burgess has studied English in Latvia for three years, but had her first two weeks at SIU almost a blank. “I sat there in class day after day listening to the instructor and I didn’t understand a word he said.” Since then, however, she has achieved a record to be proud of.

Her quiet life as a student is a decided change. She told of fleeing Latvia in 1944 with her son Max when the Russians took complete possession of her country. Then, she went to Poland, Germany, and then, in 1947, to the United States with her American husband, whom they both worked in the same medical supply unit in Germany.

1940 IN LATVIA was a time of great disturbance—fear was there, and tragedy. Veronika Burgess wandered from one place to another within her own country. After escaping to Poland, she went through the bombing after another—always fleeing the Russians.

“In order to leave a town it was necessary to go to the station and get on a train (if you could) any train—going anywhere. One did not question where. You were just glad to get away. Nothing was safe. We lived in fear years, of terrifying escapes; of bombings when the effort to run to safety was too much.”

1947 THE DRAGGING nearness of sleepless nights, of terrifying escapes, of bombings when the effort to run to safety was too much, the “I-don’t-cares’” blotted out the fear of the finality of death, walking twenty miles for food, sleeping on straw bags, waiting for days by the sea as other weeping women held farewell to husbands and country, forged papers, clever lying, stolen potatoes, bravery and daring—all this and much more tumbled from the lips of Veronika Burgess.

“I don’t think I could do it again,” she said. When friends ask—“how did you ever manage?”—her reply is always—“you must just do it—it is as though you were being held—everything seems clear—must do it”—I must do that!”

She sighed and relaxed. “You don’t know how wonderful,” is the last thing she says, “one must be to have that one is going to break in and threaten the family.”

SIU Student Sees Red After Making Detailed Communist Investigation

By Roy L. Clark

Mr. Alfonso P. Fluffleguffle

Subversive Activities, Soc. “A”
Dept. of State, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Fluffleguffle:

The name is not Cluts, I assume that you were addressing me in your letter of Dec. 1st. Allow me to inform you that I am not, the person you are looking for. I am not a Communist. I was not registering, I merely wanted information about the person by obtaining by writing the State Dept.

Please disregard my earlier letter, and remove my name from your list of Communists, you have put your life in jeopardy, so we are assigning 27 guards, armed with sub-machine guns, working in 24 hour teams, to stand by your side every minute of the day.

Yours, very, very truly,

P. S. Your information concerning subversive activities by the SIU faculty is not correct. Please submit the names of those whom you suspect, and we will investigate. (S) By the way, your request for a new name has been O.K. You may choose between Stalin Grzymo, or Vashinsky.

Mr. A. P. Fluffleguffle

Washington, D. C.

Listen Fluffleguffle!

I have a story about all I am going to stand! I want my name LEFT UNCHANGED! I do not suspect any of my friends or activities! And if you don't stop writing me, you will hears from my lawyer!

Roy Clark

Mr. Roger Q. Satcheff

SIU

C'dale, Ill.

Dear Mr. Satcheff:

So your lawyer's name is Clark? If possible please find his relationship to the Clark who is planning to overthrow the government, and become king of the western hemisphere. You said that you want Leif Un Chang—just as I suspected, you are a Chinese Communist. I did not tell you that when you registered. I must ask you not to leave out essentials in the future.

Yours,

A. P. All Communists are to be sterilized. Report to your city hospital as your earliest convenience.

Number Entering Service Drops

Number of men students leaving Southern for the armed forces is growing, has made it necessary for the dean of men to release the office of the dean of men.

From Feb. 1 to Feb. 19, only eight students have withdrawn from school to serve in the armed forces this term. Since September, the various services have claimed 219 male students. Those dropping out since Feb. 1 include the following:

Air Force—William M. Burt
Navy—Jackson Fosse; Monte Houghton
Merchant—Lowell Hise
Recalled—Hadley L. Foster, Gene Graves.

Personnel Deans Send Out Activity Blanks

Student activity blanks were sent out to all students of Southern for the week for the first time, according to Clark Davis, dean of men.

Inauguration of this new procedure is being jointly sponsored by the office of the dean of men and the dean of women.

PURPOSE OF these blanks is to secure a well-rounded account of the students' participation in school activities. These activity blanks will be placed in the student personnel files for reference purposes of the school and the students' future employers.

In the near future, IBM cards will be made for each student listing his school activity participation. These IBM cards will be used by the alumni service to contact and inform Southern, has been promoted to the position of Deputy Chief of Public Affairs division, office of the dean of women.

Former SIU Dean Gets Promotion in German

Dr. Eugene K. Fair, former Dean of the College of Education at Southern, has been promoted to the position of Deputy Chief of Public Affairs division, office of the Land Commission for Hesse, second largest state in the United States zone of Germany.

Fair, who entered government service in January, 1948, will also be Chief of the Education and Cultural Relations branch for the area.

Dark Musings...

Clark Thanks KDA's for Black-faceless Program

By Roy L. Clark

The KDA Variety Show was quite a success, even without the black-face actors. This is further proof that good entertainment never humilates anyone. When it does, it is no longer good.

Prior to the show, quite a bit of tact and diplomacy were required on the part of a friend of mine to keep the "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy" act from being done in blackface.

In fact there is nothing wrong with blackface. The harm is in the fact that this is a stereotype that quite a few Negroes are trying to live down. Such portrayals don't help.

IT HAS CEASED being a question of whether or not we can take a joke on ourselves, since such jokes go deeper than a joke should. This can be illustrated better by an observation made by Bernard Shaw, who said: "The haughty American nation... makes the Negro clean its boots, and then proves the inferiority of the Negro by the fact that he is a bootblack." Could you blame us for not finding it funny? And like last year, the following argument was presented: "I'm the son of an immigrant Italian fruit peddler, but I don't become offended when someone tells a joke on 'Tony.'" This proves my point further...

The son of an experienced church worker.

SCF Plans Church School Conference

Southern students who may do workers in church vacation schools will be given a chance to attend sessions of a church school conference in Carbondale according to Rev. Enwood K. Wylie, director of the Student Christian Foundation.

Last year, the SCF requested that such a conference be held in Carbondale for the benefit of university students. Tuesday, March 6, a church school conference will be conducted at the First Baptist church from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Rev. Wayne W. Hoxie of Mt. Vernon will direct a team of two experienced church youth workers at the conference.
The Old Hansel, Gretel Were Never Like This

By Robert L. Coover

Once upon a time there were a brother and a sister and their names were Hansel and Gretel. Well, they weren't really brother and sister—they just happened to have the same mother and father.

It seems the old lady had hopscotched fast to Saintburg and left the old man at home. Well, this bigamist wasted no time in pickin’ up another mate—the one a first-rate talent scout from Maltzberg's busyman—already he became the second Mrs. Fignewton Gratzenflubber (can you blame the first one for leaving?)

AT ANY RATE this stepmother was a real crone. She was so mean she used to make Hansel sing "I'll Miss You So," as she gently ran his fingers through the most-fragile. While washing dishes, Gretel had to eat every plate she broke. Without censure.

Finally this kind old lady lured two of the children all the time cluttering up the house with their lean frames so she decided to cut the food bill expenses by having them "disposed of."

One night she tactfully suggested to Fignewton that she should use a little pest exterminator on the brats, like adding arsenic to their soup milk. But Mr. Gratzenflubber loved his two children. Why, he even suggested giving them two meals a week.

But little could he do to sway his little warhorse so he tried to think of some way to save them. Finally he suggested taking them out in the forest and then leaving them there. He said this sentence real loud so he hopes that little Hansel would be listening and planning some means of return. And what was our alert little hero doing? Sleeping.

"Be sure to find some way of marking the way today. You and Gretel will be taken into the woods and left there and if you wish to return home find some means of marking a trail."

"Gosh," pondered the lad, "if I could only read this."

SO THAT MORNING after a hearty breakfast of water, all four set out for the woods. Just before they left, Fignewton handed an axe to Hansel and warned him to mark a path by stripping every piece of wood the saw Hansel chopped off his father's head.

"Shame on you, Hansel," exclaimed Gretel. "It's the middle of February. Do you want to give father a head cold?"

Fignewton apologized, replaced his crane and the four proceeded once again into the woods.

ALL DURING THE trip Hansel was giddily chopping down trees: All of a sudden a huge and ugly monster was glaring down at him. It was his stepmother.

"I've a strange feeling you don't trust me, son," she said as she closed the gap between his eyes with a brickbat.

"I love you so much it hurts," said Hansel.

After a brisk six-mile trot, the father made the following enlightening remark: "I'm fagged."

"Well," said the stepmother, "I suppose this place will do as well as any. You two children remain here.

Faculty Party Tonight
To Feature Melodrama

SIU faculty members will have a party tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Men's Gym, with an old-fashioned melodrama as the feature of the evening.

The Sporting Door Players will present "The Men of the Big Door," a comedy, and "Whistled Away," a farce, both written by SIU students.

The party will be open to all faculty members and their guests.

The program will begin at 8:00 o'clock, with refreshments served throughout the evening.
SIU At Last Has Training Room

by Jim Dowell

For the first time in Southern's history the athletic department has acquired a training department. Before, the coach has done all of the taping, bandaging and massaging, but now this is done by Stanley Wilson, new SIU trainer.

WHEN THE TRAINING room first started, it had only two whirlpools. Now it is equipped with a vibrator, two massage tables, an ultra violet lamp, a sink for the use of cold ice in case of sprain, and a diathermy. (The diathermy is used in chronic cases.)

The tables and floors in the training room have recently been painted white.

Most of the equipment has come from war surplus. The equipment was obtained for $660 by E. L. Wolfe, who obtained the equipment free, the only charge to the university being the transport of it.

According to Stan Wilson, the upkeep of the training room is very little now that the essential equipment has been supplied.

The trainer treats an average of 40 cases per day during a season, and during basketball season he works on about 300 boys per day. His treatment includes massages, sprains, strains, cuts, bruises, Charlie horses, and bad backs. More serious cases receive medical attention. Wilson treats only boys who participate in varsity athletics. No physical education cases are accepted unless they are emergencies.

A NEW PROGRAM has been devised by the athletic department to treat high school athletes. The athletic department has sent out 133 letters to high school coaches in the various towns extending an invitation to visit the training room at any time. They are also asked to bring one or more of their athletes, who have been injured, to receive treatment.

Wilson says that the Southern training room is better than any other training room in the Interstate Intercolligate Athletic Conference.

ACCORDING TO WILSON, you must have a license to practice hydrotherapy. Wilson spent two years at the St. Olaf University in Northfield, Minnesota. From there he went to the College of Swedish Massage in Chicago. Wilson has had two years of experience in hydrotherapy.

Before he started his practice he played four years of Class A baseball as a pitcher.

TWO TOP COACHES SLATED FOR SUMMER COACH CLINIC

Athletic Director Glenn (Abe) Martin announced today that two of the nation's top coaches will be in Carbondale Aug. 20-23 to participate in a summer coaches clinic held at Southern Illinois University.

PAUL BRYANT, head football coach at the University of Kentucky, will be the guest grid sport. His team won the Southeastern conference this year and went on to defeat Oklahoma University in the Sugar Bowl.

FORREST ANDERSON, head basketball coach at Bradley University in Peoria, will be the head of a one speaker on tape lecture. Under his guidance the Bradley Braves won the first place in both the NCAA and NIT tournaments last year and are one of the nation's top teams this season.

Baseball Squad To Open In Louisiana March 12

By Jim Turpin

An 18-man SIU baseball team will leave Saturday morning, March 10, for a six game tour of the south, Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin announced today.

The team will open the 1951 schedule in Hammond, Louisiana, on March 12 and 13, when they play Southeastern Louisiana for the first time. Southern will move on for a two game series with Loyola University, March 14 and 15, and will end the tour at Northwestern Louisiana on March 16 and 17.

Coach Martin has been impressed by the hustle and ambition eagerness of the team candidates this season and hopes to field a championship crew. The weak spot will be hitting, with Bill Bauer lost by graduation. Bauer, the captain last season, hit well over .400 and provided that needed stick power many times.

Joe Jones, veteran first sacker who also played second base last season, is expected to lead the SIU hitting this season.

Although six games in succession will call for a strong pitching staff, Coach Martin is well prepared. Front of the mound will fall on Darrell Thompson, towering right-hander from Belleville. Other possible starters are Wayne Grandoulas, a freshman southpaw from Belleville; Reid Martin, right-hander from Hoopespol and Bill Schimpf, Gorham. Also ready to throw will be Tom Miltkin, Pinckneyville; Larry Barnes, Madison; Don Campbell, Mt. Carmel; and Bob Ens, Fisher.

EUGENE OF ARIADNE, the famous British race horse, is expected to reach the United States within the next two weeks. She is being imported by the British government to compete in the Kentucky Derby.

Four exhibition matches were played in London recently by the British national team against a squad of American college players. The British team won three of the matches and lost one.

Cagers End Season Tomorrow Night Against Wesleyan

Lynn Holder's Maroon cagers play their final game of the season tomorrow night at Bloomington, where they will attack the strong five from Illinois Wesleyan, a stellar team in the Little Nine conference. Wesleyan ousted Southern previously this season, 62-56 in Carbondale.

The Maroons' record stands at 12 wins and 13 losses for the season, so the local men will have to win the finale to end up with a .500 won-and-lost record.

Nu Epilson Alpha Forges Again Into Greek Bowl Lead

The see-saw battle for first place took form again in the Southern Illinois University Hellenic bowling league, as the Nu Epilson Alpha once more forged into the lead by virtue of a two-ph win over Sigma Beta Mu. Ed Booz and Bob Smith the mainstays for the new leaders with totals of 475 and 456.

The Tau Kappa Epilson crew led the scoring session by putting together the top aggregate of the night, a 291 that swept three games from Delta Sigma Epilson. George Kuhn. TKE got a 230 game—the highest game in the circuit this season.

Nu Epilson Alpha 25 11
Chi Delta Chi 24 12
Kappa Delta Alpha 22 11
Sigma Beta Mu 20 13

TEAM STANDINGS

An advance story on this page last week billed Abe Martin's baseballers as a very pretty ball club. This spring, with a strong pitching staff, the team has high hopes of covering a conference crown. But we're just waiting to see what the affair didn't put Mr. Martin out on the tree's limb a little.

It's true, the baseball team does have some fine talent. Most of the men are veterans from last year. Maybe the only man who will be strongly missed is former Captain Bill Bauer. But a number of the team's key positions must be filled capably by unseasoned men if the team is to walk off with top honors.

Third base and a couple of outfield positions must be nailed down if Southern is to come through in stellar style. From the sidelines, looking out, it looks like Chuck Valler has third base for himself—at least to start the season. Valler might be a great ball player. No doubt he has played plenty of summer ball, and he seems to be a promising hitter. But Coach Martin will have to test him in actual competition before he knows just what to expect.

Then too, Martin is contemplating on using big Bob Ems and Bubba Burns in the outfield. Again, Ems is untested in league ball. Advance practices promise that Bob will hit the ball a country mile, and if he does, then all's well. Burns has played baseball since he was old enough to walk, and we feel sure that he'll come through for the Maroons.

So, maybe there's not too much to worry about. The trip south will undoubtedly reveal many strong points as well as weaknesses. Fortunately, there are a number of capable reserves who are on club to fill in if the occasion demands. Some of these are Butch Stonecipher, Bob Hall, Bob Elliott, Joe Federia, Jerry West, and Don Gobbe. The true test might lie in the hands of these men.

But Martin's big worry, as we see it, is at the plate. Going by last year's statistics, Abe has only one REAL good hitter. That's Joe Jones, captain of the team, and a standout at first base last year. Other capable stick-wielders are Bob Burns, Jim Schmoldbach, and Bob Elliott.

The story of Joe Jones itself, however, should be a great inspiration to the newcomers to the ball club. Jones had played a lot of ball before coming to Southern. But Joe was a ballhitter—a good first baseman—and first base was sewed up by Captain Lou Lelich. So we were used to the bench unfortunately. When the time did come, though, Joe rode the bench and really proved to be a star.

There might be a few more Jones's sitting on the bench this year. Maybe Martin will be fortunate enough not to have to go looking for them—maybe they'll be right in the lineup. At any rate, if there are any more Jones's on the squad, we won't have to worry about that loop crown.

This could be a great season for the Maroons. But we'll just have to wait 'til the ump yells, "Play ball!" to see.
