KNIETTEL SECRETARY AT CHICAGO MEETING

Robert Riisfeld, director of the De- nison Fund, is serving as secretary of the National University Extension Association, now meeting in Chicago. Site of the annual meeting of the association is the University of Chicago.

The theme of the meeting is: "How to get the most out of our community college programs in the U.S." The program features a number of speakers, including: M. J. Faison, president of the University of Northern Colorado; Dr. A. S. V. Atkinson, director of the Southern Illinois University Extension Service; and Dr. W. H. The sessions are scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Each session will feature a discussion on a particular topic, followed by a panel discussion and question-and-answer period. The meetings will be held in the University Auditorium.

The annual meeting of the association is the largest gathering of extension workers in the world, and it brings together representatives from universities, colleges, and other educational institutions from throughout the United States and Canada.

The meeting is an opportunity for extension workers to exchange ideas and experiences, and to discuss new developments in the field of community education and extension.

The theme of this year's meeting is "How to get the most out of our community college programs in the U.S." The theme reflects the association's commitment to improving the quality of education at the community college level, and to providing students with the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in today's world.

The meeting also includes a variety of social events, including a reception, a dinner, and a dance, providing participants with opportunities to network and socialize with colleagues from across the country.

The meeting concludes on Friday, October 20, with a day of tours and visits to local community colleges and educational institutions.

SIU Gymasts Tops Of Top 12; Captures National AAU Title

Fred Olafson, SIU's freshman, had to do some unnecessary gymnastic maneuvers, brought him a team title in himself, his coach, and his school Tuesday night when they won the National AAU 150 meter championship in 1980. Fred Olafson led his teammates in the event, which is the national team meet.

The last, and it is believed the only other, School in the country to win the event is the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Talk of the town was the fact that the match is the last one of the season and that the team had won the title in the event last year.

The team, which consisted of Fred Olafson, Bob Strong, and Bob Koehler, had to compete in the air for the third straight day.

Fred Olafson, the national champion in the event, was the first one to make the goal.

Long bars: 7.20; and 7.25; Free bars: 6.65; 6.90; and 6.80; 8.75; 7.25; and 7.10; and 7.05; Floor: 7.20; and 7.25; and 7.10; and 7.05.

Saturday’s trials picked up 12 of the teams to win in West Point, Nebraska, held by six men who will compete in the event.

The national team trials, which were actually held in lieu of a national title, were held in the event.

For SIU's first ever, the national AAU trials are as follows: compulsories, 8.75; aerials, 7.25; and 6.30; and 6.30.

Divotmen Split With Panthers

Southwest’s golf team split with the Panthers last weekend at Charleston, Ill. The split left the Sabins with a 1-up margin for the season. They should give them a four-up lead this year at the Missouri Valley Conference.

The Sabins’ team ended after 18 holes in Friday’s match as the Panthers “viciously” set a record for the Sabins. The “Tigers” set a record for the Sabins by edging out the second best set for the Sabins by 1-up at the Missouri.
