3000 Students View Chicagoland Exhibits

Career Day Most Successful To Date

Representatives of 26 Chicago-based firms and agencies chatted with more than 3,000 SIU students Thursday during the third annual Chicagoland Career Day exhibit held in the University Center Ballroom.

Sponsors, exhibit spokesmen and students alike agreed that this year's show was the best of the three. At least it drew the largest crowd, which carried away thousands of pamphlets, brochures and booklets.

Roy F. Bryant, director of Publicity Clinic

Set Nov. 23 For Campus Groups

A publicity clinic has been scheduled at 2 p.m., Nov. 23, in the newsroom of the Daily Egyptian.

The clinic is open to any individual or group on the campus. Advanced registration will be required for all who attend.

Student Activities, the Egyptian, the Journalism Student Association and the Department of Journalism are joint sponsors for the event.

Two representatives will be the first in a series of guest speakers to provide resources and aids to assist officers of campus organizations in the performance of their respective duties. The clinics will be spaced throughout the year, the order depending on the urgency of the information for the year's operation.

The schedule for the publicity clinic includes:

- Welcome and opening remarks by Nick Pasqual, student editor of the Egyptian.
- "Planning a Promotion Program," Billy L. Ross, University of Houston.
- "Planning Publicity," Charles Clayton, SIU, Department of Journalism.
- Coffee Break.
- "Writing the Story," Bill Lyons, SIU, Director of Information Services.
- "Writing the Story," Darrel Lewis, SIU, instructor of journalism.
- "Question and Answer Period.
- "Some Things We've Learned," Walt Wachskist, president of the Journalism Student Association, will serve as the master of ceremonies for the event.

Registration forms must be submitted to the Egyptian by Saturday, November 2, 1963. Copies of the registration forms may be obtained from the newsroom of the Egyptian.

Women's Track And Field: 5 Coeds Seek Queen Title at The TEKE Ole-Impics

Five coeds will seek the TEKE Ole-Impics queen title Saturday.

They are Mary Eichorst, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Phyllis Hunt, Delta Zeta; Jan Kelley, Alpha Gamma Delta; Roberta Little, Alpha Kappa Alpha, and Ann Phelps, Sigma Kappa.

In addition to "teama" from the sororities will be put against each other in an impressive array of athletic events during this annual female track and field day sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The program begins at 2 p.m. in McM Andrew Stadium with the sorority teams competing in a sack race, tug of war, leap frog race, balloon race, spin-around game and limbo competition.

Last year Sigma Kappa sorority walked off with top honors in the game competition and Charleen Thompson, Sigma Sigma Sigma, won the queen's crown.

The new queen will be picked by voting among SIU's nine fraternities and will be announced during the activities Saturday

An informal parade, featuring the queen contestants and teams, will wind its way from Small Group Housing past Thompson Point into McAndrew Stadium.

The program is open to the public.
Mrs. Bartlett Will Address Pi Lambda Theta Initiation

Mable Lane Bartlett will speak at the fall initiation of Pi Lambda Theta, Saturday in the Home Economics Family Living Lounge. The initiation will be at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Bartlett recently returned from Viet Nam where she served as an advisor to help the Viet Nam government develop an elementary school training program. Mrs. Bartlett's work in Viet Nam provides the background for her talk entitled: "Foreign Assignments: The Challenge to Women in Education,"

The major tasks of the advisory team included upgrading teacher supervision, improving curriculum and materials, aiding in providing extra-curriculum and presenting teachers and advising in developing textbooks, and meeting with other materials.

The advisory team's office is located in Saigon where the countries only demonstration school is located.

Mrs. Bartlett's talk will also include her experiences while returning to U.S. by way of Asia, Europe and Egypt.

"LOVE-THAT-STRETCH!!"
U.S. German Forces To Stay At 6 Divisions

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy declared Thursday it is U.S. policy to keep American combat forces in Germany at their present strength. He said there may be some reduction in noncombat forces. The policy, Kennedy said, is "to maintain six divisions of the German Army as long as they are required."

Kennedy also backed Secretary of Defense McNamara on the issue of nuclear vs. conventional power for the Navy's new aircraft carrier.

The President was asked if the conventional-power decision will be policy on Navy ships over 8,000 tons. Kennedy said no final decision has been reached on nuclear power for larger ships. He mentioned the larger investment involved, and said nuclear-powered large ships also require nuclear-powered supporting vessels.

The question concerned the situation, he said, for limited war or strategic attack, the President added, "I'm supporting Secretary McNamara in his decision, as far as I know."

In other comments, the President said U.S. intelligence has noted a "marked" decrease in the number of Russian troops in Cuba since Jan. 1, and "the general trend is downward."

He said negotiations with the Russians over sale of Americans who have reached the "critical" stage and the outcome should be known within a couple days.

Gain Of 350,000 In Jobs Reported

WASHINGTON

The number of Americans on job rolls by 350,000 to a total of 69.9 million in October, the Labor Department said Thursday.

The number unemployed remained at 11.8 million, unchanged from September, but its percentage dropped slightly as the total labor force grew 300,000 to 76.1 million, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

A spokesman said the change in the nation's job picture were basically seasonal.

ALGERIA

Three Cuban ships carrying heavy military equipment, including Soviet-built tanks, have arrived in Algiers in the past three days, authorizing U.S. sources said Thursday.

There was a rumor, which they could not confirm, that 300 Cuban ships and were issued Algerian battle dress.

The informants said Cuba and Algeria arranged an arms deal "just before, and during the time fighting flared" along the disputed Algerian-Moroccan border and, as the battle continued, the shipments from Cuba were hastened.

Reds Accused By U.S. To Fly Home

UNITED NATIONS

Three members of the Soviet U.N. delegation were expelled by the United States of taking part in a spy plot to leak State Department reports, informed sources said.

The United States demanded Wednesday that the three be expelled from U.S. territory on grounds they were engaged in diplomatic immunity by helping another Russian and an American espionage engi ener in an attempt to gain top secret information from a New Jersey firm engaged in government work.

The Soviet U.N. mission declined to say whether it would comply with U.S. demand, but the informed sources said the three have booked tickets for the trip back to Moscow.

Bars Are Open in a Harem

Los Angeles

The man who skippered a yachtduring the South Seas tour, and all girl crew through the South Seas flew in from Tahiti Wednesday night and had comments including:

"I don't think I had a harem - a harem should be a few girls..."

"I'm going back and am definitely open for more girl crew members. My wife may be one of them..."

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES
SALUTE: BOB BUCK

When a new microwave transmission system was needed to connect Detroit, Flint, and Lansing, Bob Buck (B.S.E.E., 1960) designed it.

Bob has established quite an engineering reputation in Vicksburg, Michigan, the site of a new microwave operation. He is presently working on a project that is expected to be completed in January 1964.

Bob joined Michigan Bell in 1959. And after introductory training, he established a mobile radio maintenance system and helped improve Detroit's Maritime Radio system—contributions that led to his latest step up.

Bob Buck, like many young engineers, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such enthusiasm is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

No Link With Communism: A Disturbing Writer Tells Story Of Catholic Worker

Dorothy Day is a disturbing writer, and disturbing as much to members of her own Catholic faith as to others. In Loves and Fishes, she tells the story of the Catholic Worker, a newspaper she founded in the days of the depression with the cooperation and direction of Peter Maurin, another disturbing person.

"In no sense is she atheistic, rather she is a devout Catholic and very attached to the ideas put forth by Ch., in his gospel message, and to the living of those ideas as portrayed in the lives of St. Frances and St. Vincent de Paul."

It is a pity she was so much on St. Francis, because this saint's mythical figure, noted as much for his love of animals as for poverty.

A better saint for her purpose would have been the Cure of Ars, a man who let his boys go to ruth from lack of attention, one who once slipped behind a hedge to exchange his new corduroy trousers (bought for him by a fellow priest who wanted him to look respectable) for a beggar's tattered and filthy garment.

"Say the Cure of Ars would have a better chance, because he was the only parish priest who was ever canonized, and was made in recent years the patron saint of pastors."

This would free her from the example of people like St. Francis who had vows of poverty.

Dorothy Day gives an interesting account of her struggles in getting the Catholic Worker established, in starting houses in a city where the undeserving poor are as welcome as the désénu, and in her accounts of the type of men and women who came to be helped or help her Daily Worker movement or both. But one feels that her real power that might lie up with its delineation by Christ in his gospel message.

One feels too that her main objective should be to convert pastors who preach about the lives of the field and the birds of the air, not caring about clothes or food, but who renege on their own preaching by living the most anxious and sin-filled lives of men alive.

It is its canthus of and attitude that gets the Catholic Worker movement into trouble with the state and with church authorities. The bit of canthus is good in the face of so much present-day communism, the Catholic Worker movement has more than its fair share of it.

Bobbitt Sparkles In Switching From Saluki Defense To Offense

"Harry Bobbitt," the expert was saying, "after the current SIU football season got underway, "is no doubt looking forward to offensive service this season." This was a choice bit of understatement.

Bobbitt, a Carbondale product, who spent most of last season sparkplugging SIU's elite defensive secondary unit, in most certainly revealing in his turn on the other side of the coin. One of Southern's tri-captains, Bobbitt is the fireball type of player, with an unceasing supply of reserve energy, that football coaches like to see in eleven positions each season. They seldom are so fortunate.

Bobbitt made the switch from defense to offense with satiny-smooth ease, and in six games has worked his way to the top in two statistically measured areas. He shines most brightly as the leading Saluki pass receiver. In 158 and 5-11, he obviously hasn't had the edge of physical attributes that are characteristicly evident in some of the great pass receivers. He does have what is most certainly--hands that have glue dripping from every finger.

Last season he caught

Intramural Football Nears End With 'Must' Games On Tap

SIU's intramural flag football season concludes tonight and tomorrow with nothing but "must" games on tap.

An important meeting of the team managers of the following teams: Newman Center-Western Illinois, Du.D., Springfield Caps, Knockers Up, Finky 7, Washington Square Bears, Magnificent 7, Animals, Sigma Pi, Bombers, Roy's Boys and the winner of last night's TKE-Thota Xi game will be held at 10 this morning in Main 215 to make final playoff arrangements.

Poor teams already have clinched spots in the all-campus playoffs which will start Sunday. Five more will join them after tonight and tomorrow's action. Already finalists after winning their respective league titles are: Magnificent 7-3 (6-0), Washington Square Bears (1-0), Bailey's Bombers (5-0) and Roy's Boys.

Meeting head-on at 4:15 tonight at Thompson Point field No. 1 will be U, D, A-5 (0-5) and Springfield Caps (4-1) to determine one of the three off-campus spots left to be filled. Also, in the drivers spot but not yet home in Knockers Up who has a win over the Ball Bearers tonight at Thompson Field No. 2 can qualify for the finals.

Should the Knockers Up be upset, however, and second place Finky 7 defeat Warren's Warriors at Thompson Point Field No. 3 tonight a tie would result.

The national parole institute: Gov. Kerner will address regional parole institute

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois will address the Midwest meeting of the National Parole Institute which will be held on the SIU campus Nov. 17-23.

This will be the fourth regional meeting of the Institute, established by President Kennedy's committee on delinquency and youth crimes. Each has been held this year in North Carolina, Colorado and Massachusetts. Hosting this meeting is SIU's Crime and Delinquency Center directed by Myer E. Alexander, assistant director of federal prisons. Eleven of the 15 states designated as the Midwest region sent representatives for the purposes for the current 25 to be applied, according to Ronald W. Vanderweil, assistant to Alexander.

Vanderweil said the work of the National Parole Institute is geared to members of parole boards, administrators in the various states. The only thing of its kind in the United States, Vanderweil said the object is to help in the decision making processes of parolees. The director of the Institute.

Band Is Delight Of Parade Crowd At Centralia Event

A 50 piece unit of the SIU Air Force ROTC band, delighted the homeowners in Centralia Wednesday night, stepping out in the 40th annual extravaganza there, the Halloween Parade. A mass of two-thousand people crowd around to march with the band.

Last night the group was to have made a similar appearance in Pinckneyville.

Capt. Bob Frazier, adviser to the musical group, said a new plan of taking the band to area civic affairs was being put into play this year. "The band members like it and the home town people like it," Frazier said.

In Centralia, it was a homecoming for the band drum major, Leon Davis, who has marched in many Centralia Halloween parades before.

In Pinckneyville, the band commander Richard Smith was the man of the hour.

Frazier said leaders of the bands have been sent throughout Southern Illinois offering the musical services of the quiet and spare marching band for public functions.

Other SIU people saw the Centralia parade in an official capacity. Dr. Alexander MacMillan of the Transportation Institute and Mrs. MacMillan, along with Kenneth A. Miller, director of the University Foundation, judged the floats.
