Egyptian Staff
Many Students Apply For Winter Practice

A total of 228 students have made application for practice teaching in one or another of the training schoolhouses.

When one considers that the enrollment of the College is 1028 it will be seen that the students are very enthusiastic about this opportunity to obtain, under expert supervision, actual teaching experience. More and more the school boards are coming to realize the value of the training given here in the practice department. When a superintendent or a board of education comes in search of a teacher and an applicant for the position is found, that person's actual teaching record is examined carefully. It is not infrequent that so much appreciation is shown in preference to another because of practice teaching experience.

The numbers signed up in each school for the following terms are:

- High School: 47
- All-Purpose: 48
- Junior High School: 46
- Rural: 47
- Total: 228

Never before have the practice teachers had greater opportunities to do excellent work than now. There is a given amount of practice work which must be done before he can be graduated either from the two or four-year courses. However, one does not dare to merely make his credits. This is the place to distinguish oneself

Carman Dickey

Carman Dickey is chosen to be Team Manager

Carman Dickey truly is the most useful man on the campus. There is scarcely an important student position which has not filled or been called upon to help fill. And when he is connected with a work, that work certainly stays connected. He is a genius at filling any position with a high degree of accuracy.

When we see Carman rushing about the campus supporting the Olink with Thursday Miss Trivellon open team with the other, we must needs stop and wonder if he has time to do anything else. Certainly! He has much better grades than you or I.

At the present time Carman's official title is Football Manager, which means that he works hard every night upon the preparation of the football. We wonder what the Olink did before Dickey came, and at the present moment we wonder on what basis he is going to catch up in school for the next semester.

Carman Dickey is also a notable dramatic character, having written and produced "The Maid of Boskydell," which was presented in conjunction with the Dramatic Club.

In this mad rush to tell all of his points, we failed to realize I might have said all we have said in one sentence—Carman Dickey is veritable.

Official Figures For Enrollment

Last week's Egyptian contained an error in the matter of enrollment, and an effort is being made to correct any misunderstanding of the following figures have been compiled from the official records:

- High School: Fall term 1927: 310, Fall term 1928: 1228
- Colleges: Fall term 1927: 1138
- Fall term 1928: 1228

Much Talent Shown In Strut and Fret

The strut and fret society is planning for a big homecoming this year. They have sent out their invitations to all the members of the society with a description of the skits which have been written, giving the times at which they will be presented. One of the skits is a two story building of the Dutch Colonial type. It will contain seven rooms and a built-in garage.

Zetetic Program

Full of Interest

The Zetetic Society held its first regular meeting of the year last Friday, and the reception was most heartily enjoyed. The members are very enthusiastic about this opportunity to obtain, under expert supervision, actual teaching experience. More and more the school boards are coming to realize the value of the training given here in the practice department. When a superintendent or a board of education comes in search of a teacher and an applicant for the position is found, that person's actual teaching record is examined carefully. ARE WE GOING TO HAVE A STUDENT COUNCIL?

The Student Council is supposed to be an established organization at this school. Last year its functions were famous, because of their absence. It finally got organized about the last week of the Spring term and eventually did elect the staff for the two school publications. I suppose the students got along just as well without it. But why pretend that we have student government when such is not the case?

That's past and is future before us. We have permission from the school authorities to form such a council. Let us avail ourselves of all the opportunities we have. If we procrastinate this year and fail to have a council of students who have authority to decide questions of school government, we have no right to blame ourselves. The term is now well started: classes are organizing; officers are being chosen. Let's have some loyal member of each class bring the question up and ask that the proper number of representatives are elected; that they are of the right sort, and most important of all, that they will work. Of course if we aren't interested in what happens at school, we are perfectly content to be governed by the faculty absolutely; such action is unnecessary. But with all respect to the judgment of a faculty that is as excellent as ours, we have as good as any country afforded, any council could operate with more harmony if the students are consulted occasionally. Whether or not their advice is followed is another proposition.

WAKE UP, SOPHOMORES!

It's high time for the sophomores to have another party. Last Monday afternoon the freshmen had a dance at the Elks. Those who attended were much better acquainted than now when they were before. There was a good crowd and a jolly mood. In fact the crowd was too good. The freshmen were crowded off of the floor by the many upperclassmen who were there. The sophomore class is large enough to throw its own parties and depending on the freshness on the young life. There are many sophomores for whom this is their first year here, and they need to get acquainted with each other and with the older and older times just as much as the freshmen do. Unless our class has some kind of get-togethers, we never have any real class spirit. All the college students should be admitted, but the sophomores should feel that it is their own party.

Many who have attended other colleges register the classes which they have there. This college is way behind the others. The college students should be appreciated the property men. So one of the skits in the house stay entertaining is Enter the Property Man with the same hit of the evening. We've Got the Property Man Blues. Every dog has his day and the college property men and long suffers college behind the scenes. The skit is dedicated to all those who have pushed props these many years on the auditorium stage.

Miss Grace Jones, who was an instructor in the Household Arts Department, is not teaching this year. She is living at her old home in New Jersey.

EXCHANGE

The presidents of several college delivered to their students opening addresses which contained helpful suggestions for the coming year.

President Davis of Mount Morris College, Mount Morris, Illinois, gave "A Message of Responsibility" to his students. His theme was "the world will say much has been given much is required." and he colored his speech with frequent illustrations.

Another address which was given for the benefit of college students by Mr. Hamilton, president of Bradley College, Peoria, Illinois. His subject was "College Thinking" and he explained why many people think college students don't think.

Still another address was given in the form of a letter. It was written by President A. Lindley of East Central College, Ada, Oklahoma. (This list of suggestions, he says, "are submitted to you so that if you follow them you will have no vain regrets after your career as a student is finished.

He (presumably) "I never knew love was like this"

Say: "Neither did I. I thought there were more flowers and chocolates in it.

Do you know just what dress to wear and when to wear it? If not hunt up some of the Y. W. C. A. girls and ask them.

This year the Y. W. is attempting an entirely new type of program. Last spring at retreat the cabinet and advisory board discovered that the girls on the campus were interested in knowing how to develop personality. So this term the association is having a series of meetings on this subject. Last Wednesday evening the Y. W. program was, "How Clothes Help to Develop Personality." Miss Fry had charge of the program which was put on in the form of a style show. The many different types of girls appeared on the stage dressed in the current style and color as they should be for the different occasions.

"Iceland," said teacher in the geography class, "is about as large as Siam."

"Iceland," wrote John at examination time, "is about as large as teacher."

The one hundred girls who attended the meeting last Wednesday evening are sure they know how they should dress, but they do not want to stop at that. Now they are wanting to know, "What to Do and How," Blanche Mansy, chairman of the program committee, has been very busy preparing a program for this subject. Come out this evening, Wednesday, at 6:30 and learn what to do and how to be at ease with others and at different social functions.

Miss Eda Lents and Bryant attended the annual banquet of the Allou Baptist Association Brotherhood at Ruston, Illinois, at which Mr. Folsom was one of the speakers. Mr. Lents was elected temporary president of the Association.

Miss Berta Bevins entertained Mike, Charlotte Zinmechcm, Sara Baker, and Madge Trout at her cabin on Thompson Lake, Saturday, September 21. The evening proved so enjoyable as to make it a week end party.

Miss Trout is on leave of absence to do graduate work at the University of Chicago.

The girls found that they are not the only ones who are interested in archery. Last week Misses Shank, Baker, Carpenter and Irwin tried their skill at this sport. According to all reports the girls will need to practice faithfully to compete with such marksmen.

Misses Van Trump, Kellogg and Cox spent the week end with Dr. and Mrs. Max in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Miss Bowyer spent a very enjoyable week end with her sister at Charleston, Ill.
