TEACHERS GAIN TWELFTH CONSECUTIVE VICTORY

PASS, MARTIN TO M'GOWAN, DEFEATS
MOUNT MORRIS IN NIGHT BATTLE

SOUTHERN OUTGAINS MOUNDERS 11 FIRST DOWNS TO ONE

The Southern Teachers settled last year’s problem concerning supremacy in the Little Nineteen Conference. Friday evening, when they trounced the Mt. Morris eleven 6-0 on the local field, Mt. Morris could dust the Maroons defense after the first half and was ineffective in the second period. Only one first down was allowed throughout the game, while the Southerners made eleven. Mt. Morris was beaten. Six of the Maroons completed seven passes for 90 yards.

Wimberly, Davison, and Patterson, were the new men who showed up particularly well for the Maroons in their victory. Wimberly drove thru the oppositions. Davison’s run. From the ten yard line, Patterson made one of the most spectacular catches of the year in nailing a pass from L. B. McGraw. McGraw, after being injured at the start of the final half, was his stellar work that accounted for the third quarter. McGraw was the iron man during the game. The half hour ended with suffering from a serious leg injury.

Schenkel, last year’s All-Conference center, and Capt. Canada engaged in a battle royal at the center position with the decision in favor of one of the lost boys seen in action on the gridiron, played the entire last half suffering from an arm injury.

The victory ran Southern’s string to twelve consecutive wins and started the Teachers off with a perfect record in the Little Nine. (Continued on Page Five.)

Committee Plans Four Day Observance of Washington's Birth

A committee composed of members of the two honor classes for the Science Department has organized to prepare a celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Members on this committee, of which Dr. Boyer is chairman, are: Miss Boyer, Miss Baker, Miss Niles, Miss Power, Dr. Cramer, Mr. Farer, and Dr. Swatt.

According to the early plans of the group the program will include a day observance of the bicentennial, running from the twenty-second to the twenty-fifth of February.

Appropriate addresses, special musical programs, and entertainments of historical nature will be presented by members of the college.

No definite plans have been announced, but it is probable that Strat and Fret will sponsor an elaborate pageant.

Belmont Quartette Sings for C. of C. Club

The Chamber of Commerce had its second good time of the year on Thursday evening, October 1.

The meeting was called to order by the new president, "Abbe" Martin. After the members of the club were gathered in by Virginia Shilds, accompanied by Dorothy Jones at the piano. The next number which was enjoyed was a read by Club Leader.

Belmont colored quartette sang two selections which were particularly enjoyed. The first one was "Friendship" and the second one was "St. Louis Blues" by Scott Joplin.

Forum Looks Forward to Successful Year

Prospects for a successful year for the Forum, the men's debating club of the college, were heightened when the initial meetings were attended by the largest number of men to be present within the history of the society. Officers of the organization have been elected and the Forum is prepared to conduct its regular Monday evening meetings in the Zeitlin Hall.

Mr. Williams of Carbondale was elected as president of the Forum. The new president was a member of the debating team which won the championship of the college from the Illini last year and is the only speaker on the Forum. Mr. Williams, of Carbondale, was chosen to represent the Freshmen in the School Council.

Library Circulation Increases 12,178 Volumes Over Last Year

Total circulation for the year 1929-30 reached 68,270, with about one thousand one hundred enrolled. During 1930-31, the total circulation was 69,430, with a school enrollment of about twelve hundred students.

The increase in books in the library is due to the increase in the number of students. Books are catalogued and put into circulation every week. A student is allowed to study research work in any subject it would wish to pay the circulation rate for new material by authentic writers.

Boys and girls, there is a good Samaritan among us. It is he who conceived the idea that somebody ought to tell the students in Principles of Secondary Ed. just what the course is all about and why so.

In the first place, everybody knows that Ed. has no principles, but we don't need to broadcast the fact. However, the point still remains that if ill health accounts for ten per cent of the elimination of pupils between the grades of 8 and 9, likewise in ten percent of the cases of ill health the cause is improper elimination, and vice versa, i.e., etc.

And then we mustn't forget sex as an important factor of something or other. If a boy is 14 years of age, when he enters high school, what is his I. Q.? If his grandfather's chronic resided in the matter of false hair and false teeth? And if a girl of the same chronological age as a year ahead of him in school, should she be placed at the head of the class or put in the back room in the shadow of the book case and within smelling distance of the 19th century dictionary?

Well, these are some of the problems to be considered, and if I am to be the true good Samaritan, I shall pour kerosene on your wounds, bind them up, and prescribe a remedy.

No acclamation, please. I do not wish to hear acclamation. I wish to understand these problems, and do not feel that one can proceed along the path of Wisdom without putting one's hand upon the plow. I do not wish to hear acclamation. I wish to understand these problems, and do not feel that one can proceed along the path of Wisdom without putting one's hand upon the plow.

There. Now, if you'll please take the fly out of the ointment, we'll go on with the business of reconstruction.

"SCHOOL SPIRIT"

We hasten to avoid the outworn and meaningless expression, "school spirit," but it does seem to us that the students in this campus are showing more general enthusiasm than has ever been manifested here before. And by enthusiasm we are not referring to the "rah-rah" type of exuberance; we mean the students thus far have shown interest and ability in enrolling students actively.

As an instance of this enthusiasm we might point to the fact that interest in class elections has been exceedingly keen this year. The various groups of the freshmen have been conducting spirited campaigns in behalf of their candidates for office and voting with enthusiasm on the School Council.

We earnestly hope that this enthusiasm and pep will continue to be exhibited in a quiet but energetic interest in college affairs for it will be neither to the credit nor the welfare of the student body if "pep" is allowed to retrogress into the moving picture type of college antics.

PEP CLUB SWEATERS

The Pep Club is becoming one of the most popular of campus activities at this college. A drive is now on to buy sweaters for its members. This excellent idea, if carried out, will do much to furnish the school with a colorful cheering body. In addition, the sweaters will be an inspiration to the players. We hope that every student who is financially able will purchase a sweater and, besides wearing it at the games, will do more than his share in rooting for S. L. N. U.

PLEASE BE NON-SNOBISH

Doubtless, the actions and antics of the students who formed the Egyptian office for papers during chapel hour on Wednesday were thoughtlessly enacted, but mob spirit, so harebrainedly brought about, does not add to the prestige of S. L. N. U. If students will file by the office in an orderly manner, the papers can be distributed more quickly and efficiently and with less disorder.

We thank you.

SPECIALIZATION

We have observed that students here spread their interest throughout the various activities instead of concentrating their efforts on one or two societies which they prefer. This results in a noticeable lack of candidates for Honor Letters. We are stressing the fact that the student should choose one particular activity in which he would strive to win a Letter. There should be a different student from each organization eligible to receive this honorable distinction. We have found in the past, two or three students literally "hoggling" the honors. This could not be possible if the remaining members of the societies were doing their best to become a leader and a Letter winner.

Do not think that we are in any way lessening the value and importance of the extra activities. We simply do not believe that a student can do justice to himself and others by "hoggling" the honors. We wish to see a keener contest for the few available honor letters!
TEACHERS MEET CAPE INDIANS AT HOUCK STADIUM FRIDAY

ABE MARTIN IS OUT OF GAME WITH SIMPLE KNEE FRACTURE

Friday evening the Southern Teachers met the Cape Indians at Cape Girardeau in one of the most important games of the season. Cape this year boasts one of the heaviest and fastest teams it has had in some time. Southern athletes, prominent in Big Seven play of last season, are playing with the Indians’ varsity. Gaygoal and Bard of Henry seem to be the most outstanding. Several Southern athletes have also returned to bolster the 1931 squad. Seventy old men answered the call of Coach Flannick for football candidates. They are being trained in the Warner system.

Last year the Teachers defeated the Cape eleven in two games, one at Cape and the final at Normal field. The occasion of the first win was the dedication of the Cape’s football stadium, at which time the Southerners defeated the Indians 18-7. The Indians were whitewashed here later in the season, 19-0.

Representation from this college campus is expected to be large. Only sixty miles separate the two colleges and each year a specialist is reserved at Cape for S. I. U. students.

These points to a close game since the Indians have started out well, its initial victim being Evansville College of Indiana.

It will be necessary for Mac to start a revised lineup in the game with Cape Girardeau. Abe Martin will be cut indefinitely with a simple knee fracture. McGowan may have aggravated an old knee injury last Friday night. Patton is recuperating from a twisted knee injury received in the first game of the season.

SERVICES OF ABE MARTIN ARE LOST FOR SEASON

The services of Abe Martin, triple threat of the Normal backfield, were lost Friday night in the game with Mount Morris. While catching a pass Martin was tackled and due to his peculiar standing position at the time, he was twisted and two bones fractured. The accident will keep Martin on the sideline for the remainder of the season.

In the game Martin called signals, did most of the passing and punting, and gained consistently around the Mounders’ ends.

This season was to be Abe’s third and last with the Maroons. With Capt. Patton on the sidelines the loss of Martin is the worst stroke of luck dealt the Teachers’ in the past two years.

A freshman asked Miss Bash if she could major in Art and receive the following reply, “Go into the next room and draw some figures, so that I can judge of your ability.”

The freshman returned after a period of time and proudly displayed the figures one, two, three, four.

PASS, MARTIN TO MCGOWAN DEFEATS MOUNT MORRIS IN NIGHT BATTLE

twenty-five hundred saw the game, the crowd including many out-of-town people and alumni.

First Half

Mt. Morris won the toss and chose to defend the south goal. They also kicked off to the Maroons. Martin received the ball and advanced it to the thirty yard line. McGowan gained five yards for the initial first down of the game. On the next two plays there were two official called, the first being on Mt. Morris, this giving Carbondale another first down. The other official, being called on Carbondale, left then with a first down and fifteen to go. Lauver passed to Willis but the pass was incomplete. Willis gained two yards through tackle and Martin punt fifty yards. Mt. Morris gained a first down in the next three downs. Mt. Morris fumbled the ball and after juggling it around another winter fell on it. The next play was one of the most perfectly executed during the game. Captain R. Morris’ star quarterback went around right end and out back toward the other side evading all tackles. He started down the line when Lauver tackled him. It was a gain of twenty yards for Mt. Morris and its only first down. During the remainder of the first half the two teams saw-awed up and down the field with no touchdowns or other scores for either team. The yardage gained for both teams was the same in the first half.

Second Half

Brown kicked the ball thirty yards to the African School twenty yards in the next three downs and then punt forty yards. With the ball in Carbondale’s possession the star quarterback faked fast. They made four first downs and then on a pass from Martin to McGowan, the line touched the right side of the game. "Red” McGowan played a very consistent game and gained yardage until his knee was jarred. It was a disappointing game out of the last quarter because of a leg injury. It was discovered later that he had sustained a simple fracture of the leg.

The line-up:

Stevens... L. E. Miller
Sisson... T. E. Thomas
Saxton... E. F. Coffman
Canada... C. Sheffeld
Robinson... E. McGowan
Robertson... R. Corbet
Swope... E. H. Roeger
Lauver... E. C. Cassorie
Winbush... H. H. Breden
Wilis... F. Root

Substitutions: Dormant for Watson; Johnson for Reeves; Brown for Robinson; Patterson for Martin. McGowan for Willis; Davison for Lauver; Willis for Martin.

COUGHT FLAGRANTE DELICTO

Only once or twice has our faithful night watchman apprehended culprits who turned out to be students of the school. Sad as that may be, another student crime has been detected.

On last Monday night, October 8, 1931, some time between the hours of nine and eleven o’clock, a crime was enacted upon this campus which shadows into insignificance all previous deeds in the annals of acts involving cowardice, treachery, and diabolical plotting.

In order to protect the unblinched name of the school and every prophetic precautionary measure was undertaken to keep the matter from the knowledge of the public. However, in spite of the efforts of the authorities to delay even the mention of the incident, their attempts have proven futile. Had such not occurred, this article need not have been written.

As is the case in every crime where the real facts are veiled from the public, the facts that do circulate are twisted, far fetched, disingenuous words, with not the slightest trace of the elements of truth. Indeed, often the misrepresented facts are more detriment to those involved than the genuine. Such is true of the case under discussion. It is in the public's clew as a whole know the real truth of what occurred on the campus the evening of October 8, that the article is written.

Before I close, the faithful pair of cloaking figures were seen lurking in the vicinity of the Main Building. As you probably recall, the night was a murky one, the moon being entirely obliterated by dense, lowhanging clouds that threatened momentarily to plunge the campus into darkness. All night, in all the world, was an ideal case for one of the crimes— and crime was committed.

The figures were seen haunting the east portal of the Main Building. Here they remained for an indeterminate length of time. However, a party passed by enroute to Anthony Hall at nine o'clock and has given testimony that the couple was standing in the doorway at the time. It was between the time of his passing at nine, and the turning on of the alarm system at eleven, that the crime was perpetrated. The exact time is unknown, probably even to the wrong doors.

The above constitutes the true facts and the only ones, of what is known of what occurred before the actual theft. The following will give the facts of the theft itself, the motive, and apprehension of the thieves.

Shortly after nine o'clock the campus was drenched with nothing short of a cloudburst. The thieves, who we shall term Mr. X and Miss Y, were stranded beneath the insecure protection afforded by the porch roof of the east door. They were faced with the problem of getting to their respective rooms, dry, and what's more within the next one and a half hours.

Mr. X, swaggering, egotistical criminal that he is, conceived an idea of selfishness—an unethical plot that took form in a warping brain. Harrow! He intended to wantonly purloin the metallic umbrella that protects the girT and boy statuary constructed in the pool situated due east of the Main Building. The idea was hardly thought of until executed. Mr. X deliberately, even maliciously, wrenched the umbrella from the mute protectors. Oh how he prided his handiwork—how he would boast of his ingenuity. Proudly he held the umbrella over the dainty, head of Miss Y, but mascara streaked her cosmetic face.

Fortunately the base crime did not occur undetected. Our campus watchman felt his automatic crime detector turn his toes toward the scene of the crime. Too, the tattoo of rain on the umbrella was increasing in volume. Fate was for once on the side of law and order.

Let it suffice to say Mr. X and Miss Y have consented to replace the umbrella with a new one—a purple and red beach umbrella. Of course they are barred from school but will be admitted on probation when the umbrella has been purchased and placed in the pool.

Moral: If caught in a rain on the campus hide under the banana tree in the Greenhouse.

Clara Blanche Berger of Murphysboro visited in Carbondale Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Whitman and Mr. and Mrs. Calvery of East St. Louis were the guests of Dorothy Whitman Sunday.
