STUDENT VOTERS' CRED

A government, student or otherwise, cannot be called a democracy unless the individuals who make up that government can exercise their individual rights to express their choice of candidates for various offices. In general, many of the students believe that they do have a right to vote unless they take advantage of the opportunity to choose the officers who will carry out these principles.

In order to make this a democratically run student body, the Egyptian proposes a Student Voters' Cred.

These rules, I share with my fellow students:

1. It is my duty to vote, so that our student government may truly represent the will of the students.
2. I am ready to keep informed as to the honesty and ability of candidates for various offices.
3. I am ready to abide by the choice of the majority, as a member of my student government, for the good of the student body.

Wednesday, September 27, the supervisors will go to the polls to elect their students. It is a privilege to be a part of the student administration and to represent the students in the student government.

STUDENT OPINION POLL

Students Favor Compulsory Military Service

The position of whether or not students should be required to serve in the military is a complex issue. While some students argue that military service is a valuable experience, others believe it is not worthwhile. However, a majority of students in our survey favor compulsory military service. The results of our poll show that 60% of students believe that military service is necessary to ensure national security and maintain a strong military force.

S. I. N. U. VOTERS' GUIDE

The Voters' Guide is given as an aid to the student body in selecting the two senior men, two junior men, and two sophomore men for the executive committee. The election will be held on September 27, at the box election in front of Old Main. To be specific, the executive committee will consist of four men who will serve as leaders, not as mere literary and business consultants.

THE MEANING OF DEMOCRACY

This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the theme of democracy. The articles do not necessarily represent the opinions of the editors of the university or the university's administration. This information is offered by the Egyptian as a constructive basis upon which the students may build sounder concepts.

3. To advance the cause of education and knowledge.
