The Editors' Opinions

The Construction Boom

Trouble here, work there, and suddenly the campus is a construction site. A strange feeling is prevailing in the air. The student will live in an ever-changing environment, one that is constantly being altered by the hands of the construction workers. The speed with which the buildings are being constructed is alarming, and it seems as if the campus is being transformed into a giant construction site. This is a double-edged sword, as it may be beneficial for the students in the long run, but it is a strain on the current campus life.

Indee Rolls-Off Monday

The much-beloved fireproof steel in the SIU Independence Student Bowling Room should finally be settled this Monday night at the Congregate, Las Vegas.

For wardy reasons, the plans between the first and second-ball champions at the bowl split - one team scheduled to have a long-time roll but the other not. The first half hour was drawn in a draw-up. It was all or nothing, and it didn’t last till the deadline, amounting as extra time.

Then last week, when Nevada No. 2 and the Chemistry Department, participants in the championship final, were timed for less than 11 minutes, the Nevadans suggested that the latter be provided until this Monday. One of their regulars, Max Nodowski, was out of town, and the Nevadans without the benefits of a scratcher, it was back to good old "one out, one in.

With Nodowski back on the right, bowling are: Gene Snow, Dick Sephor, Richard Nelson, Art Hill, and Dan Miller. Standing: Jim Haas, John Bauer, Jim Nicol, Michael.
