DECADE HAS WROUGHT NOTICEABLE
CHANCE IN COLLEGE PERSONNEL

BUT 32 FACULTY MEMBERS IN YEAR 21; 69 IN 1931

During the last ten years, S. I. U. has grown from a small normal school to a Class A teachers college. It has been recognized by the University Association of Teachers Colleges as conforming to their standards of a Class A school. In 1921, S. I. U. was admitted as a member of the North Central Association’s list of accredited colleges and universities.

According to the Normal Bulletin published in 1921, S. I. U. had a faculty of thirty-two members and a practice system of ten critics. Of the faculty members, one had a doctor’s degree. The 1931 bulletin lists sixty-nine faculty members of whom eighteen have doctor’s degree. At present, the practice system is made up of new members.

Of the thirty-two faculty members in 1921, twenty-two are still actively engaged in teaching, and the 1931 faculty includes thirteen critics. Of the ten critics still remain in the practice school system.

Enrollment Increase

The total enrollment including the practice school in 1928 was little more than one thousand. Figures for 1931 show an enrollment of 1,524, including 112 freshmen. There are now 481 freshmen.

Ten years ago, there were five members in the English Department, including President Shryock, who was head of the English Department.

W. A. A Plans

Initiation Services

At a board meeting of the W. A. A held December 9, plans for an initiation service for new members were discussed. The induction will take the form of a party which will be held in the gymnasium tonight. The following services were discussed:

- The department of Physics and Astronomy has taken over the old manual training room in the Old Science building in order to care for the increased enrollment in that department.
- The room which is sixty feet by fifty feet will be divided into a lecture room which will also be used for research, and department office. The old laboratory will be rearranged and improved for the courses in general college physics. The present lecture room will be used for the same purpose. The old office on the east side will be equipped for research. Lecture room, laboratory, and research room will be equipped with A.C. and D.C. current, steam, compressed air, and gas.
- The Astronomy classes have not been rearranged in the expansion of the department. The telescope used has a five and one-half inch objective and magnifies fifty, a hundred, two hundred, and three hundred sixty diameters. The Astronomy classes have access to a large number of slides, pictures, charts and globes, the high grade tellurion has been ordered.
- The department is rapidly adding apparatus of highest quality, and it will soon be one of the best equipped departments among the teacher colleges in America.

Bible Quotations

Used as Questions in Forum Debate

At the weekly meeting of the Forum Debating Society, it was decided to prohibit the use of Bible quotations in all speeches and debates. Such an interesting discussion arose over the matter that a debate was arranged on the question.

The matter argued was, Resolved, That Bible quotations be barred from the Forum. The negative side, made up of Leon Lauder, John Brewer, and George Smock, defeated the affirmative, which included Paul Metzler, Charles Holland and Harold Felt.

In spite of the results of the contest, no Biblical references are to be allowed in the society’s debates.

New officers for the term are: President, Henry Moe; Vice President, John Brewer. Corresponding secretary, only on campus, Sergeant-at-Arms, Guy Williams.

The society has hopes of starting an intercollegiate debate schedule soon. Preparations are also being made for the spring debate with the Illini Club.

Freshman Group Presents One-Act Play During Chapel

A one-act play, "The Arisucan," by Mr. Renn, was presented before chapel yesterday morning by the M. O. P. group of the freshman class.

The scene was laid in a college restaurant, patterned after the University of California. The props were Helen’s Pillow, was anxious to make good in this place so could re-enter school. Jack Gordon, who was in love with Helen, and who spent much of his time in her shop, was taken by George Moneely. The part of the latter was played by Raymond Mayfield. Other characters in the play were Mr. McManus, the policeman. Grant Mitchell: the waitress, Elizabeth McGinty. Joan Roberts, a college student, Hazel Payne; Beverly, Alisons. Pier: Dr. Kane, Franklin Plater; Tom O’Neal, Scotty Gill; Cook, Kenneth Johnson. A group of college students also added to the play. The play ended with Helen being able to get her father to give her Mark Renn was placed in jail.

The play was written and directed by Calvin Fett. This is the second year that this group has put on a program before chapel, the first being the modeling of class costumes and colors.

Strut and Fret Enjoy Homecoming Movies

The meeting of Strut and Fret last Thursday night was decidedly novel and enjoyable. TheScope, with the study of the drama in all its aspects. Mrs. B. B. Smith, former sponsor of the group, showed moving pictures of this year’s Homecoming events which she had taken. These pictures included scenes from the parade, those of decorated houses, homecoming dancing and some very good views of President Shryock. The rest of the group consisted of a variety oflight and music and a discussion of the new program features. The Teachers Training News reach all educational schools of the Teacher Training type.
Anthony Hall News

Anthony Hall began its round of holiday entertainment with a dinner party of some importance last Wednesday evening. Guests at the head table were: Miss Marjorie Shink, Dr. N. L. Beyer, and Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Abbott. Table decorations of green tapers, poinsettas, and pin-cushions were carried off by the home economics students. For this affair were Mary Rose Colombo and Georgia Corliss.

Clark, McCue, Helen Entertainer

Another party the same evening was held in the Orange Club. Clarke Winfield McCue, Fred and Mary Eileen Dempsey entertained. Covers were laid for Helen Crisp and Helen Holling of Delta Sigma House, Mary Belli of this city, Olive Murray, Lilian Hulan, Ruth Menz, and Hazel Fay of Anthony Hall.

150 Attend Tea

Yesterday afternoon Anthony Hall began a series of two teas, at which approximately one hundred and fifty guests were entertained. Two teas were held, with the guests being divided equally over cards. Each hostess received a card to take to the ladies to the left. The cards were largely students from the college. The living rooms and the reception hall was decorated with every kind of decoration, flowers, softly shaded lights, wreaths, and a Christmas tree. This afternoon Miss Crawford will be hostess to members of the faculty, and practice teachers in the Hall will entertain their critics.

Christmas Dinner

Anthony Hall's Christmas dinner will occur tomorrow night. The menu will be served at candle-lit tables laid with appropriate covers to give a feeling of a traditional dinner. Christmas cards will serve as invitations and the men in the dining room. Music during the dinner and the final entertainment will complete the evening entertainment.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Last Saturday Tri Sigma conducted the sale of ballots for the annual Tuberculosis Drive. The money from these ballots will go toward educational adaptations. The profits provided will assist in the continued operation of the drive. Tri Sigma also held a doughnut sale last Saturday.

Delta Tau Delta

As part of its social service program, Tri Sigma is dressing dolls for the Christmas boxes to be given to charity in Carbondale.

Christmas Party

The active members of Sigma Sigma Sigma surprised their pledges with a Christmas party at the chapter house last Saturday evening. The house was decorated in holiday colors, and the guests were seated at a table, the chairs of which were appropriately fitted for each pledge. The tables were set with the usual mixture of Christmas bells and place cards. The dinner was served by candle light. Those present were: Jane Federer, Frances Matthews, Betty Fary, Evelyn Bell, Nancy Fels, Evelyn Ben-raham, Gertrude Bonney, Ruby Schiff, Mary Lou Hulett, Elizabeth Schreiber, Florence Newman, Lucile Edgar; the sponsors, Miss Sara Baker, and Mrs. Mayer; and the guests of honor were Miss Jane Whitley, Kathleen Coffee, Justina Richardson, Elba Mae Halloran, Viola Shenk, Florence Proctor, Miss Margaret Connaway, Miss Lewis Campbell, Margaret Kelley, Lucille Lynn, and Dorothy Noll.

Miss Hilda Stein will entertain at the League of Women Voters at her apartment, December 16.

High School Notes

The magazine selling campaign is still raging among high school students. The magazine is being sold for the Junior-Junior banquet next spring. Students are dividing the sales into small groups so each is equally trying to out-sell the other. Any sales made to members of the faculty will be deeply appreciated.

Senior Class Rings

An atmosphere of nervous expectancy prevailed among the seniors. The class rings were to be ready in a minute and ten minutes later the seniors could be expected to start showing them off to their friends.

Contribution to "Boners"

Our contribution to "boners" are raised at next week and the faculty will be deeply appreciative.

HANDLE BAR THE GREAT

At varied, but unfortunately few times in the past our college has been blessed with having nothing less than geniuses attend it. A few of them have become famous in the eyes of the world, bringing fame, not only to themselves but to their Alma Mater. It is our 'extreme pleasure to announce to the student body and to the world, that again our college is honored with the attention of another student bound to become even more famous and to become the genuine.

Handle, as he is known by his friends, is a charming lad. He is a member of that great class of precocious students—the freshmen. Possibly Handle needs no introduction. Doubtless everyone has made his acquaintance at the freshmen dances. However, it is not for this skill on the gridiron and in halter that Handle is famed to be; his stamina has been developed by the demands of his efforts. He has developed to the fullest extent his love for the campus and the city. He has won the respect of his classmates by his excellent sportsmanship and his level of equal skill in executing fantastic steps at the freshman dances. However, it is not for this skill on the gridiron but in halter that Handle is famed to be; his stamina has been developed by the demands of his efforts. He has developed to the fullest extent his love for the campus and the city. He has won the respect of his classmates by his excellent sportsmanship and his level of equal skill in executing fantastic steps at the freshman dances.

But, he has never been discouraged, is a perfect bicyclist. He can traverse this sudoriferous steamuntilledly for hours, months, even days. He has developed to the fullest extent his love for the campus and the city. He has won the respect of his classmates by his excellent sportsmanship and his level of equal skill in executing fantastic steps at the freshman dances.

In view of the facts of Handle's marvelous skill, he has been frequently entered in non-stop bicycle races that shall begin early New Year's Eve. To keep Handle from the clutches of greedy promoters and professionalizing our own school has entered to represent it, thus assuring the loyalty which put money foremost instead of the health of the event.

This race is admittedly the event that has ever been undertaken. It is unparalleled by any past achievement of man. It is stupendous, gigantic, even large. This will best be revealed by disclosing the details of it. They are as follows: The mammoth race shall begin at Vlatostock, Siberia. The dropping of a herring in Norway shall start the race. From Vlatostock the course will follow the Lincoln Highway, crossing the Yukon, the Bering Strait, and southern through Oma-in, Persia, and on to Moscow, where the race concludes. It will take place at Lake Edganey and the Big Muddy River are encountered. Of course, knocking about will be the thing, as the race shall be a non-stop one.

With such a hazardous course, every student can readily see that Handle will need our utmost support. Our thoughts must be with him as he speeds along across the frozen, barren tracts, chased by reindeer and endangering by yaks, to say nothing of wolves. Indeed, Handle's task is more than arduous—indeed, it is difficult. No expense is to be spared in placating Handle in the race. Several of the faculty members are going to be given two weeks' vacation with pay. They shall row Handle and his crew to be famous bicycle to Vlatostock.

It is most ardently hoped that the student body and faculty will back Handle to the fullest extent, boost him, cheer him, and help him win this world famous race for the glory of our S. I. T. C. With the echo of three bolderous cheers for Handle Bar reverberating in the distance, I seek my departure.

Success to you, Handle Bar, and may every one of our students emulate you. We know you cannot fail.

Spirit wanes following the football season, and the pep evident by the most body during the days when the spirit seems to fade away into a sort of lassitude. The team which faces foes on the court plays for the same college and the same student body that eleven players thrilled a month ago. Loyalty to the institution and a desire to win for the pleasure of students is foremost in the minds of the basketeers as it has been in the case of the football men.

There is no team strong enough to convince one that football is the greater and more interesting sport. A game involving greater display of physical ability than basketball has been looked upon with some fondness. The thrill accompanying the drubbing and passing of the hardwood court is no less than that received from the off-tackle and end run play.

Obviously there is room for a great show of appreciation for the great teams that have represented S. I. N. U. in basketball and for the great teams that will play under the name of Southern. The spirit of the student body at the initial game of the season was most disappointing. Realize that here too involving greater display of physical ability than basketball has not been seen. The thrill accompanying the whirlwind of students was not based upon athletic prowess alone, but on the display of enthusiasm which must be carried on by the student body and not merely by the members of the team, Yell, and make them like it!

THE PATTERSON AWARD

While expressing gratitude to Vernon Patterson for his football award, the sceptical soul would also like to know its pleasure as regards the factors considered in determining the receiver of the award. Contrary to general belief, this prize was not based upon athletic prowess alone, but, rather, upon all those many qualities which must be blended in order to make the ideal football player.

James Johnston, not the most spectacular member, nor the most valuable asset to the team, did in the three weeks between the meeting of the competent judges, embody traits which rendered him superior to his team-mates. It is a known fact that several of the grid stars are appallingly tall and heady for this honor failed to keep those training rules laid down by Coach McCandless. Also, the scholastic rating of Johnston, as well as his high standard of sportsmanship, combined with his hard, consistent playing and his ability to refrain from over-confidence, undoubtedly made him the worthy recipient.

It is not our purpose to present these facts in an effort to elucidate the admirable work done by every member of this team, but to point out that the Patterson Award is intended for only those who most nearly represent the ideal athlete of S. I. N. U.

LAZINESS

Some of the faculty call us dumb; they say that the present student body is the dullest one they have ever seen. We are. We give them no evidence of unusual ability or extensive preparation in our courses. We neglect Work. We skip meetings of the various campus organizations; so the reason for our stupidity can not lie in our participation in too many outside activities. We are not doing anything to make this a distinctive year in the history of S. I. N. U.

It is high time that we begin to get ourselves out of the slump; we are not as active as bankrupt stocks on the market. When the football season is over, something should grow from sharing the campus hymnal and repeating prayers together—why hands can even be held. And then that leads to leaving chapel together—and that leads to cafe dates—and oh, you can't see why I'm frantic. He's a sophomore with long slate eyes and lashing blank eyes.

WHY DOES IT GÔ?

Contrary to what modern parlance calls "jellyfish." A few New Year's resolutions might help to bring us out of our rut. Perhaps, too, Leap Year shall change our luck and put us on an upward movement.
SOUTHERN WINS OVER AGGIES IN SEASON'S BASKET OPENER, 25-22

FRESHMAN TEAM GOES AFTER INSERTION LATE IN FIRST HALF

Tuesday evening, December 8, the Carbondale Teachers defeated the Aggies from Arkansas, 25-22. In this, the opening game of the season, the Southern men displayed unusual resilience. Throughout the first half, the Maroons rallied, and forged ahead of the Aggies during the fourth quarter. They then protected their lead until the end of the game.

The first game of the season was a test of the material on the 1931-32 squad. Four men displayed unusual tenacity. Those three were Allison. Outstanding was the work of Mike Lonich, Hurst-Bush, and forward. Howie Bierner, a sophomore, showed a great improvement over his last season's play. Ralph Davidson played a great gams guard against anyone on request—providing there is secrecy enough.

WHAT'S ALGERNON?

Oh, pardon, me.

Have the Swiss eat the stuff. As 'tisn't very good and isn’t born.

When it comes to muckety of the Aggies—Joule was a leader and it was the machinery of the court as the other members, in the completion of the All-State colleges and high school stars in the field.

Please, to fake like the normal, and don’t be hypnotizing. He started himself.

I’ve seen them prove moustaches to own favor and thus lose favor and all with the end of the athletic season.

And I’ve seen them shaved off with no better results.

And there hangs a mural—you battered the bread, now live in it!

Last Wednesday afternoon, the Friends under the auspices of Bewley, entertained another of their “merry vises.” Several couples, and about fifty singles danced to the music of Paul McCoy and his Pickups. Nearby fifteen were optimistic enough to purchase samples of fudge.

The poems presented for the occasion by girls in the freshman class.

Those boys, sponsored by the various class organizations on the campus, are very popular with members of the student body. However, the freshmen seem to have the greatest success in entertaining in this manner, especially when the final financial reports are considered.

TEACHERS FACE SOUTHERN TEAMS IN COMING THREE BASKET BATTLES

Juniors, Cardinals, and Cen- tenary here in next games

On Thursday and Friday nights of this week Southern Teachers will be host to the basketball squad of Tennessee Junior College. Little is known of the strength of the visiting team since this is its first game on a trip through the north. However the college has been blessed with an Arkansas team in the class of sports. Indications are that the Maroons, will have a battle on their hands when they meet the Tennessee college in successive nights.

On Thursday night, January 5th, following vacation the Teachers will face one of the hottest hardwood aggregations north of the Mason-Dixon Line. The Arkansas Cardinals are recognized the country over as one of the best professional aggregations in competitive basketball. This team will be remembered from its visit here last season. On that occasion the intra team deal out a victory secured the Southern to forty-four points and all the touring basketball team of the past year.
