Egyptian Staff
Two Week Holiday Will Begin Friday

When classes are dismissed Friday, a holiday of two weeks will begin. From December 22 until January 3, school will not be in session. The vacation, as usual, divides the winter term into two periods—a three-week period before Christmas and a nine week period after Christmas.

Because of this holiday, there will be no edition of the Egyptian until January 17. The staff, however, will take this opportunity to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year to you.

BARBARA JANE SCOTT

Miss Scott has assisted Mr. Baumann in the preparation of the sets that will furnish the stage for the holiday performance on Friday morning. She will be remembered as a member of the stagecraft committee for dramatic productions here within recent years.

NIGHT CLASSES FOR MEN OF THE C. C. C. ENROLL FIFTY-SEVEN

Courses in History, Biology, and English Are Offered

With nineteen men from the C. C. C. at Great City, enrolling in each of the divisions, classes in English, history, and biology have been opened early by the college, and are now meeting every Tuesday night under the direction of several of the college instructors. According to the plan, seven months from today, the courses will be available to the men, and from that time until graduation, and eight of them have attended a high school. Most of them are taking courses in English, and Miss Emma Bowyer, Miss Julia Jonah, and Dr. Charles Tenney are managing the course splendidly, by the conference method with a comparatively short recitation period, in order to take care of the individual differences.

Mr. Shryock and Mr. Dill Address P.T. Association

Mr. Shryock, President of the P.T. Association, addressed the members of the association at their meeting in the Student Union on December 14 with 250 present.

He spoke on the principles involved in the organization of a P.T. Association, and the importance of having a strong association in order to maintain a high standard of conduct and behavior among the students.

The Forum and Illinian to Debate with Other Colleges

Illinian Attends Tournament at Illinois Normal in January

Plans for intercollegiate debating for the winter months after Christmas vacation have been worked out in greater detail by both the debating competitions of the college. The Illinian, a yearbook for the Illinois Normal with reference to the invitation to take part in the competition, was received. That the Faculty and Student Government should make appropriations for use by the elementary schools and secondary schools of the United States.

The Forum is also hoping to send representatives to the Normal meet to celebrate the subject, "Resolved, that the present powers of the President of the United States should be enlarged.

Mr. Shryock and Mr. Dill Address P.T. Association

Because of the interest in Parent Teachers’ Associations, the six schools in the Rural Practice Department held a joint meeting in Student Hall on December 14 with 250 present.

Speakers at the meeting included President Shryock and Mr. J. D. Dill, member of the Normal School Board. President Shryock reviewed the work of the Rural Practice division, while Mr. Dill described the impression he had made upon the student teachers.

The practice teachers from various schools sang several children’s "addition songs." Readings were given by Mr. Shryock, followed by Mr. E. E. Hall, a rural critic, speaking briefly on the Practice system, while Mr. John Wright, who took the course in the fall, explained how a member of the faculty here, explained various benefits coming from his kind of teaching here the last year. That is, a non-decision debate with the possibilities of an open floor to the discussion. The contest will be held between February 10 and March 1, with the national debate subject, "Resolved, that the presence of the President of the United States should be enlarged."
Student Programs Are Deferred Until After the Holidays

Because a special program of Christmas music will be presented in chapel this Friday, the junior class will not continue the series of student entertainments until January. Then, however, the upperclassmen will prepare entertainments for the freshmen to those given the last two Fridays.

A varied program was offered by the sophomore class this morning as the second of the newly inaugurated series. Introduced by the club president, Don Brinton, the performances were well received and several encore were demanded. The numbers were:

Waltz, Meet Me- Courtney Good
Humorous readings—LeRoy Oglesby
Popular vocal selections—Edna Fair, Elma Fair, Grouse Morgan
Interpretative Dance—Kay Lynne Jarrett

CARTERVILLE H. S. TO BE HOST TO COUNTY TOURNAMENT

The Carthage High School will hold to the high school of Benton County, Bentonville, both in a three-day basketball tournament during Christmas vacation.

STRUT AND FRET NOT TO MEET THURSDAY OF THIS WEEK

Strut and Fret will meet tonight. However, the lessons in acting will continue at the regular meeting of the club after the Christmas holiday.

GRAYDON YOUNG

Graydon Young, 31, is employed as manager of the Carbondale branch of the Watkin's Cleaners. An announcement of the marriage of Laura Gittman and Mr. Young was received a short time ago. The wedding occurred August 28, 1933, in Cape Girardeau, Missouri, but was not publicly announced until November.

Frank Miraumont is enrolled in the Liberal Arts College at the University of Illinois.

James Tampany is enrolled in the Commerce School at the University of Illinois.

Teddy Crenshaw is employed as teacher and coach in the Vienna, Illinois, High School.

Guy Reed is doing pre-medical work at the University of Illinois.

Art Miller is enrolled in the Liberal Arts College of the University of Oklahoma, at Norman.

Helen Thompson, who entered S. I. T. C. in 1932, is enrolled in College of Liberal Arts, University of Illinois.

John Borman Wright, 22, Junior College, 20, C. P. A. Commerce School, University of Illinois, is employed as an accountant by the International Harvester Company of Chicago, Illinois.

Ruby Oliver taught at the Carbondale Community High School during the two weeks between Mr. Seibert Turbyfill's departure and Mrs. Gayle Du Buis Madere's appointment to the position of public speaking instructor. Miss Sfrane was employed last year on the faculty of the Anna Junior high school.

I hope all of you have a most happy Christmas, and a better New Year!

While I have been busy with the business of Steep and the season of Christmas has crept upon me. At such time I wish I might be eloquently persuasive. I would speak to you would be teachers of the proverb-stricken teacher born in Bethlehem. I would weave His teaching into your minds, and plod with you to teach His doctrine of social justice to EVERY DAY of your careers.

I often wonder why the angels sang only one occasion, "On earth peace, good will toward men." It seems they could be employed to an advantage in singing this lesson to ALL MEN OF ALL EACH COUNTRY.

Faculty News

Miss Emma Bowyer and Miss Marjorie Shank will entertain at a Christmas dinner at the Robert Hotel on Thursday evening.

Dr. Vera Louise Pecock and her mother, Mrs. Ada Peacock, will accompany Miss Aileen Carpenter to her home in Iowa City, Iowa, for the Christmas vacation.

Dr. Thelma Koppel will spend the Christmas vacation at her home in Vancouver, Maine.

Miss Marjorie Shank will spend Christmas vacation with Miss Aileen Carpenter at her home in Iowa City. Later during the vacation she will visit the guest of Miss Madeleine Smith in Evanston, Illinois. While in Chicago, Miss Shank will attend the meeting of the National Geography Association.

Mr. Robert Furer and his sisters, Misses Elise and Berdene Furer, will spend the Christmas vacation in Watertown, Pennsylvania.

Miss Madeleine Smith will spend the Christmas vacation at her home in Evanston, Illinois.

Mrs. Julia Chastain spent last Saturday in St. Louis.

A number of faculty members motored up to St. Louis last Saturday to meet Dr. Edgar A. Holt, former head of the History department here and now dean of the Liberal Arts College, Drake University. Mr. Holt was on his way home in Tennessee where will spend the Christmas holidays.

Lessons in Acting Are Undertaken

at Strut and Fret

Strut and Fret presented the first of their lessons in the principle of acting at its last meeting Thursday evening. The lesson embodied the principle of reaction revealed at the reception of news. Allan Murphy read a will, especially prepared for the lesson, to which members reacted in individual forms. Individual members were then studied out for definite characteristics which were criticized by the sponsor.

There was a marked increase in attendance at this meeting. The second lesson will embody in more detail the principles of effective stage action to the speeches of other characters.

The judges for the melodrama-writing contest which Strut and Fret is sponsoring will be Mrs. Mae C. Trevillion Smith, Miss Lydia Davis, and Mr. Robert Dunn Furer. Manuscripts for the contest are due today.

CHEMeka INITIATES SIX AT CEREMONY AND BANQUET

Six pledges were initiated into Cheimeka Monday evening, December 18, at a meeting held in the Chemistry Building of the University of Southern Illinois. Jack Op- penlander, Charles Wise, Harry Wil- son, George Creek, Fred Fox, and Vaughn Davison. A short business meeting was conducted immediately following initiation ceremonies, and after that a initiation banquet was served at the Baptist Church.

Albert Ryan of Chistopher, a former Chemistry major of Chemeka, was a guest of the organization.

GREETINGS TO CARBONDALE

To share two celebrations of Christmas is the opportunity of every student at S.I.T.C. Not only do the college organizations present beautiful services and seasonal entertainments, but householders of Carbondale and churches of Carbondale decorate two weeks ahead of time and present their very fine music early, in order that we colleagues may enjoy it, too.

GATHERED closely on our small campus for the greater part of every day, and narrowing our interests to activity in the college, we either overlook affairs in the town or carp and criticize the town for what it fails to provide for us. This one time of the year, at least, we should consider and appreciate what Carbondale does do for the college. It is moving to see wreaths and Christmas trees up and the benefit, and to hear programs announced for such previous presentation that one wonders what will be left for Christmas itself. Certainly we owe Carbondale, as well as our colleagues, the sincere wish of a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

ADVISE FOR FRIDAY

Any presentation demands ordinary courtesy from its audience, but The Messiah, which will be given Friday, requires in addition the courtesy of appreciation. An oratorio of tremendous effect and beauty, it has never failed to move sensitive people, and disturbances at its performance always reflect individual coarseness.

In the past years, the conduct at the Christmas program here has indicated just that thing—obstinate on the part of a good fifty per cent of the audience. Of course it is not to be wondered at that everyone does not understand and experience the appeal. But it is amazing that so many college men and women cannot listen to a glorious oratorio with at least assumed respect.

Friday, if you feel again that you cannot keep from commenting the soprano’s spread and from groaning re-enthusiastically at the Hallelujah Chorus, won’t you take a cut? The rest of the audience would rather not have to be ashamed for your behavior.

THE SPHINX KNOWS:

Kenneth Wensel is back in school. We can’t help noticing him and Cecile Rushing, although at the present writing Cecile seems to be quite absorbed with the very bright star that burns out in Casals.

You can always tell the day before a house dance, because every girl with hair that needs a hair potted down.

Anthony Hall was jerked out of its own world by the ballotumping by the loud clang of the fire going one day last week. Everybody looked incredulous, but started in with a loud whoop to get out to be no fire at all. Two men had walked in the front door and evidently meant the fire going for the doorbell.

The upperclassmen are going to have to go to take Mr. New’s alumni program given last Friday.

It’s such a good thing that Christmas comes early in the term that we can get up covered with fog.

Those freshman on the basketball team were plenty good, weren’t they.

A boy, after getting his Egypitian last week, came back the same night to change his game; he replied that the picture on the front of the one he had wasn’t green enough. That’s hero worship for you.

THE SPHINX WONDERS:

Would you support from looking at Elise Strehlau that her major is political science?

You see Stadium Hall with the brassette at the basketball game Thursday night?

You hear Ed Gloriat’s oratory in his campaign speech that Gordon Duda was elected president of the Commère Club because of the law school’s deep blue eyes.

If Mary Woody is being bothered a little about her picture trying to find their friends’ home address so they can read them Christ’s present, she might want that to be all of you from friends places like—oh, gosh, I might insult somebody.

Way in it who turned out to be no fire at all. Two men had walked in the front door and evidently meant the fire going for the doorbell.

You hear of the good luck of Gayle DuBois Madden? She got the job of place down at Community High.

Do you know Mildred Smith of the sophomore class? She’s worth knowing.

Ilinne Debates the Certification of College Graduates

Resolved: That Certificates Should Be Withheld until the Graduates of a Teacher’s College Have Obtained a Position, was the subject of debate Monday night. The affirmative was presented by Mary Moore and Betty Jones negative. Marian Richards and Winiea Spil

What Do You Think?

Religious beliefs that the mental attitude of our college has increased considerably, and holding last term’s grades as our proof, we are thinking of installing a poetry corner in our paper.

Opinions clash even more upon.

John Moss thinks that the interest in poetry needs to be revived. "Poetry is a fine art, and has been neglected in recent years. Today, there are more people of today are more interested in reading tramps and trash."

Your poet’s corner in the Egyptian has been needed for a long time and it is one time we are incorporated.

There are several people in our college who would like to see it in print. Competitive contests might be begun also. Anything that makes us think seems worthwhile."—Clay Hendon.

"Humorous and cleverly written poems come out of genius. I hope for more."

Berenice Murray."

"A poetry column would be all right in the Egyptian, but I think the majority of the students would not appreciate nor read it."

Mary J. Campbell.

Chapel Notes

Last week’s musical program was full of variety as well as interest—a novel demonstration being given an original composition performed, and a new overture being introduced. Friday night Mr. Mcintosh took a section from the popular American and English suite and directed it, having the divers sections of the orchestra play alone and then in ensemble, showing the contrast. The overture mixes tone qualities in much the same way that the artist mixes colors. The second number of this suite, preceding the overture, was presented—"Among the Poppies"—a slow, swaying waltz, graceful in melody and rich in harmony.

"Fingal’s Cave" or "Hebrides," Marjorie Brown, our masterful overture, received a splendid performance. The composition opens with the principal theme given out alternately in minor and major keys, as if in the first section with the water lapping against the rocks. In a moment a terrible storm arises, but just as suddenly, with the violins picturing the tranquil seas with the sun sparkling on the waters, the music dies. The next movement and once more they are subdued, but this time no shadow after—only dark clouds scudding across the bleak sky while rain softly falls.

The band began Tuesday with Tuesday with Tuesday with Tuesday with Tuesday with "The Star-Spangled Banner" sung with Bethoven with Bethoven with Bethoven with Bethoven with Bethoven’s "Turkish March" from the "Rains of Athens." The march was sung with the steady "one-two-three" cadence, with the water lapping against the rocks. In a moment a terrible storm arises, but just as suddenly, with the violins picturing the tranquil seas with the sun sparkling on the waters, the music dies. The next movement and once more they are subdued, but this time no shadow after—only dark clouds scudding across the bleak sky while rain softly falls.

Gayle Du Bois Madden Succeeds Turbyfill at Community High

Mrs. Gayle DuBois Madden, enrolled this year as a student of this college, has been chosen to succeed Mr. Seybert Turbyfill as instructor in public speaking and drama at Community College High School. Mrs. Madden has been teaching for seven years at Community High. She will teach classes in both public speaking and English. Miss Madden came here as a transfer student from the University of Illinois, where she completed a major in the public department.

PARDER HOST TO CABINET

OF Y.M.C.A. SUNDAY EVENING

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet, which met at the home of Mr. Charles J. Parder on Sunday evening, December 16, will give its annual winter-holiday meeting. The meeting last night inaugurated the tenth semester, which is to be held at the Cornelia Hotel. The meeting will be administrated and which will be conducted by different members. Following last night’s discussion, the members adjourned to sing Christmas carols.

A plan for dividing the membership in accordance with the group. The members who are responsible for a monthly program, was arranged. Vaughan Davis, chairman, will hold the Christmas program chairman for this term.

Mrs. W. J. Nixey, presented Thursday evening, had a Christmas program with an interpretation and feeling. The musical accompaniment was played by Mr. W. A. Chalmers.

A new form for the program will be a parody on the Christmas spirit, and a typical program will be given consisting of such numbers as a welcome speech, drill, music, and a student singing Christmas carols. Robert Byerly, as the Sunday School superintendent, will produce all the numbers on the program.

All aid members are invited to attend this meeting and to bring carols.

FRENCH CLASSES OF U. S. ENTERTAIN COLLEGE CUD

1. LITTLE INFORMATION has been released from the Jacksonville institution, but it is expected that a scrapy aggregation will represent Illinois College.

2. The school's team finished high in the conference standings last season and is out to repeat that feat.

3. Coach William McAndrew will probably have the services of Herbert Bricker tomorrow night. Bricker has been out this far for the season with an eye injury and an infected foot.

4. Herb is considered one of the best forwards in the Little Nineteen Conference.

5. The game tomorrow evening will present the two scoring twains at their best.

6. Former Hempstead star Lynn Holder, considered one of the best forwards in the conference, and Russell Emery, a member of the Little Nineteen Conference, will be in the game, and Herb is expected of them.

7. Defending the Maroons' basket will be two noteworthy guards, Russell Emery and Robert Reeves, who played against the Maroons in the Little Nineteen Conference and are expected to regale again after attack tonight.

8. Looking into the impending match at Mitchell, Gray, and Lennik are better men who proved their worth last year. Mitchell played a sound game last season against the Maroons and should be well equipped to pull against the Maroons' center, H-E, and Herb if this year's performance is as good as the previous one.

9. This year's掉 1931 season promises to be another memorable one for the Maroons.

Intramural League of Basketball Teams Will Be Organized

Men who enjoy playing basketball but are not quite "good" enough to play with the varsity, will be interested to know that the Intramural basketball league will continue this winter and will start sometime after Christmas. Coach Leland Lingle, in charge of the games this season, is expecting twenty to twenty-five teams to enter. There will include about two hundred and fifty boys. Any team wishing to enter must inform Mr. Lingle sometime before Friday.

The rules of the tournament are as follows:

1. A player may play on only one team.

2. Any team which starts a new player cannot change to another team.

3. Each team must have a manager who will be responsible for his own team.

4. A schedule and time-table is to be posted on the bulletin board in the C'nsidore at nine o'clock nowadays. If the team wishes to change its mind, it must inform Mr. Lingle at least fifteen minutes before the game.

5. If a game is played on a certain day, that team cannot change to another team.

6. If a team loses two games in a row, it will not be considered for the championship.

7. The championship will be played for by the first team which wins two games in a row.

8. To enter the tournament, a team must pay $1.00 in advance to the Manager, who will issue a ticket to the team.

9. The Manager will be the final authority in case of any disputes.

NIGHT CLASSES FOR MEN OF THE C. C.
ENROLL FIFTY-SEVEN

department, supplemented by Mr. Troy Stearns, who volunteered his services, are instructing a class of nineteen in ancient history, following the course most commonly offered in high schools. Each of this staff will teach three weeks. Here, too, a good half of the members of the class are taking the course for credit, but undoubtedly many are following it for pleasure and interest and the desire to improve themselves. The average training of the class is one year and one semester of high school work. Four or five of the men are high school graduates. As in the other divisions, the men are absorbed in the work and are particularly interested in the attention to historic geography that teachers of the course are giving.

Men who applied for the study in biology proved to be so advanced that two classes were organized, one in botany and one in biology. Those of college rank were enrolled in a botany course that is the equivalent of the college course. Miss Martha Scott and Miss Mary Godfred are alternating in teaching the two groups which meet in the Old Science building. At the last meeting several members were taken in, and it is expected that there will be additions this week too.

After the negotiations of Lieutenant Earl Urlich, of the camp provosts, were made in November for the organization of the course, every member of the college faculty volunteered his services, and on December 5, with the help of Mr. T. L. Bryant, the groups were organized for the rest of the year. It has not yet been decided whether the classes will be held during the holidays, but twenty-one more meetings of each class are scheduled.

INSTRUCTORS WILL ATTEND CONVENTIONS DURING THE HOLIDAYS

Esther Power, Miss Emma Bowyer, and Dr. Charles Ternez.

The American Historical Society will convene this year in Chicago, December 27-29. Mr. Lentz, Mr. T. L. Stearns, and Miss Sara Baker are planning to attend from here, and among the former members of the faculty who will be present are Dr. Henrietta Larson, now of Harvard, and Dr. R. J. Bartlett, now of Tufts College.

Boston will be the city host to the American Society for the Advancement of Science during their meeting from December 27 to 31. Probably the most outstanding speaker will appear in the genetics division, in the person of Professor T. H. Morgan, Nobel prize winner. Mr. Morgan is at present affiliated with the Southern Institute of Technology, at Pasadena, California, Dr. Mary Stearns, Miss Martha Scott, and Miss Charlotte Zimmerfeld will attend this meeting.

Concurrently meetings of the National Council of Geography Teachers, the American Association of Geographers, and the Geological Society of America will be held in Chicago. December 28-30, Northwestern University will entertain the first two groups, and the University of Chicago will be host to the Geological Society, Miss Marjorie Shanks, Miss Ammeline Knaue, and Mr. William Cox will attend some of these meetings.

Into this disordered family life at the Bilis home, four guests unmonos in and simultaneously arrive. Within a surprisingly short time, everyone gets muddled as to which guest each member of the family is supposed to be entertaining. Turmoil, romance situations, love-making, high thrills, follow in the wake of Judith's theatrical motivations. And the guests become more and more muddled.

Finally the guests make a unanimous escape from what they consider a mad-house where everyone is "bouncing around on a feather-bed of false emotion." And yet after their departure, the Bilis- are alarm ingly hot aware of the fact that the guests have even been there.

of the paper, Miss Noel, an excellent newswriter, has held the post alone since the first of September. This situation developed when George Bradley, appointed associate editor with Miss Noel last spring, did not return college this fall.

Within the next month several other writers were added to the staff. Blase Frist, Winfield Callaway, and Robert Boyle have been taken on as competitors, and Eileen McNeil has been reinstated as a special writer. Miss McNeil, a reporter for the Egyptian all of last year, has just re-entered college for the 1933-34 year.
