It's easy to get discouraged in these present days. We all wonder where this world is going. But we still have to work at it. We still have to do it. We still have to try to make it better. We still have to be the change we wish to see.

They're just like us. They're just like us. They're just like us.

What shall I do next is a true that Christmas has a meaning but to this girl, Christmas and reality don’t meet. There are gifts staring and hands to reach out that are cold. If you look to the next room and listen to the sounds that race through the halls and rooms of your house, you will hear the voices of the children, the carols and the laughter of the families. These are the sounds of Christmas, but they are not the only sounds that are heard. There are the sounds of the old who have no children to share their joys, and the sounds of the poor who have no gifts to share.
