2-5-1963

The Egyptian, February 05. 1963

Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_February1963
Volume 44, Issue 41

Recommended Citation
http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_February1963/15

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1963 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in February 1963 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
Campus Bus Adds 2 New Routes Today

YSIU-FM Aids Nation-Wide

A series of half-summer musical programs being broadcast on stations throughout the United States will be part of the nation-wide U.S. Broadcasting Service. "America Sings," a series of 20 programs, explores American Folk Music and its development. The series was produced by the Westinghouse Broadcasting Corporation and rushed to its stations.

For Grad Senator

Balloting for a graduate student senator. Balloting for a graduate student senator who will fill the vacancy on the board of trustees has been postponed. The election will be held at 7:30 a.m., 1:45 and 2:45 p.m., 4:45 p.m., and 7:30 p.m.

Three Broken Ankles

Dr. William J. Sweeney of the Health Service reported that three persons suffered ankle injuries as a result of falls on slippery campus walkways.

The appointment of Roscoe Pulliam as Vice Chairman of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees was announced at a special meeting of the board.

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has appointed Roscoe Pulliam as Vice Chairman of the board.

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has appointed Roscoe Pulliam as Vice Chairman of the board.

Week Experiment Planned To Test Student Acceptance

The maiden voyages of two new bus routes will be made today, announced Student Council President Bill Fenwick.

The routes, one connecting the University Center with Southern Hills, and the other circling the campus between classes, will be conducted on an experimental basis for a week to test student response.

The bus circling the campus will leave the University Center at 8:45 and 10:45 a.m. and 1:45 and 2:45 p.m. It will drive around Campus Drive to Mill Street, cut behind the University School, come up University Avenue, over to Illinois Avenue and back to the Center.

The entire trip is expected to take about 15 minutes, despite the fact that students may flag down the bus at any point along the route and get off at any point. This will save the student both time and walking effort during those between class dashes from the Agriculture and Home Economics Buildings.

The service will also offer transfers to those wanting to continue to downtown Carbondale or the living areas.

The fare will be 10 cents for this service.

The initial trip will leave the Center at 1:45 p.m. today.

The second new service will give Southern Hills its first bus connection.

The first bus of the day will leave the Center at 7:30 a.m. and arrive at the south parking area of Southern Hills at 7:45 a.m.

Other runs will leave the Center at 11:35 a.m., and 12:30 and 5:30 p.m. These will leave Southern Hills at 11:40, 12:30 and 5:30 respectively.

The initial trip will leave the Center at 12:25 today.

The second new service will give Southern Hills its first bus connection.
'John Brown's Body' Given Impressive Reading By Interpreter's Theater

Stephen Vincent Benét's epic poem "John Brown's Body" was given an impressive reading by a handful of young members of SIU's Interpreter's Theater last week.

If you didn't attend, you missed one of the better stage offerings given on campus recently.

To be sure the performance was not flawless. A line was rushed too quickly here, a stentiment voice occasionally stole the true thunder from Benét's moving words; or a touching passage spoke in a voice that was too hushed was lost in the barren Muckelroy Auditorium.

But those were only minor flaws and did not mar the overall work of all the young performers—Mickey Carroll, Frank Krehf, Bob Meyer, Dan Cagle, Merv Oliver, Joan Yale and Chuck Endelholfer, guitarist and singer who provided the musical background.

In a manner similar to that used by Broadway Director Paul Gregory when he staged Benét's old warhorse a few years back, the young men and women sat on three raised platforms on the bare stage and "read" their parts. (Read actually is a misnomer for obviously knew almost every line by heart and followed the prompt books infrequently.)

Undaunted by the harsh lights, a noisy beating system and a classroom bell that rang at the beginning of each scene, they managed to convey all the joys and sorrows, pathos and dramas, bitterness and tendermess of Benét's words.

As Meyer noted at the start of the performance, in interpretive drama, the words are real. And for the most part he and his colleagues lived up to that promise. Only once or twice did the actor (or voice) get in the way of Benét's often stirring words.

In those rare cases it was when Meyer was reading John Brown's role. It but should be pointed out that perhaps Benét and not Meyer was at fault.

After all, John Brown was a firebrand—spoke and acted like one—and that's how Benét wrote his lines. Even the most skilled performer must find it difficult not to get caught up in the spirit of Brown and chew a little scenery now and then. As Cutjo, the other role he read, Meyer was delightful. Miss Carroll was more impressive as Melora than as the "Shining" regally. Frank Krehf made the union soldier more than just a recitation of lines. Dan Cagle's deep baritone seemed well suited for the role of Lincoln and the slave ship captain; Merv Oliver had just the right gentle touch as Clay Winge. The gentlemanly confederate up to that point, the young lad moved convincingly between the lines of Sally Depe and the coquetting Mary Lula Wingate.

Special mention should be made of Chuck Endelholfer's contribution. His rich baritone and impressive guitar work was rather like the frosting on the cake. It gave the performance a tone that, along with the time of the young readers, moved the evening well out of the amateur class.

Gerald Shriver directed the two performances and Marion Kleinman, associate professor of speech, was producer.

The Southern Players' current comedy production "Right You Are," depicts everybody's life in a small Italian town where many of the citizens are consumed with curiosity to find out "the true story" of an unconventional new family.

This farce with a provocative ending was the first three-act comedy written by Luigi Pirandello, probably Italy's outstanding twentieth-century playwright, who was awarded a Nobel Prize for Literature in 1934.

Before a Sicilian-baroque set representing the parlor of a small-town official's home, a gabbling, whispering, prying, arguing, unabashed inquisitive and inquisitorial pack of busybodies surge back and forth across the Playhouse stage.

Sharon Hubbard and Joanna Hogan portray two old ladies, apparently too old to enjoy anything but gossip, an idle couple, Gerald LaMarsh and Evelyn Barber, poke into other people's business just to have something to do, and Bruce Feldman as Councillor Agazzi, with Marjorie Lerstrom and Mary Helen Burroughs as his wife and daughter, assume the responsibility of regulating the moral climate of the town.

The pivotal characters of the strange family group include Susan Pennington as Signora Frola, Dave Davidson as her son-in-law, Signor Pozza, and Bonnie Garner in a brief but climactic scene as the estimable Signora Pozza.

Other major roles are well filled by William Linderomas as genial old provincial Government and Lewis Ameel as Laudosia, a somewhat diabolical-looking spectactor-character who wrecks the playwright's comments on the all-too-human comedy unfolding.

This almost comical commentator has a familiar counterpart (as participant and interpreter of the action for the audience) in other modern plays such as the Stage Manager in Thornton Wilder's "Our Town.

As a bewildered mild-mannered, Carol Tantum has a brief vignette of a comic scene with the philosophical and supercilious Laudosia. She, like the audience, is overwhelmed by the torrent of words which are part of Pirandello's stock of trade.

For debate and rebuttal, argument and contradiction, conjecture and inconsistency, the ordinary folk may do more—easier, than any other portable typewriter only $112.50

Plus tax

So complete, so convenient, so portable that it can be carried from office to office by modern office typewriters that are far more expensive!

Ask about our terms.

VAVARTY THEATER

(last time today)

GIGANTIC!

"in intense and illuminating illumination"

BRABBS

Wednesday only

The program in the series of golden operettas.

Chocolate Soldier

Nelson Eddy & Margaret Whiting

Remington Fletting

Complete offense equipment co.

Office machines equipment supplies

404 S. Ill. Carbondale

457-6450

ITALIAN DRAMA—Susan Pennington is com­ founded by David Davidson in this scene from the Southern Players' current production

Play Reopens Tonight:

"Right You Are" At Playhouse

Is Stimulating And Diverging

Right You Are!" Looking on are (top to bottom) Evelyn Barber, Marjorie Lerstrom and Mary Helen Burroughs.
International Night
Stages Coffee House

Aromatic teas and coffees from all over the world will be brewed and served to visitors of the International Night show scheduled for the SIU campus Feb. 9.

Because of the interest shown in the debut of the International Coffee House last year, the program will be carried over from Sunday. It grew from the observance of Model United Nations, held here annually.

A recap roundup among the foreign students on the campus has been underway by members of the Special Events Committee of the University Center Programming Board, sponsoring Coffee House. Last year 10 different coffees were served.

Three shows were planned featuring acts by foreign students. There will be two shows Saturday night at 9 and 10:30 p.m. and one at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday.

A style show of Indian fashions has been promised as a feature of the stage shows. The SIU foreign student body is being dubbed and solicited for help in arranging authentic displays to give a glimpse of exotic cultures from countries the world over.

In addition, table service for the shows will be borrowed from foreign students asfar as possible. Contributions of articles, recipes, and ideas are welcomed by the Committee of the Lebshad and Elaine Ochsenrelter.

The Recreation Committee of the Programming Board has arranged for a June demonstration to be given Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Men's Gym, in connection with International Night.

Husbands will be guests of the SIU Newcomers Club Thursday for a potluck supper. A review of the SIU-conducted tree census study, James Mowry and Ronald Meier, Plant Industry, will be featured. It will be held at the Faculty Club, 613 S. College Ave. The affair will be held at the Faculty Club, 613 S. College Ave. The affair will be held at the Faculty Club, 613 S. College Ave. The affair will be held at the Faculty Club, 613 S. College Ave. The affair will be held at the Faculty Club, 613 S. College Ave. The affair will be held at the Faculty Club, 613 S. College Ave.

Horticulturists To Meet Wednesday

The Southern Illinois Horticulture Society will meet Wednesday, Feb. 6 from 8:45 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. in Room 200, Agricultural Industries, will present a review of the SIU-conducted tree census study, James Mowry and Ronald Meier, Plant Industry, will participate in a forum on fruit production problems.

A meeting of forestry students will be held Thursday at the home of Joyce Garrett, 905 E. Park, Trailer number 3.

BUTTERFLY TRIO — Bang Hi Cho Kim, accompanist for the Opera Workshop's production of "Madame Butterfly" rehearses with Ruth Bandy (violin) and Carol Lamber, who will share the title role in the production Feb. 16 and 17.

Korean Student Adds Oriental Touch To Opera

When the curtain goes up on the SIU Opera Workshop's production of "Madame Butterfly" next month, there won't be a boned Oriental on the stage.

Yet much of the success of the production will be due to the untiring efforts of a shy, little woman who happens to be the only genuine Far Easterner connected with the opera—and she isn't even Japanese.

She is Bang Hi Kim, a native of Seoul, Korea, whose uncanny musical ability led to her being selected as the piano accompanist for the rehearsals of the operas when previous production had fallen.

Since then Mrs. Kim, a graduate student in music, hasn't missed a rehearsal with the individual soloists or the entire cast.

"Mrs. Kim, who is about three fingers shy of five feet tall and looks as if she'd need a ladder to sit on to reach the piano pedals, is just the right height for the role of Madama Butterfly," said her husband Greg, a graduate student in journalism.

What about the future? "I plan to perform on the piano some day," she replied, a comment her "Madame Butterfly" colleagues call "the understatement of the year."
Higher Education Board To Rule On SIU's Capital Improvement Budget

SPRINGFIELD, I11.---

The state Board of Higher Education will rule on university capital improvements requests today, among them a $4 million request from SIU. The Board, which has already twice cut the original SIU request of $6 million, will meet to consider requests from SIU and five other state universities.

Some $9.4 million has been asked for capital improvements on the Carbondale campus. This includes $4.1 million for a Physics Building. Board recommendations are not binding even on the universities or the state legislators.

OTTAWA---

Canada's Defense Minister Douglas Harkness resigned Monday because of irreconcilable differences with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker on nuclear policy.

Harkness, an advocate of nuclear weapons for Canada, also indicated that dissolution of Parliament in near, such dissolution would bring April elections. He said he is seeking to restore his Conservative Party to a clear, majority in Parliament.

In resigning Harkness said, "I believe we should have obtained nuclear warheads for Canada." He claimed the latter were ready, though the warheads remaining in the Cabinet I could better achieve this purpose than by taking the easier course of resigning." He said the last few weeks have made it quite obvious that the prime minister's and his views were "not capable of reconciliation."

Harkness said that in all defense negotiations concerning nuclear weapons "the sovereignty of Canada has been protected fully... We have never lost sight of the dignity or independence of this country."

He told a packed House of Commons he believes he made a mistake when he agreed to a four-month delay in the acquisition of nuclear warheads. This appeared to refer to Diefenbaker's Jan. 25 statement that the NATO Council would meet here in May will be asked for clarification of Canada's nuclear role.

SPRINGFIELD, I11.---

More than one million Illi nois motorists have not yet purchased their 1963 license.

Eight Coeds Vie For Off-Campus Queen

Voting for an off-campus Sweetheart Queen will be conducted today and Wednesday at two locations. There are 8 candidates for the honor.

Balloting will be from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. for two days in Activities Room H of the Student Center and at Saluki Hall, 716 S., University Ave.

Queen candidates are Nancy Dain, Marian Dean, Bonnie plates, according to Secretary of State Charles P. Carpenter. Deadline for displaying new plates is midnight Feb. 15.

Avances set off by heavy snow continue to raise the toll in lives and property in Japan's worst winter in decades. Four weeks of almost unbroken blizzards have caused 97 deaths and 137 injured according to National Police reports.

WEATHER FORECAST

The Weather Bureau says the warming climate will continue most of the week with temperatures 3 to 10 degrees above season normal.

Temporal in Southern Illinois today will reach the 40s and 50s with fair skies. Readings in the 60s are possible for extreme south and southwest.

SIU's Golden Anniversary

The golden anniversary of SIU's School of Agriculture was formally recognized at the board of trustees meeting Friday.

A memorandum presented by Agriculture Dean W. E. Keeper reviewed the academic changes, accomplishments and student body growth since 1913 when a 60-acre tract was purchased and a course for future agriculture teachers was introduced (in the education curriculum).

The school now has four departments, conducts experimental work on University farms totaling about 1,800 acres and has more than 500 full-time students.

Board members approved plans for three University building projects on the Carbondale campus. Two are new structures, the School of Technology academic group on the western edge of the campus and the University Park housing group, on the east side. The third would be constructed with state universities bond issue funds and the second with revenue bonds to be retained from rentals. Construction on both is scheduled to begin under way later this year.

The third project is interior remodeling of Morris Libra ry.

RARE GIFT -- Mrs. Horley K. Crossen of DuQuoin brought a special gift to the Morris Library Rare Book Room when she attended the James Joyce party Friday. She presented Ralph Bushen, Rare Books Librarian, a letter written by poet Ezra Pound to Mrs. Crossen's late husband. More than 100 persons attended the Joyce party.

Ag School Celebrates Golden Anniversary

The golden anniversary of SIU's School of Agriculture was formally recognized at the board of trustees meeting Friday.

A memorandum presented by Agriculture Dean W. E. Keeper reviewed the academic changes, accomplishments and student body growth since 1913 when a 60-acre tract was purchased and a course for future agriculture teachers was introduced (in the education curriculum).

The school now has four departments, conducts experimental work on University farms totaling about 1,800 acres and has more than 500 full-time students.

Board members approved plans for three University building projects on the Carbondale campus. Two are new structures, the School of Technology academic group on the western edge of the campus and the University Park housing group, on the east side. The third would be constructed with state universities bond issue funds and the second with revenue bonds to be retained from rentals. Construction on both is scheduled to begin under way later this year.

The third project is interior remodeling of Morris Library.

Appointments to the faculty made at the February meeting were mainly replacements for resignations or sabbatical leaves.

Pei-chia Kuvo was advanced from full professor of history. He has recently published a book on China and has declined an offer from the University of Leeds, England, to occupy a newly created chair of Chinese studies.

Robert Child, community consultant and instructor in sociology, was named assistant director of Community Services and will serve as acting director while Robert Lackner, director, is on sab­ batical leave.

Louis A. Bobka, community service consultant, was named supervisor of the Community Services office at East St. Louis. Sabbatical leaves were approved for six members of the faculty, to permit writing and research in their specialties. William F. Simeone, associate professor in English, will travel in Mexico and work on the theory of translation of John Denham. C. Carl Wieg­ gand, professor of economics, will complete the writing of a book and will travel in Europe. Edwin B. Warren, associate professor of fine arts, will transcribe and edit works of Robert Farley, Doris Munn­ lin, associate professor of chemistry, will pursue re­ search into select correlation functions. Floyd F. Cunningham, professor of geography, will write on social studies and obtain research data for a book about Illinois.
Does University Center Fill Students' Needs?

In the University Center meeting, the question asked was whether the facility was functioning as expected. Chairman Ted Hutton explained the importance of the Center for the student body. He pointed out that the Center was a place for students to gather, study, and socialize.

Dean Davis mentioned that fees for preliminary studies and student fees for preliminary studies were being charged. He hoped the Council would take a more active role in the Center's development.

The question was raised regarding the number of pointed questions asked by the Council. Dean Davis suggested that the Council consider replacing Dick Childers, who resigned, with an active member.

Dean Davis also discussed the issue of the faculty coffee room. He proposed that the Board of Trustees increase student fees to provide for earlier completion of bond issues.

Dougherty outlined basic plans and changes which may be made in the cafeteria service. She mentioned that the bookstore may be moved to a larger room.

This question was raised about the possibility of using the student center to cover architectural costs. Dean Davis thought this was possible.

Dean Davis also mentioned that the proposal and changes which may be made in the Center included plans and changes which may be made in the Center.

Dougherty replied that the space situation "prevents us from doing anything in an organized way. The biggest problem is to get people out when they've finished. It's hard to do this when there's no place to tell them to go and it's zero weather outside."

Linda Brummett asked about the possibilities of offering student services in the center, which she said would be appreciated by a number of students.

"This is a brand new thought," Dougherty said, "and we're looking forward to it." Dougherty also said that since faculty and students didn't mingle as well as expected in the ballroom, a faculty coffee room might be situated upstairs.

George Graham asked if this was going to be another "dark corner." His question wasn't understood. He explained that in the old student center, which was located near the post office, Negro students had segregated themselves in a corner.

Dean Davis said there were a number of sub-cultures existing in every university, and that he felt the separation would probably have been satisfactory to the groups concerned.

Graham said that a number of proposals to the University Center had been rejected, and he understood it. He mentioned that the Council had rejected proposals and magazine which had been requested be offered for sale at the information desk.

Graham asked Dougherty, "Could the Council have some input into this matter?"

Dean Davis replied, He indicated the problem was probably one of communication between the University Center Programming Board and the Council.

Gerry Howe told Graham that the proposal to sell magazines from other campuses had not been rejected by Dougherty. He reminded Graham that Dougherty, last quarter when the proposal was made, had only wanted more information.

Graham said to Dean Davis, "We've just been demonstrating how poor communications have been."

In other Council activity, a number of business items were taken care of before adjournment.

Election of a graduate senator replacing Dick Childers, who resigned, will take place February 5 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

An appropriation of $100 was granted for the Midwest Model U.N., in which Southern will represent Saudi Arabia.

Sheri Farrel was appointed to the Convocation Committee. A petition for recognition of Havens Dorm was approved.

Gerry Howe presented a motion, which passed, that Chairman Hutton send a card to Mrs. Wanda Fenwick, wife of Student President Bill Fenwick, who is in the hospital recovering from an appendectomy.

UN News To Mendelsson

Spotlights WSIU Programming

WSIU-FM, broadcasting at 91.9 on the FM band, continues to provide quality programming for SIU audiences. Among the informative and entertaining programs for today and tomorrow are:

TUESDAY

9:00 a.m. - Morning Melody
1:30 p.m. - This Week At the UN
2:00 p.m. - Concert Hall presents Operation 94 of Schu-
Off-Campus Housing

Carbondale householders were given a chance to air their complaints to President Dolyte Morris at a meeting in the University Center January 26 and to learn university intentions behind new off-campus housing regulations now being worked out.

The householders expressed their concern for the future of off-campus student housing. Morris said that the university cannot say that their enrollment predictions will become fact, he said university planning calls for housing for 9,000 of an expected 18,000 student population.

Householders were persistent in their questions concerning housing regulations that are being revised. They asked whether a supervision clause would make house trailers off-limits to undergraduate students.

A recent resolution of the SIU Board of Trustees says in part: "It is hoped that the university will in the very near future be able to require that its students reside only in public accommodations which adhere to standards regarding safety, study conditions, health and sanitation, and supervision," Definite regulations for supervised and unsupervised housing are only in the planning stage. Several problems have yet to be solved. In the Wednesday night meeting, President Morris asked for the cooperation and help of householders in solving the problem.

Informed sources have indicated that the extent to which specific regulations for unsupervised housing can be applied has yet not been worked out.

Morris explained that the university's concern for the quality of off-campus student housing was in terms of nature and function. He said the university feels a responsibility to students from all over the world to insure the type of housing which provides the necessary conditions for study, health, safety, and sanitation. He said it is "reasonable to anticipate" that present homes which do not meet the conditions that are eventually set will be banned to students.

University definition of good off-campus student housing includes more than structure of buildings, adequate heat and good sanitation. In the future, off-campus student housing, to be approved, will be required to provide the conditions necessary for study. The question of supervision arises here. Will the university decide that good study habits are not possible unless off-campus housing is directly supervised? Supervision might produce the atmosphere for good study, but it will not force anyone to study.

When Morris was asked whether all off-campus housing will have to be directly supervised, he replied that he was not able to answer.

Students must abide by university regulations. The question is how far should the regulations go? Informed sources say any regulations are being drawn up by off-campus supervised houses and that discussion has indicated that it is possible unsupervised houses will then either be required to adopt supervision or be banned to students, with possible exceptions made for class standing and academic average.

Marty, Anita Kuo, off-campus housing coordinator, said that the number of students living in trailers is in the neighborhood of 1,500. An additional 500-1,000 students live in unsupervised houses.

Most of these students live in trailers and unsupervised houses for specific reasons. It would seem that the desire to escape a crowded, noisy dormitory for the quiet and privacy of a trailer or apartment is something to be admired rather than outlawed.

Erik Stottrop

Cosmetics are a woman's means of keeping a man from reading between the lines.

—THE DAVINILE (VA.) COMMERCIAL APPEAL

Federal System Under Attack

It is hard to know whether to treat seriously those asides and asides a group of proposals to amend the United States Constitution being considered by a state legislature is in session this year.

These amendments, were they passed, would destroy the Union in spirit and might actually break up the handiwork of the Founding Fathers, who, bound the separate states into a strong bundle through the application of the principle of federalization.

Since the amendment resolutions involve so much potential for conflict, the only safe approach is to take the movement seriously. The resolutions have been approved by at least one state legislature, that of Arkansas. They are pending in Illinois and perhaps more.

No National Debate

The current proposal proposes a procedure through which states could start the amending process without consultation with Congress, something that would mean without national debate. The second would shut the Supreme court out of any further consideration of the injustices and inequalities in congressional and legislative redistricting.

The third would form a super "Court of the Union," comprising the chief justices of the 50 states' highest courts. The new court would review proposed redistricting plans. The initiative of five state legislatures, "any judgment of the Supreme court relating to the rights reserved to the states or to the people by the Constitution."

Appropriately the second proposal is the bill the House has been accused of introducing legislation to attack our historic federal system without thinking about what they are doing. What is worse, the proposals have arrived at the state legislatures via the Council of State Governments, one of the worthy organizations in the field of state and local administration.

In Illinois, proposals have arrived at the state legislatures via the Council of State Governments, one of the worthy organizations in the field of state and local administration. There are now three new proposals, approved by varying votes last Dec. 6 at the 18th Regular General Assembly of the States.

2 Carried Easily

The proposal to bar the Supreme court in redistricting tests and the one to set up a procedure for detouring around Congress in adopting amendments carried by votes of 26 to 16 and 57 to 4, respectively. The one for the so-called "Court of the Union" carried, 21-20.

The proposals have arrived at the state legislatures via the Council of State Governments, one of the worthy organizations in the field of state and local administration. There are now three new proposals, approved by varying votes last Dec. 6 at the 18th Regular General Assembly of the States.

We Can't Help But Wonder

Copyright 1963 Los Angeles Times; reprinted with permission

Below Olympus by Interlandi
Southern's gymnastics machine continues to roll on, as the Salukis registered their fourth consecutive dual meet victory without a setback, over hapless Ball State, 88-24. Saturday, a capacity crowd attended the meet in the Men's Gym.

In winning its fourth straight dual meet, SIU has captured all but two of the 28 events in the four meets. The two events which -- trampoline and still rings -- were both dropped by Iowa three weeks ago.

In the scoring department, it was Rusty Mitchell who once again led the attack. The All-American compiled 19 points to show the way over the Cardinals. Mitchell posted another double by taking the free exercise and tumbling events, his specialty. Mitchell also racked up a second and a third in the side horse and parallel bars respectively.

Bill Simms, continues to show brilliance as he took runner-up honors in the scoring department with 13 points. Simms took a first in the parallel bars and added a second and a third in the high bar and side horse events.

Wolf and Bruno Klaus, who seems to be regaining his form of last year, added 10 points each to the one sided victory with Wolf taking a second in the parallel bars and two thirds in the free exercise and high bar competition. Klaus won the high bar event with a fine 94.5 average and took second in the free exercise.

Hugh Blaney added nine points to the Saluki cause with a first in the trampoline and a third in tumbling. John Rush, who continues to improve with each meet, added seven more points with a second in both tramp and tumbling events. Steve Pasternak completely dominated the side horse competition with a brilliant 94.5 performance.

Bill Simms, continues to show brilliance as he took runner-up honors in the scoring department with 13 points. Simms took a first in the parallel bars and added a second and a third in the high bar and side horse events.

The results:
Free Exercise-1-Mitchell, SIU, 92.5; 2-Mitchell, SIU, 88.5; 3-Simms, SIU, 85.
Parallel Bar-1-Mitchell, SIU, 91.5; 2-Simms, SIU, 92; 3-Wolf, SIU, 90.5.
Side Horse-1-Pasternak, SIU, 94.5; 2-Mitchell, SIU, 88.5; 3-Simms, SIU, 85.
High Bar-1-Klaus, SIU, 94.5; 2-Simms, SIU, 92; 3-Wolf, SIU, 90.5.
Tumbling-1-Mitchell, SIU, 90.5; 2-Wolf, SIU, 85; 3-Simms, SIU, 82.5.

Stump's Two Free Threes Give Frock Second Tournament Win

Gary Stump's two clutch free throws with only eight seconds left in the game gave SIU's freshman basketball team a 69-67 win over Hannibal Junior College. The Salukis victory gave them their second KIwanis Invitational Tournament title in three years. Southern also won the tournament in 1960.

The tournament was at Flat River, Mo.

Stump, who had played only about seven minutes prior to the tournament, started both games Friday and Saturday nights scoring eight and 13 points, respectively.

George lubelt, assistant SIU basketball coach, called the tournament effort since I came here in 1959.

"We don't look like the same team now," a tired lubelt said, "that started the season. Our defense which has been weak all season pulled itself together during the tournament and is responsible for the tournament championship."

Jubelt had praise for his entire squad which put forth tremendous effort. "All the boys did exceptionally well and I'm proud of the boys," jubelt commented. "George McNeill played three real good games and Boyd O'Neal did his usual good job."

"Stump ran the ball team real well as playmaker," lubelt added. "He and Lloyd Wells hit clutch free throws for us."

Clem Quillman and Randy Goin, two of lubelt's regulars, were left at home for disciplinary reasons. Bill Small was also left at home for the same reason.

THE CURSE OF THE CAMPUS: NO. 1

...for he does what you will, but I must point out which is far too complex. Sure, we've got plenty to be proud of. We've got atom smashers, we've got graduate schools, we've got new pecking order scholarships, we've got new scholarship officers. And yet,...

In the midst of these triumphs, we have failed drastically to make any progress in solving the older and most horrendous of all campus problems: we've still got roommates.

But, on the other hand, Mervo bought two packs of Marlboro Cigarettes Christmas and one of them to Hilquist. Al! I wish you—who can stay mad at a man who gives you Marlboro Cigarettes, upon unfolding them that flavorless tobacco, upon drawing through that pure while Marlboro filter, upon emptying the ashtray this be your last possible cigarette. Marlboro—who, I say, can harden his heart against his neighbors? Certainly not Hilquist. Certainly not you. As you will find when you scurry to your nearest tobacconist and buy a supply. Marlboro come in soft pack or Flip-Top Box. Tobaccos come in small, medium, and large.

Second Past 2 Years:

Meade Feels Gymnasts Can Take NCAA Title

By Tom McNamara

Relaxed and poised, Bill Meade sat at his desk in the physical education office and confidently spoke of the rapidly approaching NCAA gymnastics championship meet.

"With a little bit of luck," Meade said enthusiastically, "we could win the big prize this year. It takes a few breaks and some help from the other schools and consequently we're unable to win."

Looking ahead, counting on seniors Fred Orlofsky, Bruno Klaus and Bill Slimms for standings. The parallel bars, still rings, side horse, long horse, and high bar are the apparatus events. Tumbling is one of Southern's better events with the trampoline the weakest of all events. "Tramp is a little weak this year," Meade said, "but next year it will be one of our stronger events. We have several boys up from the freshman team and a couple of transfer students who definitely will add strength to the event.

"There is good team spirit," he commented draping his leg on the desk. "The boys are tired of second place finishes and will not settle for anything less than the title this year."

Pride is the ingredient of SIU's success in gymnastics. "The boys all have a sense of pride and are proud to be members of our gymnastics squad," Meade said smilingly, "because the student body here appreciates the talent which we have."

Meade glanced up at his book end--two silver second place NCAA trophies--and summed up his feelings, "We just have to win the first place gold trophy this year so I can put it in the middle of the other two."

BILL MEADE

valuable points at this year's NCAA meet which promises to be even better than the past two years. Juniors Rusty Mitchell, Charles Woez, Charles Ehrlich and Tom Geocaris are figured to add strength to SIU's squad at the championships. Dennis Wolf, Steve Pasternak, Bill Hladik and John Rush are sophomores and will be expected to score points for SIU at the nationals.

"Yes, this is the greatest team which I have coached," Meade said proudly. "In terms of depth and ability this is definitely my strongest team. SIU hopes to win the national championship in March after two years in second place. Last season Southern finished behind Southern California and Penn State finished ahead of the Salukis in 1961. SIU is strong in the apparatus events with any one or the boys able to score high in the

EGYPTIAN CLASSIFIED ADS

FOR RENT

HOUSE - 704 S. Rowlage, Convenient for Parks. Five large rooms, one small office, basement with screened porch, yard, gas heat. Call 427-5582, 607 W. College 41-446.

Hausenstraler, $41.50 per month plus utilities. Lake Hughes Court, East City Limits off Old Highway 13. 9-280. 40-412.

SERVICES OFFERED

Altering & Sewing by experienced lady. Prompt service. Phone 457-3599. 40-41,4,45

Tastes Great because the tobacco are!

21 Great Tobaccos make 20 Wonderful Smokes!

CHESTERFIELD KING tastes great, smokes mild. You get 21 vintage tobaccos grown mild, aged mild and blended mild, and made to taste even milder through its longer length.

CHESTERFIELD KING Tobacco too mild to filter, pleasure too good to miss!