Board to Limit University Branches

Addition of $7.55 Million Approved for SIU Budget

By William J. Conway

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Board of Higher Education made a move Tuesday to close the University of Illinois branches out of cities where new junior colleges may be founded.

The board also added $25.3 million to the amount it will recommend that the legislature appropriate for capital improvements at six state universities in the next two-year period.

That raised the total to $1.21 billion, $6 billion more than the $150 million under the $150 billion, $6 billion more than the $150 million already approved for the academic years of 1965-66 and 1966-67 asked by the schools.

The board voted

Kaplan to Speak

Today at Meeting

Of Music Students

Max Kaplan, director of the Arts Center of the School of Fine and Applied Arts at Boston University, will address a music student convocation at 10 a.m. today in Purr Auditorium of University School.

The noted author, lecturer and consultant in the arts will speak on "The Realization of Your Goals" at the convocation.

"The Arts in a Changing World" will be the basic theme he will discuss at a public lecture at 8 p.m. today in MacKay Auditorium of the Agriculture Building.

On Thursday, he will be on hand for consultation with music and sociology faculty members and graduate students.

He will visit the Alton campus of SIU on Friday.

Security Office Reorganizes

To Meet Expansion of SIU

The SIU Security Office has been reorganized into four divisions: patrol, investigations, communications and special services.

Thomas L. Leffler, security officer, said the reorganization was an attempt to keep pace with the expanding enrollment at Southern.

The move was also the result of the workings of the board being drawn up by all University departments, to put them within the bounds of the new University Statutes.

Evidence of the need for expansion can be seen in the increased number of cases
Freshman Finds Finances Flee

A 17-year-old freshman learned the line and out of college life last week.

His checking account tilted and his checks began to bounce. The youth's parents were on an around-the-world trip. He was unable to contact them so they could make the checks good. The only solution he saw, said a spokesman for the Office of the Dean of Students, was to withdraw from school and go to work to earn enough money to cover the checks. So he withdrew and retired home.

Once home he contacted friends and told them his problem. Last week, his father's lawyer called the Office of the Dean of Students and said he could cover the checks if the University would notify the withdrawal.

Monday, the withdrawal was withdrawn from the student's records and he began making plans to return to campus.

Former Students Held in Georgia

Two former SIU students are being held by police in Macou, Ga., on charges of transporting a stolen automobile across state lines.

According to information received by the Office of the Dean of Students, Roger E. Weiss and Richard Brefeld, both of McHenry, were riding in the car with another man, William Ludwig, who reportedly had driven the car south from Chicago. Ludwig was arrested for a traffic violation. Police said they allowed Weiss and Brefeld to continue on their trip after Ludwig told them they were free to return to school. He remained in custody for the traffic violation.

Later, police determined that the car had been stolen and ordered the arrest of Weiss and Brefeld.

Trade Institute Official to Talk
About Overseas Opportunities

Students interested in business opportunities overseas will be given a chance to talk with Robert L. Gulick Jr., dean of admissions for The American Institute for Foreign Trade, on Monday.

Gulick will be on campus to acquaint students with how they may qualify for an overseas career at The American Institute for Foreign Trade. The institute’s curriculum emphasizes three fields—languages, general business and Morse Code Class

The first officer in The University Center Planning Board has been scheduled for Wednesday.

The SIU Amateur Radio Club has invited all interested persons to participate in learning a Morse Code. The first session will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Room D of the University Center.

A club member, Anthony P. Wheeler, is in charge of the club. He said its purpose is to prepare persons to take the novice class amateur radio examination.

The first meeting will cover reviews of radio activities, and a basic introduction to Morse Code, Wheeler said. The seven sessions are available without charge.

Deadline Is Reset

For Variety Show: Groups or individuals wish­ing to enter the Theta Xi Variety Show on March 28th must have applications in the Variety Office by Saturday. Those applications are due by Jan. 29.

Tom Thomsen wanted challenging work

He found it at Western Electric

T. R. Thomas, B.S.M.E., University of Nebraska, ’58, came to Western Electric for several reasons. Important to him was the fact that engineers play vital roles right from the start, working on exciting engineering projects in communications, including electronic switching, thin film circuitry, microwave systems and optical masers. Western Electric’s wide variety of challenging assignments appealed to Tom, as did the idea of advanced study through in-house graduate pro­gram in extensive management courses and a company-paid Tuition Refund Plan.

Tom knows, too, that he will meet thousands of experienced engineers for supervisory positions within the next few years. And he’s getting the wide experience necessary to qualify. Right now, Tom is developing new and improved inspection and process control techniques to reduce manufacturing costs of two major products. Tom is sure that Western Electric is the right place for him. What about you?

If you set the highest standards for yourself, enjoy a challenge, and have the qualifications to get in— we want to talk to your Opportunities for fast-moving careers now exist for elec­

Editorial Comment

Long Distance Calls On Room Phones?

The new phone system installed in campus housing this year, which approximately doubles the number of circuits, has done much to alleviate the overloading which plagued students the last few years.

While perhaps the improved system, though, the University failed to make one tiny adjustment that students had hoped for.

At the old-system, students are still not permitted to make long-distance calls from room phones. That is, they could not be permitted to make long-distance collect calls from room phones.

Allowing collect calls to be made from these phones should not involve any more risk of false number giving being responsible for room phones.

Students benefit from using room phones would be realized in the convenience of making calls from their room, rather than waiting for a turn at the hall's single pay phones.

The phone company might also benefit if room phones could be used as a revenue source.

Under present conditions the local company is customarily asked, if break repairs on the pay telephone in one hall, truth, much of this damage is due to vandalism, but much of the vandalism can be traced to students losing their tempers while trying to use the well-worn pay phones.

We feel we have no way condone this childishness; but, we must admit that much of the damage is due to the students. We feel the University is seriously considering making the change.

This change would be a definite advantage for the students, would possibly be beneficial to the telephone company, and, it is not harmful to anyone. We feel the University is seriously considering making the change.

Did Champaign Campaigner Daub Old Main's Cannon?

The bright blue and dashing orange which currently decorates the front of Old Main strikes me as being, perhaps, a paradox.

Indeed, when dear old Southern Illinois University at Carbondale campus conflict again and again over state money appropriation, over academic standards, and a hundred other items.

Well, anyway, it might be summed up as; when Illinois blue and orange just couldn't make it as a team, so it came Southern! LBJ keeps talking of the Social Security: the tune with change, however. LBJ doesn't think white or even polka dots looked better on the old cannon. It seems to harmonize with the well-meaning artist who gave the cannon its latest touch, though. After all, we can understand why his taste is so arrogantly exhibited. It's probably been at Illinois!

Illinois Public Schools Suffer from Politics

By Sen, Paul Simon

Illinois today is taking a long-range view of its educational future, but unfortunately is making it in its elementary and high schools of the state.

Today, for example, each legislative session was marked by a broken window and undesirable intrusions in fighting between the state's universities. These frictions created the Board for Higher Education, which has not only ended most of the fighting, but has taken an overall look at the state's educational needs in the field of higher education.

But our high schools and elementary schools, we tend to live from legislative session to legislative session, from emergency to emergency, not sure of the direction in which we are heading.

The entire state has generally been handled by the School Problems Commission, which has done a forensically fine job.

To get the long-range view, in my opinion, Illinois would do two things:

1. Implement the state board of education—not to replace any local school boards or assumption of control. We should take the long-range look at our educators.

2. Make the state superintendent of public instruction an elected office rather than an elected officer. Repeal all the legislation which purports to control this post. In fact, that office has his first chance this year to choose his own leader of his particular party and the state board as opposed to the educational needs of the state.

These two suggestions can easily be combined in a board of education whose duty it would be to appoint the state's top school man. Many states have such a setup and it works much better than our political-oriented system.

Bad Manners Hurt Concert Enjoyment

It has always been a source of shame and not a little disgust to see with the lack of courtesy students at SIU "accept" culture. It has come to the point that anyone who dares to attend concerts here becomes a target for students ruin the whole thing for the rest. Perhaps through your paper you can help them make their actions to their attention.

(The Daily Egyptian received the following letter from a former SIU student serving in the Army. The letter, postmarked Acana, Guam, was prompted by a wire story service page in the Pacific Stars and Stripes about SIU's champion shower-sitter, Mike Durley.)

Dear Editor:

Enclosed for your perusal in a delightful article I discovered a clipping running through a recent issue of the Pacific Daily.

It's great to see that an SIU student is getting the publicity well-deserved. I wish I could have been a part of the story.

I would also like to add that I think the University is doing much for the morale of one soldier who has made SIU his home for the last six years. As long as I can't be there you are doing the best thing by sending SIU to me.

Keep up the good work.

Irriving Illinois Students Have New Outlook

Today's college students, of whom there are fortunately over increasing numbers, have a reason to be excited, they are as interested in what goes on in Mississippi as on their own campuses. Students at small liberal arts colleges come from every state of the union, They seem to me, we have things out of focus, and a state board of education who (s) suggest proper priorities.

There will be no shortage of opportunities for our state board of education and as appointed state superintendent of public instruction. And these opportunities will mean a great deal to the future of our children.

This session of the legislature will provide an opportunity to roll both measures, and the state board of education who will be in charge of the fight takes place.

Students Have New Outlook

Rory and the University's students express their enthusiasm in their evangelizing, recruiting, and fund-raising at the main city's entrance. It's been taken away from them around Sept. 14.

It Becomes Universal

Youth for Goldwater and Young campaigners joined Young Democrats, Youth for '68 and Oba, and some other student groups in protest. The dean's order stood and after that came the demonstrations, sit-ins, and the students were arrested and faced charges. Faculty raised buff for some 200 students by calling for student free speech and movement on the campus.

Finally Chancellor Strong was relieved. A university was designed to stay in touch with student concerns and thinking. And the "Hyde Park" area was restored.

Many articles are appearing giving the reader a fuller view of the affair. The Jamaica Press, published in Los Angeles, tells "why it happened," the "real issue," what

The day of the cupp" was Saturday Re¬view for Jan. 16 had a detailed article, "What Happened at Berkeley," tells for "above all, h8m for America" and the magazine for Jan. 26 carries a long, thoughtful account.

Surely there can be no argument that it is better to have students raising money for voter registration in Minnesota and even recruiting pickets in the lobby of the Oakland Tribune than to have them sitting in shower stalls hours on end wasting time and hundreds of gallons of precious water.

A Senseless Stunt

It is no credit whatever to Illinois that after three months of annoying, useless weeks was ended by a small group of students who in question were on the campus of the University of Illinois. A Chicago freshman recently spent 30 hours in a shower in Urbana and in Carbondale a sophomore from Decatur wasted 60 hours and 2,000 gallons of water. One estimate has it that twice that much water ran into the drain. But the very fact that water was being wasted, farmers in many communities in America were having water because of dry conditions, and it is a point at which there could be this completely senseless waste, but that the participants could have been urged to turn off the water. They also have been personally arrested and presented with a bill for the water they wasted at the campus's expense.

Student fads are to be expected and the harmless ones are certainly be tolerated and that diminishing precious resources—water.

British Laborites Defeat Conservative Censure Try

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson’s Labor government defeated by 17 votes Tuesday night a Conservative attempt to topple it from power in a rowdy, raucous session of the House of Commons.

Jearing Conservatives tried to bring down the government with a censure motion dismissing decisions of Wilson’s first 100 days in office as “hasty and ill-considered.” The vote was 306-289, climaxing hours of shouting, cheering interruptions and finger-pointing on both sides of the statey chamber. The most tumultuous day in Commons since Labor took office last October followed the opening declaration by Conservative leader Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

“The honeymoon is over,” he said. “If the government had a shred of political integrity they ought to resign,” he said. Wilson fought back, saying government measures were the result of negligence when the Conservatives were in power.

After the vote on the Conservative motion, the House voted on a Labor amendment blaming the government problems on “irresponsibility” by Douglas-Home. That passed, also by 17 votes. The Liberals, who have voted with the government in 31 of the 31 ballots this session, decided to abstain.

Illinois Legislature Passes First Bills

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) - An appropriation for the Illinois State Investigative Commission and two other bills cleared the Legislature Tuesday, the first measures passed in the month-old session.

A unanimous House vote approved $100,000 in extra funds for the crime agency during the five months remaining in the current fiscal year.

The commission exhausted its original $100,000 two-year budget last September and has been seeking funds advanced by the Public Safety Department.

Also endorsed unanimously by the House and sent to Gov. George Ryan were bills authorizing use of school buses in transporting students to high school athletics events, liberalizing bonding powers of city-owned hospitals.

Another bill is expected to enter the second month, few bills have been introduced enough but committees are just beginning to function and only a handful of measures have reached the House floor.

The Kerner administration brought in three proposals Tuesday, two to raise a $1.25 hourly minimum wage applying to Illinois workers not covered by the federal minimum wage law.

A measure to increase minimum salaries of full-time teachers was offered by Rep. C. L. McCormick, R-Vienna, which provides for a national yearly salary of $4,400 instead of $3,800 for those with 12 years of teaching, a bachelor's degree; $5,000 instead of $4,000, a master's degree; $5,800 instead of $4,200, a master's degree; and $6,000 for the doctorate.

Taped recording of all legislative business was previewed in another bill by Rep. Kim, who said a verbal record of proceedings would be helpful to judges and lawyers.

Two Killed in Snowball Fight

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - A snowball fight that erupted Monday near the University of Tennessee campus camouflaged the death of two men.

A university freshman, Marvin Goodman, 18, of Springtown, Mass., was shot and killed by an irate truck driver whose car was pelted by snowballs thrown by students.

Another truck driver, Walter Lee Voy, 58, died Tuesday at a doctor's office where he had gone for treatment of ear injuries suffered when struck on the head by a snowball during the incident. Roland F. Lawson, 58, died of a heart attack seconds after his car was pelted by the snowballing students. His wife blamed his death on the incident.

"There's no doubt about the death of Goodman and Voy," said Police Chief French Harris. "They are a direct result of the snowball fight. It cannot be acceded by federal mediator John R. Murray.

ILA leaders refused to act immediately on a request by President Johnson that the men go back to work in ports that have already settled with the union.

The university ordered an investigation of the snowballing which led to the fatal shooting of Goodman.

Police said truck driver William Douglas Willett Jr., 27, Greeneville, Tenn., was charged with second-degree murder and released in $2,500 bail.

Willett told police he didn't mean to shoot but added: "They kept throwing snow in my eyes and I fired a shot to scare the gang as they closed in on me."

The Lutheran college was already embroiled in a battle over the use of its dormitories and properties, and he said.

Queen Elizabeth Visits Ethiopia During Tour

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II Tuesday visited Addis Ababa's grandiose Africa Hall, cradle of the Organization of African Unity, where her husband, Prince Philip, cracked a joke about neoimperialism.

"They are being shown around the gleaming glass and marble building by Robert Carden, executive secretary of the Economic Commission for Africa, when Philip stopped to chat to some of the United Nations staff.

He asked Canadian Frederick Clarmont where he came from. Clarmont told him and, Philip cracked: "I suppose that is an example of neo-imperialism."

The queen and her husband were on an eight-day state visit to Ethiopia, the first ever paid to this country by a British sovereign.

45 Communities, Chicago Support SIU Classroom Program

Student teachers from SIU are receiving in-the-classroom experience during the winter term in 45 Southern Illinois communities and 21 in secondary and elementary schools in Chicago.

The students, numbering 292, are from 152 Illinois communities and eight eastern states.

Charles D. Neal, director of student teaching in Southern's College of Education, said teacher training is required for the bachelor's degree in education at Southern. The students work for one school term in a classroom under the supervision of an accredited teacher and the SIU department of student teaching.

Those in teacher training during the winter term, with the school to which they are assigned for teaching:

SANDRA HARDING TEACHES A SECOND GRADE CLASS AN ENGLISH LESSON.
Chairs were gathered in a semicircle, papers and programs were asked, and in the the partially opened overnight bag with warm-up yoga and gym shoes bulging forthward.

It appeared as though the meet had been virtually rushed in that circle of chairs which had contained gymnastics coaches, officials, competitors and local sports buffs who had gathered at the gym. "Sometimes it seems as if our friends talk about gymnastics until we rise," said she as she slipped her morning cup of black coffee.

"Long ago I decided that being a coach's wife was going to be my life, then I'd do my best to become keenly interested in gymnastics and make an effort to understand it," she reflected.

Gymnastics has no reason, she said, because meets are held during most of the year to say nothing of world championships, trials, or Olympic trials. And American gymnasts, "Bill is constantly on the road even to foreign exhibitions, and making talks to promote the sport," she said.

Bill Meade met his wife when he was a star gymnast at Penn State. They were married in his junior year, it was then that Mrs. Meade became an ardent booster as it is said that if "not everyone has the ability to throw his body around, then I've found a good one," said Bill, who is a regular on the Winker Grade School basketball team.

"The boy's a trumor," she joked, "in a discussion of football and baseball." "His Dad has made no effort to interest him in gymnastics," said Mr. Meade, approvingly. "In the summer he's a Little League baseball fan."

"In gymnastics the coach works overtime, and really gets to know the athlete," she said. She pointed out that "not everyone has the ability to throw his body around." She said her capabilities in her husband's specialty were nil, "Gymnastics looks so easy, but it's so tough," she commented.

The Meades meet with their team only three times each year, but there are many other meetings, she said.

The gymnastics meets are too far away to go back for Thanksgiving and Christmas time, she said, but they meet with the Meades. "Our family is small, so this is ideal," she said.

"Even after 17 years, I don't think we do everything," she said about her husband's profession.

The spacious SIU Arena has been acclaimed by many sports enthusiasts but perhaps no one has appreciated it more than a coach's wife, because as Mrs. Meade says: "In the old gym practice was from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.; in the arena practice is in the afternoon. Bill is home in the evenings now."

Centennial of William Borah Marked by Namesake Here

William Edgar Borah, an SIU freshman, has a right to be proud this year. This is the centennial of the birth of his great-uncle and namesake, who became one of the great American orators through his many terms in the United States Senate.

The original William Edgar Borah was born on June 29, 1865, a few weeks after the death of Lincoln. He was born on a farm near Fairfield in Wayne County.

William Edgar Borah II has some definite opinions about his illustrious great-uncle, who was elected to the Senate in 1907 and rose to become a figure in national and world politics until his death in 1940. The namesake is a slender 6-footer who, although he wears the flat-top haircut of this generation, bears a resemblance to the Borah of Capitol Hill. He was born 7 months after the death of the senator but has read history books about his great-uncle and heard stories from relatives in and around Fairfield, where he lives. What has impressed him most about his ancestor? "I would say it was his self-determination," he said. "He kept driving in spite of defeats. And there was the loyalty to his party (Republican), although he was mis­ treated by party members. And there's his great oratory, I think he was the greatest." Young Borah is the son of the late Carl M. Borah of Fairfield, who died in May, 1960. Carl was a nephew of the senator. The SIU freshman's mother resides in Fairfield, also the home of his two sisters.

Officals Applaud Student Conduct (Continued from Page 1) It is difficult to question students about their ages in some taverns because of overcrowding, but they said they were making an effort to enforce drinking laws. Regarding the use of duplicated or fictitious driver's licenses to obtain alcoholic beverages, an official of the secretary of state's office said anyone who alters a driver's license would have it suspended.

A representative of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service told the group that with the advent of better weather, students should be informed that they must carry registration with them while they are boating. And, he said, students who go swimming should not leave valuables in unlocked cars but should take them to beach areas with them in order to discourage stealing.

Mrs. Meade Is Most Loyal Fan Of Husband's Gymnastics Team

By Jack Roberts

To most people loyalty means many things, but to Mrs. Jean Meade, it is being her husband's No. 1 gymnastics fan even if he's late for supper, bringing an un­ expected guest home, or in on the road with his national championship team.

Mrs. Meade even seemed regretful when she said that she had hosted only two home meets since her husband, Bill, became gymnastics coach at Southern nine years ago.

"Only illness "keeps me away," she said as she recalled missing meets when their one child, named after her father, was born and another time when she was hospitalized.

"No, it's not unusual for us to have unexpected persons for dinners when we had just hosted a meeting," she said during a recent morning interview as one of these guests, a gymnast official in Carbondale for a meet, stirred in a guest room.

Mrs. Meade, dressed in a blue house robe with matching slippers, was just beginning to clean up the family room which had been the site of a reception held the night before the meet in Carbondale.
Salukis Place 3rd In Track Opener

Well pleased with his team’s performance, Coach Low Hortage took his varsity indoor track squad to Lawrence, Kan., Friday for 7:30 p.m. meet with powerful University of Kansas.

Although the varsity team finished third in the Saturday opener with 30 points, they had surprised the University of Wisconsin’s 106 and Loyola’s 96, harvesting experiences from several thundersheets.

Leading the way ace Bill Collins who won two of the three first places the Salukis managed to salvage. The veteran won both the mile and half-mile and ran a creditable 49.7 leg on the Salukis’ mile relay team.

The senior from Chelmsford, England, won the mile in 4:32 with teammate Alan Ackerman.

Freshman Wrestlers Defeat Southeast Missouri Varsity

Jim Wiltmiller’s powerful freshman wrestlers showed the Southeast Missouri State University how their schedule of 55 matches in the season had made them a force to be reckoned with.

The 27-19 victory over the Salukis ended eight of them on probation and went to the record of 23-1-1, the most matches that Saluki wrestlers have won in one season.

In the exhibition matches, Steve Sarosy at 125, Terry Moog at 137, Joe Billings at 141 and Mike Gabriel at heavyweight all won their matches.

Despite the upsurge in the freshman wrestlers will put their perfect record on the line when they travel to Wichita’s Kansas State, a powerful Oklahoma State University in the national meet.

Billikens’ Shooting, Height Defeat Saluki Frosh 93 to 52

Lack of height and lack of shooting range forced Saluki Fred Capra to take over the University of Kansas 92-52 at Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis Sunday.

The short salukis, whose tallest man in the game was 5'11" Fred Capra, were outscored by the Billikins towering height and shooting accuracy. Southern was further handicapped by the loss of its leading scorer guard Jerry Westcott.

The 6’3” tall Billikins dominated the game with an injured knee, but they were just too tall to be outscored definitely.

The Billikins rolled to an early lead and built it up to 43-23 at the half. Southern never challenged St. Louis after that as the home team breezed to the victory.

Little Bobby Jackie paced the scoring for the Billikins and was high man for the game with 24 points. Jackson's teammate in the backcourt for the Billikins, Larry Baker, was next with 10 points.

The Salukis combination, Rich and Dale did lose the Billikins in double figures with 16 and Barry Orms with 11.

Southern had an unusually close lead in shooting in the first half, as it made only 19 of 39 from the field, compared to 40 of 82 by the Billikins.

Another big difference was in the rebounding, where St. Louis grabbed 40, 68-30. Rich Niemann, the 6’11” giant, pulled 19 off the boards for the Billikins, and teammate Ceres Jones, a 6’7" forward, grabbed 13.

The Billikins are now 2-2 for the season with four games left on the schedule. The Salukis will get another chance at St. Louis when the Billikins come here for a game. The next contest for the frosh will be Monday when they travel to Owensboro, Kentucky.

Coed Cagers Win Principia Games

The Salukis’ women’s basketball team won both its games last weekend in the Principia Invitational. The varsity team won 65 to 54 in the first game, 52 to 40 in the second game.

Marilinn Harrison won high point honors in the first game with a total of 28. Joyce Niestemski collected 19 points for high title in the second game.

The women’s varsity basketball team is coached by Charlotte West of the Department of Physical Education.
