The Editors’ Opinions

Great Americans

Their Duty To Create Our Freedoms: Our Duty To Protect And Contribute

Intelligent — and dynamic — leadership has always been a sure sign that the voice of the people is being heard. Our leaders, by the very nature of their positions, must always be prepared to take action. In this regard, we applaud the work of our current leaders who are dedicated to maintaining our freedoms.

Great Americans

The American people, throughout our history, have always been committed to creating a better future for future generations. The founding fathers laid the foundation for this country, and it is our duty to protect and contribute to its continued growth.

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Newsmen Visit So. Ill. Area; Hear Lectures
Five news vans from Latin America are visiting the Southern Illinois news media as part of an exchange program arranged by the Latin American News Service, Department of State.

The group arrived by bus from Chicago's O'Hare Airport and were received at the Carbondale Civic Center by Mayor John Gehrke and the City Council. Then they were driven to a reception in the Carbondale Daily's press room, where they were given a tour of the newspaper's facilities and met with the editorial staff.

During their one-day stay, the Latin American journalists will have the opportunity to meet with local politicians, business leaders, and community representatives to gain a better understanding of the Southern Illinois community.

The next day, the group will travel to St. Louis to continue their tour.

Pinecone Needs Backfielders
Due to the loss of three All-Conf backfielders, SIU football must redraft their offensive line this spring.

The three All-Conf backfielders were: Carl Hart, fullback; John Dennis, halfback; and Bill Bash, left guard. Their absence will leave the Eagles with only two returning offensive linemen, Carl Hart, guard, and John Dennis, center.

The Eagles' offensive line this season will be led by junior center Carl Hart, who is a former All-Conf center. Hart is expected to be a key player in the Eagles' offensive strategy.

The remaining offensive linemen are: junior tackle John Dennis, senior tackle Bill Bash, senior guard Bill Bash, and junior guard Carl Hart.

The Eagles' defense will be led by senior linebacker Tom Banta, who is a former All-Conf linebacker. Banta is expected to be a key player in the Eagles' defensive strategy.

The remaining defensive linemen are: junior end John Dennis, senior end Bill Bash, junior nose tackle Carl Hart, and senior nose tackle Carl Hart.

The Eagles' special teams will be led by senior punter Bill Bash, who is a former All-Conf punter. Bash is expected to be a key player in the Eagles' special team strategies.

The remaining special teams players are: senior placekicker John Dennis, senior holder Bill Bash, and junior snapper Carl Hart.

The Eagles' kicking game will be led by senior kicker John Dennis, who is a former All-Conf kicker. Dennis is expected to be a key player in the Eagles' kicking game.

The remaining kicking game players are: senior punter Bill Bash, junior holder Bill Bash, and senior snapper Carl Hart.
