Noted Music Conductor

To Give Recital Tuesday

Dr. Stanley Chapple, noted symphony and opera conductor, pianist, concert pianist and lecturer, will give piano and lecture concert in Shryock auditorium, Tuesday, June 26 at 8 p.m.

The event is under the auspices of Phi Sigma Mu, National Honorary Music Education fraternity.

Dr. Chapple, born and educated in England, made his debut as a conductor of professional opera at the age of sixteen when he was called upon to substitute for the regular conductor of an opera company in London. Subsequently he became assistant conductor for the British National Opera company, a post which he held for three years. He then founded the Modern Chamber Orchestra of London specializing in contemporary music. He made his debut as conductor of the London Symphony orchestra in 1927. Since then he has conducted major symphony orchestras throughout Europe, Canada, and the United States.

Dr. Chapple will speak on "The Theme and Variations Form" at Trysted by Mozart, Beethoven, and Mendelssohn, and in examples he will play the first movement of Mozart's Piano Sonata in A Major, the Thirti-two Variations on a Theme in C Minor by Beethoven, and the Mendelssohn Variations on "La Belle Helene." From 1930 to 1934, Dr. Chapple was head of the London Academy of Music. He is now head of the music department at the University of Washington in Seattle and director of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, a post previously held by Sir Thomas Beecham.

Dr. Chapple took up permanent residence in the United States in 1939 when he accepted the position of assistant to Dr. Serge Koussevitzky at the Berkshire Music Center where he remained until 1941. Since that time he has conducted the St. Louis Philharmonic orchestra and has regular summer music director of the St. Louis Lyric Opera.

Dr. Chapple is the author of three well-known books on theory of music and class piano teaching. Dr. Chapple has made numerous radio and television appearances and is currently appearing on a fifteen-minute television broadcast on station KSDK-TV, Wednesdays at 8:45 a.m.

"Family Portrait," Story of Christ's Relatives, Chosen for Summer Play

"Family Portrait," a three-act story of Christ's family, has been chosen as the summer play to be presented here the latter part of July.

Dr. Georgia Winn, associate professor of English, who is doing graduate work here this term, has been chosen for the lead part—Mary, the mother of Jesus.

TAKING FOR its theme Christ's words, "A prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kin and in his own house." "Family Portrait" authorizes the term of the ordinary family which acts and speaks about what people do today. It is a simple and reverent picture of the family of Jesus.

It begins in Nazareth which Jesus has just left upon His life work, and where His remaining brothers understand only that in the height of the building season. He left them and depleted the working force.

It continues in Capernaum where tavern keepers and promoters have capitalized on His growing power and popularity. It returns to Nazareth and the disillusioning experience among His neighbors.

Then it journeys to Jerusalem where the flock crowd has turned from its cries of "Hosannah" to shouts of "Hosanna!" and to the upper chamber where after the Last Supper, Christ's mother awaits His return.

THE FINAL SCENE is laid again in Nazareth several years after the Crucifixion, a family still labors under the selfish and blind delusion that they have been deceived.

The play, which can be classified as neither a comedy, nor a tragedy, was written by Lenoire Coffin, former SIU news service writer.

In addition to Miss Winn, several minor roles and one or two major roles have not been assigned as yet according to Dr. Archibald McClintock, director of the play.

First practice session for the play was held last night.
TO CUT OR NOT TO CUT

After many arguments, discussions, and experiments, the faculty at Southern seems to be satisfied with the arrangement concerning "cuts," namely, that of the instructor to decide himself how many cuts a student should take in any one course. Quite differently, many students feel that the present system is all wrong.

Most instructors state some opinion on cuts near the first of the term. Some say that the number of cuts does not concern them as long as it does not affect the student's grade. Then, later in the term, before the instructor has even given a test, he may fill out a report for the Dean's office stating that the number of cuts are affecting the grades of the student.

Others decide that you may have no cuts at all, that you may have as many as the quarter hours you receive in that course, or that a student may take as many cuts as he desires.

There seem to be three glaring faults with the system now in use: the complete lack of agreement among instructors; lack of consideration for the fact that the student is now on a college level and allowed to make all other decisions for himself; and an "A" student is required to be in class just as much as an "E" student if he expects to get the grade he has made.

One solution might be to install a system in which a student with a grade below a "C" average in any particular course is allowed to take unlimited cuts in that course as long as his course average remains a "C." This would give the student more time to study on subjects more difficult for him and would allow the instructor more time to help students truly in need of assistance. To be effective the system should be used by all instructors and should be fairly used by instructor and students alike. Finally, the system could also give the student a goal to strive for and would probably bring up the average school somewhat.

Progress...

It's hard to believe, but it's true. The training school site is being rushed to completion; work is well on its way to clearing the site for a new girls' dormitory, the heating tunnels for the proposed library and proposed life science buildings are almost finished.

Work on the new building projects does not add to the beauty of the campus this summer and the noise from this work sometimes is very distracting to classes, but the work does represent progress—progress on a building program which Southern has needed for many years.

Building—especially under present war-time conditions—is difficult and takes considerable time, money, and effort. We really appreciate the work that is being done.

We think that it is unfortunate that the State highway department and the city of Carbondale are not cooperating fully with Southern in the proposed new highway (Route 51) on the east side of the campus near the Illinois Central Railroad, but perhaps nothing too long, this cooperation can be achieved and work also can begin on that project.

Essays and Satires...

The army is to be congratulated on selecting Southern as a training site. We suggest, though, that someone move the big ditch back of the cafeteria in front of the Car-teen. That way more people will have to jump over it and it'll be better training for future obstacle courses. And too, more books could be stacked in the library so the possibility of the roof falling in will be increased, thereby stimulating battle conditions. Our chief lines seem to conform to all army regulations.

The biggest fault some people have is that they tell the truth... (continued on page 4)
