VATICAN CITY

Pope John XXIII died in a hospital early this morning at the end of his fourth day of pain and suffering in his simple bedroom in St. Peter's Square.

Death came to the 81-year-old pontiff at 7:49 p.m. (1:49 p.m. Carbondale time) - minutes after a Mass for him in St. Peter's Square.

"The supreme pontiff, John XXIII, is dead," the Vatican announcement said. "The inexcusable illness...has snuffed out the strong fiber." This was a reference to the pontiff's resistance to death since his condition took a turn for the worse last Friday.

He had a gastric tumor which caused anemia and then massive hemorrhages. To ward the end his condition was complicated by peritonitis, but his stomach was kept beating through crisis after crisis.

At the bedside of the Pope, the Vatican announced on June 4 the Pope's death.

Father Hutsch explained.

Five American weekly newspaper editors have been nominated for the Elijah Parish Lovejoy Award: Elizabeth Prange, editor of the Home Economics Journal in Bowling Green, Ohio; John O. Smith, editor of the Pennsylvania State University's Journal of Home Economics, and G. D. Dailey, editor of the South Carolina Home Economics Journal. The award is given annually to the editor of a weekly newspaper who has demonstrated outstanding editorial service involving courageous performance of duty in the face of economic, political, or social pressures within his own community.

The award, which was presented to the three editors yesterday, is named in honor of Elijah Parish Lovejoy, a Union Army captain who in 1837 was killed in an attack by a group of Southern sympathizers in Missouri. Expansion Dispute

Differences between SIU and Carbondale concerning the university’s intention to buy private property north of Grand Avenue involves a failure to see the total situation on a long-range basis. A basic argument against the land acquisition is that property values in the area would rise, and therefore, the city and property taxes the city would gain after the controversy would, if stopped if the university bought the land, SIU does not plan any property taxes. However, as was pointed out by the editor of the WO, Morris, the housing developments west of Oakland Avenue, the heart of the growth of the university, and Carbondale receives a fair amount for property taxes from that area.

The problem involving growth beyond the next few years to see that growth. SIU is not only a city, but every textbook with its peak in the chamber of commerce.

Fallacy Of Self-Limitations

Part I

It has always been apparent that the “who we are” faction did not care to involve Student Government in issues which went beyond the physical confines of this campus. The liberal group, by contrast, showed concern with the Blue Ballot, IPAC, student participation in university policy-making, a creative (if undesirable) approach to student television, field study, and even items of international scope.

The “who we are” attitude is self-defeating. It relegates Student Government to the sidelines. It doesn’t belong there because a good portion of the university was comprised of students over 21. Even if that were not the case, one should expect college students to be concerned with little more than weekend activities and similar odds and ends.

Perhaps the conservatives felt the SIU administration would put the head on the table against the influence of Student Government.

But we maintain that an administration worth its salt is proud of any student who wants to participate in the institution’s activities a little more important than campus dances, even if that activity involves the danger of controversy.

Letter To The Editor:

Siporin Cartoon Speaks For Many

We were delighted with the recent appearance of the “WSIU-Impressions” feature. He has spoken for a sizable group in this college and in the community who is ashamed of and dismayed by the mindless pip that is dished out by the “voice of SIU.”

We hope that after the initial embarrassment it will fade away, those responsible for policy and programming will realize that this mounting is simply not considered tame standards of this university.

While there is no excuse for the painful and repetitive nature of this known composer’s names, this is just a symptom of the manda- tory arts requirement. The question must be answered by the station’s directors of what is to be the administration. This question is, what is the primary function of a university sponsored FM radio station? Is it merely to reflect the on-campus opinion, a forum for those aspiring to be the medium of exaltation for personal ambitions? If so, is this the task of an agency of an institution of higher learning? Obviously an intelligent policy must be fashioned.

This Writer Questions Values Of WSIU

I enjoyed and applaud Mil- chen, “WSIU-Impressions” in Wednesday’s edition of the Daily Egyptian. I have been a student and taxpayer, I have won- dered about the value of main- taining a radio station.

As I see it, a university radio station should provide learning experience for students expecting to go into radio broadcasting and related information for the community. The station’s effort to achieve this, is well received by the staff. Although I am a WSIU, in my opinion, provides none of these. Good music programs are made ridiculous by the mispronunciations of the announcements (my favorite to date is Raspaghetti for Res- piglii) and the lack of attempt to fit compositions into the expansion of the other—or to resist it.

The city of Carbondale and SIU are both growing and are constantly on the move to a faster and in the right direction. This, like any other city, works to improve its streets, commercial buildings and public services so that it might attract industry. Likewise, Southern works for growth. It works to expand its research program and to improve and enlarge on its educational efforts to accommodate the growing number of students wanting an education. An new campus at Edwardsville is probably the best example of this.

The “who are we” attitude raises questions for the growth of the university. It also is further grounds for disputing Carbon- dale’s assistance that it stands to lose from Southern’s growth.

Communications is another aspect of the Carbondale-SIU land controversy, for it must be present if there is to be growth without the antagonism and mistrust that had domi- nated the present dispute. Ac- cording to the Daily Egyptian, SIU announced intent to acquire the land north of Grand Avenue came as a surprise to everyone and disrupted plans and planning ordinances, the university had helped to develop, for that area.

University officials, how- ever, are attempting to mend the strain that is created by frequent meetings with Carbondale city officials. It would be a mistake to discontinue these after the controversy passes.

Letter To The Editor:

Really Better Than A Live Show

In her recent series of articles concerning the use of instructional television at SIU, I think Cathy Drummond is guilty of "much ado about nothing." I don’t want to be- stile her efforts but some of her arguments were a bit shaky. For instance, she stated that institutional TV is not useful in prejudice and duplicity. There is a definite advantage in that it eliminates the necessity of scheduling separate discussion classes for large sec- tions, especially in General Studies classes. In GSC 103 the first half-hour is devoted to a television lecture and the remaining portion to quiz and discussion. This eliminates the necessity of having to sit until the next discussion section which is three or four days later in some cases, in the standard lecture system. Instructional TV also takes the burden off sectioning in that they don’t have to juggle sepa- rate quiz sections into a busy student class schedule.

I enjoy TV lectures (well almost) because the only time I get a chance to watch without commercials.

Campaign Rules

Senator George V. Graham has stated that the election commission ought to suggest a set of campaign rules which will protect the integrity of the election and insure that acts of the caliber of Mr. Richard Moore’s victory in the future speedily punished. I suggest that the com- mission should protect the integ- rity of an election by requiring an equal vote in the election.

I believe the campaign rules presently in effect perform this function. It can be argued that gov- ernment should be institutional- ized to assure an office- holder superior to the elec- torate. This is done to a de- greed by requiring a candidate to have at least a minimum academic average. There are, however, grave dangers in al- lowing a governmental body to judge the merit of a publica- tion on the basis of its involvement in its composition or distribution. It is the prerogative of the electorate to judge the quality of what a candidate says.

This five and fifteen minute news summaries are exactly the same as carried by other local stations, except that for the most part they are more poorly read. Apparently no at- tempt is made to upgrade or even change the pro- grams, since the same format, with some few exceptions, is fol- lowed year after year.

I have listened to the state university radio stations and have come to the conclusion that there are things as new stations that could stand improvement, but WSIU is so good and away the poorest I have ever heard. Does it have any justification for existing? Miriam H. Wysong

Baseball Squad Winds Up Season
With 3-0 Win Over Menard

The long hard season is over for SIU's baseball team following its 3-0 win over Menard State Prison Saturday.

Glenn Martin’s SIU baseball team ended the year with a 13-5-1 record, including the last eight games in a row. The Salukis didn’t lose a game following the one-run defeat at the hands of Tulsa early in May.

John Hotz continued his fine pitching Saturday with a four hit performance against Menard. He struck out 10 and walked only one in nine innings.

It was Hotz’s fourth victory this spring to go with one setback. In his last three outings he has given up only one run. He gave up that one run in the 13-thinking 3-1 win over Southeast Missouri two weeks ago.

Jerry Qualls and Jim Long gave Hotz all the runs he needed in the first inning. Qualls drove in Bob Brown with the first Saluki run with a sacrifice fly. John Siebel scored the second run of the game on a sacrifice fly.

Clem Quillman drove in the final Saluki run in the sixth inning with an infield out. Jeff Spillman singled off the right field fence at the third inning for Menard. It was the first hit of the game. The other final hit was from Glenn Martin’s three-run double in the third inning for Menard.

Hawks professional basketball player Harold Bardo scored 233 points in 27 games for an average of 8.6 per game during his senior year in 1960-61. He hit 92 of 191 field goals for a .482 percentage and 49 of 70 free throws for a .700 percentage. He pulled 120 rebounds off the backboards.

Tennis Squad To Play In NCAA Meet Thursday

Going into the College-Division of the NCAA championshipships, Southern's tennis team takes an impressive 16-2 record and some equally impressive statistics into St. Louis Thursday afternoon.

The Salukis were placed in the College-Division bracket and will compete in an eight team field at Washington University June 6-8. If coach Dick LeFevre's squad comes out on top, they will advance to the University Division in Princeton, N.J., on June 17-22.

LeFevre will enter only four players in the championships with the list being headed by Lance Lumsden, Captain Pacha Castillo, and Bob and Roy Sprengelmeyer comprise the rest of the squad.

Lumsden, who missed the last three matches, posted an 11-4 won-lost record in singles play for a .733 percentage. Castillo won 14 matches out of 18 starts for a slightly better .778 percentage.

Bob Sprengelmeyer completed the regular season with an unblemished 18-0 mark while Roy lost only one match in 18 starts for the campaign.

Although Wilson Burge and George Domenech will not compete in the NCAA tournaments, both players have chalked up fine season's totals. Playing at the number five and six singles positions most of the year, Burge and Domenech have both returned in identical 14-3 records.

Vic Seper, who only appeared in the last three matches after Lumsden left for Jamaica to try out for the Davis Cup team, won two of his three singles matches.

As a team, SIU won 90 singles matches and only dropped 16 for a .906 mark. In doubles action, the Salukis posted a 43-10 record for an .811 percentage.

LeFevre utilized 12 doubles combinations during the year with the tandem of Lumsden-Domenech leading all with a near perfect .919 season percentage. He is followed closely by his brother Roy and Burge with .857 marks.

Domenech posted an .818 percentage to close out his career while Castillo compiled a .750 mark. Lumsden turned in a .773 percentage and Seper listed a .500 percentage.

Student Fined For Intoxication

A student who passed out on the lawn of Wood Hall last Thursday night was fined $15 by Police Magistrate Robert Schwartz on an intoxication charge, University officials said.

The student, after partying at Crab Orchard Lake Thursday, went to Woody Hall Thursday night and was attempting to attract the attention of a girl friend when he became unconscious and the police picked him up, authorities said.

During his hearing in police magistrate court yesterday the student gave a false name to the magistrate to avoid having his name in newspapers, they said. He then called a girl and asked her to come to the magistrate's office to pay his fine. But when she arrived she used his correct name telling the magistrate she was there to pay the fine.

The student has been assigned by campus authorities to explain to Police Magistrate Schwartz why he gave a fictitious identification.

Library Of Congress Requests Copy Of Adam's Dissertation

The work of the head of the student work program at SIU is going to the Library of Congress.

The Library at Washington has requested a copy of the dissertation for doctorate written by Frank C. Adams, director of the Student Work Office, which is titled "A Classification System for Student Employment in State Universities of Illinois."

"Primary purpose of the classification plan," Adams explained, "is to aid in determining the educational value of student jobs."

Other purposes are to aid in establishing a system of job promotions in keeping with job performance and the instructional program; to establish an hourly rate range; and to develop a student employment classification plan which will supplement "Class Specifications," the classification plan for University Civil Service in Illinois, he said.

Adams' study recommends a student-work scholarship program on a national basis.

It is based on 166 job descriptions covering all areas of employment as of July, 1960, and is focussed on the development of a system of classifying by title, code and description the part-time jobs.
