Noted Lecturer
To Speak Here

in co-operation with the Carbondale Ministers’ Association, the Southern Illinois Normal University is bringing Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell to this auditorium, March 11, to give his noted lecture, “Midst Ice and Snow in Labrador,” to all who wish to hear him.

The press of the English speaking world has, for years, eagerly published accounts of Dr. Grenfell’s really ro-manic story. Unsequestered honors have been heaped upon him. King Edward conferred upon him the Order of Compassion of St. Michael and St. George.

Dr. Grenfell has given him its honorary M.
A. Williams its honorary L. L. D.; and Toronto an honorary M. D. A few years ago the Royal Geographical Society gave him the Murchison Bequest in recognition of his scientific labors.

He has just returned from his latest Labrador trip, where he spent the summer of 1925, “carrying on” as the directing head of a great philanthropic work.

In the lecture which Dr. Grenfell is to give Friday evening, is unfolded one of the epic stories of work and suffering in wild and inaccessible lands.

The black and barren coast of Labrador has made life unbelievably hard for its inhabitants. The sturdy decendants of Devon and Dorset; Scotch and Irish fishermen, who came over during the last four centuries, have been practically cut off from contact with civilization. The small resident permanent population is augmented every summer by some twenty thousand deep-sea fishermen coming from Southern Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and the Maine coast.

Producing their share of the world’s wealth these courageous workers, who are of our own race and religion,
suffered untold hardships in bleak burdens and waters because the radimentary accepted preoccupations for mind and body were utterly lacking. Not even the simplest forms of medical and surgical aid were available.

SHOULD OUR SENIOR TAKE A BACK SEAT AT COMMENCEMENT?

Do you remember way back when you, in the height of glory, graduated from High school? All dressed up in brand new dress? Did and Mother out in front looking so proud and pleased? How mother smiled with tears glistening in her eyes when her darling got up to receive her diploma. Many times when mother is but a tender memory we live over that supreme moment. Remembering this, have we a right to ask our high school seniors to take a back seat at their graduation exercises?

Our high school is now separated by a hard and fast line from the college. Local teachers trying to “pep” up the newly established University High school are meeting with great success. Graduation will be the climax of an eventful year. Again, we demand, must we ask our seniors to take a back seat at commencement?

H. S. GIRLS LOSE TO COLLEGE SOPHOMORES

The high school girls lost their first game in the basketball tournament Tuesday, March 1, with a score of 49. Both teams played hard, but two of the high school regulars, Margaret Findley and Sidney Korando, were unable to play on account of illness. The lineup was as follows:

Sophomores
Forwards—Virginia Fly, Ruth Richmond.
Centers—Jewell Truelove, Lennis Minton.
Guard—Stella Brown, Ruth Moye.

High School
Forwards—Goldie Mae Brooks, Bessie Scher.
Centers—Hazel Taylor, Jessie Wiggs (Capt.).
Guard—Margaret Krysher, Annie Rhodes.

GIRL HIT BY AUTO IMPROVING

Alberta Sparrow, who was run over by an automobile Monday, Feb. 28, while crossing the state road in front of the University Cafe, is now on the road to recovery. She was knocked down and run over by both wheels as she was returning to the campus at noon. The car was driven by tourists from Chicago.

TRAINING SCHOOL CHILDREN FORBIDDEN TO CROSS HIGHWAY

As Spring approaches the traffic on the state road is increasing, and in an effort to prevent a possible tragedy, all Training School children below the seventh grade are forbidden to cross the road to either the cafe or bookstore.

UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL TO JOIN EGYPTIAN CONFERENCE

University High school has applied for admission to the Egyptian Conference of High schools, and there is no reason to question her eligibility for membership.

Membership in this conference means possible participation in the spring track and intellectual meets of Southern Illinois.

LETTER FROM THE BASKETBALL TEAM

Dear Rooters:

We journeyed to Gorman, on Tuesday evening of last week, and defeated them 28-19. The beautiful part of it was that it was so easy. The victory over Donzola, on the 25th, in the new gym, was only the first of a series of wins which we have not yet completed. Of course, we are going to continue to win, but you must not forget to yell for us. It makes us feel better.

We are going to Herrin, Ill., on Friday, March 11, to take part in the annual district tournament. We were lucky in drawing a “by” for our first game, but will have to play the winner of the Herrin-Johnston City game. These are both strong teams, and we are not expecting a “pod”, but you can rely on us to do our best.

Our game will begin at 8:40 p.m., Friday, March 11. Be there if you get the chance, and help us win our first game. We expect to see you at the game.

OSKee-WOw-Wow—

OLDER BOYS’ CONFERENCE HELD HERE

The 51st Older Boys’ Conference of Southern Illinois was held here last Friday, under the auspices of the H.Y.C. club of Carbondale Community High school. Two hundred and forty-three representatives from various cities of Southern Illinois were present.

The conference opened at the Community High school auditorium at 10 a.m. The opening address was given by W. Henry McLean, the speaker for the conference. The next session was held at the Christian church, after an intermission of fifteen minutes. In the afternoon Mr. McLean delivered another interesting address. The conference then broke up into four discussion groups to discuss the conference theme, “What Price Character?”

Given. Mr. McLean gave another talk to the boys. Several of the University High school boys attended.

Mr. Warren: I thought I heard you talking in class.

Gus Patrick: You are mistaken, I never talk in my sleep.

She (seated in the park) Oh! Ray, we’d better go home. I’m sure I felt a raindrop.

He: Nonsense, dear; we are under a weeping willow.

Nick: Why does William Peterson put his hair in the middle?

Nack: Because there must be an alley in every block.

AFOREANS BATTLE

The Acova Debating society continued to battle within its ranks last Monday night. When the house was called to order, it was found that there had been no program prepared.

The society investigated the program committee. The chairman of the committee, Mr. Fred Schlegel, and Mr. Phelps Crawford had not shown the proper time in weighing the task assigned by the society. After a determined fight on the part of the members of the committee, a fine was assessed against them. Therefore the entire committee resigned.

After settling the above affair, Mr. Harris bought up the charges against Mr. Schlegel, who seemed at every turn to confound the powers that be, Mr. Good and Mr. Lay. The evidence was insufficient to convict Mr. Lay and Mr. Good. Consequently the motion to expel the three members was amended to exclude them. Before the house could vote on the motion to expel Mr. Schlegel the motion was tabled indefinitely.

No Waiting
MY IDEAL GIRL

Every night I dream. And in my dreams I spend more pleasant hours than I ever expect to pass in my waking time. All my forty years of life have been filled with the fond hopes of finding her, my ideal girl, and although I have been unsuccessful in my searches I am always with her in my dreams. My walks of life have been several. I have labored on the farm, loosed on the section, worked in the village store, posed as a school instructor, and cared for the offspring of the newly rich. Yet in all my varied kinds of positions I have never met my ideal, the girl of my dreams. Since I am now rapidly passing from my youth, I think it advisable to describe my ideal so that if any of my friends may perchance locate her, they will be able to recognize her and send me into her charming presence before it loses its charm and becomes superannuated.

The girl of my dreams must be either a blonde or brunette. Her eyes must be blue, brown, black, gray, hazel or green. She must be tall, short, or average size. Her teeth, both of them, must be white and either close together or indefinitely separated. Her face must be one of two kinds, pretty or ugly. She will have to be able to walk or ride in a wheel-chair. She must, of course, come from a good or bad family and her ancestors must preferably come from Africa, France, Germany, Holland, America, New York, Chicago, Bushnell, Good Hope or Macomb. She may be rich, poor, or both. She must be well dressed or otherwise. She must be capable of cooking or having it done—in other words, she must be well versed in the household arts, or at least have a good supply of magazines on that subject. I should like her to be educated or at least know what a school house is. In short, she must be wonderful, my dream girl.

If you should happen to see her, please let me know as soon as possible or sooner.

A FACULTY BACHELOR.

Exchange—From the humorous edition of the Western Courier.

BOLD VS. INTELLIGENCE

The weekly publication of the Northern Illinois State Teachers' college claims to have heard a very official report that Thordyke has found a true test of intelligence. This is an extract from it: "As the individual approaches middle age, the roots of the hair work into the grey matter of the brain. If there is anything there, the hair turns grey, if not the hair falls out."

Says the Northern Illinois:

"Oh, how we hearts leap up with pride when we see in our faculty many beautiful beads. Pride goeth before a fall. There is reason for all of us to dress in sackcloth and ashes."

Mr. Wham: Why were you late this morning?

Mary Youngblood: Because the bell rang before I arrived.

HOW TO TIE A BOW TIE

ON A TUXEDO COLLAR

Hold the tie in the left hand and the collar in your right. Slip your neck in the collar and run the left-hand end of the tie over the right hand with the left hand, steadying the right end with the other hand. Then drop both ends, catching the left end with the right hand and the right end with the left hand. Reverse hands and pick up the loose end with the nearest hand. Pull this end through the loop with the unengaged hand and squeeze. This ties the bow. As a finishing touch disengage the hands—Exchange.

BUG HOUSE FABLE 101

Once there was a young college boy who always had his LESSONS; who never had to Cram for EXAMS because he knew so much already; who was never known to CUT chapel or class; who came to the LIBRARY to study; who never pulled a LINE or smoked a CAMEL; and who wanted an EDUCATION. HE WAS NOT A STUDENT AT S. I. N. U.

The Christian Associations have just received word from "Dad" Elliott stating that his wife is somewhat improved in her health by this time.

"Dad" sends his best regards to all his S. I. N. U. friends and especially wishes to thank all those persons who were responsible for making his campaign a pleasant one as well as a successful one.

The measure of your strength as a student, a teacher, a minister, a lawyer, a doctor or an editor, is not the knowledge which you possess but the knowledge which you can command. You may have a thousand books in your library, but how many of them have you analyzed? You may have made excellent grades in all your classes, but how will you proceed to make the best use of what you have learned? You may have taught school for several years, but how much knowledge, inspiration, and vision can the girls and boys get from you during the years yet to come? You may have preached hundreds of sermons, but how many of them could you preach again with force and power? As a lawyer, you may have had scores of cases, but how many of them have you "in hand" as to the master of details and the grasp of facts? As a physician, you may have cured dozens of patients, but are you able to do justice to your present practice? As an editor, you may have given your subscribers value received, but out of your rich experience are you now prepared to publish news and interpret the big things in life without a lot of "tommy-rot" entering into your colms?

The advice of Dr. Oasler illustrates my point: "I wish I had time to speak of the value of note-taking. You can do nothing as a student in practice without it. Carry a small note-book which will fit into your waistcoat pocket, and never ask a new patient a question without note-book and pencil in hand. After the examination of a pneumonia case two minutes will suffice to record the essentials in the daily progress. Routine and system, when once made a habit, facilitate work, and the busier you are the more time you will have to make observations after examining a patient. Iot a comment at the end of the notes: "Clear case," "case illustrating obscurity of symptoms," "error in diagnosis," etc.

The meeting of the Federation of Illinois College Presidents and Registrars will be held at McKendree College next year.

At the State Teachers' College at Kearney, Neb., an "estimation blank" is sent to each instructor to be checked concerning each pupil's outstanding characteristics as shown in each class during the quarter. At the end of four years, a valuable record of the students' activities both scholastically and socially, will be available.

"OUR DREAM"

We had a dream the other night,
As queer as queer could be.
We dreamed we were in Carbondale
In nineteen forty-three.

A man was walking by our side,
And telling us so much
About the classes of '27
And all about the bunch.

Max Lollar was a lawyer,
Alice Ingram a singer grand,
Doc Snider a band master,
Earl Doty ran a "hot dog" stand.

Hazel Korando was happily married,
For Minnie Lauder I can say the same.

Helene Taylor was a school teacher,
John Epley had won great fame.

We walked for about an hour,
When suddenly we espied
Irvin Yates and Donna,
His wife, walking by his side.

Clifton Clift was a great comedian,
And making a tour of the world.
He had Beasie as his partner
Who was a very capable girl.

Oliver McGlath was a politician
And gave lectures galore.
While he had as his assistant
None other than Dorris Moore.

Vivian Springer was a great musician,
They say her music was grand,
Her partner, Helen Etherton,
Could "Charleston" to beat the band.

At this point we were awakened.
It was a very queer dream,
And we were very much excited
About all the things we had seen.

A Glorious Holiday
Snow, snow everywhere.
And not a flake to spare.
The news flashed around Tuesday afternoon that President Shryock had given the students a half-holiday to enjoy the marvelous snow to their heart's content. He also provided for a large sleighing party that evening and to terminate in a winer roast at Thompson's lake.
The campus Tuesday afternoon was a scene of rollicking children throwing snow-balls, building forts, and rolling huge snow-balls to make a snow-man. The center of attention was the snow fight which took place in front of the library.
The youngsters chose sides for it with Marvin Muck for one captain, and Tee Thompson, 'cause Tee's grandmother owns the place for the winer roast. Muck had the advantage of choosing first and picked immediately his old crony, Haley, in order not to be placed at such a great disadvantage. Tee hastily called for Grace Jones. The choosing went on till it's on one side or the other. River Hewitt's mama wouldn't let him play, so he stayed with Miss Bowyer. Miss Bowyer after seeing that each side was ready, gave the signal. How those snow-balls did fly!

It had been previously arranged by Miss Woody and Dr. Caldwell that any casualty was to be taken to the doctor's office. Soon they began pouring in, Red Roberts with an injured nose, John Veach with a frozen ear, and Alvin Williams with a blackened eye.

These accidents could not down the plucky little fellows' spirit, however, for they were soon racing down from the office whooping like Indians and determined to get even with those big bullies."

This merry sport lasted until dark, then "les enfants" toddled home to get ready for the wonderful sleighing party.

William Hershel Bundy, the Speed Demon

One of the remarkable students of S. I. N. U. is William Hershel Bundy of Marion. His record has been high in Normal in his studies, and athletics, but especially does he excel in speed.

William, you remember, drives to school each day—eighteen miles over and eighteen back. The conveyance he uses is a Ford. Quite an unusual one, too, in fact, so remarkable that its fame has spread far and wide.

On cold mornings, Bill makes the distance in twenty-six minutes, and then he stoutly declares "he's only hitting on two". When it is exceedingly cold, and a slight refrigeration process is carried on in the radiator, Bill has only to "open it wide, let it ko, and it will percolate fine."

When the Ford, however, has neither asthmatic, a cold in its head, or indigestion in its engine (that is, hitting on four) Wee Willie Virnus that it make it in THIRTEEN minutes. Thus proving the law of proportion:

The False Prophecy

Tuesday dawn—everything is covered with a white blanket of snow! Everyone plods shiveringly to the institution of learning. The look-out for Chapel hour arrives and there is the usual mad scramble for the Egyptian. But what a sight greets our eyes! There on the front page is a cartoon with the heading—"Signs of Spring on the Campus." It seems quite difficult to see the relation between the cartoon and the present weather conditions. One would be rather fearful for the health of the individuals pictured there on such a wintry day as Tuesday. The weather man certainly slipped one over on us this time, thus making our paper a false weather prophet, and also thus proving that you can't depend on the weather man.

Van Brown, Clyde Brooks and Allyn McLaughlin were here over the weekend attending the funeral of Lorimer Brandon. They were all members of the Phi Beta Pi fraternity. Three other frat members accompanied them to act as pallbearers.

JULIET: O, Romeo! Romeo!

Wherefore art thou, Romeo?

ROMEO: Speakest thou this me, kiddo?

JULIET: Nothing different! (Romeo climbs up to balcony).

ROMEO: Thou wootest not fool me, sister! Is thy husband home?

JULIET: Forget it, lady! Thou hast thy lines all mixed up! Woodst neck?

ROMEO: Yes, verily, but let not my father find thee here, or he will smack thee for a $ yard loss! My kinsmen all wood love to bump thee off.

JULIET: If they do lamp thee they will muss thee up!

NOTEDE LECTURE TO SPEAK HERE

In 1592, at the suggestion of Lord Southbourough, Dr. Grenfell first visited the coast of Labrador and North Newfoundland in a hospital sailing ship to see if medical and surgical service could be established. From this simple beginning has grown, during the past thirteen years, one of the great service works of the world. In addition to the hospital service established, rindie have been introduced into the country in order to utilize eventually the immense barren areas of a country useless for agricultural benefits.

When the winter ice cuts off communication with the outside world and the floating population has departed, boats are laid up, and part of the hospitals are closed. Dog teams are then used and long patrols establish the past thirty-three years, one of the great service works of the world. In addition to the hospital service established, rindie have been introduced into the country in order to utilize eventually the immense barren areas of a country useless for agricultural benefits.

In this way is it shown by the "World's Most Distinguished Citizen," Dr. Grenfell, in his kindly manner, illustrating it with moving picture films.

The seats in the parlour are for sale at one dollar each. The balcony is reserved for students only and will be sold at twenty-five cents per seat. The Ministers' Association has covered its guarantee and the remaining seven hundred seats are to be sold by the public library; the money made in this way is to be used in the building of the new library.

MAROONS VICTORIOUS IN TWO FINAL GAMES

the start 8-6 and only once did Cape press forward to bring the score 13-10. Mac also sent the second team in for the last two minutes of play and they succeeded in holding Cape from scoring.

Try again led the scoring with four fields and four free pitches. Crawshaw and Munger tied for second place in scoring by making ten points a piece. Wilson was hitting in this game and came down the floor to net three fields. Stanley played a good floor game and had little chance to shoot, but once he did get down it was fatal to Cape for the tune of a basket.

Cape's scoring was evenly divided, Buckminster and Mayhew both making three fields while Harris and Gehra made two field baskets each. Kienhe made a field and a free pitch.

GUMMIHANA TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow night the new gym, will be the meeting place for a colorful occasion. The program is being put on to raise money for the gym classes. Musical numbers, boxing, acrobatic stunts and the final game of the class tournament will all be staged (or floored) for 25 cents.

It is reported that Otis Phillips will be unable to put on the "Bunny" chassis, one of the most certain main men in the history of the school. The audience is all but reduced to tears by the mournful melody of the song. Once started the quartet was lost to stop and finally subsided only at the insistence of the presiding officer.

When calm reigned once again Len men Wells delivered an oration, "The Signs of Spring." He discussed the tragic effect of one catching spring fever in the early days of March, and, reclining under the leafless branches of the trees on a blanket of snow, "Running the season in such a manner," he declared, "might lead to colds, flu and pneumonia." From this tragic speculation the audience was drawn by a talk on "Love's Labor's Lost" by Oliver Mcbrath. "Mac" was well qualified to talk on the subject and capable of giving expert advice.

Following "Mac's" talk was a debate. The question under discussion was Resolved, That petting is reproduction for unsophisticated, bashful, awkward, gawky, green, "village cut-ups." The affirmative speaker, Fred Miller, made a very strong case against the custom. While Lucille Troup in a very persuasive talk championed the cause of the "Village Cut-up." Fred McLain gave the decision in favor of the negative. It was charged that McLain was a biased judge.

The last number on the program was "Random Reflections," taken from "So-Zet Gossip." The reflection consisted of speculations concerning the future of prominent persons and a plea for greater work in the societies.

At the conclusion of the program chicken sandwiches and grape juice were served. Before adjournment various persons were asked to talk among whom were D. Ransom Sher re, formerly a prominent Zetet, and Frank Armentrout, the Zetetic presidemt. Bert Casper's heretofore immaculate reputation was seriously damaged before interested parties could get the meeting adjourned.

A HARD JOB

Students who are on a newspaper staff, and do their position justice, are doing a hardest work in the institution, according to J. H. Shaw, head of the publicity department of Colorado State Teachers' college.

Professor Shaw said, in addition, that every member of the staff must be alert, he must have a "nose for news," and, after he has gathered the news, he must write it so that other people will want to read it; only through steady cooperation of the staff is a readable newspaper edited.

Many of the most popular authors of today are the newspaper reporters of yesterday.

BIG PRIZE-ENGAGEMENTS

A suitable prize will be offered for the first couple that announce their engagement this spring. If interested see the business manager or the editor.

If "love ain't grand," just ask Irwin Yates. You'll see him parked in any corridor, or any place in the Science building.
