New ‘Little Symphony’

First Concert Sunday

The Sinfonia, a newly organized 30-member “little symphony of southern Florida,” will give its first public concert Saturday, May 3rd, at 3:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Composed of music department faculty members and students of the University of Miami, the Sinfonia Orchestra, the Sinfonia Strings, and the Sinfonia Band, the Sinfonia will present a program of music by Mozart, Beethoven, and others.

The first concert will be conducted by Dr. J. D. Waller, a member of the University faculty.

Newfound Homes, Welfare Department, Group Combine For Tour

Two special plans will be prepared to coincide with the spring season by the State Welfare Department and the Goodwill Industries.

Newfound Homes, which was established in 1923 for the care of the aged and infirm, has opened a new home in the city. The new home is located at 303 South Second Avenue, and is equipped with all modern conveniences. The home will open to all who are in need of care and attention.

The Goodwill Industries, which is a company that provides employment for the disabled, will also be represented.

The combined tour will be held on Saturday, May 16th, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., at the new Goodwill Industries home.

Grad Student Writes Of Korea's Battle For Unity; Asks 'Who Divided Korea?'

(Edits Note) -- The following was written by a graduate student at the University of Kansas and is published in the Kansas City Star.

KOREA AND SPIRIT OF THE Korea is an eastward Asian country characterized by its geographical location between China and Japan, and by its population of approximately 25 million people. The country's history is closely tied to the Korean peninsula, which is considered to be the birthplace of the Korean people.

Recently, a graduate student from the University of Kansas wrote an article for the Kansas City Star, discussing the history and culture of Korea. The student, who chose to remain anonymous, shared their insights on the various aspects of Korean society, including the country's rich cultural heritage and its modernization.

The article begins with an overview of Korea's history, pointing out the country's unique position as a bridge between East and West. Despite its small size, Korea has played a significant role in world events, particularly during the Korean War.

The student highlights the country's cultural diversity, stating that Korea is a melting pot of east and west, with influences from China, Japan, and other neighboring countries.

The article also discusses Korea's economic development, noting the country's transition from an agrarian economy to a modern, industrialized society.

Additionally, the student touches on Korea's political situation, noting its recent reunification efforts and the challenges that lie ahead.

Overall, the article provides a comprehensive look at Korea's rich history and culture, offering insights into the country's unique characteristics and its role in the global community.

The graduate student's writing is further enhanced by their use of cultural references and personal anecdotes, making for a compelling and informative read.

Women Cagers Edge Principals

Sill's women's basketball edged Principals College last week 45-49.

Jim Carland tapped a long three-pointer with 24 seconds left for Sill's, which hung on for the win.

For the benefit of graduating seniors, tickets are $6 for Principals and $4 for Sill. Principals will play tomorrow night at 7:30.

One young man deputized a sporting goods shop. He found nothing but 10 and $20 notes. He was last seen wearing his shirt untucked.

Humea Irvis C. Codd also named flying job offers from the Dunks and the City Cagers.

"If you find yourself sitting around the house, take a job,' the coach said."

A new man took up the challenge.

The Egyptian

Political

Crisis

As life in Egypt becomes increasingly difficult, people are looking for ways to improve their situation. While some are finding solace in religion, others are turning to politics as a means of effecting change.

The latest political development in Egypt is the rise of the Muslim Brotherhood, a political party that advocates for Islamist principles. The party has gained popularity in recent years, with many Egyptians seeing it as a way to address their country's problems.

However, the rise of the Muslim Brotherhood has also led to increased tensions between the government and the opposition. The current government, led by President Sisi, has been accused of human rights abuses and of silencing opposition voices.

Despite these challenges, many Egyptians remain hopeful that political change is possible. They are looking for leaders who can address their needs and improve their lives.
