3-3-1971

The Daily Egyptian, March 03, 1971

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_March1971
Volume 52, Issue 99

Recommended Citation

Ogilvie may cut budget for SIU for fiscal 1972

LA&S faculty face increase in class loads

LA&S faculty

by Steve Brown Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Facility members in the College of Liberal Arts and Science can expect to be asked to increase their teaching load by at least one course during the next academic year, according to Rodger Beyler, LA&S dean.

Beyler said the notice of the increased teaching load was sent to all LA&S department chairmen recently.

According to the memorandum, all faculty members would be required to teach an additional three to five hours per week sometime during the 1971-72 academic year.

Beyler said the recommendation is "related to the extended loss due to budgetary cuts." He said the increase is in line with recent announcements of a faculty and staff cutback by Chancellor Robert G. Layer.

Beyler said the memorandum also includes a recommendation that senior faculty members become involved in lower division course instruction. He said this would improve the quality of some lower division courses.

Beyler said that he has suggested that class enrollment maximums be increased. This would allow more students to enroll in some upper-level courses. "Upper classmen should be able to live with slightly larger classes than underclassmen," Beyler said.

Beyler said that he has also asked that the already established policy on not scheduling classes with low enrollment be observed. He said LA&S already has a policy which indicates that courses with enrollment below a certain level should be canceled.

Beyler said that all suggestions and recommendations pertaining to this memorandum would begin fall quarter.

Douglas Allen raps Viet Center probe

"- page 8

Philosophical food

A hearty meal of buckwheat cheese (Generoso for Brian O'Sullivan is a month the delicacies offered at Euphorium, a non-profit health food restaurant located in the basement of the Lutheran Student Center. For a look into the operations and philosophy behind Euphorium, see Gus Rob's story on page 10. (Photo by John Logemann)

Gus, the chancellor for student relations, said Tuesday that several officials from SIU will go to Springfield Wednesday to testify before the Senate's Education Committee against at least four bills which have been introduced by the former chairman of the committee on Campus Disorders. Hammond said that SIU officials will also oppose more Horsley bills on Thursday before the Judiciary Committee.

Hammond said complete plans for the two hearings had not been made and that he did not know which SIU officials would be making an appearance before the committee.

The bills, which U of I and SIU officials oppose, are part of a package of legislation sponsored by Horsley as a result of a seven-month investigation into campus unrest in Illinois. Horsley headed the committee which conducted hearings throughout the state including two sessions in Carbondale during November, 1970.

The proposed legislation, which will be opposed in the Education Committee Wednesday, includes a bill which would require campus groups to obtain a permit from university officials before occupying the use of a building. The bill would also require that campus organizations, in seeking the permit, to suggest the university with the address of the organization and its officers, a financial statement and a statement of purpose.

The university representative will also testify against proposed Horsley bills which would make the state treasurer the ex-officio treasurer of SIU. Another bill would put all money appropriated by the General Assembly, for university operating budgets into a single account to be administered by the state treasurer.

The university representative will also testify against proposed Horsley bills which would make the state treasurer the ex-officio treasurer of SIU. Another bill would put all money appropriated by the General Assembly for university operating budgets into a single account to be administered by the state treasurer.

The fourth bill, written by Horsley before the Education committee, would force university to place all profits from research projects into the general operating budget of the state.

(Continued on page 9)

By Steve Brown Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

SII, U of I prepare to fight Horsley bills

By Steve Brown Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

SIU officials will join with representatives from the University of Illinois Wednesday and Thursday to oppose bills before two committees of the Illinois Senate sponsored by State Senator G. William Horsley.

B-Springfield

Edward H. Hammond, assistant to the chancellor for student relations, said Tuesday that several officials from SIU will go to Springfield Wednesday to testify before the Senate's Education Committee against at least four bills which have been introduced by the former chairman of the committee on Campus Disorders. Hammond said that SIU officials will also oppose more Horsley bills on Thursday before the Judiciary Committee.

Hammond said complete plans for the two hearings had not been made and that he did not know which SIU officials would be making an appearance before the committee.

The bills, which U of I and SIU officials oppose, are part of a package of legislation sponsored by Horsley as a result of a seven-month investigation into campus unrest in Illinois. Horsley headed the committee which conducted hearings throughout the state including two sessions in Carbondale during November, 1970.

The proposed legislation, which will be opposed in the Education Committee Wednesday, includes a bill which would require campus groups to obtain a permit from university officials before occupying the use of a building. The bill would also require that campus organizations, in seeking the permit, to suggest the university with the address of the organization and its officers, a financial statement and a statement of purpose.

The university representative will also testify against proposed Horsley bills which would make the state treasurer the ex-officio treasurer of SIU. Another bill would put all money appropriated by the General Assembly, for university operating budgets into a single account to be administered by the state treasurer.

The university representative will also testify against proposed Horsley bills which would make the state treasurer the ex-officio treasurer of SIU. Another bill would put all money appropriated by the General Assembly, for university operating budgets into a single account to be administered by the state treasurer.

The fourth bill, written by Horsley before the Education committee, would force university to place all profits from research projects into the general operating budget of the state.

(Continued on page 9)
Supreme Court rules

Poor cannot be jailed for fines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously ruled Tuesday that jailing people simply because they cannot pay their fines.

The decision, in a Texas traffic case, could have enormous impact across the country, because about 1 million out of every 4,000 people in jails and prisons are there only because they cannot pay a fine.

Justice William J. Brennan said in the majority opinion that a convicted poor man for an offense punishable only for a fine is in prudential discrimination in violation of the Constitution’s guarantee of equal protection of the laws.

In a second ruling, the court ordered the states to open their court records to a poor person who are unable to pay the cost of a court filing.

The 6-3 decision came in a case from Connecticut where people seeking divorces have to pay about $600 in such costs. Justice John M. Harlan, dissenting, said that the right of all citizens to due process of the laws, and in the only avenue for dissolving an unenforceable marriage, makes the system unconstitutional.

In the Connecticut case, a group of New Haven women who were on welfare were barred from filing for divorce because they could not pay the court and sheriff’s costs.

The New Haven Legal Assistance Association took up their cause, but a three-judge federal district court ruled in 1981 that the states may limit access to their civil courts by imposing an administrative fee.

Harlan, in explaining the Supreme Court’s reversal, said all people have a right to be heard in court unless the right is overridden by “a countervailing state interest.”

Robles’ ‘Montserrat’ on TV tonight

University News Services

Hollywood Television Theater’s play of the month, “Montserrat,” which explores the political and military conflict between the Catholic Church and a young Spanish army officer with divided loyalties, is the occupation of Venezuela in 1912.

The episode of the series, which is narrated by Spanish playwright and author Enmanuel Robles who visited the SU campus fall term of the Department of Foreign Languages, will be broadcast between Wednesday night from 9 to 11 p.m. on WPEG Channel 4.

Last Day at Varsity

WES LOJO, JACOB STEVENS, STEN HAGMAN

3 Times the Laughter - 3 Times the Loving!

Last Chance to Get with the Cats Who Know Where IT’S AT.

2:00 3:45 5:20 7:05 8:45

 Samurai

Catch-22

EPPER MOTORS

Highway 13-East

Ph. 457-2184

Overseas Delivery

Go to the movies to escape reality - but buy D.E. Classifieds, when you come back.

?”IT’S ONE HILL OF A FILM” / A COLD SAVAGE AND CHILLING COMEDY”

CATCH-22 says many things that need to be heard again against Alain Arkin’s performance as Yossarian is great.

Tak your Pick

or Catch Both of 'em Opinion

'Conspiracy' hits SIU

Deep in the middle of the Carbondale campus there is a conspiracy—a conspiracy so heinous and complete that it touches every phase of academic study.

It transforms honest students into subhuman automatons; serious courses into strategy games; and a school supposedly dedicated to academic inquiry into a research junket.

The plot is Conspiracy Xerox. The masterminds are those who are supposed to keep those duplicating machines. These are the librarians in charge of the little Xerox man with his fix-it-box.

Conspiracy Xerox preys on the innocent; those who really think librarians exist for research purposes. These naive creatures believe that for the drop of a nickel a little machine will aid you in your study by duplicating a page you need from a book or magazine.

How does the conspiracy work?

It all starts with a victim—a person who has a research assignment and for any number of reasons must get copies of magazine or book pages. Working on the premise that the person can find the needed material—an awfully big premise at Morris Library—the real hunt begins for a Xerox machine. A functioning one, that is.

Morris Library claims ten known Xeroxes. If three of these work at any given time, it is a good day indeed. Common ailments are no paper, blurry copies and coin eating machines.

The coin eaters are probably the most frustrating. The poor person has no better money nor product to show for his aggravation. There is only the prospect of turning to get a refund at the circulation desk.

One night last week, for example, there was but one machine functioning in the entire library. The line to use it wrapped around the stacks a couple of times, until the machine joined its nonfunctioning co-workers.

So what can the student do?

Since the librarians use浓缩chut plia-type phrases ("That's not my area," "We'll have the Xerox man check it tomorrow"), it is useless to bring your woes to them. The student can either forget the assignment or steel the material out of the library.

Honesty may be virtuous but students are in the habit of worrying about grades. Besides, thevry is one of the markups at conspiracy.

And so Morris continues to lose books at the rate of 3,750 volumes a year. The number of stolen or mutilated volumes is so high that nobody even bothers to count.

With a record such as this, the conspiracy must be brought to a halt. Any group looking for a just cause could do no better than bring about the purge of Conspiracy Xerox from the campus. Make it a political issue and you will have a rally cry. I do know about getting those Xerox machines functioning.

Paula Musto
Staff Writer

Counting sheep?

The sending of U.S. military advisers into other countries reads a lot like "Mary's Little Lamb"—and everywhere the advisers went the Army was sure to follow.

Ken Berryman
Student Writer

Letters to the editor

Apartment comparison
omits several factors

To the Daily Egyptian:

After reading Mr. DeVries' letter of Feb. 23, I felt it would be an injustice to the readers not to answer Mr. DeVries compares an apartment in downtown Chicago (Michigan Terrace Apartments) and an apartment in Carbondale (Wall Street Quadrangles). Some of the factors he omits are as follows:

1) The income ascribed in the letter to the Chicago apartment was for a 12 month rental period (3% 12 month minimum lease). The total rent for one year is $4280 and is guaranteed for three years. The income of the Carbondale apartment is for a nine month rental period (nine month maximum lease). Total income for one year is $3900 with no guarantees. The differential is $1.200 per year, not $50 as Mr. DeVries stated.

2) The Chicago tenants (a family making the apartment a permanent home) differ greatly from the Carbondale tenants (several students living in the apartment on a very temporary basis).

3) The original cost of the Carbondale apartment complex (1964) was approximately $15 per square foot. The construction cost on Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, (1964) was approximately $11 per square foot. The two-bedroom Chicago apartment has probably more than three square feet, the Carbondale apartment has 1200 square feet.

4) Mr. DeVries fails to compare local prices with the prices of the Wall Street Quadrangles:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>University facility</th>
<th>Other off-campus units</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>rent &amp; food $250</td>
<td>rent &amp; food $400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wall Street Quadrangles</td>
<td>rent $250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cost of food contract</td>
<td>approx. $12 per week $12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fixed rent, U P</td>
<td>$390-122-218</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fixed rent, other off-campus</td>
<td>$400-226</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Space rented from the University or other off-campus facility is on the average 300 square feet for two students. The apartment at Wall Street Quadrangles has 1300 square feet for four students.

The student, then, pays at U P around $218 for 100 square feet, at other off-campus units around $208 for 100 square feet and at the Quadrangles $250 for 300 square feet.

Mr. DeVries, I'd say that the time has come for students to compare if and where they are being abused.

Raul Ayala
Manager
Wall Street Quadrangles

"Damned stuff won't wash off!"

'Give bikes a break' where laws involved

To the Daily Egyptian:

According to some recent news articles, the Carbondale City Council has apparently created some kind of a road code for bicycle riders. These new rules intend the following:

1. Hands must be kept on handlebars at all times.
2. Bicycle must be equipped with light and rear reflector for night use.
3. Bicycle must be equipped with a horn.
4. Use on sidewalks is prohibited.
5. Brakes must be capable of causing skid marks.
6. Bicycles are subject to "Rules of the Road."
7. The recent arrests and the ordinance (if it exists) were probably due to complaints about bicycle riders. There is a natural tension among users of the by-ways and it just depends on whether one drives a car, rides a bike or walks as to which of the other transport modes he chooses from time to time. It follows that there is a need for understanding of proper behavior on the part of all three but I have the feeling that the new regulations for bicycles were, as the rad-fans say, oppressive.

Not wanting to rely upon possibly garbled news accounts, I pursued the truth of the matter SIU's Parking Division didn't have a set of rules but assured me that city rules apply to the campus. At city hall the clerks didn't know about the rules and sent me to the police station. The police wondered if city hall had them. In short, no rules.

Which takes me to a public vew. If an officer stops me, a flashing light is my light, there's a reflector on my rear fender, my brakes work except when it rains, my voice with a booming "BEEP: BEEP:" audible for 500 feet) will be my horn. I will not ride city sidewalks, but I shall use the campus ones and damn it, I am going to continue giving hand signals for turning even though that means I break a rule. And if I ever get arrested for violating any of these contradictory regulations, I'll drive me screaming out of my tree.

Look: Give cyclists a break. Yes, there are common sense rules to be followed. But let's not make this non-polluting, exercise-providing form of self-transport so encumbered with laws that it becomes a pain to use it.

Maraee C. Burden
Graduate Student
Community Development

Daily Egyptian
Opinion and Commentary

EDITORIALS — The Daily Egyptian encourages free discussion of current issues through editorials and letters on these pages. Editorials - labeled Opinion - are written and signed by members of the news staff and are approved by students enrolled in journalism courses and represent opinions of the students only.

LETTERS — Readers are invited to express their opinions in letters which must be signed with name, classification and major, or faculty rank, address and telephone number. Letters should be typewritten and their length limited to 250 words. Letters written by students are subject to the guidelines of the opinion pages. Other materials on pages four and two include editorials and articles either written by other publications, syndicated columns and articles, or reprints of those columns and articles, and are not subject to the guidelines of the editorial pages.
"It's not all sour grapes"

Jobs are scarce in SIU area too

By Judith H. Kidd student editor

It's not all sour grapes when students or student wives complain they cannot get a job in this town. It is often true. But the full story is multi-dimensional and the cause is not entirely (or perhaps even partly) to be found in poor town-grown relations or the generation gap.

Although it doesn't help much to be told that jobs are hard to come by everywhere, it remains a fact. And Jackson County, while better off than the nation, has a higher rate of unemployment than the state as a whole.

According to figures released by the Illinois State Employment Service, in Murphysboro, as of Dec. 13, 1979, the Jackson County unemployment rate was 6.9 per cent, the state was 4 per cent and the nation's was 5.6 per cent. And the situation has been getting worse. As of Dec. 19, 1980, the Jackson County rate had been raised to 9.2 per cent.

The Murphysboro Office, directed by Edmund Akin, is aware of the employment problem for students and student wives. Recently it has started cooperating, at its own initiative, with the employment service in the SIU Office of Commuter, Married and Graduate Students. But ISES staffers say that, although they see many students and student wives every week, they don't place many.

The ISES sees many aspects to the unemployment problem for SIU people. While its staff feels that student wives are prone to be better-fared for reasons - such as positions, staffers are aware that employers have a legitimate complaint against them.

Student wives, for whatever reason, often leave before they said they would. An ISES employee estimated that every business in Carbondale has been at least 12 times like this. Hiring and training always takes time and money.

The student employer also presents special problems. In particular, the ISES says the problem of arranging a job around a student's hours is inconveni- ence and one which must be confronted every quarter.

So to that problem is the fact that some students are irresponsible because they have no stake in the job. employer or town. And the employer knows this.

So the ISES can't do much for students although every business in Carbondale has been at least 12 times like this. Hiring and training always takes time and money.

Moreover, students have an advantage over students in Carbondale in particular. But obviously if the wait is too long the wife will be gone before the job opens up. On campus, however, the situation is different.

Spokesmen don't like to say that townspeople don't want to hire students or student wives. In fact, they hate to even admit that there is an employment problem at all, anywhere. But they didn't have much good news to report.

Lee Chenoweth, staff assistant in charge of the employment service in the Office of Commuter, Married, and Graduate Students, said that, all things considered, the service is doing a good job. But the things to consider are:

- the generally bad economic situation in the country;
- the tremendous competition from private agencies and advertisers;
- the competition of private citizens looking on their own, and
- the fact that his office doesn't advertise for fear of antagonizing local competitors.

Apparently the employment service operates on the basis of Chenoweth's energy and connections. Each in office sends out about 200 letters to members of the local chamber of commerce and them of the office and asking them to call if they need any help.

"This is a teacher year"

She noticed an unusual number of inquiries this year and said the demand usually depends on whether the student or student wives are teachers or secretaries. Apparently this is a teacher year.

Neither office has been able to place students for student wives in particular. But obviously if the wait is too long the wife will be gone before the job opens up. On campus, however, the situation is different.

Spokesmen don't like to say that townspeople don't want to hire students or student wives. In fact, they hate to even admit that there is an employment problem at all, anywhere. But they didn't have much good news to report.

Lee Chenoweth, staff assistant in charge of the employment service in the Office of Commuter, Married, and Graduate Students, said that, all things considered, the service is doing a good job. But the things to consider are:

- the generally bad economic situation in the country;
- the tremendous competition from private agen-
cies and advertisers;
- the competition of private citizens looking on their own, and
- the fact that his office doesn't advertise for fear of antagonizing local competitors.

Apparently the employment service operates on the basis of Chenoweth's energy and connections. Each in office sends out about 200 letters to members of the local chamber of commerce and them of the office and asking them to call if they need any help.

Employment agency sympathetic

The only employment agency in Carbondale—the Local Motion—didn't appear to have a large number of clients. Girardeau, Mo., and Mt. Vernon—is also sympathetic to the plight of the student wife.

Frank E. Osborn, owner of the agency who has hired four student wives in the past 15 months, says that students and student wives do have a harder time finding work and cites the length of time they will be here as a large factor. Osborn cites the region as the major factor, however. There just aren't enough jobs to go around. On Nov. 1 he cut his advertising in half but the number of applications has fallen off. If someone doesn't work, he and his wife will be flooded with applicants. He said he placed an ad last year for a person to work in his of-ce and in the first three months of business he received 37 phone calls.

How does the employment agency stay in business then? With so many applicants, someone has to screen them all, sending over only the best two or three. And he has the advantage of being able to recruit in his two branch offices.

And the "you can always teach" solution is definitely out of date. The superintendent's office of the Carbondale Elementary Schools District 96 said that at present it has 85-90 qualified applicants on file who would like jobs, about the normal number. The school system does not hire on a first come-first served basis, however, and the teacher with a special skill might find a job sooner if such a vacancy were to occur.

A spokeswoman in the superintendent's office of the Carbondale Community High School District 180 said essentially the same thing. At present she has about "half a file drawer full" of qualified aplicants.

"Better see if anybody's down there before we fill it"
No. following location corresponds to each hour of operation.

The schedule corresponds with map.

Each route makes 1 trip per hour.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>A Route</th>
<th>B Route</th>
<th>C Route</th>
<th>D Route</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Follow this route until 5:22 P.M. Daily</td>
<td>Follow this route After 5:22 P.M. Daily &amp; All day Sat &amp; Sun</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Call for Information 549-3018
Alumni fee payment called infringement

Regulating students to pay an additional fee to the University is a violation of their rights, according to Paul Nolan, graduate in economics.

However, Brian McCaskey, former administrator, says the SUU Board of Trustees has the power to levy fees and that the mandatory student fee does not violate students' rights. The Student Fee Study Committee has recommended that fees be lowered from $97 to $7. Students now pay $3 of the present fee for a campus membership in the SUU Alumni Association.

Nolan, a member of the fee committee, said the Alumni Association membership in a private association as a condition to graduation on a state university is at least a gross imposition and at worst a violation of student rights. Nolan said.

He rebutted the argument that granting the fee to the Alumni Association is necessary for student support. "We don't deny that it's (the association) good for the school. But, this does not negate the fact that it is a private association which should have only one membership," Nolan said.

McCaskey, a party for fee committee member George McCulley, however, said the Board does have the power to lobby fees on students.

Senate defeats fillbuster bill

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Senate Tuesday defeated, for the third time in 15 days, an attempt to end the vote taking about the filibuster rule.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, conceded there is not much left to debate on the issue and made it easier to end future filibusters.

The vote this time was 48 to 38, seven votes short of the two-thirds majority required to limit debate in the Senate. It represented no breakthrough for Church and his allies, short of the same Rendleman will speak on campus Wednesday

SUU-Edwardsville Chaplain John S. Rendleman will discuss "The Administrator and His Public Relations" at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the University Center.

The discussion is being sponsored by the Graduate Student organization and all single graduate students are invited, according to Dick Kalmus, staff assistant at the University and Graduate Student Office.

Group to present lecturer Thursday

The Intervarsity Christian Fellowship will present a lecture at 7 p.m. Thursday in Room 16 of the Humanities Hall.

The lecture will be given by Udo Muller and has title will be "The Tragedy of the Intellectual." Muller is a member of the Luter Fellowship in Switzerland, a 100 person community which according to a release from the SUU group, functions as a context for non-Christian to confront and consider claims of Christianity.

Muller's lecture will discuss the "betrayal of mankind which he feels results from the relativistic philosophies which pervade our current culture," the release stated.

Cell cytology is topic of microbiology lecture

Dr. John J. Taylor of the St. Louis University School of Medicine will present a lecture at 10 a.m. in room 102 of the Center Building.

The lecture is part of the Microbiology Graduate Seminar Series. The lecture topic will be "Structural Cell Cytology."

America's favorite TV clown. Now a soft cuddly 16'' tall doll, in full color. For everyone, your girl, little sister, brother. Why not for mother, grandmother, aunt?

$100 plus tax
Allen criticizes investigation

Douglas M. Allen, philosophy instructor, Tuesday criticized the Review Panel's investigation of the Center for Vietnamese Studies, saying their report made no pretense that the panel had considered the evidence from critics of the center.

"It seems to me the panel's report could have been written after two or three sessions without ever listening to the testimony of any of the critics," Allen said.

Allen, who has attacked the panel on several previous occasions, said the contents of the report did not surprise him.

"It's just what I expected. It was a safe panel that functioned only to preserve the status quo," Allen said.

Allen, who has been an outspoken critic of the center for over a year, said that he knew the panel would endorse the center but he had hoped that they would have shown in the report that they seriously studied criticism of the Center.

"I expected a lengthy, much more scholarly report," Allen said.

Allen said the report has removed one of the final legal channels that the critics of the center have to utilize in efforts to remove the center from SIU.

"We have only one channel left and that's to bring the center up with the SIU Board of Trustees again. But we don't expect much," Allen said.

Allen said he has requested that the center be put on the Board's April agenda.

Allen predicted the report's endorsement of the center will create "a lot of tension on campus in the spring.

"The report did anything but defuse the critics," Allen said. "It just made them angrier."
McCaflrey attacks voting interpretation

- By Dave Mahfouz
- Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The question of the student's right to vote was discussed at the Council meeting on Thursday. McCaffrey, student body vice president, attacked the city attorney, Bruce Briggs, for misinterpreting state law regarding student residency.

McCaffrey said that Briggs' interpretation of permanent residency is vague and does not clarify what all citizens of legal age should have. McCaffrey said that in his view, anyone who is a resident of the city for an extended period of time should be considered a resident.

McCaflrey asked the Council to further define "permanent resident" and "taxpayer resident," as written by Briggs. McCaffrey also asked the Council to discuss the possibility of extending the voting rights to students who have a say in the city's business.

Briggs, however, defended his interpretation, saying that the legal definition of a resident is "any person who has resided in the city for 30 days and who is registered to vote." He said that the Council's role is to enforce the law and not to create new definitions.

The discussion continued, with both sides presenting their arguments. The Council eventually voted to send the issue to the city attorney for further clarification.

Horsley bills under fire

(Continued from page 1)

Hammond said that the bills before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which will hold hearings on Thursday, deal primarily with amendments to the Illinois criminal code. Among the bills before that committee is an amendment to the criminal code which would only remove limits on the criminal damage to property, and not to physical property. Hammond said that the bill would make a more serious punishment, as defined in the code.

Hammond also spoke about the distribution of literature on a university campus that has not been approved by the university administration. He said that a proposed bill which would prohibit the publication of any material advocating or inciting violence on a university campus. The bill proposes stiff penalties for violators which include a year in prison and a $1,000 fine for a first offense and up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine for a second offense.

EAT at the PLAZA GRILL

606 So. III.

- No Giveaways
- No Gimmicks

Just Good Food!!!

Reasonable Prices and Courteous Service

One of our Paulistes calls it "home..."

Home is where the heart is

Home is also wherever a Pauliste is needed.

Whether the Pauliste works as a photo, a college campus, or a grocer or a restaurateur or a corner of the United States, or a housing hotel or a church... every place is a Pauliste. A Pauliste is a morally educated man and woman who is not of the world of the people. The Pauliste is the man who has sword in his hand and is ready to die for the honor of Christ. That is the Pauliste way. It is not easy, but it is the worthwhile thing to do.

If you are interested in support or are interested in joining the Pauliste fraternity, you can contact us by writing to:

Rev. Donald L. Campbell, S.J.
Vice President

Paulist Fathers
Room 311
415 West 108th Street
New York, N.Y. 10025

Make tracks.

Hush Puppies, a new track shoe that is cut from the mold of the latest
"Look Again, They're Hush Puppies.

Real girl, that's you.

Look Again, They're Hush Puppies.

WOLVERINE

Daily Egyptian, March 3, 1971, Page 9
PREGNANT?
NEED HELP?
~-=:
Ot£ST ABORTION
CAN ON.v BE FL.l.lJ PROFESSIONALS
Pll (liS) e'E-
::
1 4
~ow r~ ~ . ~ \
ro o 'O TI.
'
112 l'
l

HE'S COMING

TEST PREPARATION BOOKS

WHEN there's so much riding on the results, go with the tried and proven expert. Our AP Crambook guides are updated each year to cover the latest exam format, and they walk you through every question. Use them to brush up on the subjects you need to focus on. Check out our complete line of AP Crambooks today!

- AP English Language
- AP English Literature
- AP U.S. History
- AP Calculus
- AP Biology
- AP Chemistry
- AP Environmental Science

Get the best AP prep from Crambook and become a true AP Expert in your field. Start your journey towards success today!

COWLES BOOK COMPANY, INC.

WINKYS
"Makes You Happy To Be Hungry"
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS
NEAR BRUSH TOWERS
EAST GRAND AVENUE AND SOUTH WALL STREET

Good Food. Fast Service. Abundant Parking

Week Long Special

Big Wink
French Fries
Cole Slaw
Small Soft Drink
(rode, sprite, R. Beer, Orange, Lemon)
Special Ends
March 7

WINE PUNCH
COFFEE

Phone: (618) 552-5237

Eat inside
In your auto
On your patio

R&D's
ICE CREAM
SODA
COFFEE
SPECIALS

MONDAY

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

SUNDAY

84¢
84¢
84¢
84¢
84¢
84¢

(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)

84¢
84¢
84¢
84¢
84¢
84¢

(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)
(plus tax)

Easter
Egg Hunt

Turnip fries offered

Cafe's special is health food

By Sue RY
Daily Egyptian Correspondent

Euphorium is an example of how to start a health food restaurant without a college education. According to Marilyn Mitchell, manager of the restaurant in Carbondale, "We started this place to give the student a healthy place to eat."

Euphorium is a nonprofit health food restaurant located in the basement of the Lutheran Student Center, 360 S. University Lane. Each Monday through Saturday, from 3 to 7:30 p.m., the restaurant is open for business.

Food at Euphorium is strictly vegetarian. The menu consists of entrees, soups, main courses, desserts, and beverages. All of the food is served with water, but requests for soda or other beverages can be accommodated.

Miss Bushbaum, a vegetarian for four years, said that a protein deficiency often unnecessarily results when people change to a strict vegetarian diet because they are unaware of what foods to combine to provide their own protein. Beans and lentils are the best substitutes for meat-protein sources.

Both Miss Bushbaum and Mrs. Mitchell said that many people who have been vegetarians had a decrease in energy and felt much healthier.

Eating health foods might be more expensive, Mrs. Mitchell said, but they are "so much better for you and you can eat out the vitamins pills."

A well-balanced diet of various foods is offered each meal, Mrs. Mitchell said, with two main courses for dinner in addition to a variety of appetizers.

Foods are sauteed and pressure cooked in order to preserve their natural nutrients which are usually lost away under common cooking methods. Mrs. Mitchell said.

Enough macrobiotic foods are offered to constitute a meal for anyone adhering to the Zen diet. The macrobiotic diet is a food regime consisting of vegetables, whole grains, and beans. The emphasis is on the presentation of foods, and each meal is accompanied by a fillet of raw fish, a bit of fruit, and a bit of honey.

When a person adheres to the macrobiotic diet, Mrs. Mitchell said, he or she must practice "internal balance." Mrs. Mitchell said that many people who have been vegetarians had a decrease in energy and felt much healthier.

After listening to an explanation by Timm Bushbaum, cook and "nutritional expert" for Euphorium, who pointed out all the poisonous hormones and adrenalin that are consumed with a piece of steak, a vegetarian diet doesn't seem so bad after all.

Euphorium is open to the public, Mrs. Mitchell said, and the meals are prepared "as if the cooks were accustomed to retaining the quality of the food when preparing such large quantities." Since the nutritionists have "no time to cook" or "cook to order" their meals, they have "more time to prepare" the food.

The restaurant also offers daily specials. The restaurant caters birthday cakes and hopes to open a sidewalk cafe spring or summer and eventually offer meals to the public.

Euphorium also plans to serve as a health food information service. A recipe book of Euphorium foods is planned as well as a menu board telling the nutrient and calorie content of each food.

PREGNANT?
NEED HELP?

THEORY: sprout like mushrooms

Capitol bombing probed; Radical letter is clue

WASHINGTON (AP)- The FBI Tuesday investigated the Capitol bombing, focusing on the letter that was attached to a mushroom-shaped bomb found in a post office.

The Capital returned to near normal operations Tuesday as a Senate Post Office Works subcommittee began an investigation into the incident yesterday. It is headquartered in the Post Office building. The incident caused little damage to the building, but left a hole in the roof and a minor burn in one of the post offices.

In one of the few concrete developments, something or someone called "The Mother Underground" claimed to have set off the bomb, according to a letter that was found in the post office.

"We have attacked the Capital because the United States is in a descent, and the American people are asleep," the letter read. "We are the People of the United States."

The FBI released a report Monday that showed the bomb was a pull-to-use device, containing about two pounds of dynamite.

A theory that the bombing was the work of a radical who is opposed to the war in Vietnam, is being considered by law enforcement agencies.

The FBI has been quoted in news reports as saying the Capitol switchboard received two calls, one from a person who said "The Mother Underground" had attacked the Capitol, and another from a person who said he had knowledge of such calls.

He has been quoted in news reports as saying the Capitol switchboard received two calls, one from a person who said "The Mother Underground" had attacked the Capitol, and another from a person who said he had knowledge of such calls.

World prayer day to be held Friday

By University News Service

The Carbondale chapter of Church Women United, a New York-based non-denominational national organization, will observe the "World Day of Prayer," Friday, at the Street Free Will Baptist Church, 807 N. Marson.

The special church service, starting at 1:30 p.m., will be made up of both American and international women. Similar services will be observed in 105 countries. Offerings will be sent to the New York church for use in ecumenical work abroad.

The Carbondale chapter of Church Women United, containing many faculty wives, has been active in past years in establishing a day care center and a thrift shop in town.
Student, faculty workshops study conservation

By Rose Van Scyoc
Student Writer

More than 1,200 high school students and teachers from all grade levels will have participated this year in the "conservation workshops" sponsored by the Department of Outdoor Education (DOE). The workshops are held throughout the year, at the SIU Outdoor Lab, Little Grassy Lake, and last for one day each.

The workshops consist of lectures on subjects such as recycling or garbage recycling and activities like clean-up projects or personal interviews on related subjects such as zero population growth.

"The main objective is to change the students' behavior," said Ronald Galliford, assistant professor of the Outdoor Laboratory. "They are part of the environment rather than conquerors. We put forth ideas," he said, "and try to elaborate with facts.

"It's not necessary to flush a toilet every time you use it," Galliford added. "Each time you use the toilet and don't flush it you save six gallons of water." Galliford said that some of the interaction is an environment and the individual while the remainder is on the total environment.

Student work cut explained

Budget can't meet pay raise

By C E Horsley
Student Writer

The student work situation at SIU is: cut, cut, cut, and having too many people for one job according to Raymond Dujarnet, assistant director of the Student Work and Financial Assistance Program.

"Although student wages have been cut over the past four years to comply with federal minimum wage requirements," Dujarnet said, "our budget has not been increased to meet the raise.

"For example we had about 4,200 students on the payroll at a dollar an hour.

"Now, although we are enrolling only about 3,700 students, the assumption was forced on university departments to spend about half the allotted funds before the fiscal year is half over. Dujarnet said.

"To combat the problem and still not be forced to fire students or eliminate present jobs, Dujarnet said a program designed to slightly lessen working hours has been outlined.

"Although it may sometimes limit efficiency somewhat," Dujarnet said, "we are decreasing the student's work load in some departments by an average of two hours or more per week.

"Using this method has slightly decreased the student's work load in some areas, but it has at least allowed us to maintain the same number of jobs we had previously and still be able to meet our budget requirements a little more easily," Dujarnet said.

"Dujarnet emphasized the fact that budget limitations are not a problem at SIU only.

"All funds for state schools are recommended to the legislature by the Illinois Board of Higher Education in Springfield. Dujarnet said, and "we are more or less have to accept the legislature's decision on the amount we receive."

"The problem is statewide and I'm afraid there's really not much we can do about it down here right now," Dujarnet added.

Dujarnet indicated he did not expect any improvement in the near future. "There is a good possibility," he said, "that the Board of Higher Education will cut the total University budget for next year.

SIU dance company moving to Furr

The Southern Repertory Dance Company and the Southern Dancers will present six performances of four different shows beginning Saturday. These will be the final performances in the Southern Dance Studio (V81), where they have performed for approximately two years. The company is moving to Furr Auditorium until their space in the Communications Building is completed.

The children's creative dance classes, taught by members of the repertory company, will present a program at 2 p.m. Saturday.

At 8 p.m. on Saturday the company will present its final performance of "Touch," a dance-theater piece which reflects contemporary society.

"Make Way for Love," a musical comedy set in 17th century France, will be performed at 2 p.m. Sunday. The show is written by W. Grant Gray, director of the repertory company and the Southern Dancers.

The final shows in the auditorium studio will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday. "Krampus 9," choreographed by repertory company members, will be performed by the advanced dance workshop class.

Dance company members will be moving into Furr Auditorium during spring break. About 40 seats have been torn out so the stage can be extended 10 feet to allow more room for performances.

Wait'll you see yourself in one of our new see-through fashions!

They're pure SPEX APPEAL

OSTERTAG OPTICIANS

Phone: 549-1510

Carla is modeling the Sport Denim Group

by Bobbie Brooks
Junior Sportswear from ROSS' of Murphysboro

Standing tall

Available at your favorite FALSTAFF store
PR club planning to promote SIU to area

By C. E. Horley, Student Editor

Members of the SIU Public Relations Club are now developing a program designed to improve communication and promote understanding between the SIU and Carbondale communities, according to Bill Griffith, club president.

"The subject of our program," Griffith said, "will be an explanation and examination of SIU through talks, discussions and slide shows.

We have developed a slide show about the history of SIU, how it began and how it has progressed to today."

"We want local people to know what SIU is doing and to explain to them that last spring's economic problems in May was not at all a typical occurrence."

"The club intends to finance equipment and transportation for the project by offering various services to local businesses, according to Griffith."

More job opportunities to investigate

University Placement Services have announced the following on campus job interviews for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 16-18. For appointments, stop in the office in Woody Hall, third floor, north wing. A Asterisk indicates U.S. citizenship required.

Wednesday, March 10

• WESTVACO CORP. Wickliffe, Ky BS and MS candidates in engineering, management, chemistry for positions in technical service department.

• GOODYEAR TIRE AND RUBBER Co., St. Louis, retail sales and retail sales management.

• TRAVELERS INSURANCE CO., St. Louis, administrative assistant, sales, underwriting Majors bus.

• KRAFT FOODS, Chicago employment in food process plant quality control; job title: food technologist. Majors biology, chemistry.

• NORTHWEST SUBURBAN SPECIAL EDUCATION, Arlington Heights. Please check with Placement Services.

BELLEVILLE AREA SPECIAL EDUCATION DISTRICT, Belleville. III high school educators mentally handicapped—emotionally disturbed—teachers of deaf—learning disabilities—socially maladjusted—intermediate educable mentally handicapped.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 90, O'Fallon, Ill. elementary teachers who have completed or will complete their fifth year of teaching. Vocal music and orchestra positions. Jr. high general science.

Thursday, March 11

• PRICE WATERHOUSE AND CO. St. Louis staff accounting assignments. St. Louis. Qualified students may be referred to other offices in U.S.

• MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD Co., St. Louis. The 12-week formal training program is headquartered at St. Louis. The program involves travel to various company facilities. Its purpose is to teach the basics of railroad and operation of MOPAC System to recent college graduates. Operating department candidates may be assigned to any point on MOPAC System.

• BONAPARTE'S Retreat

TODAY

feathertrain

Special Drink:

3-6 beers 25¢
drinks 50¢

Girls Admitted FREE
until 9:30 pm

Coming Sunday

BR'S Super Sock Hop

BONAPARTE'S

Retreat

The other odor

Evil bathing every day can't stop it.

Feminine odor earns internally, and no amount of bathing can remove it. Soap and water simply can't reach the area where the odor starts. That's the reason you need Norfomone® — the second deodorant. These two internal sur-posters kill germs — stop odor effects set safely. In fact, gentics, Norfomone® Norfomone® are so safe and easy to use, you can use them as often as necessary.

No bath or shower can give you Norfomone® protection. Get Norfomone® and you'll feel so care and odorfree for hours.

The second deodorant.

Norfomone®

CENTER

Phillip's

MURDANE SHOPPING CENTER
Midwestern Conference crown

SINU swimming team looks like a shoo-in

By Ernest J. Schwartz

Daily Egyptian Writer

The SIRU swimming team looks like an odds-on favorite to make a showing in the Midwestern Conference swimming championships at Pullman University through Saturday. In fact, the SIRU swimmers have been rated second best in the nation behind the University of Iowa when the two squads clashed at the University of Iowa last week and the SIRU swimmers won by ten points to a second.

Ball State

Next to the Sabihus, host school Ball State has the best record at 9-4 and with two of those victories coming over conference schools Illinois State and Northern Illinois. Some people are predicting the Cardinals to finish in the third slot behind Illinois State, but in Donna Beitz, Ball State has a swimmer who could bring home a lot of points and place them inside second.

City specials

Specializes in the sprinters with his best times being 22.3 in the 50-yard freestyle and 53.5 in the 100. His championship in the 50 is one of a second behind SIRU’s Vern Coach best time and the two should put on quite a race in the finals. The Cardinals also have Phil Stevens swimming the 300-yard individual medley with a beat of 3:23. The checking out of much compared with Sabih’s Rob Niegel’s 3:21, but a good race that could develop between Stevens and Illinois State’s Thomas who has gone 2-2.2.

Northern Illinois

Of all the conference swimming teams, the Huskies have the poorest record at 7-9 with two of the losses coming at the hands of conference foes Illinois State, 57-8, and Ball State, 75-27.

By Brian Voisard

who according to SIRU sports information director Paul Nagle, “will swim anything.” The Sabihus finished second last year with 300-yard butterfly and a 2:08.6 in the 200-yard breaststroke, both of which are best times for the Huskie swimmers.

In events where SIRU has freshman Greg Jennings, who also holds bests of 22.6, 24.7 and 30.7 50-yard freestyle. The native of Lake Geneva, Wis., teams with distance man Gary Lohn to give SIRU two solid swimmers in the 500-yard freestyle. Lohns best times in the 500-yard freestyle are 5:59.5 while his best effort in the 1000 is 10:43.2.

Illinois State

Archie Harris’ Illinois State Redbirds have accumulated the most wins, matching 10 of them while losing seven meet results in the way.

SIRU has lost to Indiana State, 40-31, and Ball State, 45-5, after knocking off Northern Illinois by a single point early in the season. Harris has brought a young squad this season led by freshmen John Nicola and Mike Schwartz as well as senior Jeff stadium.

Romer is strong in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle/mel/ing best Redbird times of 23.9 and 48.8, which doesn’t show up very well in the back stroke for the Redbirds holds the Illinois State school record in the 500-yard butterfly with a clocking of 1:83.2.

Free Aeroplane Rides!

This Week’s Dandy Deal

Fish Sandwich & Salad

85¢

March 3 - 9

E. Main, Carbondale

Apt. Available March 15

GARDEN PARK ACRES APARTMENTS

607 E. Park, Carbondale

Luxury approved apartment for women

2 BEDROOMS

-MEDITERRANEAN DECOR

2 BATHS

BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED

Call David Keene, Mgr. 457-5736

University Housing

got you down?” Undoubtedly

and a D.E. Classified

Crazy Horse Billiards

5100 E Be Given Away

CITY SPORTS GROUP

seeks student refs

Joys of affecting games for Carbondale Junior Sports are now open to any physical education majors who would like the practical ex-

perence, according to Harry

Larimore, executive director of the Carbondale Park District.

“We will take honors and seniors who have a background in officiating the particular sport. We also check them out in a practice game situation to see that they know what to do,” Larimore said.

“We will also check them out through the University and the physical education department to see if they are qualified. If they are not, we won’t keep them because of the potential loss of control, the game, you’ve got problems,” Larimore said.

Carbondale Junior Sports was founded last year as a group of concerned parents “who wanted to do more for our youth,” and has grown to 120 participants.

This organization has been called Carbondale junior basketball but now includes a flag football and basketball program.

Larimore said the boys play for officiating a game which will last two hours will be the ideal.

“It isn’t a lot of money, he said, but being young, there valuable experience in working with developments.

University Housing

got you down?” Undoubtedly

and a D.E. Classified

Crazy Horse Billiards

5100 E Be Given Away

E. Main, Carbondale

Daily Egyptian March 3, 1971 Page 13
Cards are have-not gymnasts; Northern team needs more depth

By Fred Weinberg

Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Northern Illinois

With the Midwestern Conference meet approaching Friday, in the Ull Arena, March 14, the following is a digital account of the basketball team and conference. The basketball team is facing a talented conference and the Ull Arena in Northern Illinois and the conference is working feverishly to avoid ending their season in the last session of the meet.

In order to qualify for tournament contention in the NCAA finals at Ann Arbor, Mich, April 15-16, in this meet in required.

The top three individuals in each event will go to Ann Arbor as will the top team. They are Starting at 10 a.m. Friday, the meet will run until Saturday night in the evening sessions. The Friday morning sessions are competitive exercises which are set down by the United States Gymnastics Federation. The movements are basic and tricky according to Mur coach Bill Malle.

There is no admission to the morning session and admission to the evening session will be charged. Friday and Saturday is $1 for students and $2 for adults. Tickets may be picked up at the same time as tickets for Thursday's basketball game. Ull-NIU basketball game.

The Friday evening session will determine the all-around and championship and the team going to Ann Arbor. The Saturday evening session will determine individual championship and who will compete in Ann Arbor.

Starting time for both evening sessions is 7:30.

Here are individual descriptions of two of the conference teams, Northern Illinois and Ball State.

Kansas City falls in overtime

Squids win loop game

The Squids won their first wheelchair basketball game in overtime last Tuesday over Kansas City Pioneers in the first contest of a doubleheader.

Coed rowers are docked; tempest stairs

Simsbury, Conn. (AP)—Girls in the rowing club at Simsbury High School have been benched on orders from a school vice principal, and now some of the club members are complaining because they want the girls back in the boat.

Club president James Crosby said most of the 20-member team thought their actions over the weekend were joking because the team was funny.

But if the principal persevered we took a liking to them as people, not as girls, he said.

"Everybody was violently against Mr. Morse," he added.

He added that the club has drafted a letter to the principal and Mr. Morse, who signed the order on Sunday.

The girls, Karen Jacobson and Pam Cornett, have been practicing as coxswains.

There is a coxswain seat that is located as light as possible, said Barton Guilford, club coach.

He added that the girls were30 members of female coxswains on campus teams.

A boat has a coxswain light boat, counts the strokes for the coxswain on coxswain on the race.

Vocational & Educational Counseling available at 405 S. Washington St.

(Next to the Blue Barracks)

Vocational Counseling

Academic Information

Academic Major Information

Open 8:12 and 1:5

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The

The
Lambert: No emotional letdown, 'Hell, it was an important game'

By Fred Wendberg
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

NORMAL, Ill. - The clock on the Ford Fieldhouse wall indicated that early Tuesday morning was very near.

There was at least one man, though, who was not yet ready to walk out the doors. He was Illinois State basketball coach Will Robinson and he was still savoring an 87-79 upset of Midwestern Conference champion SIU here Monday.

He thought it was a great game. But he didn't think his troops had played that badly several weeks ago in a 87-81 loss to the Salukis at the SIU Arena in Carbondale.

"I think we played well in that game too," he said, comparing the two contests. "The score was 50-49 at halftime and you guys didn't break away until late.

SIU coach Paul Lambert was of a similar frame of mind.

"I think you have to give Illinois State a lot of credit," said a slightly perturbed Lambert after his team had virtually eliminated itself from the running for a bid to the National Invitational Basketball Tournament. "You can't take anything away from them. They played a great game."

Robinson had some complaints in Carbondale about certain moves SIU players used which he thought went beyond mere physical activity during the previous meeting.

"I kind of expected that now. It was about the same as in Carbondale but I think they may have resorted to that kind of thing a bit less," said the ISU coach.

"I think Paul Lambert did a wonderful job with that team," he said. "He's a great coach and he's done a great job coaching them."

"Lambert thought the team was up for the game."

"Yes, Hell, it was an important game," he said, referring to the fact that it was a must game for an NIT bid.

"We've got two small guards and it's hard to defend a 6-4 shooting guard," said Lambert of SIU's Doug Collins, the game's leading scorer with 34 points. "We did a good job on Sharrett (Clarence of Wisconsin) but then he's only 6-1.

"We tried to push Collins a little in the second half and I think it worked for a little bit but..." Lambert put on the look of one who's up against impossible odds—something that the act of shutting out of Collins can be considered as.

The Salukis Greg Strickler, the nation's leading free throw shooter, has been having a cold streak late at the charity stripe missing five in the last three games.

What happened?

"Well," said Lambert. "I think that when you're leading the nation in free throw shooting and you come into a game like this, there's more than a little pressure on you. I don't think it was a letdown."

Robinson is a man with huge ambitions, one of which is an NCAA championship before he retires. Nearing the end of his first collegiate season he was asked whether his team was able to compete with the kind of teams necessary to win such a title.

"I don't think we could hold our own with them yet," said Robinson. "Look, our tailer player is 6-5. How do you expect a 6-6 player to be able to rebound with 7-2 Artis Gilmore."

He's optimistic, though, and with the combined talents of his freshmen team, he has a right to be, though he admits to having a long way to go.

The loss was the 13th of the season for the off-and-on Salukis and it meant that in all probability their last game will be played Thursday in the SIU Arena against Midwestern Conference member Northern Illinois.

Regardless of the outcome, SIU has won the first league championship, Illinois State will finish in fourth place, its conference ranking has dropped to a 5 mark, two of those wins coming against the first schools tabbed to win the league—SIU and Northern Illinois.

---

Sports

Wednesday, March 3, 1971

Happier days

Times were kinder to the Salukis when John Garrett made this pass during Saturday night's come-from-behind win over Eastern Illinois, 79-70, at Illinois State Monday. Also shown above is the Aces' Curt John. (Photo by Fred Pfeffer)