Southern Faces the Future

Southern Illinois State Normal University has a definite goal to which it is working. In the first place, it is to provide the best educational opportunity for the students who attend it. This means that the university must be able to provide a curriculum that is up-to-date and relevant to the needs of the students.

The university also has a responsibility to the state and to the nation. It is important that the university provide a quality education that is accessible to all students, regardless of their financial situation. This means that the university must be able to provide financial aid to students who are unable to afford the cost of tuition.

Finally, the university has a responsibility to the community. It is important that the university provide a workforce that is well-prepared to take on the challenges of the future. This means that the university must be able to provide a curriculum that prepares students for careers in a wide range of fields.

In order to achieve these goals, the university must be able to attract and retain faculty members who are dedicated to teaching and research. The university also must be able to provide state-of-the-art facilities and resources to support the educational mission.

In conclusion, the university has a clear vision for the future. It is committed to providing a high-quality education that is accessible to all students, and it is committed to preparing students for successful careers. To achieve these goals, the university must be able to attract and retain the best students and the best faculty members. This means that the university must be able to provide a high-quality education and a challenging and rewarding academic environment.

TRIBUTE TO A BENEVOLENT BUSINESS MAN

One of the things that tends to make life on the old campus such a delightful place is the number of people who are willing to make sacrifices for the betterment of others. This is especially true of Mr. Albert M. Baker, who has given us an example of what it means to be a true friend and neighbor.

Mr. Baker is a man of great good will, and his generosity is not confined to his own family. He is always ready to help others in any way he can, and his kindness is a source of great comfort to those who know him. He is a true friend to all who come into contact with him.

It is with regret that we learn of his passing, but we are comforted by the knowledge that he has left a legacy of love and kindness to be remembered for many years to come.
