Sword Reveals Inside Facts About India
Series of Talks By Noted Lecturer Well Received

He looks like a small town business man. He wears glasses and his manner is so calm and quiet he seems to be a dull gray. He had an over all appearance of meekness and subdued quietness. When he was in India he had the feeling that he was in India. He had been there twice before, and it was his second trip. He had been there for a few months, and then he went to India because he wanted to become a missionary. And he became a missionary who is associated with Nehru, India's answer to the Far East Conference. He also knew Gandhi; his years in India
