SECOND ANNUAL INSTITUTE ON HUMAN RELATIONS WILL OPEN ON CAMPUS OCTOBER 9

Aubrey Williams, National Youth Administration, Instructor, Will Lead Panel Discussion in Little Theatre

Featured on the Thursday programs of the second annual institute on human relations will be Aubrey Williams, instructor, National Youth Administration.

The second annual institute will be held at 11 a.m. on Thursday, October 9, in Little Theatre, sponsored by the National Youth Administration and the Department of Human Relations.

The institute, which will feature a series of panel discussions and workshops, will focus on the importance of understanding and communicating with others. The goal is to promote a greater understanding of human relations and to help individuals develop the skills they need to succeed in their personal and professional lives.

The institute will include a panel discussion on the role of media in shaping public opinion, featuring experts from various industries, including television, radio, and print. The panel will discuss the impact of media on society, including its influence on politics, culture, and daily life.

There will also be a workshop on conflict resolution, where participants will learn strategies for resolving disputes in a positive and constructive manner. The workshop will cover topics such as active listening, empathy, and negotiation.

The institute will conclude with a panel discussion on the future of human relations, featuring experts from various fields. The panel will discuss the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead for those working in the field of human relations.

The institute is open to the public, and there will be no charge for attendance. For more information, please contact Aubrey Williams at the National Youth Administration.
THOUGH DEMOCRATIC WAY IS HARD, IT IS BEST WE KNOW

Assumption IV of the American Political Science Association's list of democratic features is, "The democratic way is hard, but it is the best we know."

A. Democracy is a concept that has been studied the past few years, but there is little agreement as to what makes it flourish or why some nations are successful while others are not. In political democracy, the main problem is how to make the system work in a way that will be beneficial to the majority of people.

B. Democratic techniques are new, and they are imperfectly developed.

C. The present process is too often allowed to determine legislative action.

D. There are no essentials that legislative policy if it is not to be called a sham. Therefore, political democracy is not a sham. Democratic features are the exception rather than the rule.

E. Democratic employee-employer relationships are the exception rather than the rule.

F. It is a slow road.

G. A decision based on a balance of interests is the best way to get to the same objective.

H. Political equality is a little better than true.

I. It is a slow road.

J. The road to political equality is a little better than true.

K. It is a slow road.

L. Leaders tend to be independent, but they are usually very independent, and are tempted to resort to undemocratic methods.

M. Define the requirements of responsibility slow by administering.

N. The problem of political responsibility is the best way to get to the same objective.

O. It is better to be independent than to be dependent.

P. Responsibility is undiscovered, but it is the best way to get to the same objective.

Q. The public is the real master of the system. The public is the best way to get to the same objective.

R. Democracy is the tyranny of the majority over the minority.

S. Democracy is a form of government.

T. Is the form of government or method of choice.

U. The public is the public at large.

V. The public is the people.

W. The public is the people at large.

X. The public is the people at large.

Y. The public is the people at large.

Z. The public is the people at large.

With Malice Toward None

The first hockey practice started off with a bang. The ladies from the women’s hockey club gathered at the clock near the Student Union to begin their round of exercises. As soon as they had finished, the coach explained the rules of the game and the girls were divided into two teams. The first game was scheduled for Friday afternoon at 3:00 PM and the second for Sunday at 2:00 PM.

Rain or Shine, Hockey Practice Will Be Held

The ladies are in charge of the hockey team this year. Practice is held every Monday and Thursday at 3:30 PM. The coach allows at least seven players on the field at a time, and weather or not the weather cooperates in their practice.

Tennis Practice Begins

By 2:45 PM, the tennis practice had already begun. The players were divided into two teams, East and West, and the scoreboard showed that the East had a slight lead over the West. The practice continued for an hour and a half, with the East team taking the lead at the end.

Debate Club Will Hold Meeting

Monday, 3:45 PM

The debate club met on Monday evening to discuss the latest news in the world of politics. The club is divided into two teams, the Red and the Blue, and each team is responsible for preparing a speech on a current event. The meeting lasted for about an hour and the students were eager to contribute their thoughts on the subject.

Niwa Dye Tours Through West

After winning the school’s last football game, the Niwa Dye Tours had their first tour of the western states. They visited the cities of Los Angeles, Seattle, and Portland, where they played several exhibition games. The team was well-prepared and won all their games, impressing the spectators with their skills.
