No Boards for Bulletins

All of the buildings and space occupied by the University, there is no place for its 6,000 students to go without going through and up to the 10th floor. The Student Council believes there is one bulletin board for those who want to announce or receive a ticket, a sale, a free or a lost and found, which is under the control of the Office of Student Affairs.

And at the bottom of the page, in the University, all announcements concerning students and student activities must first be approved and shall or shall not be decided by the Student Council. By having all printed signs, bulletin boards can be, permanently, kept up all the time, if we don't see the students as well as make sure that all necessary messages have been approved by the Student Council.

One fact, however, remains: There are not enough bulletin boards, so the Student Council has asked the University to put up more bulletin boards for student use.

The Student Council has repeatedly requested that the University put up more bulletin boards for student use. In the Student Council, several requests were made in 1955 and again in 1956. It has been clear that the Council has the authority to do so. At no time has there been in any way, and there is no question of the bulletin boards being re-arranged.

The Egyptian Council considers the Council in this regard to be more serious, the student government in this case.

Register and Give

An excellent opportunity for SIU students to add both a service and a practical skill to their college experience.

Through the efforts of the Student Council, Interfraternity Council, and the Student Government, a program of registering and giving students an opportunity to register and give has been put together.

The program, effective for two days, is designed to give a gift to those interested in giving a gift to the person who is not registered for the fall semester or does not have a campus address.

Those who register will receive a card, which can be used in the Student Union, and a gift certificate, which can be used in the Student Union.

The registration period of this program will be conducted in the Student Union, starting today and running through Friday. Students are encouraged to sign up early.

OUT ON A LIMP

Out of action since March 21, five years ago, Blue Hager started the 1957 season for the universities and had surgery, three games ago.

The University of Illinois baseball team is a team that has had some success this year. But, their star player, Blue Hager, is out for the season.

In 1953, the Salukis finished third in the Missouri Valley Conference. In 1954, they tied for 1st place. This year, they were off to a slow start.

Last season, the Salukis' first four games were held behind the Redbirds from Normal.

This year, the team will be able to play at the Third Avenue field.

They have had a string of successful seasons, but have been held back by the constant lack of practice.

It is their belief that 1957 will be the season to break through and win the Big Ten title.

They have been able to go to the field for most of their games, but they still feel there is room for improvement.

The team is confident that they can improve and be competitive this season.
