students Arrested, SIU Reviews Case

University officials are presently reviewing the cases of four SIU students who were arrested and fined for traffic violations and for disobeying police officers April 7, according to Joseph Zaleski, assistant dean of student affairs.

Gerald M. Guen, a 22-year-old student from Chicago, was fined $35, including costs, on a charge of reckless driving, 25, including costs, on a charge of driving a police officer; and $15, including costs, on a charge of disobeying a police officer.

Zaleski said two other students, who were passengers in Guen's car, were fined a total of $40 on a charge of disobeying a police officer. They were William Sniider of Carbondale and James Enrocig also of Carbondale.

The fourth student was Grant E. MacLaren, a 26-year-old senior from Carbondale. Later the same morning, he was fined $55 on a charge of reckless driving, $25 on a charge of disobeying a police officer and $15 on a charge of disobeying a stop sign. Zaleski said his motor vehicle privileges have been restricted.

Theta Sigma Phi To Hear St. Louis Columnist May 2

The SIU chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women journalists, will present its third Mr. Table May 2 in the University Center Ballroom.

Clarissa Start, columnist for the St. Louis Post Dispatch, will be guest speaker.

Invitations have been sent out to members of the campus, community and state.

Matrix Table dinners are for those who are interested, each spring to commemorate the fraternity's founding at the University of Washington in 1909. A prominent speaker is invited, representing the media and community women, Zaleski said.

Frederick and Cornelius Otis Skinner, Boston, Mass., will speak. The local Theta Sigma Phi chapter was known as Beta Omicron before its acceptance as a national chapter last April. The group's biggest project is the selling of basketball programs at SIU games each season. The women also sponsor a Freshman Tea each fall for women interested in journalism, present a Professional Meeting featuring women at work in the profession and offer their services at various journalistic functions.

400 Students to Help in City Clean-Up

The Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity and social fraternities and sororities will take part in a city-wide clean-up campaign, April 26, sponsored by the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce.

Some 400 students will spend three hours sweeping a housing area in the central part of the city and their contribution to "Operation Carbondale."

The project will get underway at 8 a.m. from the Illinois Central Railroad's downtown parking lot. The students will fan out through the business district to clean all ma for streets; along downtown to the campus.

During this Greek week activity, lawns of the aged and physically handicapped will be cleaned up by members of APO.

Greek representatives and all committee members of the project will meet Wednesday, April 25, in the chamber of Commerce office to discuss plans for "Operation Carbondale."

On May 5, the City Sanitation Department will pick up the Group's contributions on campus left off. After the Spring clean-up of the Community, the Sanitation Department will pick up debris which will be placed in piles at designated areas throughout the city.

Two Speakers on Thursday's Convos

The Alliance for Progress and the educational exchange program with Latin America will be the topics at Thursday's convocation programs.

Robert Bradbury, professor of economics at the University of Florida, will discuss the Alliance at the 10 a.m. session in Shryock Auditorium.

Bradbury is here to participate in the Latin American trade conference. Victor A. Rapport, dean of international studies at Wayne State University, Detroit, will discuss educational exchanges with the Latin American countries at 1 p.m. in Shryock.

Rapport studied in Italy in 1955-56 under a Fulbright research grant.

15 Speakers At Pan-Am Trade Conference

The 15 speakers featured on the program of the Latin American trade conference represent a wide diversity of experience and professions ranging from selling farm equipment in Latin America to reporting on Latin America for a newspaper chain.

Robert Bradbury, professor of economics at the University of Florida, has been active in Latin American studies for 20 years. He served on several State Department projects.

Joseph Roldan is president of Roldan Products Corp. He has headed the international division since 1949 and has served on Commerce Department committees to Africa and Southeast Asia.

H. A. Shelby became treasurer of the overseas operations of John Deere International in 1958. He previously had been general export credit manager for Caterpillar Tractors and American Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Oliver J. Willford, manager, foreign freight department of the Illinois Central Railroad, Chicago, has been in foreign trade work for 30 years.

James L. Sharp, vice president of the First National Bank, St. Louis, has been in charge of the bank's foreign department since 1943. He is chairman of the St. Louis regional export expansion committee, U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

James W. Martin is director of trade development of the Port of New Orleans. He joined the New Orleans Port in 1957 after serving five years with the Port of Houston.

John S. Moore, vice president of the W. R. Grace Co. and director of Grace Lines Corp. He is chairman of the United States Inter-American Council, a group of 130 firms which control 90 per cent of the private U.S. investment in Latin America.

Albert J. Powers, Chief of the Commerce Department's Caribbean section will be the keynote speaker for the conference. He is a veteran of 30 years in the department where he has taken part in dozen of Latin American and international trade conferences.

James E. Tally, of 508 North Allyn Street, has won the undergraduate division of the SIU student book collection contest. His prize is choice of $25 worth of books at the University book store. Runner-up in the undergraduate division were William D. Lyons and Lee H. Spalt, the former will receive $15 in books and the latter $10.

The contest was sponsored by the Student Activity Development center, Morris Library and the University bookstore.

There were four divisions--a general collection owned by undergraduate or graduate students and a subject division for both graduate and undergraduate students.

According to Elizabeth Stone, assistant director of libraries, no prizes were awarded in the graduate general division. In the subject division, George Bricker took the only undergraduate prize with a collection of geological books. Dee Green, an anthropology student, won the graduate honors. R. U. S. Lecat was runner-up in this division.

The winning collections of Tally, Bricker and Green will be on exhibit in Morris Library this month.

A Spring fashion show will be featured at the Dames Club meeting April 11, at 5:00 p.m. in the common room of the Home Ec Building. New officers will also be elected.

“The Mammals of Southern Illinois” will be the topic of the zoology senior seminar given by Dr. D. Smith Tuesday at 4 p.m. The seminar, which will be open to the public, will be held in Room 110 of the Life Science building.

The Newman Club executive council will meet at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Newman Center.

All Newman personnel representatives from dormitories and housing units are asked to attend the executive meeting. Nanetta Cox, Newman representative on the University, will discuss the work of the Council.

Dr. Manolis Ogur, professor of microbiology has been awarded a $2,000 National Science Foundation grant for his research, “Nucleotide Sequence Studies.” The study will seek to develop methods for determining the sequential arrangement of genetic material inside cells.

Next meeting will be set for Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Morris Library lounge. Program topic will be “Issue Before Congress.”
Egyptian Fund Allocation Delayed By Student Council

The Student Council approved all items of the 1961-62 budget for student activity fees last Thursday night, with the exception of a $20,000 allocation for The Egyptian.

Charles Novak, freshman class president, introduced a motion asking that the appropriation for The Egyptian be tabled "until such time as it has been clearly established whether it is a student publication as defined by acceptance of personnel." A period of 18 days, the allocation for The Egyptian will be brought before the Council for reconsideration.

The Egyptian allocation of $36,000 is a $7,000 increase over last year's appropriation. A $72,500 allocation for university athletics was approved only with a stipulation that the athletic budget be further investigated by the Board of Trustees. The athletic appropriation as approved is an increase of $11,500 over last year's figure of $50,000. The department had requested $95,000, a 50 per cent increase.

Of a total income of $315,000 from activity fees, $104,000, or 34 per cent, goes for medical benefits, leaving some $211,000 to be allocated.

If there is no reply within a period of 18 days, the allocation for The Egyptian will be brought before the Council for reconsideration.

The motion, adopted by the Council, stated that if The Egyptian is a student publication, "this must be justified by acceptance of personnel appointed by the Journalism Council and its decisions regarding the content of the paper." If there is no reply within a period of 18 days, the allocation for The Egyptian will be brought before the Council for reconsideration.

Edwardsville Gets Rare Book Man

Paul V. Chamless, a bookman specializing in old and rare books, has joined the staff of Edwardsville Campus library to help secure rare books and other books to strengthen the library for the coming expansion of the university.

"A tremendous number of books will be needed which are no longer readily available through regular trade channels," head librarian John Alibert said. "Mr. Chamless will devote full time to calling on persons who notify the library that they have books which may be of use."

If you're willing to work jobs are available -- Keene

If a student wants to work at S.U. the Student Work Program can usually find a job for him says Roland Keene, assistant director.

Keene emphasizes that students who want work must show they are really interested in a job by reporting to the student work office regularly.

"If a student wants to work in a place in one who must have a job to remain in school," he said.

To qualify for the work program a student must be carrying 12 hours and be in good standing academically. In general a 3.0 average is required. Students who fall below that level aren't able to work out a schedule with Raymond P., DeJarnett, supervisor of the program. A continued record of low grades forces the student off the job.

Robinson's Poetry Will Be Discussed
At Theatre Meeting

Earle Stibitz, associate professor in the English department, will conduct a lecture-discussion on the poet Edwin Arlington Robinson tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., in Room E of the University Center for members of the Interpreter's Theatre.

It is the first of two to be held in conjunction with the forthcoming trip of 15 S.U. students to the Poetry Workshop in Interpretation schedules for April 27 and 28 at the University of Illinois.

"He has your ears, Bernie."
Gratifying Turn-Out

Gratifying indeed was the film turn-out at the showing of "Operation Abolition" at Lents Hall last Tuesday night. By careful organization, there were no students present for the showing of the film itself. Even more gratifying is the fact that well over half of the original 1,100 were accepted into the advertised Convocation credit which apparently are able to attend--stayed for the question session after the film.

And there were plenty of stimulating, intellectually oriented students, said Mr. Carl L. Schweinfurth, advisor of the The Delta Chi Club, sponsor of the event, who gave visitors a bang-up job as moderator, and the audience itself was remarkably well behaved during the showing and the question session.

Society Can't Keep Up

I too, with Mr. McCorkle in the March 30 edition of The Egyptian expressing Dr. Young's views on campus activities, feel so strongly that inadvisable or cynicism without cause, I find that modern society is culturally unable to keep up with the mechanization of the age.

A perusal of Genesis will show that the publication of sexual experience has a long history, but I when I think of the movies and advertisements they have a tendency to go overboard.

The "dance" rage of the day, the Twist, was originated by the Egyptians and myself, and I am certain to the older generation, is no worse than the dances of the heyday--Shimmy, Shim-Sham, Snakehips, etc. The Twist is just as emotional and physical release of energies.

Lastly, the dresses fashion of today should be considered aesthetically rather than today's short skirts tend to emphasize the nude, they are generally knobby and ungainly. As for the morality of it--look to the cut of the clothing of the highest society of the 17th century, or the fads of the 20's.

In closing, I can only reiterate the first paragraph:

"Cultural society is attempting to exist in the fast moving, frustrating present and to look back at the past."

Vern Kanya

Editor's note: Most interesting, is the Kanya's points well taken, but, come on, isn't it rationalizing a bit too much to call a "Twist" a "great emotional and physical release of pent-up energies"? We perhaps have been denied the pleasure of seeing the REAL Twist performed, we just cannot imagine ANY Twist being as effeminate as you describe it.

Questions Lack Of Shelters Being Risky

Editor: Re the article in the March 30 edition of The Egyptian expressing Dr. Young's views on campus activities, what is meant by "inadvisable" or "cynicism without cause"? Is it because nuclear war is inevitable and we should accept all the students and faculty of SIU? And what of the evacuees to this "strategic" area (does not "strategic" area imply that it would probably be subject to further bombardment if not wiped out in the first round)?

Are shelters useful at all? If a large number of contractors would profit from building them, they also help the government, which as a nation, could survive a nuclear war which has been declared in many circles a psychological preparation for war. But as physical protection for 170 million people in the U.S., A... Well...

On Friday, April 16 at 8:30 p.m., Dr. John M. Fort, a nuclear physicist, association professor at Washington University and a director of the St. Louis Committee for Nuclear Information, will speak at a public rally sponsored by the Southern Illinois Peace Council at the Bondadale Public Library. I feel that his views will be antithetically opposed to those of Dr. Young. This is a topic in which we may not be specialists, but certainly are involved.

Trackmen Break 2 Records, Place Second In Relays

SIU's two relay teams broke 10 records and placed second in two events at the Texas Relays but still placed only second in both events.

In the two-mile relay Bill Xorton of Kansas and SIU's Bill Cornell ran the last 100 yards stride for stride and shouldered -to-shoulder when Xorton lunged at the finish to edge Cornell. Both teams were given identical times of 7:37.7 breaking the old relay mark 1:30.6 by California.

Individual times in the two-mile relay for SIU were John Sanders 1:54, Jim Dupree 1:51, Brian Turner 1:52.7 and Cornell 1:56. Kansas also finished ahead of SIU in the distance med.

St. Louis Drops Salukis Twice

SIU travels to Evansville to- pound a crew that was looking for its first basketball victory f the regular season. Coach Illions (Abie) Martin's baseballquad dropped both ends of Saturday's doubleheader to the St. Louis Billikens, 7-6 and 3-5.

Errors proved costly in both games for the Salukis. In the first game SIU pitcher Larry Sucker allowed only one hit but his Saluki runners permitted six other Billikens to romp home free.

It was the same story in the nighcap, Harry Gurley, pitching for the Salukis, comitted two of the six Southern runners allowing five St. Louis runners to score as charity of the SIU team.

After tomorrow's game at Evansville, SIU travels to southern Missouri Saturday or another doubleheader.

SIU Swimmers Didn't Place In NCAA Championship Finals

SIU sophomore Jack Schiltz and freshman Phil Slatex turned in their best times of the year at the National AAU swimming championships but it wasn't enough to qualify for the finals.

Ralph Casey, SIU swimming coach, said after returning from Bartlesville, Oklahoma, "this year's AAU championships were so fantastically better that it was ridiculous. In fact, it is so funny that not a single individual who placed at the NCAA placed at the AAU."

Schiltz swam the 200-yard individual medley in 2:10.4, the best time of his career. Slatex churned the 100-yard butterfly in 55.7 also his best showing.

SIU's freestyle relay of Ray Padovan, Walt Rodgers, Cunningham and Schiltz finished the 400-yard distance in 3:24.5 and 3:23.5 qualified, both better than the old record as did Southern's 5:05.5.

SIU's freshmen performers also turned in creditable performances. George Wood put the shot 15-11 feet for fourth place in the Freshman Division. Hurdler Bob Green was second in the 120-high hurdles in 14.7 seconds. Freshman speedster Jim Stewart finished third in the 100-yard dash.

BOB GREEN, freshman hurdler, took second in the 120-high hurdles in 14.7 seconds. He was one of three freshman trackmen who turned in outstanding performances in the Texas Relays.

Rifle Team Aims To Be Big Shots

S/Sgt. Robert K. Bumgardner, of Southern’s AFROTC detachment, is a man who thinks big. He believes the best rifle team in the United States and his ultimate goal is placing team members in the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

With these objects in mind, Bumgardner has set some of the toughest standards for the United States which applicants must meet to win a position on the ROTC rifle squad. About 30 boys are currently on the team and they will compete with the original 85 who tried out at the start of fall term.

According to Bumgardner, the average SIU male student can’t keep 40 shots, 10 each from four firing positions, within a target area the size of a half-dollar, from 50 feet away, the minimum firing distance.

But to make Bumgardner’s team applicants must fire 40 shots, from prone, sitting, kneeling and standing positions, within a bull’s-eye the size of a quarter.

As further incentive, Bumgardner awards gold and silver rifles to his team members who shoot among the nation’s top 10 per cent. A silver rifle is awarded when a member averages 375 points out of a possible 400, roughly equal to putting all 40 shots within a dime. The gold rifle award goes to a shooter who averages 385, about like hitting a pencil eraser with all 40 shots -- from 50 feet away.

“As you can see,” Bumgardner said, “our standards are a little stiff compared to those for winning an athletic letter.”

Bumgardner said Philip Richards, a sophomore, is close to a gold rifle. His average is just percentage points below the 385 minimum.

Richards gave a good indication of his ability in the recent Secretary of the Air Force rifle match. He fired a 392 out of 400 possible points and the SIU team shot a 1921 total.

(At present, the team is the top AFROTC rifle squad in the nation and the sergeant is patiently awaiting reports on how his boys stand nationally.)

Jim Place Shoots 68 To Lead Golfers To Second First Victory

SIU, led by Jim Place’s 68 and Gene Cardello’s 70, beat Missouri School of Mines Friday afternoon, 20 1/2 to 3 1/2, for its second straight golf victory of the season.

For Coach Lynn Holder’s Irkenkem, it was their 42nd victory in 43 home course matches. Last year in the last dual meet of the season Western Illinois dropped SIU ending a string of 40 straight home victories.

Place’s four-under-par 68 was good for medalist honors of the match. Cardello also flashed mid-season form with his two-under-par 70.

Fourth IAC Victory Is Strong Possibility

SIU appears headed toward a fourth straight Interstate Conference all-sports championship trophy with six championships in its sights. With titles yet to be decided in golf, tennis, track and baseball, Southern has 56 points out of a possible 56.

PHIL RICHARDS, the mainstay of SIU’s AFROTC rifle squad, gets some good-natured kidding from S/Sgt. Robert Bumgardner (center), Cal. George Blase, Professor of air science, and others because of his winning ways. Richards has won some 25 medals for sharp-shooting this year and probably will win more before the competition ends. (Photo by Jack Philbrick)

SIU opened its season earlier with a 22-2 win over Southeast Missouri. Bill Barnett, senior SIU golfer, shot a par 72 for medalist honors and also top SIU honors.

Holder’s duoments traveled to Southeast Missouri yesterday afternoon for a match with the Indians in search for their third straight victory.

Girls Organize Tennis Matches

Girls interested in playing WRA tennis matches are asked to meet on the courts near the old student union at 4 p.m. Wednesday, April 11. Competition will be between organized houses and classes.

Tennis seasons will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays under the sponsorship of Marjorie Bond, associate professor of physical education for women.
