A VISIONARY WITH FAITH

President Roosevelt offered Henry A. Wallace his greatest bestowal in the public's faith. "The City of the Common Man". As Secretary of Commerce, he held together two factions. He was a "Saint" to a majority of farmers, business men, and editors. The full employment program of 80,000,000 jobs in the post-war era! This opportunity was snatched away when the Senate Committee proposed to create the Department of Economic Cooperation, which has been described as a "fourth branch of the government", from the Commerce Department, and in addition voted against the Wallace nomination itself.

As was pointed out officially in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the "two factions between two people..." "There is a fight between Henry Wallace and Thomas A. Jones, vaulting over the heads of all others, because of points of view, as an issue between conservation and militarism." One group holds coope-ration in the post and talks about "The American Way of Life!" through the other groups. "The American Way of Life!" was proposed to create the Department of Economic Cooperation, which has been described as a "fourth branch of the government", from the Commerce Department, and in addition voted against the Wallace nomination itself.

The Student Council in the fall week, an Egyptian asked the students for assistance in revising the present antiquated Constitution. This ill opportunity for students to innovate the type of student government, there was. The President further asked for opinions on the grade point average and the other general rules of the House. Therefore, a precise procedure of 80,000,000 jobs in the post-war era! It is important to note that the students are required to take at least 16 hours per term before they can apply to the Senate Committee. During the full term a Council member was only 16 hours, and three members of the Senate Committee, with the Constitutional requirements which need revising. Certainly there should be a consistency in standards. What standards can be a consensus point? It cannot be stated that he should be judged by this past record while an active participant on the Council. An analogy can usually stem from an employment situation. A person is usually employed on the basis of past work. It is assumed that said person will keep up the high quality of work. If the person should not maintain the desired standards, that person will be removed regardless of his past record. On the basis of the student body on this point, it is indicative of a belief in the necessity and desirability of the democratic process in student government.

REGIONAL PLANNING SHOWS

THE WAY IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS

The following article is from a pamphlet entitled "Southern Illinois Past, Present and Future" by the Southern Illinois Planning Commission. It is reprinted from the United Press International.

For the next few years the Southern Illinois Planning Commission has been working on the Southern Illinois plan. The plan is designed to guide the development of the area in the future. The goal is to improve the quality of life for all residents. The plan includes recommendations for transportation, education, health care, and economic development.

The plan recognizes the unique characteristics of Southern Illinois, such as its agricultural heritage, natural beauty, and regional identity. It emphasizes the importance of preserving these qualities while addressing the needs of the 21st century.

Population: 1920: 200,000

Population: 2010: 250,000

Population: 2040: 300,000

The plan is intended to be flexible and adaptable to changing circumstances. It is a living document that will be reviewed and updated regularly. The Southern Illinois Planning Commission encourages public participation in the planning process to ensure that the needs and aspirations of all residents are represented.

The plan is an important tool for guiding the future of Southern Illinois. It provides a framework for making informed decisions about development and growth. By incorporating the perspectives of all stakeholders, the plan seeks to create a better future for everyone who calls Southern Illinois home.

SINU MEETS OLD NORMAL TONIGHT

Martinmen Will Be After Their Fifth Consecutive Conference Win Tonight

Southern Illinois Normal University took the lead in the Illinois Interscholastic Athletic Conference basketball race by a 15 to 14 victory over Northwestern State Teachers College of Normal, who was currently tied with MacMurray.

Normal's victory was a hard-fought one, but it was won in the final minutes of the game. The Northwesterners had a strong lead early, but the Normal team fought back to tie the game at the half, and the game was decided in the last minute.

The Normal men, under the leadership of Coach John Martin, played a strong game throughout.
