Little Theater Summer Play Begins 3rd Night

"Under the Gaslight," an old style melodrama, by Augustin Daly, is currently being presented by the Little Theatre in an outdoor performance. The play which has been running since Monday will continue through Saturday, Aug. 2, and is being held on the Elks' parking lot on Jackson street. Curtain time each night is 8 p.m.

Director is Dr. Archibald McLeod of SIU's speech department. He describes the play as a typical 19th century melodrama with hero and villain contesting the fair heroine. The play was first produced in 1867.

Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Half of the proceeds will go to the Carbondale Centennial Committee.

The hero, Ray Trafford, will be played by Bill Meininger, East St. Louis. The heroine, Laura Cortland, will be Barbara Foster, Harrisburg, and the villain, Byke, will be Bob Cagle, Metropolis.

Pearl Cortland will be played on alternate nights by Pat Bahn, Staunton, and Phyllis Owen, Hermin. Snorkey will be Ted Maddox, Springfield. Other parts:

Mrs. Van Dam, Carol Kruzen, St. Louis; Bermudas, Sam Hunter, Carbondale; Peanuts, D. Alexander, Carbondale; Constable 999, Marshall Jones, Centralia; Judas, Mrs. Martha Tolles, Cairo; Demitt, Robert Lupello, Chicago; and Windel, Charles Wood, Murphysboro.

The play will be presented in "cabaret style," Dr. McLeod said. Spectators will sit at tables and refreshments will be served.

BILL MEININGER, the hero holds Bob Cagle, the villain, away from the heroine, Barbara Foster, in the old time melodrama, "Under the Gaslight," currently running in an outdoor performance.

To Confer Degrees To 200 At Commencement August 8

More than 200 persons will receive their degrees at Southern's 78th commencement exercises which will be held at McAndrew stadium, August 8, 7 p.m.

Deans Abbott, Rehn, and Lawson will present the graduates in their colleges with President D. W. Morris conferring the degrees.

Sixty-two will receive their masters degree, and more than 140 will graduate with the bachelors degree. The bachelor of arts degree will be conferred to 18 students, and 121 will receive their bachelor of science degree.

Fifty-four will be granted the master of science degree, and eight the master of arts degree.

Robert L. Sutherland is the speaker for Southern's summer commencement. Dr. Sutherland is director of the Hogg Foundation at the University of Texas. An Iowa, he has been director of the Hogg Foundation since 1940. He is a former associate director of the American Youth commission and vice president of the Texas Society for Mental Hygiene. He is now a member of the American Sociological society, National Council on Religion in Higher Education, Texas Social Welfare association, and other national and state organizations.

Dr. Sutherland has written two books, "Introductory Sociology" with J. L. Woodward, and "Collector, Class and Personality," and is a contributor to many journals.

Farr Resigns As SIU Dean of Women Effective Aug. 20

The resignation of Leah Farr, acting dean of women at Southern becomes effective Aug. 20 after having been accepted by the Board of Trustees.

Farr became acting dean of women here in Aug. 1950 when Dean Helen Shuman was granted a leave of absence. Farr has accepted the position of dean of women and assistant dean of students at the Utah State Agricultural college, Logan, Utah, from which she was graduated with a bachelor's degree. She received her master's degree in student personnel administration from Syracuse university.

First Distribution of Obelisk Now Underway

The Obelisk arrived Saturday, July 26, according to Donald R. Grubb, fiscal sponsor. Distribution will be made until the end of the term at the Student Center, according to the rules published in the previous Egyptian. A second distribution will be made the first week of fall term.

Recently Relocate Several Offices Here

Several offices on campus have recently been moved either to make room for new construction or to allow residence for new services.

Final Examination Schedule Released

Examination schedule for summer term is as follows:

Thursday, August 7

7:30 classes at 7:30.
10:20 classes at 10:30.
1:10 classes at 1:30.

Friday, August 8

8:55 classes at 7:30.
11:45 classes at 10:30.
2:35 classes at 1:30.

All examinations will begin at the hours scheduled above and will run for two hours, except for classes that meet only once or twice per week. Examinations for these will begin at the end of the hour examinations, and will run for one hour. This arrangement is necessary to accommodate three, two, and one hour courses that meet at the same period.

In case more than one class meets in a room, the one meeting three or four days per week should have priority for the final exam. Any instructor without a room for a particular class is requested to check with Norma Melton for assignment, in case a notice of meeting place is not received.

A student, who for some reason, must miss the final exam, may not take the one scheduled for which the university has inaugurated.

The SIU information service which was previously located in the razed building on Chautauqua and Thompson sts., has been relocated in a resident house across from the University drugs. The alumni service and secretary of the faculty, which also used the same building as the information service have moved their offices to the first floor of the Allyn building for the summer. It is planned to move their offices elsewhere in the fall as their present location belongs to the art department.

A major office change which has recently taken place is the movement of the president's office in Shryock auditorium to the old Bradley house, next to the president's residence on Thompson st.

the class. In this case, "W" followed by the tentative grade should be recorded by the instructor. The final exam may be given at a later date within one year.

This also involved moving of the offices of the university's legal advisor, chief executive to the president, and the administrative executive, to the same house. Each now has a separate office of his own in the new location. The chief accountant which had his office in the second floor of the auditorium has moved his office to that vacated by the president.

JULY 1, THE university started a new service called the Area Service. This office, under the direction of Prof. Baker Brownell, takes care of distributing the various services on campus to anybody who may have need of them in Southern Illinois. This office is now located in the business education quarters of the University Training school, but it is planned to be moved elsewhere in the near future.

Other office changes are in the making, but their time of relocation and their site are as yet indefinite. The moving of these offices will depend upon how fast construction on campus takes place.

Release Schedule For Freshman Orientation

Freshman Orientation Week has been scheduled for the week of Thursday, September 4 through September 7. This fall 1200 freshmen are expected to register at Southern. Physical examinations, tests, campus tours directed by APO and Girl's Rally, Open House parties, and special assemblies are planned for the week.

Thursday new students will take reading and mathematics placement tests. A special assembly, "Know Your College" directed by Dr. C. Tenney, is planned for the evening. The assembly will be followed by a get-acquainted mixer, sponsored by Sing and Swing Club.

Friday the ACE Psychological tests and reading test will be given. Friday evening a pep meeting is planned by the cheerleaders. "For Wheels you Want to Get Rolling," a presentation of Southern's activities sponsored by the Student Council, will be shown in Old Main. Presentation will include displays from campus organizations. Following the display, will be the Fountain Cafe, a coke hour held by the fountain.

On Saturday, assignments of academic advisors will be made. Special department tests, and assemblies by ROTC and the Women's House Council will be held.

On Saturday evening there will be a New Student Variety Show with Paul Morris as master of ceremonies.

Sunday is Parent's day with a convocation planned for the afternoon. President D. W. Morris will address the assembly.

Odaniell Appointed As Alumni Head

John Robert Odaniell, Chicago, will assume his duties as acting director of Southern Alumni services tomorrow after having been appointed to that position July 17. He has been serving as field representative of the services since March, 1951.

Odaniell succeeds Professor E.G. Lentz, acting director for the past year, who had requested that he be relieved of his duties. Professor Lentz, for many years dean of men at SIU, was named acting director when Wayne Mann was granted a leave of absence in order to complete requirements for a doctorate at Stanford University. Mann resigned July 8 in order to enter business in California.

As field representative, Odaniell has been successful in organizing new alumni chapters in Illinois, Missouri, Washington, D. C., and Indiana, with a marked increase in alumni memberships and activity.

More than 30 photographs were put on display last Monday, July 21 at the Allyn art gallery. The pictures which were mounted by William Horrell, director of the Photographic Service, and Walter Craig, faculty assistant in the Photographic Service, will be on display until Thursday, August 21.

The display was formed from the work of the Photo Service staff and members of last year's photography classes.

The exhibit is the first of its kind which has been on display at Southern. The Photographic Service has formerly held a Photo Fair each May which ran for one day and contained various demonstrations. This is the first photo exhibit which has been displayed for more than one day.

Persons whose work is being exhibited are: William Horrell, Walter Craig, and Robert Stokes, all of the photographic staff and the following students, Bill Nesbitt, Carl England, Dick Edwards, Denny Davis, and David Stroup.

Pictures produced by members of a night class from Metropolis in photography are also on display.

The exhibit is open to the public in the Allyn building from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. week days and from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Miss Greenleaf is now working on her doctors degree in personnel services.

Miss Taft came to SIU from Syracuse University in New York last August. During the past year she has been the co-ordinator for social and departmental activities. Such things as the social senate, student center, Pan Hellenic council, and social chairman group are under the supervision of Miss Taft. She also must approve all activities of departmental groups before they take place.

The last duty that Miss Taft will have on campus will be the supervision of Freshman Orientation week at the beginning of the fall term.

Taft's Resignation Becomes Effective Fall Quarter

Miss Eleanor Taft, supervisor of student activities on Southern Illinois university campus has announced the resignation from her position. Miss Taft will relinquish her duties sometime during September after which she plans to be married. Miss Betty Greenleaf from Indiana University will fill the vacancy left by Miss Taft.

Offer Teachers Short Course in Drivers Training

A one-week short course in driver training for teachers will be held at Southern Illinois University Aug. 4-8, according to Frank Bridges, health education instructor in charge of driver training at the University. This will be the fourth such course offered by the University.

Forty hours of instruction are designed to qualify teachers as driver training instructors in schools of the area which are offering, or plan to offer, driver training programs. Participants will receive theory and laboratory work as well as actual automobile experience in driver training. Daily instruction will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Enrollees may receive two hours of college credit, or a non-credit certificate.

Pre-registration figures include 14 high school teachers coming from Bethalto, Cisne, Cissna Park, DuQuoin, Eldorado, Karnak, Lebanon, Nashville, Salem, Southern Acres near Cartersville, and Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Public Invited to See Dorris's Food Demonstration

A food demonstration will be held Thursday, August 7 by Oma Dorris. It will take place in Main 110 at 1 p.m. in the foods laboratory. The public is invited to attend.

HEALTH FACULTY HAS PICNIC FOR STUDENTS

Southern Illinois University students majoring or minoring in health education will be picnic guests of the health education faculty this afternoon. There will be swimming beginning at 2 p.m. and a Weiner roast late in the afternoon. Students planning to attend are asked to give their names to a member of the health education staff.

Geography Department Offers Tour of East

Openings are available for a 22-day geography field course tour of eastern and southeastern states during August, according to Dr. Floyd F. Cunningham, chairman of Southern's geography department, who is conducting the trip.

Preparations are being made for the group to leave by chartered bus August 9. The course is open to college juniors, seniors, and graduate students for five hours of credit. However, anyone wishing to go on the trip as a tourist without credit may do so. The tour cost of $160 includes registration, lodging, insurance, tuition, and study materials. Meals are extra.

The group will go first to Washington, D. C., for five days so that students may attend the International Geographical Congress meeting in the United States for the first time since 1904. The tour will include visits to Newport News, Norfolk, the great Smoky Mountains, and T.V.A. areas with a side trip to Birmingham, Ala.

Agricultural and industrial geography, ocean trade, transportation, harbor and port facilities, hydro-electric developments in the TVA area, and the geographic basis for TVA will be studied.

Dr. Cunningham says persons interested may contact him immediately at the geography department.

Release Schedule For Conservation Summer Workshops

The summer schedule for eight one-week conservation workshops beginning on August 11 and August 18 has been released this week by Jim Cannon, assistant to the director of University Extension.

The workshops will meet daily for one week from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Afternoons of the course periods are used for field trips to study the need for conservation in the local areas.

The tuition for the workshop will be $4.75 plus other small additional fees needed for transportation on the field trips and other incidental expenses.

Three workshops are scheduled to begin August 11 at 8:30 a.m. They are: Agriculture 305B workshops, one at Mt. Vernon and one at Vienna, and an Agriculture 305A workshop at Nashville.

Five workshops will begin August 18 at 8:30 a.m. Geography 324A workshops will meet at Carmi and Fairfield, Agriculture 305A at Harrisburg, and Agriculture 305B at Murphysboro and Sparta.

Persons enrolling on any of the above workshops should note that the one-week workshops offered by the University of Illinois are a duplicate of Southern's workshop, Agriculture 305A, even though Illinois' is listed as an education course.

Agriculture 305A is a prerequisite for the Agriculture 305B course.

Not more than one-third of any credits necessary for the bachelor's degree may be earned by extension courses. There is no limit concerning how much of the work required for the degree may be taken in workshops, but off-campus workshops count as extension credit.

Essays And Sallies

There has always been one school of thought that said Old Main was the original and untamed unmovable object. Now even the Air Force is beginning to believe it. There is talk that the bats will be chased out and a shooting gallery set up on the upper deck.

What more and more people are saying these days: "Southern—there's where I labored so hard for my Master's. Cynics may sing the next line.

Quotes from the campus:

Dr. Morton: "Mussolini was a hurricane looking for a place to happen."

Saad Jaber: "I can read readin', but I can't read writin'. It's too close to the paper."

Mike Derbak: "Everything about summer school's all right except the classes."

We get it from a source that in the past has been particularly unreliable, that John Bremer is the vanguard of a British movement to take over "Little Egypt." Recently Saad Jaber of Iraq stood by to repel another British attack. After reading a newspaper account of an Oxford student skit entitled

Veterans May Receive High School Diplomas

Veterans under 21 years of age or non-veterans over 21 who have not been graduated from high school will have opportunity to receive high school diplomas through participation in the General Educational Development tests at Southern Illinois University, August 1 and 2.

Eligibility to participate requires only that a person be over 21 and have a letter from his home town high school principal to the effect that the high school will grant a diploma when the examination has been passed.

The examination, to begin at 8 a.m., on each of the two days, is given without charge. Anyone wishing additional information may contact the Office of Student Affairs, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

The Russians have nothing on us. They only have five-year plans; Southern has twenty-year plans.

The scarcity of males on college campuses during the last war gave rise to many stories. Here is one: Girls used to say: "What a man!" A little later they began to say: "What? a man?" Then later yet (rather wistfully): "What's a man."

Canteenology: "The fellow who said the times are out of joint evidently hasn't had any stew lately."

American idiom is rather idiotic, some exchange students here think. One night a Southern student told a German student he was going to "hit the sack." Somewhat later the lad from across the Rhine was heard to say: "Well, guess I'll go beat the bed."

Mathematically speaking: To detractors of Southern's football team we would quote: There are liars, darned liars, and statisticians. Also, such people have no conception of hospitality.

Appoint Raso As New Director Of Health Service

Dr. Anthony J. Raso has officially been named as the new acting director of the SIU Student Health service. The appointment which was announced last month will become effective this September. He will also serve as university physician.

Dr. Raso will succeed Dr. R. W. Bradshaw who came to the SIU campus last September from Oberlin College, Ohio.

Dr. Raso who is to serve as an associate professor of physiology, associate University physician, and examining physician for the University Retirement system, has been a member of the SIU staff.

He holds a doctor of medicine degree from Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis, and is a member of the American Medical Association, Illinois State Medical Society, Missouri State Medical Society, and the Jackson County Medical Society.

Trobaugh Releases Rules For Return Of Summer Books

Rules for the returning of books by students for the summer term have recently been released by Mr. Carl Trobaugh, director of the Southern Illinois university bookstore. Mr. Trobaugh stated that books should be turned in Thursday and Friday of examination week from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The bookstore, following its usual practice, will remain open after 4 p.m. on Friday if there are students waiting in line to turn in books.

When returning the books, two lines should form at the inside door of the bookstore. A-L students line up at the left hand door when facing east. M-Z should line up at the right hand door when facing east. Once inside the door, A-L students go to the first counter on the left. The M-Z students go to the second counter on the left.

Mr. Trobaugh stressed the fact that all students should be sure they wait to see that their books are checked off their card, or properly recorded as returned. If a person fails to do this, it is likely that he will receive a bill to pay for the cost of the books. After the books are checked in, students are requested to leave through the east door of the bookstore.

Those who fail to return all their books, locks, etc., by closing time on Friday, Aug. 8, will be fined $1.00 for late return. Students who have failed to return their rental books or locks by Sept. 5, will not be allowed to return items charged to them; they will be required to pay for them at the business office.

SIU Teacher Completes First Film Of Series

A Southern Illinois University teacher has finished the first year of a proposed 14-year motion picture album of a group of students in the University School.

Director of the first year's film is Dr. Sina M. Mott who hopes to follow the same children with a camera through kindergarten, grade school and high school.

Her "cast" includes 11 girls and four boys. The presence of the cameraman, Dr. Mott explained, did not distract the children from their activities. At that age, she said, children pay little attention to visitors and go on about their play as if no one were looking on.

Dr. Mott's goal is to have a graphic record of the typical behavior patterns of children at different age levels and to follow the individual development of different types of normal children, such as the quiet, thoughtful type, the physically active, the extrovertive.

The study, Dr. Mott believes, will be helpful to teachers in adapting their teaching to the needs and abilities of children at various ages.

The first year's movie was an 800-foot strip of colored film taken by the University Audio-Visual Aids department on a University research grant of $85.

The film showed how children's modes of play developed through three stages. First, the child plays apart from the group, interested only in his own activities. Later he engages in so-called "parallel play," carrying on the same activities as his neighbor but doing them on his own. Next, comes cooperative, group play.

The film followed the children through various nursery school activities. It showed them becoming acquainted with others in the class at the start of the term, later acting out simple stories, building bird houses, planting and tending flowers, relaxing during their rest periods and preparing cakes and sandwiches for a picnic to which they had invited their mothers.

Dr. Mott hopes eventually to have copies of the film made for showing to area teachers.

Southern's Building Program Reaches $5,700,000 Summer Construction Peak

Building progress at Southern has now reached an all time peak with the $5,700,000 construction program that is now in progress. This program will add a half dozen new buildings to SIU.

Steadily taking shape this summer are the 422-bed women's dormitory, a U-shaped four story building at the corner of West Grand and University avenues; the Life Science building on Chautauqua street; the Service Shops No. 2, south of the stadium, and others.

Scheduled for earliest completion is the Service Shops No. 2 building costing $182,000. W. C. Hart, supervisor of SIU's architectural service, reports that this building is expected to be finished by Sept. 1.

It will be used for storage and service of all university motor equipment, such as university trucks and cars, ROTC vehicles, and smaller machines such as power mowers. The building is 47x262 with 11,985 square feet of floor space.

The new dormitory, costing $1,719,953, is due for completion by April 1, 1953, but Hart said there are hopes that the south wing may be ready for occupancy by the start of the coming fall term. That wing will have about 130 beds.

The four-story dormitory will have a 246-foot frontage on University and 223 feet on West Grand. The wings are 38 feet wide.

Work began later but is progressing well on the cafeteria adjacent to the north wing of the dormitory, which will give the whole structure the look of a giant reversed question mark.

Floor beams have been laid and masonry on the walls and partitions has been finished. The new wing will be capable of serving 1,200 students per meal. Present plans call for the cafeteria on

A STUDY IN STEEL is afforded by this view of work on Southern Illinois University's new Industrial Education building near University School. The building is scheduled for completion by Dec. 1, 1953, at a cost of $559,000.

Thompson street to remain in operation, Hart said. However, the canteen at the corner of University and West Grand will be torn down soon and much of the equipment will be moved to the Student center.

Going up northwest of University School is the physical education wing, costing $583,000 and due for completion March 1 of next year. It will house a 37x75 swimming pool and another pool, 20x35, for small children and for therapeutic use. Bricklayers are now raising the walls of the 114 by 154 foot structure.

Most of the steel framework is up for the Industrial Education building at the southwest corner of University School. This wing is expected to be completed by Dec. 1, 1953, at a cost of $559,500. Its exterior will be of brick, stone, and metal panels.

The Industrial Education building, which will be two stories and measure 95 x 131, will house the woodworking shops, agricultural shops, and facilities for painting, art, mechanical drawing, graphic arts, and ceramics.

Next costliest building on the construction schedule is the Life Science building being raised on Chautauqua street at a cost of $1,496,000. This includes the cost of the smaller Animal building which has been nearly completed about 100 yards south, adjacent to a future wing of the structure.

The Life Science building is of slab and beam construction and will house the University departments of biology, micro-biology, zoology, physiology and botany. It will include a large lecture room or auditorium at its west end. The building is four stories high and measures 89x237. It is expected to be completed by July 15, 1953.

The Animal building behind the Life Science will be 19x42 and may be finished by Sept. 1. There is no work being done on the building now, but all that remains is to lay a roof and to build a greenhouse at the south end of the building.

Workmen Monday began laying a floor for an auto mechanics shop which will be part of the Vocational Technical Institute near Southern Acres, 10 miles east of the campus. The building, known as Shop Building No. 1, is 51x208 and was moved to the VTI from the "inert storage area" at the southeast corner of the Ordinance Plant area.

Cost of preparing the building for use, including the pouring of a concrete floor, will be $61,117. It should be ready about Nov. 1, Hart said.

Besides work on the buildings there are other minor construction jobs now in progress.

SCHEDULED FOR EARLY completion is the new Service Shop No. 2, adjacent to the south end of Southern Illinois University's McAndrew Stadium. The building, which is costing $182,000, is expected to be finished by Sept. 1.

WORK OF THE Life Science building on Chautauqua street is now 40 per cent complete. The building is expected to be completed by December, 1953 and will house the departments of Botany, Zoology, Microbiology, and Physiology.

AT A COST OF $1,700,000 a new women's dormitory is being erected near the corner of University and Grand. The dormitory will house 422 girls of which 135 are hoped to be located in the south wing this fall.
