Choose Your Seat at Illinois

The University of Illinois is now offering a new service to students through its student government organization, the Student Body Council.

The service, known as "Choose Your Seat," allows students to select their seating arrangements in the Student Activity Center (SAC) and the Union.

The service is available to all students who have registered for courses and paid their tuition fees. Students can choose from a variety of seating options, including individual seats, tables, and booths.

For more information, students can visit the Student Body Council website or contact the Student Activity Center directly.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

This week one of the greatest philanthropists of American freedom—freedom of the press—received a: brambly blow by the President of the United States, through his firing of correspondents and other representatives of the press from attending the international news conference, now being held at Hot Springs, Virginia. From all over the nation are indignantly protesting this transgression upon their acknowledged privilege. And we believe that the plights of men within reach for such a situation: penologists will make decisions which will greatly affect America, as is our past re-organization.

However, this strange source of confusion now being imposed on every right must be given some attention. President Roosevelt has not often prosecuted this measure within its due course. It might be said that this restriction is reminiscent of the censors' procedure by saw necessary to enact before Pearl Harbor. For instance, the transfer of odors or any danger to the national cause was not a fact in England. British newspapers received extreme censure from Congress and the American people in general for this di- chotomous measure. But now that the day of infamy has passed, and the exigencies of the present crisis are apparent, America can be glad that some voices in Washington had enough forethought and knowledge of the situation to provide for the future. Many other instances of P.D.R.'s laconic references to subject partial legislation to the customary channels, has brought forth a wave of indignation and sorrow upon us. For all of these instances, though we welcome at the time, have only been to act in some way the war effort, these months later when the smell of uncertainty
