A Little Bad Along With The Good

Last week-end, Southern's students cut loose for a weekend of fun and entertainment and the results were a smashing success of a Spring Festival. We think, as a whole, the Spring Festival was, like the movies are said to be, "better than ever."

Of course, the favorable weather helped a great deal, but it took more than good weather to make the affair go off with such a bang. For the first time in several years, we had a Midday that was worth going to. Then, too, the Wharf Club entertainment added something new and different to the activities.

Perhaps the best parts of the Festival were the decorations at the Wharf Club, the dance, and the Miss Southern contest. Sometimes, it is decorations that either make or break such an activity as the Wharf Club, and in this case the decorations came out on the bright side.

WE THINK the Festival chairman and the committees especially the decorations committee, should receive a round of applause for their efforts.

However, along with all good things there comes a little of the bad. Yes, this year's Spring Festival did not escape from having a sore spot. That sore spot, in our opinion, was the Miss Southern contest.

And just why do we think the contest was a sore spot? First, the matter of judges. We are not saying that the judges were not in the right ones (for all we know, they may be professional) but we do think that judges for such an event as the Miss Southern contest should be from out-of-town and should not be connected with the university.

WHEN ON-CAMPUS judges are involved there is a tendency for some people to think the judges were partial. We do not think persons are justified in such opinions, but if the judges are not from off-campus, there would be no reason for such accusations.

Then, too, the majority of the judges were women. We think, as do several others, that men should at least be equal in number to the women on the judging committee of a beauty contest.

A second thing that could have been improved about the contest was that the five finalists could have been announced at the contest. To the people present for the judging, the affair did not even seem like a contest, for no results were announced whatsoever until that night.

Several of the people who attended the contest, they had no provision for seating. Not only were there no seats, but most of the persons attending could not see what was going on. Perhaps in future years, seating arrangements could be made for the audience.

LAST BUT NOT LEAST, we would like to ask why eight girls were named first as finalists and then later the number narrowed down to five. It seems to us this would be very disappointing to the eight who were left out in choosing the finalists. If this delay was caused by the fact that a decision could not be reached, it seems that if the judging were done more objectively that a decision could be reached sooner. Perhaps more objective judging sheets could be prepared by the committee.

Several of the girls that were in the contest were heard making the remarks that they would never enter such a contest again.

If such sore spots as mentioned above could be removed from the Miss Southern contest in future years, there may be more than just 13 girls entering and thus give a better representation of campus beauty in the Miss Southern contest. B.V.B.

Hold SIU Day Tomorrow At College in Greece

Tomorrow, May 10, will be Southern Illinois University Day at Anatolia college in Thesaloniki, Greece. Southern will be honored for giving "support for a day" to this small Greek college located on the mountain slopes above the city of Thessaloniki.

Last month here on the SIU campus, a collection was taken to provide $25, the amount necessary to keep the junior college open. Student Council sponsored an auction at which the major portion of the $25 was raised. The Student Council later made up the difference and the money was sent to the college.

Dr. W. J. Tudor of Southern's sociology department has been in communication with the administration at The Greek college, and according to reports, many gala festivities are being planned for tomorrow which has been set as a festival day at Anatolia.

The girls will dance in native Greek folk costumes and early native dances, and several athletic events have been planned. People are expected to attend from some of Greece's largest cities. Noted Greek national figures are to speak at the ceremonies.

Accomplishments from the college, several Anastola students are to write reports on the day which are to be forwarded to the Greek College. There is a chance that several pictures will be sent to SIU, and if so, they will be printed in the Editorial.

THE ENROLLMENT at Anatolia College at present is 610 students. The school has pupils from the seventh grade up to college sophomores. It is, in reality, a two-year college.

Generally speaking, Anatolia is a Liberal Arts and Normal school type of institution, with stress placed on the teaching of the English language and English customs.

Southern's library and bookstore have contributed books which will be sent to the college. Several organizations on campus have con- tributed magazine subscriptions which will be sent in an effort to aid the war-stricken college.

Release Stipulations Of Off-Campus Trips

The academic deans and the Office of Student Affairs have listed the following stipulations which apply to off-campus trips for all SIU students. The stipulations are as follows: (1) Students on probation may not participate in extra-curricular activities (at least those involving more than a small amount of credit work). (2) Students on probation may not participate in off-campus trips because of the nature of the activities.
