Problems of Men Doing Own Cooking To Be Considered

Mrs. E. D. Barnes

Do you know that there are 849 men enrolled in the college this year, and 846 women? Of the total number of men it is revealed that all of them live in dormitories, except one, Mr. D. M. Staggell, who is in a private room. The number of women is 846.

The following activities are planned for the men:

1. A cook-off contest where the men will be divided into teams and will compete in making various dishes.
2. A bake sale to benefit the cook-off contest.
3. A picnic at the college grounds.

Mr. Staggell is the only man who is not a member of a dormitory. He lives in a private room and is responsible for his own cooking.

Margaret Reynolds of Vienna, former student, and a member of Delta Sigma, attended the McKenzie Homecoming game last Friday.

Dean and Mrs. George D. Whalen were guests at dinner Monday evening.

Following the dinner, Mr. Whalen delivered a short address to the actives and pledges present.

Alpha Delta opened its calendar of social activities with the debutante dance held Saturday night at the Chapter house.

The room used for dancing were decorated with bunches of balloons, streamers of crepe paper, cleverly arranged, and a large illuminated board with the Greek letters, Delta, Sigma, and Epsilon placed at the far end of the living room. Paul Hickey's orchestra furnished the music.

Alumna who returned for the Delta Sig dance included Mary Ruth Malone of Melemore, Helen Crisp of Marion, Ruth Berry of Carbon

Miss Susie Ogden of the Commerce department, was absent from her classes last week because of illness.

High School

The University High School juniors are selecting time in organizing their class and getting started on the work they have to do this year. Under the sponsorship of Miss Kathryn Cavella, the juniors are planning a big banquet this year. Depression or not, these juniors aren't down-hearted. They have held several meetings in regard to the purpose of raising a sufficient fund for their banquet.

The seniors are especially anxious that the juniors provide a big banquet. Hence the juniors are being urged not to fail.

The order for the senior rings has been arranged and the rings will soon be displayed by the dignified upperclassmen. But there will be that empty feeling of the C. G. D. that accompanied each ring.

FOR QUALITY MERCHANDISE TRY REEVES CASH GROCERIES and MEAT (Across from Campus)
There is a great deal to attitudes. A pupil with a poor attitude spoils a whole class, just as a teacher who has a poor attitude spoils everything for the student. Teachers will never permit such an act at which a pupil must be perfect from the beginning.

"Flying, in the army," says Lieut. Edmondson, "is but a means and not an end in itself. The mission is the big thing. Where the commercial flyer's training ends is where the army begins. The ultimate aim of the Air Corps is to train men to pilot in the face of the process purely mechanically. In this way the Tyer needs keep his mind on nothing but his mission, and, in time of war, to keep his training.

It is extremely fascinating to hear him talk on such subjects as why internal Mexican courts acted over territory that has difficulty in producing decent cactus, recent advances in aviation, causes of accidents and the like.

At present he has a potential position as Aeronautical Engineer at the U. of Texas. In fact he is preparing for this teaching position that he has come to S. I. T. C.

Another Letter

A letter, entitled "In Embassy," has been received at the Egyptian office, following the wishes of the author, is here published:

"The fight for lower rates of admission to football games was lost in the Student Council of two things: first, the students are to common, and secondly, that the favored few in southern Illinois football, contests; secondly, although that they are independent of student opinions or central. The first item refers directly to admissions. Students pay on the average of $2.50 cents per game, but the same students' fathers and mothers must pay seventy-five cents or $1.00 if they both come. In many cases the parents pay the entire amount, students fee and the price of their own tickets. The argument of the opposition would indicate first, that the athletic department existed for the entertainment of the student body alone, and second, it is nobody's business just how the thing is run. It is of vital importance to the students how any fund created by their fees is run, and it is of further importance to the people of Southern Illinois to oppose the action of blunting the spirit of competition upon a basis both of tradition and of the necessity of making the most reasonable and able sport to do so. It is perfect in all forms. Webster hasn't recognized it yet, but it thrives as a football spirit.

Within the last month we have sung a number of new songs in chapel. Everyone is mystified. What is it all about?"

THE SOCIETIES AGAIN

In studying the progressive growth of our school in almost every phase the obvious deterioration of the two literary societies is a fact of which we are all aware. At present the Zetic Society is being revived with enthusiasm.

I, a member of The Egyptian, should like to turn the attention of the reader towards this group of students who are interested in the activities of the society and their efforts to bring it back to its former glory.

The Zetic Society was founded in 1925 and has been an active part of the school's social life ever since. However, in recent years its members have been few and far between, leading to a decline in the society's influence and participation in school activities.

The leadership of the Zetic Society is currently studying the possibility of reviving the organization and restoring it to its former prominence. They are working on plans to attract new members and increase the society's visibility on campus.

The Zetic Society's activities include balls, dances, and other social events. They also have a dedicated group of students who are interested in the organization's history and its role in the school's social activities.

I believe that the Zetic Society has the potential to once again become an integral part of our school's life. With the efforts of its dedicated members, I am confident that it can recover its strength and once again become a significant force on campus.

Please support the Zetic Society's revitalization efforts and consider becoming a member. Together, we can bring this esteemed society back to its former glory.
Nosey Notes

Have you noticed the modified face of Maroons? One of the Bearcats played the part for our roomate.

Did you hear any of the (cute) exclamations of the Buffalo backfield Friday night?

Maybe winning a university ball game put such ideas into their heads. Did you know that Bradham played half with the Maroons his first year?

The usual decorations for Homecoming will start within the next few days. Homecoming this year is expected to be the biggest ever. Several hundred dollars will be spent by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in honoring the annual get-together. Local business men will have the honor of being the sponsors of the games.

Southern will meet Old Normal Redbirds Friday night, October 28, the Southern Teachers' college eleven will meet the old Normal Redbirds under the floodlights on the local field. The Redbirds upset the Northern chances of winning the Little Nine championship for two consecutive years and spoiled a 16-game winning streak of the Cardinals.

The Normal Normalies won't lose a game this fall, but barely eked out a 6–7 victory over Dafin, a foe which the Southernners tied. Normal demonstrated its scoring ability when it trampled Charleston underfoot by a score of 28–6. Neiberg and Dasing have been Normal's mainstays in the backfield while Evans and Thomas have been thrusting in the line.

Normal's eleven averages 10 to 20 pounds heavier per man than the Maroons and the entire crew has had more experience than the local nine. Practically all the members of the Maroon squad are sophomores and freshmen, while the Redbirds have several three and four-year men.

Maroons May See Shakeup

Carbondale's team may see another shakeup this week in an effort to find a winning combination to oppose the Normalies next Friday night. Tripp and Reeves have been seeing action at the guard position for last week and may continue to fill that assignment. Davison also may start Friday against the Redbirds.

Anthony Hall

Zella Crowder had as her guest last Sunday Rev. mother, Mrs. Crowder of St. Louis.

Speaking at the opening exercise of McAdoo Central College, Zella said: Mrs. Crowder visited at the Hall last Friday evening as guests of acquaintances there and as sightseers. Butch, a student at McAdoo Central College, was the dinner guest of Virginia Huestin (2).

Wednesday was a day of continuous social activity at Anthony Hall. At 6 o’clock the English department was host to a tea for English majors. The tea table, attractive with arrangements of brilliant fall flowers, was set in the living room. At 6 o’clock several dinner parties had gathered. Miss Crawford entertained at the head table, the centerpieces of which were long clusters of shell flowers. Her guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Oppenheimer, Herc, Helen and Tommy Davis (Misses Matilda Satter of St. Louis, Mrs. W. W. Barr, Mrs. Bertha Seese, Miss Florence King and Mrs. Frances Barbour, all of Carbondale, Mary Comollo, (3), and Connie Beach (2), were hostesses to a group including Mrs. J. W. Wool (4), and Evelyn Hodge (4). Other members of the party were Mary Boyd (4), Mazie Towner (3), Zella Crowder (4), Corinna Yag, (3), and Ruth Towner, yellow roses in a black bowl, tall yellow topaz in black candle holders, and yellow and black place cards. Eleanor Logan (1), had as her dinner guest the same evening, Ethel Jennings (1).

Sister Zella had entertained her aunt, Mrs. Maurer of Collinville, at the Hall last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Peterson of Well visited their alumnae Misses Betty and Polly Peterson (3), last week-end.

In Chicago, where a gangster demands that a merchant “buy protection” or call it jaywalking. In Illinois, where paddle-equipped sewing machines force make a freshman pay a dollar for a cap, they call it tradition.

Beyer Announces Complete Program for Homecoming

Comokee for their former members. For Anthony Hall the event is part of its celebration of its twentieth anniversary.

At 11 o’clock, a reception for President Shryock and other university officials will be held at the Homecoming banquet at the St. Louis Hotel, followed by the evening program.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a high school band concert. The Junior Band will play at 12 o’clock noon, on Illinois Avenue between Main and Monroe Streets. This is a competition for scholastic bands from all parts of southern Illinois. At 2 o’clock the dessert parade will start at the L. C. Park and will continue to the football field at 3:30.

The dance floor will be held at the Vanity Fair tea room, while Delta Sigma Rho and Tri-Sigma will be housed to their alumnae at their chapter house.

At 9 o’clock the American Legion will sponsor a dance at the shoe factory.
