Bonfire and Pep Rally Will Be Held at Seven O’clock Tonight on Old Field Football Field

Dr. O’Neil F. Miller will take part in the Pep Rally and Pep Band performance tonight. The event will feature music, cheers, and entertainment to kick off the homecoming festivities.

Welcome to the homecoming celebration, where the spirit of alumni and students come together to celebrate the achievements and traditions of Carbondale State Teachers College.
We Welcome Our Alumni—

On behalf of S. I. N. U., we wish to extend a welcome to our returning alumni who are in the campus today. We have planned for them a full program of events, including, as the most important feature of the program, a football game and the formal dance tonight.

We believe the "old grads" will find the spirit of the occasion, and the loyalty of the students immensely increased. It istextBoxes and the students have been made here at bowler in the past few years. They have been truly listed many times before.

Now we wish only to make clear to those who call bowler their home: that the event is for the warm welcome from the students and the faculty members.

Is S. I. N. U. Extinct?—

S. I. N. U. exists.

Today teachers and students are numerous and large and the reason for their excellence are seldom called into question, but one hundred years ago, when the schools were being established after the years of slavery, the necessity of state supported institutions for the training of teachers, especially in the opinion of those who were in the profession, was more widespread.

In the early part of the nineteenth century, advocates of better education were convinced that teaching was a profession too important, yet too neglected, to be left in the hands of uncultured and untrained men. The schools required for this purpose were not to be supported by any tax, but by the state. The teachers were to be selected and the salaried on the principle of merit.

Does S. I. N. U. Satisfy the Qualifications?—

Has S. I. N. U. the qualifications of the teacher's seminary which were accepted by the legislators in 1863? Do we have instructors who can teach as well as the teachers who were trained at the seminary? I think that we do.

There are many things that are better taught now than they were in the days of the seminary. However, there are many things that are better taught now than they were in the days of the seminary. However, there are many things that are better taught now than they were in the days of the seminary. However, there are many things that are better taught now than they were in the days of the seminary.

In teaching a Stepping Stone Or An End?—

Since we have been able to see so many remarkable changes in the educational system, it is only natural that we should wonder what is going to happen as a result of these changes. The question of whether or not education is an end in itself or a means to an end is raised.

The Education of the Blind—

S. I. N. U. is now able to serve a large number of the blind. The College has been able to provide the necessary equipment and services to meet the needs of the blind.

The collection of these individuals shows that the College is doing a good job. The education of the blind is an important part of the College's mission.

Education Proceeds From Battle To Battle, Compromise to Compromise—

A New York Times editorial aptly states the case at the present time. The Times says, "Education proceeds from battle to battle, with each step forward being a compromise." The College is in the midst of this battle, and the College is determined to win.

The College is determined to win. The College is determined to win. The College is determined to win.

Sesame For Colleagues—

By W. R. ROBES

Sesame is an alluring word in the dictionary. It is a word that means "something pleasant or attractive." It is a word that means "something pleasant or attractive." It is a word that means "something pleasant or attractive."

FANS WILL HAVE A CHANCE TO SEE SIX MAN GAME ON FOOTBALL PROGRAM

By Harry Boyd

The six-man game, so popular in the European war, is an outgrowth of the two-man game.

The advantage and success
are the reasons for its inclusion in the American football program.

The six-man game is a shorter game, easier to play,

The six-man game
