Great Scott! Henry's Back For Today's Convocations

"Great Scott!" is back. Henry Scott, the versatile pianist, who is now assigned to SIU Convocation audiences many times, is on campus today. With the annual Horge show: high-class music, way-out jazz, props and a line of patience.

C. Horton Talley, chairman of the School of Speech and director of Convocation programs, said it has become part of the pattern to bring in talented people who can make sure contact with the audience for the first entertainment. Scott fills the bill, he said. Upperclassmen attend the convocations when Scott puts on the program. Basically, Scott is a live musician, Talley said.

In the Boston area where he lives, Scott is concerned with teaching music in his own conservatory and guiding the affairs of a college as a member of the board of trustees.

He plays good music and the students like it, Talley said. With props and a subtle approach, he entertains in a fast-moving variety of piano-based entertainment.

Convocations are in Shryock at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. today.

Ogur Study

Maurice Ogur, professor of Microbiology and the Biological Research Laboratory has been granted $16,325 by the American Cancer Society for the biochemical and genetic study of a new class of mutants with impaired aerobic metabolism.

Earlier work of Ogur's group contributed to the understanding of non-respiratory mutants, one of which was a more important cellular pigment not found and therefore failed to repress. The current work is based on a second class category which can take up oxygen normally but fails to produce respiratory carbon dioxide. Ogur's group has been able to pinpoint the basis of this failure as a lack in a single crucial enzyme, sconisate, the product of one enzyme involved in producing respiratory carbon dioxide.

City Council Approves Route Down University

The 1963 Homecoming parade on Oct. 19 will move in the opposite direction from last year's parade.

According to Connie Reichelt, parade director, it will form at the north end of University Avenue, move down University to Grand, west to Oakland and follow around Campus behind the East-junction of the lake look road.

The route was approved by the Carbonale City Council at its Tuesday night meeting, Miss Reichelt said.

Last year after the first route was announced downtown merchants complained because the parade would not pass through the city's busiest district. The route was then rerouted.

It began behind Creek Bow moved around Campus Drive past Thompson Point, to the Physical Plant. Then it moved north on U.S. 51 and up Illinois to Main. It turned west on Illinois to University and south on University to Grand where it disbanded.

Theater Tickets Are Still Available

Only 200 coupon books remain to be sold for the series of plays to be produced by the Southern Illinois Community Theater.

Jim Bob Stephenson of the Department of Theater is urging regular customers who have not bought tickets to do so as soon as possible.

The purchase of tickets by coupon books represents a savings of 44 per cent as compared to the face value of tickets bought separately.

Tickets are on sale at the Playhouse.

The first production will be "Realization of the August Moon." Dates are Oct. 18-20 and Oct. 22-26.

SIU Research: Survey Recommends Using Mine Areas For Recreation

A large part of the strip-mined land of Illinois could be developed for recreational use, according to a survey by a SIU researcher.

In a report published by Mid-West Coal Producers Institute, Inc., John L. Roseberry of the SIU Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory said there are more than 28,000 acres of strip-mined land in the state with good to excellent recreational potential.

At the time the survey was completed earlier this year, 16,205 acres of strip-mined land in Illinois already were owned or leased by recreational groups. These consisted primarily of private organizations which limited use to members.

State-wide, Roseberry reported 47 separate recreational areas occupying strip-mined land. These include Kickapoo State Park near Davisville, which in recent years has had an annual attendance of more than 31,600 persons, and the DuQuoin State Fairgrounds, which includes 380 acres of leveled strip-mined land.

"Characteristics of strip-mined lands are such that fishing and other activities associated with water are the principal forms of recreational utilization," Roseberry reported. He said multiple recreational facilities—for hunting, fishing, camping, swimming and so on—can best be developed on areas of 1,500 acres or more.

"As time passes," the SIU researcher concluded, "it will become increasingly difficult for the state to acquire either company or privately-owned strip-mined land. But coal companies are aware of the growing demand for recreational use of such land, but economic interests will continue to govern their disposition of it."

Koufax Fans 15 Yankees As Dodgers Win 5-2

NEW YORK

Sandy Koufax set a World Series record by striking out 15 New York Yankees Wednesday day and won the opener 5-1 by the margin of John Roseboro's three-run homer off Whitey Ford in the second inning.

Koufax and his odious pitching rivals, from Ford through Stan Williams and Steve Hamilton made this the greatest strike-out game in Series history by fanning a total of 15 victims.

Bill Dryden, an Ex-Yankee playmate who was traded to the Dodgers for Williams last winter, told the reporters how he got his old Birmingham rac.ial bombing mates by driving in the first and last runs against Ford.

When Harry Bright, a Yankee pinch hitter, struck out to end the game, becoming Kou,"s 15th victim, a deep throat roar arose from the crowd of 69,000.

The 27-year-old Dodgers' star, who won 25 and set a strikeout record of 306 in the regular season, blew away the 15 Yankees, not even Elston Howard singling to right with two gone in the fifth did theanks a bit.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.

Trial for three white men on charges connected with Birmingham racial bombnings has been set for next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, state investigators reported finding more than 100 sticks of dynamite in a wooded area just north of the city limits.

The men, charged with illegally possessing dynamite, are James W. Hall, 45, Robert E. Chambly, 59, and Charles Cagle, 22, all of the Birmingham area.

They are free on $300 bond, the usual amount in misdemeanor cases.

Hall was arrested late Tuesday night when police were taken into custody Sunday. A habeas corpus hearing scheduled for Cagle today was dismissed when the judge noted the hearing was no longer of use since Cagle had already been bonded.

President Kennedy, tentatively has decided to permit the sale of American wheat to Russia but wants Republican leadership approval of the move before acting, an administration spokesman said Wednesday.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has been approached by high government officials to go along. But he said that when the matter was discussed at a party policy meeting Tuesday day there was no consensus.

The administration is reported to have been informed that the Soviets are willing to buy $150 million worth of American wheat for gold. This was some $100 million less than previously had been indicated.

DAWIT, Ill.

Four members of a Chicago family en route to attend a funeral in Texas were killed Wednesday and three other persons were injured in the crash of an auto with airlift training jet.

Anita Maria Garza, 28, her wife, Gloria, 24, and their children, Steve, 13 months, and Marcelo Jr., 3, died after a jet driven by Marcelo Garcia struck a New York Central Railroad engine at a U.S. 66 crossing.

Another son, Javier, 2, was critically injured in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Dwight, as was Rudolpho Garza, 29, of Arlington Heights, a passenger in the auto.

Garza's wife, Hortensia, 27, was in fair condition. Their daughter, Hortensia, 13 months, was hospitalized but escaped injury.

1965 Set As Target For Ending Active U.S. Role In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told President Kennedy Wednesday they believed the need for major American involvement in South Vietnam had ended. As a result, American ground guerrilla war will be ended by December 1965.

The White House said McNamara and Taylor, just back from an on-the-spot inspection tour of South Viet Nam, are convinced that the Communist Viet Cong can be licked by that time, or, failing that, that the security forces of the Vietnamese government will be able to then support the war without the presence of American ground guerrillas without outside assistance.

In a five-point statement of American policy, the White House said there would be no further significant actions against Vietnamese in South Viet Nam and that the combination of force and Ngo Dinh Diem "have not yet significantly affected the military effort."

But the statement said there could be an adverse affect in the future.

In addition to reporting "their judgment that the major part of the U.S. military task in Viet Nam can be completed by the end of 1965," McNamara and Taylor said that 1,000 American military personnel probably can be withdrawn from South Viet Nam by the end of this year. These would be personnel used to train Vietnamese troops, which would probably be brought in from West Viet Nam. Tudor Will Tout Local Products On Tour Of European Trade Capitals

Most goods manufactured in southern Illinois probably could find a way into the world market with adequate promotion and economic development of southern Illinois.

Tudor, who pointed out there is a tremendous variety of goods made in southern Illinois, said some of the manufacturing is getting into the world market already, especially in instances where the industry is part of a larger business in which sales are handled by the parent company.

"But there are many smaller manufacturing concerns in southern Illinois that are not large enough to have an export management staff and are not in the world market because they don't know how to get in," he said. "We hope to find ways for this type of manufacturer to export his product."

Carbondale Housing Ordinance Wins Commission Approval

The proposed city housing ordinance was approved by the Carbondale Board Commission Wednesday night, with only one member change, and was sent on to the City Council.

The single change in the ordinance would allow a landlord to cut off utilities of a renter for nonpayment of rent. There was no discussion of a proposal to allow a tolerance of up to 12 percent in the minimum of 70 square feet specified for a sleeping room occupied by one person.

However, the commission members ultimately agreed that provisions in the ordinance appealing to particular persons were sufficient for the handling of cases which might merit exceptions to the rule.

A report on Monday's public hearing on the ordinance was given to the commission by Charles C. Clayton of the SIU Department of Journalism, who leads the commission's urban renewal committee and was chairman at the hearing.

Problems of Painter Revealed
Is Series Of Van Gogh Letters

The recent publication of some letters of Vincent Van Gogh have been published already in several editions. A second volume aims to reveal Van Gogh's personality and achievements as a painter.

W.H. Auden has selected letters written to his brother Theo and others in which Van Gogh discusses his problems as an artist. Such matters as selection of subject matter, size of canvas, paints and the expense incurred for materials are prominent in his correspondence. These bits of information are of particular interest to a painter but perhaps of even greater value are the personal comments and evaluations of Art and artists. For, in spite of the artist's qualities of Van Gogh's paintings, his impressions often came from the popular press and the old masters such as Rembrandt and Delacroix.

Reviewed by Ben P. Watkins

Auden's skillful use of Van Gogh's correspondence reveals that his letters are both informative and colorful autobiographical work. Van Gogh has been called one of the finest letter writers, and no doubt anyone reading this book will find much to enjoy in this volume. Auden says these letters are a part of his job in making selections was deciding which letters to leave out.

The book contains genealogical notes and an introduction by the brother of Van Gogh's problems and achievements.

Fanny Wright's Ideas Live In New Edition

Fanny's Wright's View of Society and Manners in America was the first public step in the career of Fanny Wright, a charming Englishwoman who became an outspoken social reformer in early 19th century America.

Reviewed by Edith S. Kropp

Department Of English

Fanny and her sister had spent poverty of two years in America before returning to England in 1830, after living in New York; touring the northern and eastern states; seeing the society of Canada and of Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York; and afterwards publishing in where meeting persons of all social levels, these letters provide a fine study of the social reforms of a young woman.

Twenty-eight letters make up the View, a Utopian picture as it perhaps would to (readers today. Recalling the biting criticism in Dickens' novels, readers today may wonder how Fanny Trollope, who lived in the place, would have described herself.

Civilians found calm, rational, humane, their unre­ markable war-shocked reactions come within a breath of being thick. Nonetheless, Tarr does exemplify by Jefferson's pointing to the American simplicity the American military system of education for the military, and not so much for the military and those young cadets trained to make a living as his nephew, the Marquis de Lafayette, whom Tarr, whether in France or in the United States, regards as a little too. It's an elementary idea about the All-American Lesson.

Social reforms Fanny publicly worked for included emancipation of Negroes; improvement of the common school, including birth control; a free public high school; in America, stressing practical and scientific training; labor reform; removal of the monopoly from politics; and the problem of capital punishment and the abolition of the death penalty for murder.

Fanny's View of Society was first published in 1835. In early 19th century America, where the American military system of education for the military, and not so much for the military and those young cadets trained to make a living as his nephew, the Marquis de Lafayette, whom Tarr, whether in France or in the United States, regards as a little too. Coach Carmen Piccone's Saluki, twice losers in two trips to the goal posts, are far from out of the running in their quest for a better season than the 4-6 they fashioned a year ago.

Piccone wasn't talking much Tuesday, but what he did say got right to the point about just what fans can expect of his latest edition of SIU football.

"We're young, exceptionally young," Piccone observed, "and as long as we have a couple of freshmen and several sophomores in our lineup, we can expect mistakes. It's simply a question of how quickly they mature.

To be sure, mistakes have been most costly in both of Southern's defeats. Both of Evansville's touchdowns were the result of pass interceptions and Bowling Green had much success with a penalty, an intercepted pass and two fatal Saluki fumbles to tally four of its five touchdowns.

No major changes were in Piccone's mind Tuesday, although he may be forced to let junior co-captain Harry Bobbitt take a rest from his flanker back and defensive secondary duties after sustaining a shoulder injury Saturday.

Freshman Rudy Phillips, Decatur, just may draw the starting assignment created if Bobbitt sits out the Louisville game. Phillips is a highly touted speedster who picked up three yards on one carry against the Falcons.

Junior Irv Rhodes, Ronco, Pa., is bucking for the starting backfield job after a good night against Bowling Green. Rhodes averaged eight yards per carry on 24 in three attempts to tie starting fullback Carl Kimbro, Peoria, as leaders of the Saluki offense.

Piccone and his staff are hoping for a repeat of their third game last year, when SIU exploded against Central Michigan, 43 to 6.

Student-athletes who can qualify by meeting the high scholastic standards set up by the committee may request such assistance during their time at Southern.

Club members are themselves rewarded, with special privileges accorded their number at Southern's athletic events.

Evansville's touchdowns were the result of pass interceptions and Bowling Green had much success with a penalty, an intercepted pass and two fatal Saluki fumbles to tally four of its five touchdowns.

No major changes were in Piccone's mind Tuesday, although he may be forced to let junior co-captain Harry Bobbitt take a rest from his flanker back and defensive secondary duties after sustaining a shoulder injury Saturday.

Freshman Rudy Phillips, Decatur, just may draw the starting assignment created if Bobbitt sits out the Louisville game. Phillips is a highly touted speedster who picked up three yards on one carry against the Falcons.

Junior Irv Rhodes, Ronco, Pa., is bucking for the starting backfield job after a good night against Bowling Green. Rhodes averaged eight yards per carry on 24 in three attempts to tie starting fullback Carl Kimbro, Peoria, as leaders of the Saluki offense.

Piccone and his staff are hoping for a repeat of their third game last year, when SIU exploded against Central Michigan, 43 to 6.
Louisville Is Salukis' First MVC Opponent

Although coming out losers in both of their first two games this year, Southern's Salukis are hopeful that they can duplicate last year's mid-season performance, when they won four in a row after dropping the first two.

Southern will challenge the University of Louisville this Saturday in the Cardinal camp. This will be the first meeting scheduled between the two teams.

The Cards have a welcoming committee of 17 lettermen waiting to host SIU in Missouri Valley Conference style. Seven of the lettermen are veteran backs, with 10 experienced linemen ready to throw up a tough forward wall.

Louisville has dipped into its 1963 schedule just once so far this season, and the Cards took a 24-7 pasing from North Texas State, although the opener was on the Texas turf.

Although Louisville compiled a winning record of 6-4 last season against the likes of such rugged MVC competition as Tulsa, Wichita, Dayton and North Texas, they may be in for a less enviable season. The likes of Johnny Unitas and Lenny Lyles, now both playing first-string pro football, failed to gain such plaudits.

Also conspicuously absent this year are Lee Calland, starting fullback last fall, in addition to starters such as end Tom Montgomery, guards Bob O'Neal and Jerry Smith, tackle Bill Sammons and Charlie Stitch, a guard who played most of the time.

Camp's squad this season numbers only 41 men all-told, and only four of them are seniors. As a matter of fact the Cards compare favorably with Southern's roster, with a total of 23 sophomores and 14 juniors.

This all would make it appear that Louisville is headed for several jobs before the season is over, and the North Texas game may have been one of them, but all is not dreary in Cardinal land.

The Redbirds have practically the entire alternate unit back from last season. In addition to Captain Ken Kortas, a 293-lb. All-American tackle; and Bill Apke, a steady returning starter at center, this pair sparked the Card defense in 1962, with Kortas adding 50 tackles and Apke accounting for 51.

Kortas is all muscle, and he bellowed his way to the honor of becoming the first All-American selection at Southern by following an established pattern of functional beauty as the design in concrete is blended with trees and grass on the south campus.

About 7,000 linear feet of sidewalks with intermittent respite areas are being poured along Campus Drive, linking the Arena with the Agriculture Building.

John Lonergan, University landscape architect, said today the respite areas are small patios along the way which will offer benches for rest and relaxation.

When completed, Lonergan said, the effect will be similar to the larger patio area west of the University Center. A retaining wall will be constructed to hold the bank and provide a background.

The areas behind the walk and respite areas are to be planted with a variety of shade and ornamental trees.

The new walk paralleling campus drive is to be a link of even more usefulness as other buildings go up in the area. Directly across the drive in the Thompson Point Field area, is the site of the new School of Technology building. To the west and north, a School of Communications will rise in the general area of Chautauqua Field.
